TITLE 46—SHIPPING

BUREAU OF MARINE INSPECTION AND NAVIGATION

GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the authority of Section 4405 of the Revised Statutes, an executive committee of the Board of Supervising Inspectors, Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, Department of Commerce, consisting of R. S. Field, Director; George Fried, Supervising Inspector, Second District; and Eugene Carlson, Supervising Inspector, Third District; met in the conference room of the auditorium of the Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C., on August 4, 5, 7, and 8, 1939.

The following amendments to the General Rules and Regulations were unanimously adopted by the executive committee and were approved by the Secretary of Commerce.

SUBCHAPTER F—BOILERS AND APPURTENANCES

Sections 51.M-2-1 to 51.M-2-6, inclusive, were deleted and the following sections inserted in their stead:

Marine Boiler Steel Plate

§ 51.M-2-1 Tested material—Class A. (a) There shall be four grades of marine boiler steel plates, subject to Class A inspection. Such grades are designated as A, B, C, and D, any one of which may be used for shells and other pressure parts of all boilers and for unfired pressure vessels. The requirements specified in Sections 51.M-2-1 to 51.M-2-8, inclusive, apply to plates up to and inclusive of 4 inches in thickness.

(b) Where flanging or forge welding is necessary, Grades B or C shall be used, except for manhole reinforcements in boiler shells as provided in 52.C-5-3 (i).

(c) Small unfired pressure vessels having diameters not exceeding 30 inches and subject to pressures not exceeding 100 lbs. per square inch are not required to be constructed of Class A material.

(d) All of these grades may be fusion welded, but welding technique is of fundamental importance. Fusion welding procedure shall be in accordance with Sections 56.W-20-1 to 56.W-20-19, inclusive.

(e) Sufficient discard from the top of each ingot shall be made, at any stage of the manufacture, to secure freedom from piping and undue segregation in the finished product; but in no case shall the amount of top discard be less than 30 percent.

(f) When plates are to be used in a boiler or pressure vessel which is to be stress relieved after welding, the test specimens for such plates shall be stress relieved by gradually and uniformly heating them to 1,100° F. to 1,200° F., holding at that temperature for a period of one hour per inch of thickness, and cooling in still atmosphere. In such cases both the plates and the test specimens shall be stamped "S. R." to show that the tensile strength of the plate in the stress relieved state is not less than the minimum specified.

(2) Plates over 2 inches in thickness, before being fabricated, shall be uniformly heat treated to produce grain refinement. Heat treatment involving quenching in a liquid medium is not permitted. If this treatment is not done at the rolling mill the testing shall be carried out in accordance with subparagraph (3).

(3) When a fabricator who is equipped to perform the work properly, elects to do the required heat treatment he shall so indicate in his orders to the mill and he may accept the plates on the basis of the mill tests. The plate manufacturer shall make the tests herein specified, the tension and bend test specimens to be prepared from full thickness pieces, heat treated under conditions he considers appropriate for grain refinement, and to give the test requirements. The manufacturer shall inform the fabricator of the procedure followed in treating the pieces at the mill for guidance in treating the plates. The required physical properties shall be determined after heat treatment of the plates on specimens prepared from pieces similarly and simultaneously treated with the plates. Pieces for two tension tests, one top and one bottom, shall be provided from each plate as rolled. These pieces shall be stamped by the inspector with his official stamp for identification.

(4) In the case of plates over 2 inches in thickness which subsequently are to be stress relieved the test specimens for such plates shall, before testing, be stress relieved as specified in paragraph (f) (1) following the heat treatment for grain refinement.

(5) Orders to the plate manufacturers shall specify when plates subject to the requirements of this section are to be stress relieved and when they are to be heat treated for grain refinement by the fabricator so that proper provision may be made for the treatment of test specimens.

§ 51.M-2-2 Chemical composition. (a) The plates shall conform to the following requirements as to chemical composition:

| | Grade A | Grade B | Grade C | Grade D |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Carbon | 0.30 | 0.27 | 0.53 | 0.35 |

| Sulphur | .04 | .04 | .04 | .04 |
| Silicon | 0.15-.30 | 0.15-.30 | 0.15-.30 | 0.15-.30 |

(b) Check analysis may be made of either of the broken tension test specimens from each plate as rolled at the discretion of the Director (See Section 51.M-1-5 (b)).

§ 51.M-2-3 Tensile properties. (a) The material shall have the following tensile properties; tensile strength and yield point in pounds per square inch:

| | Grade A | Grade B | Grade C | Grade D |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Tensile strength | 60,000-70,000 | 55,000-65,000 | 65,000-77,000 | 70,000-82,000 |
| Yield point, minimum | 0.5 tens. str. | 0.5 tens. str. | 0.5 tens. str. | 0.5 tens. str. |
| Elongation in 8 inches, minimum, per cent.[1] | [2] 1,550,000 / Tens. str. | [2] 1,550,000 / Tens. str. | [3] 1,550,000 / Tens. str. | [3] 1,550,000 / Tens. str. |

[1] When Fig. M-1 is used.
[2] See paragraph (b).
[3] When Fig. M-2 is used.
[4] See paragraph (c).

(b) For material over ¾ inch in thickness, a deduction from the percentage of elongation in 8 inches specified in paragraph (a) of 0.125 shall be made for each increase of 1/32 inch in the specified thickness above ¾ inch, to a minimum of 20 percent for Grade A, 22 percent for Grade B, 19 percent for Grade C, and 18 percent for Grade D.

(c) For material over 2½ inches in thickness, a deduction from the percentage of elongation in 2 inches specified in paragraph (a) of 0.5 shall be made for each increase of ½ inch of the specified thickness above 2½ inches.

(d) For material ¼ inch and under in thickness, the elongation shall be measured on a gage length of 24 times the thickness of the specimen.

§ 51.M-2-4. Bending properties. The test specimens shall stand being bent cold through 180 degrees without cracking on the outside of the bent portion around a pin, the diameter of which shall have the following relation to the thickness of the specimen. When the test is made on a specimen reduced in thickness, the rolled surface shall be on the outer curve of the bend.

| Thickness of material | Diameter of pin about which specimen is bent | | | |

t=thickness of specimen.

§ 51.M-2-5. Test Specimens. (a) For plates 2 inches and under in thickness the test specimens shall be prepared for testing from the material in its rolled condition, except as specified in paragraph 51.M-2-1 (f).

(b) For plates over 2 inches in thickness the test specimens shall be prepared from the material in its heat-treated condition, or from full thickness samples similarly and simultaneously treated. (See Section 51.M-2-1)

(c) Tension test specimens shall be taken from the top and bottom corners of the plate as rolled, parallel to its longitudinal axis. Bend test specimens shall be taken from the middle of the top of the plate as rolled, at right angles to its longitudinal axis.

NOTE: The term "plate as rolled", used here and in Sections 51.M-2-2 and 51.M-2-6, refers to the unit plate rolled from a slab or directly from an ingot in its relation to the location and number of specimens; not to its condition.

(d) For plates 2 inches and under in thickness, tension and bend test specimens shall be the full thickness of the material and shall be machined to the form and dimensions shown in Fig. M-1; or the bend test specimen may be machined with both edges parallel.

(e) For plates over 2 inches in thickness, tension test specimens shall be machined to the form and dimensions shown in Fig. M-1; and the axis of each such specimen shall be located midway between the center and the top or bottom surface of the plate. The bend test specimen shall be at least 1½ inches in width with both edges parallel, and may be reduced to 2 inches in thickness, but shall have one surface as rolled.

§ 51.M–2–6 Number of tests. Two tension tests and one bend test shall be made from each plate as rolled.

§ 51.M–2–7 Permissible variations in thickness. The thickness of each plate shall not vary more than 0.01 inch under the amount specified.

Section 55.P–19–3 be and hereby is amended by adding the following two subparagraphs to be numbered (w) and (x):

(w) Forge welded fittings, valves, or flanges, known as the socket type—wherein the piping is attached by entering the pipe into the socket and securing it to the fitting with a single fillet weld, may be used where the diameter of the pipe does not exceed two inches, provided the welding is done by certified welding operators using approved welding rods or electrodes.

(x) Soldered fittings. Fittings, valves, or flanges made of non-ferrous metal may be attached to non-ferrous pipe by means of soldering the wall of the pipe to the fitting where the pressure does not exceed 100 pounds per square inch and the temperature does not exceed 240° F. When it is desired to use such fittings for higher pressures or temperatures the kind of solder or metal used for alloying the wall of the pipe to the fittings must be approved by the Director. (R.S. 4405, as amended, 46 U.S.C. 375; R.S. 4418 as amended, 46 U.S.C. 392; R.S. 4433 as amended, 46 U.S.C. 411)

Section 56.W–20–1 be and hereby is amended as follows:

In subparagraph (b) insert the words "or by the submerged melt electric welding process as defined in 56.W–20–2" after the words "fusion welding" so that the amended paragraph will read as follows:

(b) Drums or shells of boilers and pressure vessels may be fabricated by means of fusion welding, or by the submerged melt electric welding process as defined in 56.W–20–2, in accordance with the rules of this section.

Add two new subparagraphs to be known as "(d)" and "(e)", to read as follows:

(d) Where the submerged melt electric welding process is employed special process approval tests are required to be made by the manufacturer to determine whether he has the proper equipment and personnel to produce sound dependable joints.

(e) In the submerged melt electric welding process the weld may be laid in two or more passes, preferably laying the smaller pass first, then turning the plate over and chipping or machining the first pass to remove defects and to form a clean backing surface for the weld metal which may be laid in one or more passes. (R.S. 4405 as amended, 46 U.S.C. 375; R.S. 4418 as amended, 46 U.S.C. 392; R.S. 4429 as amended, 46 U.S.C. 407; R.S. 4433 as amended, 46 U.S.C. 411)

Section 56.W–20–2, be and hereby is amended by the addition of the following subparagraph to be inserted immediately after subparagraph (a), renumbering the succeeding subparagraphs accordingly:

(b) Submerged melt electric welding process. This is a process employing a bare electrode and a granulated welding composition to accomplish fusion by passing an electric current between the electrode and the work through the granulated material which completely covers the end of the electrode and protects the fused metal from contact with air or other outside gases. (R.S. 4405 as amended, 46 U.S.C. 375; R.S. 4418 as amended, 46 U.S.C. 392; R.S. 4429 as amended, 46 U.S.C. 407; R.S. 4433 as amended, 46 U.S.C. 411)

Section 56 be and hereby is amended by the addition of Section 56. W–20–19 to read as follows:

§ 56.W–20–19 Welded piping. (a) Piping may be connected by means of fusion welding for any pressure and for temperatures not exceeding 960° F., provided it is done in accordance with these rules:

(b) These rules apply to piping in excess of 100 lbs. per sq. in. (Class 1 piping). They do not apply to piping used in connection with working pressures of 100 pounds or less, operated at normal temperatures (Class 2 piping).

(c) Qualification of welding processes. (1) Before a contractor may weld piping under these rules a representative of the Bureau will visit the part of his works in which welding is done for the purpose of inspecting the welding plant to make sure he has suitable equipment and to witness the series of tests outlined in paragraph (2) below.

(2) The tests for qualifying a welding process shall be those embodied in these rules for the Testing of Welding Operators for Piping.

(d) Qualification of welding operators. The tests for qualifying welding operators shall be as follows:

Test No. 3. For piping or tubing, See Figs. W–32 and W–33.

Test No. 4. For tack welding, See Fig. W–34.

Test No. 5. For material of unlimited thickness with base metals of high conductivity, See Fig. W–35.

Test No. 6. For thick material incapable of bending to the capacity of the jig, See Fig. W–36. A clearance of 1/32 inch will be permitted on each side of the upright members of the jig.

(e) Specimens for qualification tests Nos. 3, and 4 shall be bent in a bending jig having the exact profile shown in Fig. W–36. Root bend specimens shall be bent with the root of the weld in tension. Face bend specimens shall be bent with the face of the weld in tension, and side bend specimens with the side which is suspected of being the worse of the two in tension.

(f) Specimens shall be bent to the angle of bend specified hereinafter. Any specimen in which a crack or opening exists before the bending shall be rejected. No elongation data are required.

(g) Pipe or tube specimens for Fig. W–32 shall be subjected to the fiber stresses specified for piping connected by means other than by welding. The hydrostatic pressure necessary to obtain these stresses shall be calculated by the following formula:

$$P=\frac{S\times 2T}{D}$$

Where $P$=the hydrostatic test pressure in pounds per square inch.
$S$=the specified hoop stress in pounds per square inch.
$T$=wall thickness of pipe or tube in inches.
$D$=inside diameter of pipe or tube in inches.

(h) Wall thickness thinner than those specified may be used when authorized, but greater wall thicknesses shall not be used without the permission of the Director. The diameter of the tubing may be varied somewhat if desired. If diameters or thicknesses different from those specified are used, the hydrostatic pressure shall be adjusted so that the specified stress is attained.

(i) The passing of these qualification tests with D. C. equipment shall qualify welders with D. C. equipment only. The passing of these qualification tests with A. C. equipment shall qualify welders for welding with A. C. equipment only. If both types of equipment are to be used by a welder he shall be qualified with both A. C. and D. C. equipment.

(j) The qualification test specimens shall be made from pipe of known physical properties, that is, of tested marine steel pipe certified to by the manufacturer on his mill test report. In case it desired to use material the physical properties of which are not known, it will be necessary that physical tests be made to determine the tensile strength of the material and its ductility before the weld specimens are prepared.

(k) Welding operators who have been primarily tested and certificated shall be assigned an identifying number, letter, or symbol, which shall be stamped on all vessels adjacent to and at intervals of not more than 3 feet along the welds which they make, whether the process used is hand or machine.

(l) The inspector shall require any welding operator to repeat these tests when in his opinion the work indicates a reasonable doubt of the welding operator's ability. In such cases the welding operator shall not be permitted to resume work until he passes the retest.

(m) Any certificated welding operator who has not been employed as a fusion welder for a period of three months or more shall be required to pass the requalification tests even though he has previously passed such tests.

(n) The requalification test specimens shall be identical with the primary test specimen with the same equipment or equipment equivalent thereto in performance and condition as used in primary tests. It shall be conducted under the supervision of a duly authorized Inspector who shall report results of test to the Bureau. Such test shall meet the requirements of these rules.

(o) Design of piping. The piping shall be designed to avoid excessive strains due to expansion and the working of the ship.

(p) Layout and dimensions of piping. Prints showing the layout and dimensions of the piping shall be forwarded to the Director for approval. Sections of the pipe shall be welded in the shop as far as practicable. All welded joints made on shipboard shall be in positions where there is sufficient space to allow proper access for the welding, and such welds shall be definitely indicated on the plans by the use of appropriate American Welding Society weld symbols or details of the welds. A sufficient number of detachable joints shall be used in installing the piping to facilitate removals. Valves and other fittings may have either flanged or welded connections to the pipes but flanged joints shall be used where necessary to facilitate overhauling of machinery or the valves themselves.

(q) Types of welded joints to be used. Butt joints shall be used for pipes over 2 inches nominal pipe size and shall be either double welded or welded with a backing-up strip on the inside of the pipe. Pipes not over 2 inches nominal pipe size may be connected by ferrules fitted over the ends of the pipe and attached by circumferential fillet welds to the pipe, or by using bell and spigot joints and uniting the end of the bell to the outside of the pipe by a circumferential fillet weld.

(r) Stress relieving. (1) All welded joints over 2 inches nominal pipe size except fire lines and oil lines at normal temperature, shall be stress relieved.

(2) The welds of plain carbon steel pipe and adjacent piping for a length of six times the wall thickness of the pipe shall be heated uniformly to at least 1,150° F. and up to 1,250° F. The weld and adjacent piping shall be brought slowly up to within the specified temperature range and held at that temperature for a period of time proportioned on the basis of at least one hour per inch of pipe wall thickness and shall be allowed to cool slowly in a still atmosphere. There shall be no cooling other than by the still air around the weld and adjacent parts being stress relieved in order to assure a gradual fall of temperature along the length of the pipe.

(3) For alloy steel piping the stress relieving and/or heat treatment shall be done in a way that shall be demonstrated under paragraph (f) (1) to be satisfactory. Where piping is welded to valves it may be impossible to heat the part next to the valve to a uniform temperature for a length of six times the wall thickness without overheating the valve. In such a case the heated zone shall extend at least 2 inches on the valve side from the line of fusion of the joint and the temperature shall be allowed to diminish gradually toward the valve.

(4) All complicated connections, such as manifolds shall be stress relieved as a whole in a furnace provided for the purpose before being taken on shipboard.

(5) The piping shall be so designed that it will be free to expand in a longitudinal direction when the joints are stress relieved, thus eliminating stresses that might result through contraction of the piping after the stress relieving.

(s) Radiographic and other tests. All welded joints shall be tested either by radiography or by using a paramagnetic powder dusted over the area to make sure that there are no cracks or other defects. Should the quality of a joint be questioned by an inspector of the Bureau the weld shall be cut out and the joint rewelded.

(t) Hydrostatic tests. Hydrostatic tests shall be made on the piping at twice the maximum pressure to which the piping will be subjected in service.

(u) General requirements. Before any qualification tests of welding operators are conducted, each manufacturer shall prepare for test the types of test specimens hereinafter specified for the purpose of qualifying his welding process.

(v) Manufacturer's record of process. A complete record of the manufacturer's process shall be made in the form shown in Fig. W–37 to establish the definite limits of all essential variables involved. The manufacturer shall conduct all welding in accordance with the requirements of his process record, after his process of welding has been approved.

(w) Number, type, and size of test welds. The test specimens shall be prepared in accordance with the requirements of Figs. W–32 and W–33. One test specimen shall be prepared for each process and welding position which will be encountered. One test specimen shall be made in the minimum pipe wall thickness and one in the maximum pipe wall thickness to be used, except that the thickness need not exceed 1½ inches.

(x) Base metal and its preparation. The base material and its preparation for welding shall comply with the manufacturer's process record. For all test welds, the dimensions of the base material shall be such as to provide sufficient material for the test specimens called for hereinafter. The ends of the piping prepared for welding shall be preheated to a temperature of 500° F. before the welding is applied.

(y) Positions of test welds. The positions of pipe welding will be classified as follows: (a) horizontal rolled, (b) horizontal fixed, and (c) vertical fixed. If a process is investigated for the horizontal fixed position, it need not be repeated for the horizontal rolled position, provided that the same welding process is employed, as defined by the manufacturer's process record, Fig. W–37. For welds representing the horizontal rolled and horizontal fixed positions, the axis of the pipe shall be approximately horizontal. For test welds representing the vertical fixed position, the axis of the pipe shall be approximately vertical. The pipe shall be rotated for the test weld representing the horizontal rolled position, and shall not be rotated for test welds representing the horizontal fixed and the vertical fixed positions.

(z) Test specimens—Number, type, and preparation. The following specimens shall be prepared from each test weld, conforming to the dimensions shown on the applicable figure:

One bend test with face of weld in tension.

One bend test with root of weld in tension.

One bend test sidewise with the worst appearing side in tension.

All specimens to be bent in jig shown in Fig. W–36.

The following new part and sections to immediately follow Part 62, Subchapter G is added.

Part 62–A Licensed officers on uninspected vessels

§ 62A.00 Applicability of Laws. All the provisions of Title LII of the U. S. Revised Statutes, as amended, and all other laws referring to the issuance, duration, renewal, suspension or revocation of licenses of masters, mates, chief engineers and assistant engineers, and the provisions of the following regulations, shall be applicable to all uninspected vessels to which the Officers' Competency Certificates Convention, 1936, and the Act approved July 17, 1939 (Public, 188, 76th Congress) making effective the provisions of the Convention apply.

General

§ 62A.1 Application. The following licensing requirements shall apply to masters, chief engineers and watch officers, deck and engineer, on all uninspected vessels, however propelled, navigating the high seas, which are registered, enrolled and licensed, or licensed under the laws of the United States whether permanently, temporarily, or provisionally, including yachts, enrolled and licensed, with the exception of:

(a) Ships of war;

(b) Government vessels, or vesesls in the service of a public authority, which are not engaged in trade;

(c) Wooden ships of primitive build, such as dhows and junks;

(d) Unrigged vessels;

(e) All vessels of less than 200 gross tons.

§ 62A.2 Effective Date. (a) On and after October 29, 1939, masters, mates and engineers who do not possess appropriate licenses will not be allowed to act as masters, mates or engineers of vessels to which these Rules apply.

A notation shall be made upon his license stub and license record card to the effect that he was issued a license without professional examination. Such an applicant for license as master or mate shall be required to pass an examination as to acuity of vision and color sense. Where an inspector finds that such applicant for a license (original or raise of grade) obviously appears to be physically or mentally incompetent to perform the ordinary duties of such an officer at sea, he shall be required to undergo an examination by a surgeon of the United States Public Health Service to determine his competency in such respects. When application for a license as master or chief engineer is submitted prior to October 29, 1941, service as mate or assistant engineer respectively, need not have been acquired under authority of license.

§ 62A.3 Licenses issued. (a) Licenses to officers on uninspected vessels will be issued as follows:

1. License as master, motor or sail;
2. License as mate, motor or sail;
3. License as chief engineer, motor;
4. License as assistant engineer, motor.

The licenses will be given appropriate route (ocean or coastwise) and tonnage limitations, commensurate with the experience of the applicants in the case of masters and mates, and appropriate horsepower limitations in the case of engineers. They will be issued on the usual forms No. 867, 869, 871, 873, and 880, and shall be limited on their face to uninspected vessels.

(b) A license to act as master, mate, or engineer of inspected vessels will in all cases entitle the holder to act in this same capacity on uninspected vessels of like tonnage and propulsion on similar waters.

Licensed Masters, Mates, & Engineers

§ 62A.10 Original licenses. The first license in any class[1] issued to any United States citizen by the United States Local Inspectors shall be considered an original license, where the Bureau records show no previous issue to such applicant. No license shall be issued to any person who is not a United States citizen. An applicant claiming to be a citizen of the United States shall furnish documentary evidence of his citizenship. Before an original license in any class is granted to any citizen to act as master, mate, or engineer, he shall appear before a Board of Local Inspectors for examination. A list of the field offices of the Bureau where examinations are held will be found in Section 62A.20. Any citizen who has attained the age of 21 years and is qualified in all other respects shall be eligible for examination. Provided, That license as mate or assistant engineer may be granted to applicants who have reached the age of 19 years and are qualified in all other respects, but no such license may be raised in grade before the holder thereof shall have reached the age of 21 years.

§ 62A.11 Professional examination and service required, etc. for original license or raise of grade.

(a) Before an applicant for original license as master, mate, or engineer, or raise of grade of any license may be examined, the applicant shall make application upon the form furnished by the Bureau. When practicable, an applicant shall present discharges and testimonial letters to the inspectors, to be filed with the application, from the masters or chief engineers under whom he has served, or from the owners in the case of applicants who have already served as master or chief engineer, certifying to the name of the vessel, and the amount and character of his experience, and to his ability, character, and habits of life.

(b) No original license or raise of grade shall be issued to any applicant unless at least one year of his qualifying service shall have been obtained within the three years next preceding his application for examination.

(c) If the amount and character of his experience is satisfactory, and he is eligible in all other respects, the applicant shall be examined as to his knowledge by a Board of Local Inspectors, except as provided in 62A.2 (b).

(d) Applicants will be informed as soon as possible whether their applications have been accepted or not, and when the application of any person for a license has been approved, it shall be the duty of the inspectors to give the applicant the required examination as soon as practicable.

(e) Licensed officers entitled to raise of grade, after passing examination, shall have issued to them new licenses for the grade for which they are qualified, the local inspectors to file in their office the old license, with the report of the circumstances of the case, but the grade of a license shall not be raised except as hereinafter provided, unless the applicant can show one year's actual experience in the capacity for which he has been licensed.

§ 62A.12 Medical examination for licenses. The existing requirements for licensed officers on inspected vessels shall be standard for medical examinations for licenses on uninspected vessels, except as stated in paragraph 62A.2 (b). Provided, That a certificate from the Public Health Service based on ship sanitation and first aid will not be required of applicants for license to act on fishing vessels.

§ 62A.13 Reexaminations and refusal of licenses. (a) Any applicant for license or endorsement who has been duly examined and refused may come before the same local board for reexamination at any time thereafter that may be fixed by such board, but such time shall never be less than one month from the date of his last failure. In the case of another failure, he will not be reexamined until after a lapse of at least six months from date of last failure. A candidate who has been duly examined and refused a license by a local board shall not be examined by any other local board until one year has elapsed from the date of the refusal without the sanction of the board that refused the applicant.

(b) If the inspectors refuse to grant the applicant the license asked for, they shall furnish him a statement setting forth the cause of their refusal to grant the same.

§ 62A.14 Preparation of licenses. (a) All licenses issued to masters, mates, or engineers shall be filled out on the face with pen and black ink. Inspectors are directed, when licenses are completed, to draw a broad pen and black-ink mark through all unused spaces in the body thereof, so as to prevent, as far as possible, illegal alteration after issue.

(b) Licenses signed by one local inspector only shall not be valid, nor shall the name of any other person be substituted for that of a local inspector or acting local inspector.

(c) Every person receiving a license or certificate of lost license shall sign the same and leave a print of his left thumb upon the back thereof, immediately upon its receipt.

(d) Every master, mate, or engineer, who receives a license, shall make oath before one of the local inspectors, to be recorded upon their official file, that he will faithfully and honestly, according to his best skill and judgment, without concealment or reservation, perform all the duties required of him by law and obey all lawful orders of his superior officers.

§ 62A.15 Laws, general rules and regulations, and pilot rules to be furnished licensed officers.

(a) Every master, mate, or engineer shall, when receiving an original license, a renewed license, or a raise of grade of license, be furnished by the inspectors with a copy of the Laws Governing Marine Inspection, and a copy of the General Rules and Regulations prescribed by the Board of Supervising Inspectors.

(b) Licensed officers and pilots are required to acquaint themselves with the latest information regarding aids to navigation, and neglect to do so is evidence of neglect of duty. Vessels navigating oceans and coastwise waters shall have available on board for convenient reference at all times, a file of the applicable Notice to Mariners.[2] All vessels shall have charts of the waters on which they operate available for convenient reference at all times.

§ 62A.16 Renewal of license, and examination for renewal where deemed necessary.

(a) When an officer makes application for a renewal of his license, he shall appear in person before a Board of Local Inspectors, and the presentation of his old license, his certificate of citizenship if naturalized, with satisfactory certificate of color sense where required, and with oath of office, shall be considered sufficient evidence of his title to renewal; unless such title has been forfeited or facts shall have come to the knowledge of the inspectors which would render a renewal improper, or the applicant obviously appears to the inspectors to be physically or mentally incompetent to perform the ordinary duties of such an officer at sea, in which case he shall be required to undergo an examination by a surgeon at the U. S. Public Health Service to determine his competency in such respects.

(b) When an applicant for renewal is situated at such distance from any Local Board or Supervising Inspector as to put him to great inconvenience and expense to appear in person, he may, upon taking oath of office before any person authorized to administer oaths, and forwarding the same, together with the license to be renewed and a certificate of color sense where required, to the Local Board or Supervising Inspector of the District in which he resides or is employed, have the same renewed by the said inspectors.

[1] Deck officer of either motor or sail vessels; or engineer of motor vessels.

[2] Notice to Mariners, published weekly by the U. S. Coast Guard, which contains announcements and information regarding aids to navigation and charts of waters of the United States, is available for free distribution at the following places: Field offices of the U. S. Coast Guard; Marine Division, Custom House; U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey field stations, and offices of the Superintendents of Lighthouses. Notice to Mariners published weekly by the U. S. Navy, for the correction of charts, sailing directions, light lists and other publications, and which includes foreign waters and certain waters of the United States, is available for free distribution at the Hydrographic Office, Branch Hydrographic Offices, or any of the agencies of seaboard ports, and is also on file in the U. S. consulates where they may be inspected.

(c) When an applicant for a renewal is engaged in a service which necessitates his continuous absence from the United States, he may make application in writing for renewal and transmit the same to the Board of Local Inspectors, with a statement of the applicant verified before a consul or other officer of the United States authorized to administer an oath, setting forth the reasons for not appearing in person, and a certificate of color sense where required, and upon receiving the same, the Board of Local Inspectors that originally issued such license shall renew the same.

(d) No license shall be renewed more than 30 days in advance of the date of the expiration thereof, unless there are extraordinary circumstances that shall justify a renewal beforehand, in which case the reasons therefor must appear in detail upon the records of the inspectors renewing the license; nor shall any license be renewed unless it is presented within one year after the date of its expiration.

(e) Whenever an officer shall apply for renewal of his license, more than one year after the date of its expiration, he shall be required to pass an examination for the same grade of license. Should he be successful and receive a license it shall be considered in the light of an original license except as to number of issue.

(f) The inspectors shall, before renewing an existing license to a master, for any waters, who has not been employed as master on such waters during the three years preceding the application for renewal, satisfy themselves by an examination in writing, or orally to be taken down in writing by the inspectors, that such officers are thoroughly familiar with the rules for the prevention of collision upon the waters for which they are licensed.

(g) In all cases, the renewed license shall receive the next higher number of issue to present grade and of issues of all grades.

§ 62A.17 Lifting of tonnage restriction. (a) If any board of local inspectors is satisfied by the documentary evidence submitted that an applicant is entitled by experience and knowledge to a higher tonnage, it may change any tonnage restrictions which it may have previously placed upon his license, if the applicant has passed the examination for such license.

(b) No board of local inspectors may change on any license any tonnage limitation which such board did not place thereon, before full information regarding the reason for the limitation is obtained from the board responsible for same and the applicant has made up any deficiency in the experience required for the increased tonnage desired, and has passed any necessary examination. No limitation on any license may in any case be changed before the applicant has made up any deficiency in the experience prescribed for the license desired, and passed any necessary examination.

§ 62A.18 Lost license. (a) In case of loss of license of any class from any cause, except as stated in Sec. 62A.19, any board of local inspectors, upon receiving satisfactory evidence of such loss and a record of the lost license from the board that issued same, shall issue a certificate to the owner thereof which shall have the authority of the lost license for the unexpired term, unless in the meantime the holder thereof shall have the grade of his license raised after due examination, in which case a license in due form for such grade may be issued. In all cases the certificate of lost license shall state what board issued the lost license.

(b) Whenever a license is reported to a board of local inspectors by a licensed officer as having been lost by him or stolen from him, or whenever a license is stolen from an office of local inspectors, the local inspectors shall immediately report the fact to the Director and give a full description of the license and all facts incident to the loss or theft of same. By the same procedure they shall report the recovery of any licenses reported lost, giving the facts incident to their recovery.

§ 62A.19 Suspension and revocation of licenses. (a) These licenses as master, mate, or engineer shall be subject to suspension or revocation on the same ground and in the same manner and with like procedure as is provided in the case of suspension or revocation of licenses under the provisions of section 4450 of the Revised Statutes, as amended. When the license of any master, mate, or engineer is revoked, such license expires with such revocation, and any license subsequently granted to such person shall be considered in the light of an original license except as to number of issue. Upon the revocation or suspension of the license of any such officer, said license shall be surrendered to the Local Inspectors or Supervising Inspector. No person whose license has been suspended or revoked shall be issued another license except upon approval of the Director.

(b) When the license of any master, mate, or engineer is suspended, the Director shall determine the term of its duration, except that such suspension shall not extend beyond the time for which the license was issued. When the Director suspends a license which is about to expire, he may withhold the renewals of such license for such time as he considers necessary.

List of Products of Which Argentina is the Chief or an Important Source of Supply

NOTE: The rates of duty indicated are those now applicable to products of Argentina. Where the rate is one which has been reduced pursuant to a previous trade agreement by 50 percent (the maximum permitted in the Trade Agreements Act) it is indicated by the symbol MR. Where the rate represents a reduction pursuant to a previous trade agreement, but less than a 50-percent reduction, it is indicated by the symbol R. Where a rate has been bound against increase, but has not been reduced in a previous trade agreement it is indicated by the symbol B; likewise, items which have been bound free of duty are indicated by the symbol B.

For the purpose of facilitating identification of the articles listed, reference is made in the list to the paragraph numbers of the tariff schedules in the Tariff Act of 1930, or, as the case may be, to the appropriate sections of the Internal Revenue Code. The descriptive phraseology is, however, in many cases limited to a narrower field than that covered by the numbered tariff paragraph or section in the Internal Revenue Code. In such cases only the articles covered by the descriptive phraseology of the list will come under consideration for the granting of concessions.

In the event that articles which are at present regarded as classifiable under the descriptions included in the above list are excluded therefrom by judicial decision or otherwise prior to the conclusion of the agreement, the list will nevertheless be considered as including such articles.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Division of Marketing and Marketing Agreements.

DETERMINATION WITH RESPECT TO AN ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING OF MILK IN FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the terms and provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, having reason to believe that execution of an amendment to a tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, and issuance of an order,[1] as amended, both of which regulate the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, gave, on the 21st day of March, 1939, notice of a public hearing to be held on the 28th day of March, 1939, at Indianapolis, Indiana, on proposed amendments of said tentatively approved marketing agreement, and of said order, said hearing being reopened at Indianapolis, Indiana, on the 13th day of June, 1939, for the purpose of receiving additional evidence, and at said times and place conducted a public hearing at which all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on the said proposed amendments; and

Whereas, after said hearing and after the tentative approval by the Secretary, on the 18th day of July, 1939, of a marketing agreement, as amended, handlers of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by such proposed order, as amended, which is marketed within the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area, refused or failed to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, relating to milk;

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the authority vested in him by said act, hereby determines:

(1) That the refusal or failure of said handlers to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) That the issuance of the proposed order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interest of producers of milk which is produced for sale in said area; and

(3) That the issuance of the proposed order, as amended, is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum conducted by the Secretary, and who, during the month of May, 1939, said month having been determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in said area.

In witness whereof, M. L. Wilson, Acting Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, has executed this determination in duplicate, and has hereunto set his hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, this 14th day of August 1939.

[SEAL] M. L. WILSON,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

GRADING SERVICE

§ 52.5 Who may obtain service. An application for grading service under the Act may be made by any person having a financial interest in the products involved, including Federal, State, county, or municipal governments, and canners, receivers, common carriers, or by any authorized person in behalf of such applicant.

§ 52.6 Where application is filed. Application for grading may be filed with an official grader or licensed sampler, or in any office mentioned in section 52.4. Proof of the applicant's interest or of the authority of any person applying for grading in behalf of another may be required in the discretion of the official grader or may be transmitted through any licensed sampler or through the person drawing samples.

§ 52.7 How to make application. Such application shall be in English, and may be made in writing or orally, by telegraph, telephone, or otherwise. It may be made for one or more cars, lot or lots, sample or samples of canned fruits and vegetables, or may be a blanket application for grading of all designated cars, lots or samples of canned fruits and vegetables within a given period, or within a given warehouse, store, or other place. If made orally, the official grader may require that it be confirmed in writing or by telegraph, setting forth the facts required in section 52.8.

§ 52.8 Form of application. Each application for grading shall state (a) the name and post office address of the applicant, and of the person making the application, if acting as agent for another; (b) the name and post office address of the canner, if known; (c) the kind and quality of canned fruits and vegetables involved; (d) the financial interest of the applicant therein; (e) the identification of the canned fruits or vegetables by (1) the declared grade, label, brand, code or other marks and their meaning if known; (2) the car initials, car number and name of common carrier, if possible; (3) name and location of warehouse, store or other place where the canned fruits and vegetables are located; and (4) any other pertinent information; (f) the particular quality or condition concerning which inspection or grading is requested, including the time when the service is desired and where the products to be examined are located; (g) the name and address of the buyer when the canned fruits and vegetables are to be graded in the receiving market; (h) the name of the originating points and the destination, when known; and (i) such other information as may be required by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

§ 52.9 When application is deemed filed. An application shall be deemed filed when delivered to the proper grading office. A record showing the date and time of filing shall be made in such office.

§ 52.10 When application may be rejected. Any application may be rejected by the official grader in charge of the office in which it is filed, for any non-compliance with the Act or any applicable regulation thereunder, and such grader shall immediately notify the applicant by telegraph at the applicant's expense or in writing of the reasons for such rejection.

§ 52.11 When application may be withdrawn. Application may be withdrawn by the applicant at any time before the service is performed, upon payment of any expenses incurred in connection therewith.

§ 52.12 Accessibility of product. The applicant shall cause the canned fruits and vegetables for which grading is requested to be made accessible for sampling.

§ 52.13 Basis of certification. Grading and certification for quality or condition shall, unless the applicant shall request otherwise, be based upon the official or tentative standards for grades of canned fruits and vegetables of the United States Department of Agriculture, or upon Federal specifications of the Federal Specifications Executive Committee, or upon the specifications of any State or foreign country, or shall be by description where official standards or specifications are lacking. Certificates may be restricted to a single factor, such as net or drained weights, condition of cans or cases, etc.

§ 52.14 Order of grading. As many lots will be sampled and graded by official samplers and graders as facilities permit, and, as far as practicable, in the order in which applications are received, except that applications for appeal gradings shall have precedence over all other applications.

§ 52.15 Financial interest of grader. No official grader shall grade any product in which he is directly or indirectly financially interested.

§ 52.16 Postponing grading. If, because of the possibility of latent defects not apparent immediately after packing, or for any reason, the grader feels he will be unable to determine accurately the true grade and condition of a product, he shall postpone examination of the product for such period as may, in his judgment, be reasonably necessary to enable him to determine its true quality or condition.

§ 52.17 Form of certificate. Certificates shall be issued on forms approved by the Chief of Agricultural Marketing Service: Provided, That when application for grading is made by any branch of the Federal government or by a public institution or by anyone, for the purpose of determining whether canned fruits and vegetables for use by such applicant comply with contract specifications therefor, a formal certificate need not be issued, but the fact of such compliance or non-compliance with specification may be indicated by appropriate stamp or mark on such products or the containers thereof, or otherwise, as the official grader may deem proper: Provided further, That memoranda of gradings for other purposes may be issued in lieu of certificates on forms approved by the Chief of Agricultural Marketing Service.

§ 52.18 Issuance of certificates. The official grader shall sign and issue a separate certificate for each lot of canned fruits and vegetables graded by him. Each kind of canned fruits and vegetables shall constitute a separate lot, and different types or styles of the same kind of canned fruits and vegetables shall be considered separate lots.

§ 52.19 Disposition of certificates. The original certificate and not to exceed four copies, if requested prior to issuance, shall be immediately delivered or mailed to the applicant or a person designated by him. One copy shall be filed in the office of the grader, and one copy forwarded to the Chief of Agricultural Marketing Service. Copies will be furnished to other financially interested parties as outlined in section 52.60.

§ 52.20 Advance information. Upon request of an applicant, all or any part of the contents of a certificate may be telegraphed or telephoned to him or to any person designated by him, at his expense.

APPEAL GRADING

§ 52.21 When appeal may be taken. An application for appeal grading may be made when any party financially interested in a lot of canned fruits or vegetables previously officially sampled and graded is dissatisfied with the determination stated in the original certificate.

§ 52.22 How to obtain. Appeal gradings may be obtained by the applicant or other person financially interested in the lot by filing a request for such appeal grading (a) in the grading office nearest the point where the product is located, (b) with the grader who made the original grading, or (c) with the Chief of Agricultural Marketing Service. The application for appeal shall be filed within 30 days, exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays, from the date of the original certificate of grade and shall state the reasons therefor and may be accompanied by a copy of any previous certificate of grade or grading report, or any other information which the applicant shall have received regarding the grade or condition of the product at the time of the original grading. Such application may be made in writing or orally, by telegraph, telephone, or otherwise. If made orally, the person receiving the application may require that it be confirmed in writing.

§ 52.23 Record of filing time. A record showing the date and time of filing such application shall be immediately made by the receiver thereof.

§ 52.24 When appeal may be refused. If it shall appear that the reasons stated in an application for appeal grading are frivolous or unsubstantial, or that the quality or condition of the product has undergone a material change since the original grading, or that the product cannot be made accessible for a thorough examination of all parts of the lot, or the identity of the lot originally graded has been lost, or these regulations have not been complied with, the application may be denied.

§ 52.25 When appeal may be withdrawn. Any application for appeal grading may be withdrawn by the applicant at any time before the grading has been made, upon payment of any expenses incurred in connection therewith.

§ 52.26 When a second grading is not an appeal. When grading is requested to determine factors of quality or condition which may have undergone material change since the original grading; or when another grading is requested for the purpose of securing an up-to-date certificate and the applicant does not question the correctness of the original certificate covering the lot in question; or, when the samples used in connection with the first grading were not officially drawn, the new grading shall not be considered an appeal grading, within the meaning of sections 52.21–52.30.

§ 52.27 Order in which made. Appeal gradings shall as far as practicable be made at time requested by applicant and in the order in which applications are received.

§ 52.28 Who shall pass upon appeals. Appeal gradings shall be made by graders specially designated therefor by the Chief of Agricultural Marketing Service and such gradings shall be conducted jointly by two graders when practicable, neither of whom shall have graded the lot previously.

§ 52.29 Appeal findings. After an appeal grading has been made, a certificate designated as "appeal grade certificate" shall be signed and issued, referring specifically to the original certificate and stating the quality or condition of the product, as shown by the appeal grading. In all other respects the provisions of sections 52.5–52.20 shall apply to such appeal grade certificate, except that if the applicant for appeal grading be not the original applicant, a copy of the appeal grade certificate shall be mailed to the original applicant.

§ 52.30 Superseded certificates. When a certificate of grade shall have been superseded under these regulations by an appeal grade certificate, such certificate of grade shall become null and void and shall not thereafter represent the class, quality, or condition of the product described therein. If the original and all copies of the superseded certificate are not delivered to the person with whom the application for appeal grading is filed, the officer issuing the appeal grade certificate shall forward notice of such issuance and of the cancellation of the original certificate to such persons as he considers necessary to prevent fraudulent use of the cancelled certificate.

LICENSED SAMPLERS

§ 52.31 Who may be licensed. Persons showing proper qualifications may be licensed by the Secretary as samplers of canned fruits and vegetables to be graded under the Act, when to do so will expedite grading, or will effect savings to interested parties. All such licenses shall be countersigned by the division or project leader in charge of the canned fruit and vegetable grading service, by the supervising grader under whose direction the licensee is to draw samples, or by such other official as may be designated by the Chief of Agricultural Marketing Service.

§ 52.32 How applications are filed. Application for licenses to sample canned fruits and vegetables under the Act shall be made to the Chief of Agricultural Marketing Service on forms furnished for the purpose by him.

§ 52.33 Form of application. Each such application shall be signed by the applicant, shall be verified by him under oath or affirmation administered by a duly authorized officer, and shall contain or be accompanied by (a) satisfactory evidence that he has passed his 21st birthday; (b) a statement indicating his present occupation; (c) a statement showing his occupation for ten years prior to date of application, together with names of employers; (d) a statement that he will not in his official capacity as a licensed sampler, if licensed, draw samples from any lot of canned fruits and vegetables in which he or his employer are in any way financially interested; (e) a statement by the applicant that he agrees to comply with the terms of the Act, and rules and regulations thereunder so far as they may relate to him; (f) a statement indicating the fees he will charge, if licensed, which shall not exceed $1.00 for a single sample of 24 cans, $1.50 for two such samples drawn at one time, and 50 cents for each additional sample drawn at any one time, plus actual traveling and subsistence expenses incurred incident thereto, if any; and (g) such other information as the Chief of Agricultural Marketing Service may require.

§ 53.34 Sampler's license may be suspended. A sampler's license may be suspended, pending final action by the Secretary of Agriculture, by any official by whom it may be countersigned or any superior officer whenever such official shall deem such action to be for the good of the service. Within seven days after any such suspension, the licensee may file an appeal in writing to the Secretary of Agriculture, supported by any argument or evidence that he may wish to offer in his behalf.

§ 52.35 When samples to be drawn. Each licensed sampler, when requested, shall without discrimination, as soon as practicable and upon reasonable terms, draw samples from such lots of canned fruits or vegetables as are in condition to permit adequate and proper sampling in the manner prescribed in section 52.45.

§ 52.36 Issuance of certificates of sampling. Immediately after samples are drawn, licensed samplers shall issue a certificate of sampling in quadruplicate on forms provided for the purpose by the Agricultural Marketing Service, the original and two copies to be shipped in the container with the samples to the grading office, the other copy to be retained by the sampler.

§ 52.37 Samples to be identified and sealed. After drawing samples, the licensed sampler shall issue an official sample label in duplicate, on label forms furnished by the Agricultural Marketing Service. These forms shall be affixed to two of the containers in the official sample for identification purposes. Except as provided in section 52.40, all of the containers in an official sample shall be packed in a fibre board carton, the ends and flaps glued or tied down, and the "seam" created by the closing of the flaps, shall be completely covered by a strip of adhesive tape at least two inches wide, on which the licensed sampler shall place his initials and the certificate of sampling number on both the top and bottom of the fibre board carton.

§ 52.38 Where samples are to be shipped. Samples drawn by licensed samplers shall be forwarded, after having been sealed as provided in section 52.37, to the nearest official grading office of the Agricultural Marketing Service, or to such grading office as may be designated by the Agricultural Marketing Service, at the prepaid expense of the applicant.

§ 52.39 Retention of check samples. Upon receipt of an officially drawn sample at the office of the grader, in the absence of specific instructions from the Agricultural Marketing Service directing otherwise, the sample shall be divided, one-half to be used for grading and the remainder retained as a check sample at the grading office or at such points as the Agricultural Marketing Service may approve. The check sample will be held until the applicant indicates that sale of the lot from which it was drawn has been completed and that there is no further use for it, but will not be held for a period exceeding one year from date of grading. Upon request of applicant, the check or comparison sample or samples will be returned to the applicant, at his expense; otherwise, the samples will be disposed of in such manner as the Chief of Agricultural Marketing Service may direct.

§ 52.40 Retention of check samples stored with applicant. If the applicant requests, the official sample may be divided in two equal parts at time of sampling, one part being retained at point of sampling, as provided in section 52.41. In the event the official sample consists of containers bearing more than one code or identification mark or symbol, the samples shall be so divided and segregated that an equal number of containers of each code or symbol mark are shipped to the grading office and an equal number retained in the check sample.

§ 52.41 Sealing of check samples. When check samples are retained in the custody of the applicant, they shall be placed in a fibre board carton and all seams completely sealed with adhesive tape not less than two inches wide. On the adhesive tape on both the bottom and top of the carton shall be placed the certificate of sampling or certificate of grade number, the date sampled, and the initials of the party performing the sampling.

§ 52.42 Invalidation of check samples. No check sample retained by the applicant shall be used as a basis for an appeal grading if the seal on the carton in which samples were packed is broken or shows evidence of tampering.

§ 52.43 Retention of check samples not officially drawn. Samples not officially drawn may be divided and retained in the manner outlined in sections 52.39 and 52.40 upon request of applicant, or if the official grader deems such procedure desirable.

OFFICIAL SAMPLING

§ 52.44 How samples are drawn. Each employee of the Department, designated for the purpose, or licensed sampler, shall draw cans at random from different locations in each lot sampled, so that he may secure a true representative sample of the lot. If cans in the lot bear differing code symbols, care shall be taken to draw samples in the correct proportion for each similarly coded portion of the lot.

§ 52.45 Number of samples to be drawn. In the absence of specific instructions from the Agricultural Marketing Service directing otherwise, each licensed sampler or employee of the Department authorized to sample canned fruits and vegetables for the purpose of these regulations shall draw samples at the rate of 1 can for each 1,000 cans in a lot of can sizes No. 3 ($4\frac{1}{16}$" x $4\frac{1}{16}$") and smaller, and 1 can for each 600 cans of sizes larger than No. 3 ($4\frac{1}{16}$" x $4\frac{1}{16}$"), but not larger than size No. 12 ($6\frac{5}{16}$" x $8\frac{13}{16}$").

§ 52.46 Additional samples. If, in the opinion of the sampler, conditions warrant the drawing of a larger number of cans as a sample, such additional cans may be drawn as the official grader or licensed sampler may deem necessary.

GRADING FEES AND EXPENSES

§ 52.47 How fees are to be paid. For each lot of canned fruits or vegetables graded, except for branches of the Federal Government, a fee shall be paid by the applicant, and in advance if required by the official grader. Fees covered by sections 52.47–52.64, shall be remitted to the office of the Agricultural Marketing Service, performing the service.

§ 52.48 Fee when samples are drawn by salaried employees of the Department. For each lot of canned fruits or vegetables graded consisting of 600 cases or less, the samples having been drawn by a salaried grader of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a fee of $3.00 shall be collected. For lots in excess of 600 cases fees shall be collected at the rate of $1.00 for each 200 cases, or fraction thereof.

§ 52.49 Fee when samples are drawn by licensed samplers or Federal-State inspectors. For each lot of canned fruits and vegetables graded, the samples having been drawn by a licensed sampler or Federal-State inspector, the fee collected for grading shall be 60 percent of the rate prescribed in section 52.48. Fees for sampling assessed by licensed samplers or Federal-State inspectors shall be paid, in addition to the grading fee, by the applicant, in such manner as the Agricultural Marketing Service may direct.

§ 52.50 Fees for grading large lots. When large lots are graded for one applicant, as, for example, the canner's entire pack or a large portion thereof and which may consist of many lots of varying sizes, the amount of the fee collected shall be based on the total number of cases graded, using the rate provided in section 52.48 and 52.49, whichever is applicable. For the purpose of interpreting this section, large lots shall consist of 20,000 cases or more.

§ 52.51 Fees when samples are not officially drawn. When samples which have not been officially drawn are submitted to a grading office, fees charged shall be as follows:

| No. of cans | No. 3 size can (or smaller) | Cans larger than No. 3 size |
|---|---|---|
| 2 cans | .70 | 1.30 |
| 3 cans | 1.00 | 1.90 |
| 4 cans | 1.30 | 2.50 |
| 5 cans | 1.50 | 3.00 |
| 6 cans | 1.50 | 3.00 |
| 7 cans | 1.75 | 3.60 |
| 8 cans | 2.00 | 4.20 |
| 9 cans | 2.25 | 4.80 |
| 10 cans | 2.50 | 5.40 |
| 11 cans | 2.75 | 6.00 |
| 12 cans | 3.00 | 6.00 |
| For each additional can in the sample, per can | .25 | .50 |

§ 52.52 Informal reports. When the fees assessed for grading of samples of one lot amount to $1.00 or less, an informal report will be issued, except as provided in section 52.53.

§ 52.53 Minimum fee for gradings reported on formal certificates. Upon request of applicant, formal certificates will be issued, but a minimum fee for gradings reported on formal certificates of $1.00 shall be collected.

§ 52.55 Fee for making alcohol insoluble solids determination. If the commodity graded is one on which alcohol insoluble solids determinations are sometimes desirable, an additional charge of $2.00 shall be made for each determination made. Certificates of grade shall clearly indicate whether the determination was made on each can or on a composite sample.

§ 52.56 Fees for other examinations. Fees for examinations of a character not covered in the preceding sections shall be charged on a basis approved by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

§ 52.57 Refunds when declaration of intention is signed by applicant. Any applicant who signs a declaration of intention indicating that he intends to use the grading service to the extent of 50 or more gradings at any one office of official grading within the period of one year immediately following the filing of the declaration of intention, and who pays for 50 or more gradings will receive a refund at the end of the year period.

(a) Contract basis for 50 to 999 gradings in 12 months. Any applicant who shall have paid for 50 or more gradings at any one office of official grading or office operating tempararily in its territory, in accordance with sections 52.48 or 52.49, within the period of one year immediately following the filing of a declaration of his intention to avail himself of this privilege shall receive a refund from the Department at the rate of 25 percent of the total amount of fees paid, at the end of the year period, subject to the provisions under (c) of this section.

(b) Contract basis for 1,000 or more gradings in 12 months. Any applicant who shall have paid for 1,000 or more gradings at any one office of official grading or office operating temporarily in its territory, in accordance with sections 52.48 or 52.49, within the period of one year immediately following the filing of a declaration of his intention to avail himself of this privilege shall receive a refund from the Department at the rate of 33⅓ percent of the total amount of fees paid, at the end of the year period, subject to the provisions under (c) of this section.

(c) How refunds are to be computed. For the purpose of computing the refunds provided under (a) and (b) of this section, $5.00 collected in fees shall be considered a grading when the samples have been drawn by an official of the Department, regardless of the number of certificates issued, and $3.00 collected in fees shall be considered a grading if the samples have been drawn by someone other than an official of the Department. Charges or fees assessed for microscopic analysis, alcohol insoluble solids determinations, or service for which additional fees are assessed, as indicated under section 52.56, copies of score sheets, copies of certificates, travel or incidental expenses, fees based on the hourly rate, or charges for continuous factory inspection are not subject to refund.

(d) Payment of refunds. In the absence of specific request from the applicant for earlier payment, the refunds provided under (a) and (b) of this section shall be made at the end of the 12 month period.

§ 52.58 Charges for traveling expenses. Such charges may be made for traveling expenses and other items paid or incurred by the Agricultural Marketing Service in connection with grading or sampling, at points other than those named in section 52.4, or appeal grading where the services of an appeal grader are required, as will reimburse the Department.

§ 52.59 Fees for score sheet when formal certificates are issued. If the applicant, when application is filed, requests a score sheet showing in detail the grading of each container graded, such score sheet covering the grading of 12 cans or less in one lot shall be furnished, for which an additional fee of 50¢ per sheet will be assessed.

§ 52.60 Fees for copies of certificates. A fee of $1.00 shall be assessed for not to exceed three copies of certificate furnished to persons having a financial interest in the canned fruits and vegetables involved, in addition to those mentioned in section 52.19.

§ 52.61 Fees for appeal gradings. Fees for appeal gradings shall be double those for original gradings, except that when it is found that there was a material error in the determination based upon the original grading, no fee will be charged for the appeal grading.

§ 52.62 When score sheets are attached to informal reports. When informal reports are issued, if, previous to grading, the applicant so requests, the score sheet may be attached to the informal report in lieu of carrying detailed information on the report and no charge will be made for the score sheet.

§ 52.63 When charges are to be based on hourly rate. When grading is done and formal certificates are not issued or when the services rendered are such that charges based upon the foregoing sections would be inadequate or inequitable, charges may be based on the time consumed by the official grader at the rate of $2.60 per hour.

§ 52.64 Fee for continuous factory inspection and grading. Charges for continuous factory inspection and grading may be made on such contract basis as will reimburse the Agricultural Marketing Service for the salary and all expenses of the factory inspector, and fees of official grader, to which shall be added an appropriate percentage of charges assessed to cover, as nearly as practicable, administrative overhead expenses.

MISCELLANEOUS

§ 52.65 Fraud or misrepresentation. Any willful misrepresentation, or any deceptive or fraudulent practice made or committed by any applicant for grading, appeal grading, or regrading, including the submission of improperly drawn or false samples drawn with intent to deceive, or the improper use of the grade certification on labels or invoices may be deemed sufficient cause for declining further applications for grading service from the person guilty thereof.

§ 52.66 Political activity. All graders authorized to issue certificates of grade under the Act and these regulations are forbidden, during the period of their appointment to take an active part in political management or in political campaigns. Political activity in city, county, State, or national elections, whether primary or regular, or in behalf of any party or candidate, or any measure to be voted upon, is prohibited. This applies to all appointees, including temporary employees, and employees on leave of absence with or without pay. Willful violation of sections 52.65 and 52.66 will constitute grounds for dismissal.

§ 52.67 Publication. Publication under the Act and these regulations shall be made in such media as the Agricultural Marketing Service may from time to time designate for the purpose.

§ 52.68 Identification. All graders shall have in their possession at all times Agricultural Marketing Service identification cards, and shall identify themselves by such cards on request.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of August 1939. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Each page shall be printed on one side only, and shall have a left margin at least one inch wide.

An application in writing shall be conspicuously entitled "Application for a Review of Order of the Postmaster General Issued Under Section 405 (e) of the Civil Aeronautics Act", shall specify the schedule affected and identify the order complained of, and shall specify the manner in which the applicant is or would be aggrieved by the order, the relief sought, and the facts relied upon to establish that the public convenience and necessity require that such order be amended, revised, suspended or cancelled by the Authority. A change in a schedule page to show the addition of a new schedule or to show a change in an existing schedule shall be effected by reproducing the entire page. Such changed schedule page shall be designated a revised page, and shall cancel the former page; for example,

Any change in an existing schedule on which mail is being transported shall be filed with the Authority at least ten days prior to the effective date of such change; provided, however, that any change in schedule, or the addition of a new schedule, required by an order of the Postmaster General under section 405 (e) of the Act shall be filed with the Authority by the air carrier on or before the effective date of such order: And provided further, That if the Authority postpones the effective date of any such order pursuant to section 405 (e) of the Act, the air carrier shall revise its general schedule to conform to the action taken on such order by the Authority and shall make such revision as promptly as possible but not more than ten days after the effective date of such order.

one code or identification mark or symbol, the samples shall be so divided and segregated that an equal number of containers of each code or symbol mark are shipped to the grading office and an equal number retained in the check sample.

§ 52.41 Sealing of check samples. When check samples are retained in the custody of the applicant, they shall be placed in a fibre board carton and all seams completely sealed with adhesive tape not less than two inches wide. On the adhesive tape on both the bottom and top of the carton shall be placed the certificate of sampling or certificate of grade number, the date sampled, and the initials of the party performing the sampling.

§ 52.42 Invalidation of check samples. No check sample retained by the applicant shall be used as a basis for an appeal grading if the seal on the carton in which samples were packed is broken or shows evidence of tampering.

§ 52.43 Retention of check samples not officially drawn. Samples not officially drawn may be divided and retained in the manner outlined in sections 52.39 and 52.40 upon request of applicant, or if the official grader deems such procedure desirable.

OFFICIAL SAMPLING

§ 52.44 How samples are drawn. Each employee of the Department, designated for the purpose, or licensed sampler, shall draw cans at random from different locations in each lot sampled, so that he may secure a true representative sample of the lot. If cans in the lot bear differing code symbols, care shall be taken to draw samples in the correct proportion for each similarly coded portion of the lot.

§ 52.45 Number of samples to be drawn. In the absence of specific instructions from the Agricultural Marketing Service directing otherwise, each licensed sampler or employee of the Department authorized to sample canned fruits and vegetables for the purpose of these regulations shall draw samples at the rate of 1 can for each 1,000 cans in a lot of can sizes No. 3 ($4\frac{1}{16}$'' x $4\frac{1}{16}$'') and smaller, and 1 can for each 600 cans of sizes larger than No. 3 ($4\frac{1}{16}$'' x $4\frac{1}{16}$''), but not larger than size No. 12 ($6\frac{3}{16}$'' x $8\frac{1}{16}$'').

§ 52.46 Additional samples. If, in the opinion of the sampler, conditions warrant the drawing of a larger number of cans as a sample, such additional cans may be drawn as the official grader or licensed sampler may deem necessary.

GRADING FEES AND EXPENSES

§ 52.47 How fees are to be paid. For each lot of canned fruits or vegetables graded, except for branches of the Federal Government, a fee shall be paid by the applicant, and in advance if required by the official grader. Fees covered by sections 52.47–52.64, shall be remitted to the office of the Agricultural Marketing Service, performing the service.

§ 52.48 Fee when samples are drawn by salaried employees of the Department. For each lot of canned fruits or vegetables graded consisting of 600 cases or less, the samples having been drawn by a salaried grader of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a fee of $3.00 shall be collected. For lots in excess of 600 cases fees shall be collected at the rate of $1.00 for each 200 cases, or fraction thereof.

§ 52.49 Fee when samples are drawn by licensed samplers or Federal-State inspectors. For each lot of canned fruits and vegetables graded, the samples having been drawn by a licensed sampler or Federal-State inspector, the fee collected for grading shall be 60 percent of the rate prescribed in section 52.48. Fees for sampling assessed by licensed samplers or Federal-State inspectors shall be paid, in addition to the grading fee, by the applicant, in such manner as the Agricultural Marketing Service may direct.

§ 52.50 Fees for grading large lots. When large lots are graded for one applicant, as, for example, the canner's entire pack or a large portion thereof and which may consist of many lots of varying sizes, the amount of the fee collected shall be based on the total number of cases graded, using the rate provided in section 52.48 and 52.49, whichever is applicable. For the purpose of interpreting this section, large lots shall consist of 20,000 cases or more.

§ 52.51 Fees when samples are not officially drawn. When samples which have not been officially drawn are submitted to a grading office, fees charged shall be as follows:

| No. of cans | No. 3 size can (or smaller) | Cans larger than No. 3 size |
|---|---|---|
| 1 can | $0.35 | $0.65 |
| 2 cans | .70 | 1.30 |
| 3 cans | 1.00 | 1.90 |
| 4 cans | 1.30 | 2.50 |
| 5 cans | 1.50 | 3.00 |
| 6 cans | 1.50 | 3.00 |
| 7 cans | 1.75 | 3.60 |
| 8 cans | 2.00 | 4.20 |
| 9 cans | 2.25 | 4.80 |
| 10 cans | 2.50 | 5.40 |
| 11 cans | 2.75 | 6.00 |
| 12 cans | 3.00 | 6.00 |
| For each additional can in the sample, per can | .25 | .50 |

§ 52.52 Informal reports. When the fees assessed for grading of samples of one lot amount to $1.00 or less, an informal report will be issued, except as provided in section 52.53.

§ 52.53 Minimum fee for gradings reported on formal certificates. Upon request of applicant, formal certificates will be issued, but a minimum fee for gradings reported on formal certificates of $1.00 shall be collected.

§ 52.54 Fees for grading commodities requiring microscopical analysis. If the commodity graded is one the grade for which requires microscopical analysis for mold, or in which microscopical analysis for worm fragments is desirable, an additional charge shall be made of $1.00 for each type of microscopical analysis of each container in the sample, unless the applicant requests the omission of the analysis, in which event the certificate of grade shall be qualified and indicate "at request of applicant microscopical analysis not made." If the applicant requests that microscopical analysis be made of a composite sample of all containers in a sample, a charge of $1.00 for each type of microscopical analysis shall be made and the certificate of grade shall indicate "microscopical analysis was made of a composite sample."

§ 52.55 Fee for making alcohol insoluble solids determination. If the commodity graded is one on which alcohol insoluble solids determinations are sometimes desirable, an additional charge of $2.00 shall be made for each determination made. Certificates of grade shall clearly indicate whether the determination was made on each can or on a composite sample.

§ 52.56 Fees for other examinations. Fees for examinations of a character not covered in the preceding sections shall be charged on a basis approved by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

§ 52.57 Refunds when declaration of intention is signed by applicant. Any applicant who signs a declaration of intention indicating that he intends to use the grading service to the extent of 50 or more gradings at any one office of official grading within the period of one year immediately following the filing of the declaration of intention, and who pays for 50 or more gradings will receive a refund at the end of the year period.

(a) Contract basis for 50 to 999 gradings in 12 months. Any applicant who shall have paid for 50 or more gradings at any one office of official grading or office operating tempararily in its territory, in accordance with sections 52.48 or 52.49, within the period of one year immediately following the filing of a declaration of his intention to avail himself of this privilege shall receive a refund from the Department at the rate of 25 percent of the total amount of fees paid, at the end of the year period, subject to the provisions under (c) of this section.

(b) Contract basis for 1,000 or more gradings in 12 months. Any applicant who shall have paid for 1,000 or more gradings at any one office of official grading or office operating temporarily in its territory, in accordance with sections 52.48 or 52.49, within the period of one year immediately following the filing of a declaration of his intention to avail himself of this privilege shall receive a refund from the Department at the rate of 33⅓ percent of the total amount of fees paid, at the end of the year period, subject to the provisions under (c) of this section.

(c) How refunds are to be computed. For the purpose of computing the refunds provided under (a) and (b) of this section, $5.00 collected in fees shall be considered a grading when the samples have been drawn by an official of the Department, regardless of the number of certificates issued, and $3.00 collected in fees shall be considered a grading if the samples have been drawn by someone other than an official of the Department. Charges or fees assessed for microscopic analysis, alcohol insoluble solids determinations, or service for which additional fees are assessed, as indicated under section 52.56, copies of score sheets, copies of certificates, travel or incidental expenses, fees based on the hourly rate, or charges for continuous factory inspection are not subject to refund.

(d) Payment of refunds. In the absence of specific request from the applicant for earlier payment, the refunds provided under (a) and (b) of this section shall be made at the end of the 12 month period.

§ 52.58 Charges for traveling expenses. Such charges may be made for traveling expenses and other items paid or incurred by the Agricultural Marketing Service in connection with grading or sampling, at points other than those named in section 52.4, or appeal grading where the services of an appeal grader are required, as will reimburse the Department.

§ 52.59 Fees for score sheet when formal certificates are issued. If the applicant, when application is filed, requests a score sheet showing in detail the grading of each container graded, such score sheet covering the grading of 12 cans or less in one lot shall be furnished, for which an additional fee of 50¢ per sheet will be assessed.

§ 52.60 Fees for copies of certificates. A fee of $1.00 shall be assessed for not to exceed three copies of certificate furnished to persons having a financial interest in the canned fruits and vegetables involved, in addition to those mentioned in section 52.19.

§ 52.61 Fees for appeal gradings. Fees for appeal gradings shall be double those for original gradings, except that when it is found that there was a material error in the determination based upon the original grading, no fee will be charged for the appeal grading.

§ 52.62 When score sheets are attached to informal reports. When informal reports are issued, if, previous to grading, the applicant so requests, the score sheet may be attached to the informal report in lieu of carrying detailed information on the report and no charge will be made for the score sheet.

§ 52.63 When charges are to be based on hourly rate. When grading is done and formal certificates are not issued or when the services rendered are such that charges based upon the foregoing sections would be inadequate or inequitable, charges may be based on the time consumed by the official grader at the rate of $2.60 per hour.

§ 52.64 Fee for continuous factory inspection and grading. Charges for continuous factory inspection and grading may be made on such contract basis as will reimburse the Agricultural Marketing Service for the salary and all expenses of the factory inspector, and fees of official grader, to which shall be added an appropriate percentage of charges assessed to cover, as nearly as practicable, administrative overhead expenses.

MISCELLANEOUS

§ 52.65 Fraud or misrepresentation. Any willful misrepresentation, or any deceptive or fraudulent practice made or committed by any applicant for grading, appeal grading, or regrading, including the submission of improperly drawn or false samples drawn with intent to deceive, or the improper use of the grade certification on labels or invoices may be deemed sufficient cause for declining further applications for grading service from the person guilty thereof.

§ 52.66 Political activity. All graders authorized to issue certificates of grade under the Act and these regulations are forbidden, during the period of their appointment to take an active part in political management or in political campaigns. Political activity in city, county, State, or national elections, whether primary or regular, or in behalf of any party or candidate, or any measure to be voted upon, is prohibited. This applies to all appointees, including temporary employees, and employees on leave of absence with or without pay. Willful violation of sections 52.65 and 52.66 will constitute grounds for dismissal.

§ 52.67 Publication. Publication under the Act and these regulations shall be made in such media as the Agricultural Marketing Service may from time to time designate for the purpose.

§ 52.68 Identification. All graders shall have in their possession at all times Agricultural Marketing Service identification cards, and shall identify themselves by such cards on request.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of August 1939. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

CHAPTER VI—ORGANIZED RESERVES

PART 62—RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

Administration and Training[1]

§ 62.26 Honor graduates of colleges and universities. (a) The professor of military science and tactics at each college and university maintaining a Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit may designate annually the honor graduates of such units. The professor of military science and tactics acts in a strictly military capacity in designating such honor graduates.

(b) In this case the term "honor graduate" will apply to graduates of the institution in the current academic year who are graduates of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, citizens of the United States, who have been selected by the president of the institution for scholastic excellence, and who have been designated as honor graduates by the professors of military science and tactics as possessing outstanding qualities of leadership, character, and aptitude for the military service.

(c) The designation as honor graduate of a senior Reserve Officers' Training Corps division of an institution, other than medical, within the continental United States which offers a college degree upon satisfactory completion of four years' college work entitles the individual to be considered in selection of applicants for appointment in the Regular Army, provided he is eligible for appointment under other pertinent laws and regulations (see Sec. 73.54). At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of August 1939.

Acting pursuant to the authority vested in it by the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, particularly sections 205 (a) and 405 (e) thereof, and finding that its action is desirable in the public interest and is necessary and appropriate to carry out the provisions of, and to exercise and perform its powers and duties under said Act, the Civil Aeronautics Authority hereby makes and promulgates the following regulation:

(a) Filing of general schedules. Each air carrier authorized to engage in air transportation shall file with the Authority a statement, to be known as a "general schedule", showing the points between which the air carrier is authorized to engage in air transportation, all schedules of aircraft which will be operated by the air carrier between such points on the date the general schedule is to become effective, the time of arrival and departure at each point, and the frequency of each schedule. Prior to the date it engages in any scheduled air transportation each such air carrier shall file a general schedule with the Authority: Provided, however, That an air carrier authorized to engage in air transportation on the effective date of this regulation may file its first general schedule hereunder at any time within twenty days after the effective date of this regulation.

(b) Form of schedules. All general schedules and amendments thereto shall be in loose-leaf form, with pages eight and one-half by eleven inches in size, and shall be plainly typewritten, stereotyped or mimeographed on durable paper. Each page shall be printed on one side only, and shall have a left margin at least one inch wide.

(c) Title page. The first page of a general schedule shall be designated as a title page and include the following:

(2) The general schedule number;
(3) A brief description of the contents;
(4) The date of issue;
(5) An effective date; and

Each schedule page shall indicate the route number, if any, and the terminal and intermediate points served by the schedules appearing on the page, shall show the time of arrival and departure of each schedule at such points, and the types of equipment operated on each schedule. Each schedule shall be assigned a trip or flight number. Each schedule page shall contain an explanation of all symbols used thereon.

(e) Additions to and changes in general schedule. An additional schedule may be added to a general schedule either by filing a new schedule page or by revising an existing schedule page. A change in a schedule page to show the addition of a new schedule or to show a change in an existing schedule shall be effected by reproducing the entire page. Such changed schedule page shall be designated a revised page, and shall cancel the former page; for example,

Any change in an existing schedule on which mail is being transported shall be filed with the Authority at least ten days prior to the effective date of such change; provided, however, that any change in schedule, or the addition of a new schedule, required by an order of the Postmaster General under section 405 (e) of the Act shall be filed with the Authority by the air carrier on or before the effective date of such order: And provided further, That if the Authority postpones the effective date of any such order pursuant to section 405 (e) of the Act, the air carrier shall revise its general schedule to conform to the action taken on such order by the Authority and shall make such revision as promptly as possible but not more than ten days after the effective date of such order.

Any change in a non-mail schedule, or the addition of a new non-mail schedule, shall be filed with the Authority on or before the effective date thereof.

(f) Number of copies. Each air carrier shall transmit to the Authority for filing three copies of each general schedule or revised page, accompanied by letters of transmittal (in duplicate if a receipt is desired) listing the general schedule or revised pages that are transmitted for filing. Civil Aeronautics Authority,
Bureau of Economic Regulation, Tariffs Section,
Washington, D. C.

(g) Non-stop service. The filing of a general schedule or a revision thereof as herein prescribed will not constitute the filing of a "Notice of Non-Stop Service" required by Regulation 401–F–1 and Regulation 401–F–2[1] of the Authority, or the filing of information required by Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act or regulations issued thereunder.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

BUREAU OF MARINE INSPECTION AND NAVIGATION

SUBCHAPTER C—MOTOR BOATS

AMENDMENTS TO REGULATIONS

Section 29.1 is amended to read as follows:

All violations of the Act of June 9, 1910 detected by enforcement officers other than collectors of customs must be reported directly to the Department of Commerce (Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation) regardless of mitigating circumstances, as authority to mitigate and remit the penalties under the laws mentioned is vested solely in the Secretary of Commerce. Such reports must be forwarded to the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation in triplicate. The use of the report forms heretofore used in making such reports to collectors of customs is authorized.

Section 29.2 is amended to read as follows:

The Act of June 9, 1910 defines the words "motor boat" (i. e., the class of vessels subject to its requirements) as including every vessel propelled by machinery and not more than 65 feet in length, except tugboats and towboats propelled by steam. The term, therefore, includes boats temporarily or permanently equipped with detachable motors, and such vessels, when so equipped, are subject to the Act of June 9, 1910.

Section 29.3 is amended to read as follows:

The lights provided for in section 3 of the Act of June 9, 1910 are running lights for motor boats subject to the provisions of the Act of June 9, 1910 in lieu of the lights prescribed, respectively, by article 2 of the act approved June 7, 1897 (covering certain harbors, rivers, and inland waters of the United States); rule 3 of the act approved February 8, 1895 (covering the Great Lakes and their connecting and tributary waters); and rules 2, 5, 6, and 7 of section 4233 of the Revised Statutes (covering western rivers). These running lights must be carried on all motor boats when under way on navigable waters of the United States not on the high seas in all weathers from sunset to sunrise. The penalty for failure to carry such lights is a fine not exceeding $100. Motor boats when on the high seas must exhibit the lights prescribed by the international rules of 1890.

Section 29.4 is amended to read as follows:

The lights provided for in section 3 of the Act of June 9, 1910 are not in conflict with the anchor lights, and additional lights for pilot, towing, and fishing vessels, provided in the acts above cited.

Collectors of customs and others will observe that the penalties for violations of existing laws not in conflict with the Act of June 9, 1910 remain unchanged.

Section 29.5 is amended to read as follows:

Motor boats of class 1 must carry the two-color combination light and the white stern light required by section 3 (a) of the Act of June 9, 1910. The use of separate red and green side lights in lieu of the combination red and green light is prohibited.

The length of the light screens on motor boats of classes 2 and 3 is to be measured from the forward edge of the side light to the forward end of the light screen.

Subchapter C — Motor Boats, is amended by the insertion of two new sections numbered 29.12A and 29.14A to follow immediately after sections 29.12 and 29.14 respectively.

§ 29.12A The provisions of Section 4 of the Act of June 9, 1910, requiring whistles, fog horns, and bells on motor boats do not apply to motor boats propelled by outboard motors while competing in any race previously arranged for and announced, nor do they apply to such boats if they are designed and intended solely for racing, while they are engaged in such navigation as is incidental to the tuning up of the boats and engines for the race.

§ 29.14A The provisions of Section 6 of the Act of June 9, 1910, requiring fire extinguishers on motor boats do not apply to motor boats propelled by outboard motors while competing in any race previously arranged for and announced, nor do they apply to such boats if they are designed and intended solely for racing, while they are engaged in such navigation as is incidental to the tuning up of the boats and engines for the race.

Section 29.17 is amended to read as follows:

Motor boats as defined in Section 1 of the Act of June 9, 1910, are not required to carry on board copies of the pilot rules.

[Section 8 of the Act of June 9, 1910 (46 U.S.C. 518): Public Act No. 331, 76th Congress, approved August 7, 1939]

Whereas, H. A. Whereas, the Secretary on the 17th day of August 1936 tentatively approved the marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Kansas City, Missouri, marketing area; and

Whereas, the Secretary having reason to believe that said marketing agreement and said order should be amended, gave, on the 7th day of March 1939, a notice of hearing which was held at Kansas City, Missouri, on the 16th and 17th days of March 1939, on certain proposed amended provisions of said tentatively approved marketing agreement and of said order, said hearing being reopened[2] at Kansas City, Missouri, on the 22d, 23d, and 24th days of May 1939, for the purpose of receiving additional evidence, and at said time and place conducted public hearings at which all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on said proposed amended provisions; and

§ 913.0 Findings. 1. That the prices calculated to give milk handled in the marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to section 2 and section 8 (e) of the act are not reasonable in view of the available supplies of feeds, the price of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect the supply and demand for such milk, and that the minimum prices set forth in this order, as amended, are such prices as will reflect such factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest;

2. That the order, as amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to, handlers specified in the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, upon which hearings have been held; and

3. That the issuance of the order, as amended, and all of its terms and conditions will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by the terms and provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, hereby orders that such handling of milk in the Kansas City, Missouri, marketing area, as is in the current of interstate commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce, shall from the effective date hereof be in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

§ 913.1 Definitions—(a) Terms. The following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) The term "Kansas City, Missouri, marketing area," hereinafter called the "marketing area," means the territory within the corporate limits of the city of Kansas City, Missouri.

(2) The term "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

(3) The term "producer" means any person who, in conformity with the health regulations of the city of Kansas City, Missouri, under a permit issued by the proper health authorities of said city, produces milk which is received in bulk by a handler. This definition shall be deemed to include any such person who produces milk which a cooperative association or handler causes to be delivered to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area.

(4) The term "handler" means any person who, on his own behalf or on behalf of others, purchases or receives milk from producers, associations of producers, or other handlers, all, or a portion, of which milk is disposed of as milk or cream in the marketing area; and who, on his own behalf or on behalf of others, engages in such handling of milk as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk and its products. This definition shall be deemed to include any cooperative association or handler with respect to the milk of any producer which it causes to be delivered to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area, for the account of such cooperative association or handler and for which such cooperative association or handler collects payment.

(5) The term "market administrator" means the person designated pursuant to Sec. 913.2 as the agency for the administration hereof.

(6) The term "delivery period" means the current marketing period from the first to, and including, the last day of each month.

(7) The term "base" is the quantity of milk calculated for each producer pursuant to Sec. 913.7 (d).

(8) The term "cooperative association" means any cooperative association of producers which the Secretary determines (a) to have its entire activities under the control of its members, and (b) to have and to be exercising full authority in the sale of milk of its members.

(9) The term "act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937.

(10) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

§ 913.2 Market administrator—(a) Designation. The agency for the administration hereof shall be a market administrator who shall be a person selected by the Secretary. Such person shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of, the Secretary.

(b) Powers. The market administrator shall:

(1) Administer the terms and provisions hereof; and

(2) Report to the Secretary complaints of violation of the provisions hereof.

(c) Duties. The market administrator shall:

(1) Within 45 days following the date upon which he enters upon his duties, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary.

(2) Pay, out of the funds provided by Sec. 913.10, the cost of his bond, his own compensation, and all other expenses necessarily incurred in the maintenance and functioning of his office.

(3) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for herein, and surrender the same to his successor or to such other person as the Secretary may designate.

(4) Publicly disclose to handlers and producers, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, the name of any person who, within 10 days after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not (a) made reports pursuant to Sec. 913.5 or (b) made payments pursuant to Sec. 913.8.

(5) Promptly verify the information contained in the reports submitted by handlers.

§ 913.3 Classification of milk—(a) Basis of classification. Milk of a producer which a handler causes to be delivered to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area and milk received by each handler, including milk produced by him, if any, shall be classified by the market administrator in the classes set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Classes of utilization. The classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all milk disposed of in the form of milk containing more than 1 percent of butterfat.

(2) Class II milk shall be all milk, except skim milk, used to produce cream which is disposed of in the form of cream, flavored milk, creamed cottage cheese, creamed buttermilk, aerated cream, and eggnog.

(3) Class III milk shall be all milk not accounted for as Class I milk or Class II milk.

(c) Interhandler and nonhandler sales. Milk of a producer disposed of by a handler to another handler, and milk disposed of by a handler to a person who is not a handler but who distributes milk or manufactures milk products, shall be classified, subject to paragraph (d) of this section, as Class I milk: Provided, That if the selling handler, on or before the 5th day after the end of the delivery period, furnishes to the market administrator a statement, which is signed by the buyer and seller, that such milk was disposed of as Class II milk or Class III milk, such milk shall be classified accordingly, subject to verification by the market administrator.

(d) Sales of a cooperative association to any other handler. Milk caused to be delivered from a producer to a handler by a cooperative association which is a handler shall be ratably apportioned among the receiving handler's total Class I, Class II, and Class III milk.

§ 913.4 Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall pay, at the time and in the manner set forth in Sec. 913.8, not less than the following prices for milk received at such handler's plant or caused to be delivered by such handler to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area:

Class I milk—$2.20 per hundredweight: Provided, That with respect to Class I milk disposed of under a program approved by the Secretary for the sale or disposition of milk to low-income consumers, including persons on relief, the price shall be not less than $1.95 per hundredweight.

Class II milk—$2.05 per hundredweight.

Class III milk—The price per hundredweight which shall be calculated by the market administrator as follows: Multiply by 3.8 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk was received, and add 25 cents.

(b) Sales outside the marketing area. The prices to be paid by handlers for Class I milk and Class II milk disposed of during the delivery period in the territory lying within a radius of 5 miles of the corporate limits of Kansas City, Missouri, excepting that territory lying within the corporate limits of Kansas City, Kansas, shall be the prices for Class I milk and Class II milk set forth in paragraph (a) of this section. The prices to be paid by handlers for Class I milk and Class II milk disposed of during the delivery period in territory lying beyond 5 miles of the corporate limits of Kansas City, Missouri, and in territory lying within the corporate limits of Kansas City, Kansas, in lieu of the prices otherwise applicable pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, shall be, as ascertained by the market administrator, such prices as were paid to farmers in the market where such milk was disposed of, for milk of equivalent use.

§ 913.5 Reports of handlers—(a) Periodic reports. On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period each handler, with respect to milk or cream which was, during such delivery period, (a) received from producers, (b) received from handlers, (c) produced by such handler, and (d) received from any other source, shall report to the market administrator, in the detail and form prescribed by the market administrator, as follows:

(1) The receipts at each plant from producers who are not handlers, the quantity of milk received from producers in excess of their respective bases and the average butterfat test thereof;

(2) The receipts at each plant from any other handler, including any handler who is also a producer;

(3) The quantity, if any, produced by such handler;

(4) The receipts at each plant from any other source; and

(5) The respective quantities of milk disposed of in the classes set forth in Sec. 913.3.

(b) Reports as to producers. Each handler shall report to the market administrator as follows:

(1) Within 10 days after the market administrator's request, with respect to any producer for whom such information is not in the files of the market administrator, and with respect to a period or periods of time designated by the market administrator (a) the name and address, (b) the total pounds of milk received, (c) the average butterfat test of milk received, and (d) the number of days upon which milk was received; and

(2) As soon as possible after first receiving milk from any producer (a) the name and address of such producer, (b) the date upon which such milk was first received, and (c) the plant at which the milk of such producer was received.

(c) Reports of payments to producers. Upon the request of the market administrator each handler shall submit on or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period his producer pay roll for such delivery period, which shall show for each producer the net amount of such producer's payment with the prices, deductions, and charges involved.

(d) Verification of reports. Each handler shall make available to the market administrator or his agent (a) those records which are necessary for the verification of the information contained in the reports submitted in accordance with this section, and (b) those facilities which are necessary for the sampling, weighing, and testing of the milk of each producer.

§ 913.6 Application of provisions. (a) With respect to each handler who is also a producer—

(1) The market administrator, before making the computations in accordance with Sec. 913.7, shall (a) exclude the milk purchased or received by him in each class from other handlers, (b) exclude from his remaining Class I milk and Class II milk up to but not exceeding 95 percent of the quantity of milk produced and disposed of by him, and (c) exclude from his remaining Class III milk the balance of the milk produced and disposed of by him.

(2) The market administrator, in computing the value of milk for any handler pursuant to Sec. 913.7, shall consider as Class III milk any milk or cream received in bulk by such handler from a handler who distributes part of his own production but for whom no base has been computed pursuant to Sec. 913.7 (d). If the receiving handler disposes of such milk or cream for other than Class III purposes, the market administrator shall add to the total value computed pursuant to Sec. 913.7 the difference between (a) the value of such milk or cream at the Class III price and (b) the value according to its actual usage.

(b) With respect to any handler who, during the delivery period, disposed of no milk as Class III milk and received from producers milk having an average butterfat content higher than that disposed of as Class I milk or as (3.8 percent milk equivalent of) Class II milk by such handler:

(1) The market administrator shall (a) determine the hundredweight of milk received from producers; (b) determine the hundredweight of milk disposed of as Class I milk and as (3.8 percent milk equivalent of) Class II milk; (c) if the hundredweight of milk determined in (b) of this subparagraph, exceeds the hundredweight of milk determined in (a) of this subparagraph, multiply such difference in the hundredweights of milk by the difference between the Class II price and an amount obtained by multiplying by 38 the butterfat differential as provided in Sec. 913.8 (c) and add such amount to the sum obtained for such handler pursuant to Sec. 913.7 (a).

§ 913.7 Determination of uniform prices to producers—(a) Computation of value of milk for each handler. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute, subject to the provisions of Sec. 913.6, the value of milk of producers disposed of by each handler by (a) multiplying the quantity of such milk in each class by the price applicable pursuant to Sec. 913.4, and (b) adding together the resulting values of each class: Provided, That if any handler has received milk from any producer at a plant approved by the health authorities of Kansas City, Missouri, for the receiving of milk to be disposed of as milk in the marketing area, and located more than 30 miles from the City Hall in Kansas City, Missouri, the market administrator shall deduct, with respect to the hundredweight of fluid milk, fluid cream, and ice cream mix actually moved from such plant to the marketing area, up to but not exceeding the amount per hundredweight specified for the distance of such plant from the City Hall in Kansas City, Missouri, as follows: not more than 45 miles, 17 cents per hundredweight; and for each additional 10 miles, or part thereof, an additional 1½ cents per hundredweight.

(b) Computation and announcement of the uniform prices. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute and announce the uniform price per hundredweight of milk as follows:

(1) Combine into one total the respective values of milk, computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, for each handler who made the reports prescribed by Sec. 913.5 and who made the payments prescribed by Sec. 913.8;

(2) Add the amount of the adjustments to be made pursuant to Sec. 913.8 (d);

(3) Subtract the total amount to be paid pursuant to Sec. 913.8 (a) (2);

(4) Add the amount of cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the amount due handlers pursuant to Sec. 913.8 (i);

(5) Divide by the total quantity of milk which is not in excess of the bases of producers and which is included in these computations;

(6) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight of milk for the purpose of retaining in the producer-settlement fund a cash balance to provide against errors in reports and payments, or delinquencies in payments by handlers. This result shall be known as the uniform price for such delivery period for base milk of producers containing 3.8 percent butterfat; and

(7) On or before the 8th day after the end of each delivery period notify all handlers and make public announcement of these computations, of the uniform price per hundredweight of base milk, of the Class III price, and of the butterfat differential computed pursuant to Sec. 913.8 (c).

(c) Base rating. For each delivery period the base of each producer shall be a quantity of milk calculated in the following manner: (a) multiply the applicable figure, effective pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section by the number of days on which milk was received from such producer during such delivery period or (b) if no figure is effective for any producer, who is not also a handler, take the percent of the total milk received from him in bulk during such delivery period which is obtained by dividing the total Class I milk and Class II milk of all handlers by the total milk received by such handlers: Provided, That (c) if the total Class I milk and Class II milk of all handlers exceeds the total of base so computed, add thereto, in the case of each producer for whom a figure is effective pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section and from whom milk was received in excess of base, the percentage of his excess milk which is the percentage of the total of such excess milk used by all handlers as Class I milk and as Class II milk.

(d) Determination for base rating. For the purpose of calculating, pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, the bases of producers, including producers who are also handlers, the market administrator shall determine a figure with respect to deliveries of milk in bulk to handlers by each producer as follows:

(1) Effective up to and including June 30, 1936, divide the total deliveries of milk in bulk to handlers during the period of time beginning with November 16, 1935, and ending with February 15, 1936, by the number of days on which deliveries were made and take such a percentage of the result as will make the total of all figures so determined approximately equal to 115 percent of the daily average Class I milk and Class II milk disposed of during the 4th calendar quarter of the calendar year 1935, by all handlers who received such milk;

(2) Effective for each calendar quarter subsequent to June 30, 1936, divide the total milk received from each producer not in excess of his base for the next preceding calendar quarter by the number of days on which milk was received from such producer and take such a percentage of the result as will make the total of all figures so determined approximately equal to 115 percent of the total daily average Class I milk and Class II milk disposed of during the 4th calendar quarter of the next preceding calendar year by all handlers who received such milk;

(3) At the request of any producer who distributes the milk he produces and for whom no figure is effective pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, divide the total milk received in bulk from such producer by handlers during the three full delivery periods immediately preceding the date of such request by the number of days in such three delivery periods. Any figure determined pursuant to this subparagraph shall be effective through the full calendar quarter immediately following its determination and thereafter shall be superseded by a figure determined pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph; and

(4) In the case of a producer who distributes the milk he produces and who disposes of all or a part of his delivery routes to a handler, the market administrator shall determine a figure which is the average daily Class I milk and Class II milk produced and disposed of during the previous 3 months on such delivery routes of such producer which such producer and such handler jointly report as involved in the deal, subject to verification by the market administrator. Any figure determined pursuant to this subparagraph shall be effective from its determination until the end of the full calendar quarter next following and thereafter shall be superseded by a figure determined pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

§ 913.8 Payments for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment, after deducting the amount of the payment made pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, for not less than the total value of milk of producers received by such handler or caused to be delivered by such handler to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area during such delivery period, computed according to Sec. 913.7 and subject to the differentials set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d), respectively, of this section, as follows:

(1) To producers, at the uniform price per hundredweight computed pursuant to Sec. 913.7 (b), for that quantity of milk received from producers not in excess of their respective bases; and

(2) To producers, at the Class III price, for that quantity of milk received from producers in excess of their respective bases.

(b) Half-delivery period payments. On or before the 25th day of each delivery period each handler shall make payment to each producer for the approximate value of the milk of such producer which, during the first 15 days of such delivery period, was received by such handler or caused to be delivered by such handler to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area during the delivery period.

(c) Butterfat differential. If any handler has received or caused to be delivered to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area, during the delivery period, the milk of any producer having an average butterfat content other than 3.8 percent, such handler, in making payments pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, shall add to the prices per hundredweight for such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk above 3.8 percent not less than, or shall deduct from such prices for such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk below 3.8 percent not more than, an amount computed as follows: add 4 cents to the average price of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk was received, and divide the resulting sum by 10.

(d) Location differentials. In making payments pursuant to paragraphs (a) (1) and (a) (2) of this section for milk received from producers at plants approved by the health authorities of Kansas City, Missouri, for the receiving of milk to be disposed of as milk in the marketing area, and located more than 30 miles from the City Hall in Kansas City, Missouri, each handler shall deduct, with respect to all milk received from such producers, the amount per hundredweight specified for the distance of such plant from the City Hall in Kansas City, Missouri, as follows: not more than 45 miles, 17 cents per hundredweight; and for each additional 10 miles or part thereof an additional 1½ cents per hundredweight.

(e) Additional payments. Any handler may make payment to producers in addition to the payments to be made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section: Provided, That such additional payments shall be uniform as among all producers for milk of the same grade and quality.

(f) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund, known as "the producer-settlement fund," into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to paragraphs (g) and (i) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to paragraphs (h) and (i) of this section.

(g) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator, for payment to producers through the producer-settlement fund, the amount by which the total utilization value of the milk of producers received by such handler or caused to be delivered by such handler to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area during the delivery period is greater than the sum obtained by multiplying the hundredweight of such milk by the appropriate prices required to be paid producers by handlers pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (a) of this section, and adding together the resulting amounts.

(h) Payments out of producer-settlement fund. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler, for payment to producers, the amount, if any, by which the total utilization value of milk of producers received by such handler or caused to be delivered by such handler to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area during the delivery period is less than the sum obtained by multiplying the hundred-weight of such milk of producers by the appropriate prices required to be paid producers by handlers pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (a) of this section, and adding together the resulting amounts. If at such time the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who, on the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, has not received the balance of such reduced payment from the market administrator, shall be deemed to be in violation of paragraph (a) of this section if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund. Nothing in this paragraph shall abrogate the right of a cooperative association to make payment to its member producers in accordance with the payment plan of such cooperative association.

(i) Adjustment of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors made in payments to the producer-settlement fund pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler pursuant to paragraph (h) of this section, the market administrator shall, within 5 days, make such payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer discloses payment to such producer of less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following such disclosure.

§ 913.9 Marketing services—(a) Deductions for marketing services. Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall deduct 3 cents per hundredweight from the payments made to each producer pursuant to Sec. 913.8 (a) (1) and (2), with respect to all milk of such producer received by such handler or caused to be delivered by such handler to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area during the delivery period, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 10th day after the end of such delivery period. Such moneys shall be expended by the market administrator for market information to, and for the verification of weights, sampling, and testing of milk received from, said producers.

(b) Producers' cooperative associations. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association, which the Secretary determines to be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make the deductions from the payments to be made pursuant to Sec. 913.8 (a) (1) and (2), which are authorized by such producers, and, on or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, pay over such deductions to the associations of which such producers are members.

§ 913.10 Expense of administration—(a) Payments by handlers. As his pro-rata share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler who received milk from producers, with respect to all milk received from producers, produced by such handler, and caused to be delivered by such handler to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area, during the delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 10th day after the end of such delivery period, an amount not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight, which amount shall be determined by the market administrator, subject to review by the Secretary. As its pro-rata share of the expense of administration hereof a cooperative association which is a handler shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 10th day after the end of the delivery period, with respect to the milk of any producer which it causes to be delivered to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area during the delivery period, an amount per hundredweight equivalent to that required to be paid by other handlers pursuant to this paragraph.

(b) Suits by the market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro-rata share of expenses set forth in this section.

§ 913.11 Effective time, suspension, or termination of order, as amended—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination of order, as amended. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this order, as amended, or any provision hereof, whenever he finds that this order, as amended, or any provision hereof, obstructs, or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order, as amended, shall terminate, in any event, whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate,

(1) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall (a) continue in such capacity until removed by the Secretary, (b) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and, when so directed by the Secretary, deliver all funds or property on hand together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the Secretary may direct, and (c) if so directed by the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall liquidate, if so directed by the Secretary, the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 913.12 Liability—(a) Liability of handlers. The liability of the handlers hereunder is several and not joint and no handler shall be liable for the default of any other handler.

Now, therefore, Harry L. Brown, Acting Secretary of Agriculture, acting under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, for the purposes and within the limitations therein contained and not otherwise, hereby executes and issues in duplicate this order, as amended, under his hand and the official seal of the Department of Agriculture, in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on this 28th day of August 1939, and declares this order, as amended, to be effective on and after the 1st day of September 1939.

Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

Whereas, under the terms and provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (50 Stat. 246), the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States is empowered, after due notice and opportunity for hearing, to enter into marketing agreements with processors, producers, associations of producers, and others engaged in such handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof; and

Whereas, under the terms and provisions of said act, the Secretary of Agriculture is empowered to issue orders applicable to processors, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof specified in subsection (2) of section 8c, such orders to regulate only such handling of such agricultural commodity or product thereof as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, having reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order with respect to the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area would tend to effectuate the declared policy of said act, gave, on the 9th day of June 1939, notice of a public hearing[1] which was held at Chicago, Illinois, from June 26 through June 30, 1939, at which time and place all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order; and

Whereas, after such hearing and after the tentative approval on the 18th day of August 1939, by the Secretary, of marketing agreement, handlers of more than fifty percent of the volume of milk covered by such order which was marketed within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, as defined in this order, refused or failed to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement relating to milk; and

Whereas, the Secretary determined,[2] on the 24th day of August 1939, said determination being approved by the President of the United States on the 26th day of August 1939, that said refusal or failure tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of said act, that the issuance of this order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of milk in said area, and that this order is approved or favored by over 67 percent of the producers voting in a referendum conducted by the Secretary, who, during the month of April 1939, said month having been determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area; and

Whereas, the Secretary has found and proclaimed the period August 1919–July 1929 to be the base period to be used in determining the purchasing power of milk sold in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area; and

Whereas, the Secretary herewith finds that a pro-rata assessment on handlers, as set forth in section 9 of this order, at a rate not to exceed 2 cents per hundredweight on all milk received from producers during each delivery period, will provide funds necessary to pay such expenses, while such order is in effect, as will necessarily be incurred by the market administrator under such order for the maintenance and functioning of said market administrator; and

§ 941.0 Findings. Whereas, the Secretary finds upon the evidence introduced at said public hearing:

1. That all milk which was produced for sale in the marketing area is handled in the current of interstate commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk or its products;

2. That the prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk, as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8e of said act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, the available supplies of feed, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk, and that the minimum prices set forth in this order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

3. That this order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to handlers defined in the marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held; and

4. That orderly marketing conditions for milk flowing into the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area are so disrupted as to result in the impairment of the purchasing power of such milk and that the issuance of this order, and all of its terms and conditions, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, hereby orders that such handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce, shall, from the effective date hereof, conform to and be in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

§ 941.1 Definitions—(a) Terms. The following terms as used herein shall have the following meanings:

(3) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for herein, and surrender the same to his successor or to such other person as the Secretary may designate.

(4) Publicly disclose to handlers and producers, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, the name of any person who, within 4 days after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not (a) made reports pursuant to Sec. 941.3 or (b) made payments pursuant to Sec. 941.8.

(5) Promptly verify the information contained in the reports submitted by handlers.

drinks, all milk used to produce cottage cheese, and all milk used to produce cream which is disposed of in the form of cream (for consumption as cream), ice cream, and ice cream mix.

(3) Class III milk shall be all milk used to produce a milk product other than one of those specified in Class II, and all milk accounted for as actual plant shrinkage, but not to exceed 2 percent of the total receipts of milk from producers.

(b) Interhandler and nonhandler sales. Milk disposed of by a handler to another handler, and milk disposed of by a handler to a person who is not a handler but who distributes milk or manufactures milk products shall be classified as Class I milk: Provided, That if the selling handler on or before the 7th day after the end of the delivery period furnishes to the market administrator a statement which is signed by the buyer and seller that such milk was disposed of as Class II milk or Class III milk, such milk shall be classified accordingly, subject to verification by the market administrator.

§ 941.5 Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Except as set forth in paragraph (c) of this section and subject to the location adjustment set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall pay, at the time and in the manner set forth in Sec. 941.8, for milk purchased or received from producers by such handler at any plant, platform, or loading station located not more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, not less than the following prices:

Class I milk—Add to the price per hundredweight for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content computed pursuant to the formula as set forth in section 1 of article VI of the marketing agreement for evaporated milk issued by the Secretary on May 31, 1935, or the last amendment thereto, if any, 70 cents per hundredweight for the months of July, August, September, October, and November; 55 cents per hundredweight for the months of December, January, February, March, and April; and 45 cents per hundredweight for the months of May and June: Provided, That with respect to Class I milk disposed of under a program approved by the Secretary for the sale or disposition of milk to low-income consumers, including persons on relief, the price shall be $1.395 per hundredweight.

Class II milk—Add to the price per hundredweight for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content computed pursuant to the formula as set forth in section 1 of article VI of the marketing agreement for evaporated milk issued by the Secretary on May 31, 1935, or the last amendment thereto, if any, 32 cents per hundredweight for the months of July, August, September, October, and November; 28 cents per hundredweight for the months of December, January, February, March, and April; and 25 cents per hundredweight for the months of May and June.

Class III milk—Multiply by 3.5 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk was received, and add 20 percent: Provided, That in the event Class III milk is used to produce evaporated or condensed milk handlers shall pay a price per hundredweight computed pursuant to the formula set forth in section 1 of article VI of the marketing agreement for evaporated milk issued by the Secretary on May 31, 1935, or the last amendment thereto, if any.

(b) Location adjustments to handlers. With respect to milk purchased or received from producers at a plant, platform, or loading station located more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, which is classified as Class I milk and as Class II milk (and transported to any point within such 70-mile zone), there shall be deducted 2 cents per hundredweight and ½ cent per hundredweight, respectively, for each additional 15 miles or part thereof that such plant, platform, or loading station is located in excess of 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago. There shall be no location adjustment to handlers with respect to Class III milk. For the purposes of this paragraph Class I milk shall be considered to be that milk received from producers at plants, platforms, or loading stations located nearest the marketing area from which whole milk is shipped to the marketing area.

(c) Sales outside the marketing area. The price to be paid by a handler for Class I milk disposed of outside the marketing area, in lieu of the price otherwise applicable pursuant to this section, shall be the price, as ascertained by the market administrator, which is being paid in the market where such milk is disposed of, for milk of equivalent use: Provided, That in the event such Class I milk is disposed of outside the 70-mile zone from a plant at which milk is received from producers and which is located more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, such price as ascertained by the market administrator shall be adjusted by an amount equal to the carload freight rate approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the movement of milk in 40-quart cans from the shipping point for the plant where such milk is received from producers to the railroad delivery point serving the market where such milk is utilized as Class I milk.

§ 941.6 Application of provisions—(a) Handlers who are also producers. (1) No provision hereof shall apply to a handler who is also a producer and who purchases or receives no milk from producers or an association of producers, except that such handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

(2) In the case of a handler who is also a producer and who purchases or receives milk from producers or an association of producers, the market administrator, before making the computations set forth in Sec. 941.7, shall (a) exclude the milk purchased or received by him in each class from other handlers, (b) exclude from his remaining Class I milk and Class II milk up to but not exceeding 95 percent of the quantity of milk produced and disposed of by him, and (c) exclude from his remaining Class III milk the balance of the milk produced and disposed of by him.

(3) The market administrator, in computing the value of milk for any handler pursuant to Sec. 941.7, shall consider as Class III milk any milk or cream received in bulk by such handler from a handler who distributes part of his own production. If the receiving handler disposes of such milk or cream for other than Class III purposes, the market administrator shall add to the total value computed pursuant to Sec. 941.7 the difference between (a) the value of such milk or cream at the Class III price and (b) the value according to its actual usage.

§ 941.7 Determination of uniform prices to producers—(a) Computation of value of milk for each handler. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute, subject to the provisions of Sec. 941.6, the value of milk for each handler which was purchased or received from producers by (a) multiplying the quantity of such milk in each class by the price applicable pursuant to Sec. 941.5, and (b) adding together the resulting values of each class.

(b) Computation and announcement of uniform prices. The market administrator shall compute and announce the uniform price per hundredweight of milk for each delivery period in the following manner:

(1) Combine into one total the respective values of milk computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, for each handler who made the reports pursuant to Sec. 941.3 (a) for such delivery period;

(2) Add the amount of the location differentials applicable pursuant to Sec. 941.3 (g);

(3) Add the amount of cash balance in the producer-settlement fund;

(4) Divide by the total quantity of milk represented in the computations pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section;

(5) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents for the purpose of retaining a cash balance in the producer-settlement fund; and

(6) On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period mail to all handlers and publicly announce (a) such of these computations as do not disclose information confidential pursuant to the act, (b) the blended price per hundredweight which is the result of these computations, and (c) the price of Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk used in such computations.

§ 941.8 Payment for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall pay each producer, for milk purchased or received during the delivery period, an amount of money representing not less than the total value of such milk, at the uniform price per hundredweight, computed pursuant to Sec. 941.7 (b) and subject to the butterfat differential and location adjustments set forth in this section.

(b) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as "the producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to paragraphs (c) and (e) and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section.

(c) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 14th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall pay to the market administrator the amount by which the total value of the milk purchased or received by him from producers during the delivery period is greater than the amount obtained by multiplying the hundredweight of milk purchased and received from producers by the uniform price.

(d) Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler for payment to producers the amount, if any, by which the total value of such milk purchased or received from producers by such handler is less than the amount obtained by multiplying the hundredweight of such milk purchased or received from producers by such handler by the uniform price. If at such time the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who, on the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, has not received the balance of the payment due him from the market administrator shall be deemed to be in violation of paragraph (a) of this section if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund.

(e) Adjustments of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors made in payments to the producer-settlement fund pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler, pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, the market administrator shall, within 5 days, make such payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer, for milk purchased or received by such handler, discloses payment to such producer of less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following such disclosure.

(f) Butterfat differential. If any handler has purchased or received from any producer, during any delivery period, milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.5 percent, such handler, in making the payments pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section to such producer, shall add for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content above 3.5 percent not less than, or shall deduct for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content below 3.5 percent not more than, 4 cents per hundredweight.

(g) Location adjustments to producers. In making payments to producers pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, handlers shall deduct with respect to all milk purchased or received from producers at a country plant, platform, or loading station located more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, the amount specified as follows:

|---|---|
| Within 70 to 85 miles | 2 |
| Within 86 to 100 miles | 4 |
| Within 101 to 115 miles | 6 |
| Within 116 to 130 miles | 8 |
| Within 131 to 145 miles | 10 |
| Within 146 to 160 miles | 12 |
| Within 161 to 175 miles | 14 |
| For each 15 miles or part thereof beyond 176 miles from the City Hall of Chicago, an additional | ½ |

§ 941.9 Expense of administration—(a) Payments by handlers. As his pro-rata share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler, except those handlers exempt from the provisions hereof as set forth in Sec. 941.6 (a), shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, a sum not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight with respect to all milk purchased or received by him during such delivery period from producers, or produced by him, the exact sum to be determined by the market administrator, subject to review by the Secretary: Provided, That each handler which is a cooperative association shall pay such pro-rata share of expense of administration only on that milk of producers actually received at a plant of such cooperative association, or caused to be delivered by such cooperative association to a plant from which no milk or cream is disposed of in the marketing area.

(b) Suits by market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro-rata share of expense set forth in this section.

§ 941.10 Marketing services—(a) Marketing service deduction. In making payments to producers pursuant to Sec. 941.8, each handler, with respect to all milk received from each producer during each delivery period, except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, shall deduct 3 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the market administrator shall determine to be sufficient, such determination to be subject to review by the Secretary, and shall, on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period, pay such deductions to the market administrator. Such moneys shall be expended by the market administrator for verification of weights, samples, and tests of milk received from such producers and in providing for market information to such producers. The market administrator may contract with an association or associations of producers for the furnishing of the whole or any part of such services to, or with respect to the milk received from, such producers.

(b) Marketing service deductions with respect to members of a producers' cooperative association. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section each handler shall, in lieu of the deductions specified in paragraph (a) of this section, make such deductions from payments made pursuant to Sec. 941.8 as may be authorized by such producers, and pay over on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period such deductions to the associations rendering such service of which such producers are members.

§ 941.11 Market advisory committee. (a) Subsequent to the effective date hereof, the market administrator may select a representative committee of the industry for purposes (1) of recommendation of amendments to this order, and (2) for conference, counsel, and advice.

§ 941.12 Effective time, suspension, or termination of order—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended, or terminated, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination of order. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this order or any provision hereof whenever he finds that this order or any provision hereof obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order shall, in any event, or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination. Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

(c) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall (a) continue in such capacity until removed by the Secretary, (b) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and, when so directed by the Secretary, deliver all funds or property on hand together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the Secretary may direct, and (c) if so directed by the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall liquidate, if so directed by the Secretary, the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 913.12 Liability—(a) Liability of handlers. The liability of the handlers hereunder is several and not joint and no handler shall be liable for the default of any other handler.

Now, therefore, Harry L. Brown, Acting Secretary of Agriculture, acting under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, for the purposes and within the limitations therein contained and not otherwise, hereby executes and issues in duplicate this order, as amended, under his hand and the official seal of the Department

Whereas, under the terms and provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (50 Stat. 246), the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States is empowered, after due notice and opportunity for hearing, to enter into marketing agreements with processors, producers, associations of producers, and others engaged in such handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof; and

Whereas, under the terms and provisions of said act, the Secretary of Agriculture is empowered to issue orders applicable to processors, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof specified in subsection (2) of section 8c, such orders to regulate only such handling of such agricultural commodity or product thereof as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, having reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order with respect to the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area would tend to effectuate

*Section 941.0 to and including Section 941.13 issued under the authority contained in 48 Stat. 31 (1933), 7 U.S.C. 601 et seq. (1934); 49 Stat. 750 (1935); 50 Stat. 246 (1937), 7 U.S.C. 601 et seq. (Sup. IV 1938).

Whereas, after such hearing and after the tentative approval on the 18th day of August 1939, by the Secretary, of marketing agreement, handlers of more than fifty percent of the volume of milk covered by such order which was marketed within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, as defined in this order, refused or failed to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement relating to milk; and

Whereas, the Secretary determined[1] on the 24th day of August 1939, said determination being approved by the President of the United States on the 26th day of August 1939, that said refusal or failure tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of said act, that the issuance of this order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy of advancing the interests of producers of milk in said area, and that this order is approved or favored by over 67 percent of the producers voting in a referendum conducted by the Secretary, who, during the month of April 1939, said month having been determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area; and

Whereas, the Secretary has found and proclaimed the period August 1919–July 1929 to be the base period to be used in determining the purchasing power of milk sold in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area; and

Whereas, the Secretary herewith finds that a pro-rata assessment on handlers, as set forth in section 9 of this order, at a rate not to exceed 2 cents per hundredweight on all milk received from producers during each delivery period, will provide funds necessary to pay such expenses, while such order is in effect, as will necessarily be incurred by the market administrator under such order for the maintenance and functioning of said market administrator; and

§ 941.0 Findings. Whereas, the Secretary finds upon the evidence introduced at said public hearing:

1. That all milk which was produced for sale in the marketing area is handled in the current of interstate commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk or its products;

2. That the prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk, as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8e of said act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, the available sup-

[2] See page 3770.

3. That this order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to handlers defined in the marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held, and

4. That orderly marketing conditions for milk flowing into the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area are so disrupted as to result in the impairment of the purchasing power of such milk and that the issuance of this order, and all of its terms and conditions, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, hereby orders that such handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce, shall, from the effective date hereof, conform to and be in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

(b) Verification of reports. Each handler shall make available to the market administrator or his agent (1) those records which are necessary for the verification of the information contained in the reports submitted in accordance with this section, and (2) those facilities necessary for the checking of the weighing and sampling of milk and for determining the utilization of milk by the handler.

§ 941.4 Classification of milk—(a) Basis of classification. All milk purchased or received by a handler from producers, associations of producers, and other handlers, including milk produced by him, if any, shall be classified by the market administrator in the classes set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Classes of utilization. The classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all milk disposed of in the form of fluid milk, and all milk not accounted for as Class II milk or Class III milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all milk, except skimmed milk, disposed of in the form of flavored milk and flavored milk drinks, all milk used to produce cottage cheese, and all milk used to produce cream which is disposed of in the form of cream (for consumption as cream), ice cream, and ice cream mix.

(3) Class III milk shall be all milk used to produce a milk product other than one of those specified in Class II, and all milk accounted for as actual plant shrinkage, but not to exceed 2 percent of the total receipts of milk from producers.

(b) Interhandler and nonhandler sales. Milk disposed of by a handler to another handler, and milk disposed of by a handler to a person who is not a handler but who distributes milk or manufactures milk products shall be classified as Class I milk: Provided, That if the selling handler on or before the 7th day after the end of the delivery period furnishes to the market administrator a statement which is signed by the buyer and seller that such milk was disposed of as Class II milk or Class III milk, such milk shall be classified accordingly, subject to verification by the market administrator.

§ 941.5 Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Except as set forth in paragraph (c) of this section and subject to the location adjustment set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall pay, at the time and in the manner set forth in Sec. 941.8, for milk purchased or received from producers by such handler at any plant, platform, or loading station located not more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, not less than the following prices:

Class I milk—Add to the price per hundredweight for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content computed pursuant to the formula as set forth in section 1 of article VI of the marketing agreement for evaporated milk issued by the Secretary on May 31, 1935, or the last amendment thereto, if any, 70 cents per hundredweight for the months of July, August, September, October, and November; 55 cents per hundredweight for the months of December, January, February, March, and April; and 45 cents per hundredweight for the months of May and June: Provided, That with respect to Class I milk disposed of under a program approved by the Secretary for the sale or disposition of milk to low-income consumers, including persons on relief, the price shall be $1.395 per hundredweight.

Class II milk—Add to the price per hundredweight for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content computed pursuant to the formula as set forth in section 1 of article VI of the marketing agreement for evaporated milk issued by the Secretary on May 31, 1935, or the last amendment thereto, if any, 32 cents per hundredweight for the months of July, August, September, October, and November; 28 cents per hundredweight for the months of December, January, February, March, and April; and 25 cents per hundredweight for the months of May and June.

Class III milk—Multiply by 3.5 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk was received, and add 20 percent: Provided, That in the event Class III milk is used to produce evaporated or condensed milk handlers shall pay a price per hundredweight computed pursuant to the formula set forth in section 1 of article VI of the marketing agreement for evaporated milk issued by the Secretary on May 31, 1935, or the last amendment thereto, if any.

(b) Location adjustments to handlers. With respect to milk purchased or received from producers at a plant, platform, or loading station located more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, which is classified as Class I milk and as Class II milk (and transported to any point within such 70-mile zone), there shall be deducted 2 cents per hundredweight and ½ cent per hundredweight, respectively, for each additional 15 miles or part thereof that such plant, platform, or loading station is located in excess of 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago. There shall be no location adjustment to handlers with respect to Class III milk. For the purposes of this paragraph Class I milk shall be considered to be that milk received from producers at plants, platforms, or loading stations located nearest the marketing area from which whole milk is shipped to the marketing area.

(c) Sales outside the marketing area. The price to be paid by a handler for Class I milk disposed of outside the marketing area, in lieu of the price otherwise applicable pursuant to this section, shall be the price, as ascertained by the market administrator, which is being paid in the market where such milk is disposed of, for milk of equivalent use: Provided, That in the event such Class I milk is disposed of outside the 70-mile zone from a plant at which milk is received from producers and which is located more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, such price as ascertained by the market administrator shall be adjusted by an amount equal to the carload freight rate approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the movement of milk in 40-quart cans from the shipping point for the plant where such milk is received from producers to the railroad delivery point serving the market where such milk is utilized as Class I milk.

§ 941.6 Application of provisions—(a) Handlers who are also producers. (1) No provision hereof shall apply to a handler who is also a producer and who purchases or receives no milk from producers or an association of producers, except that such handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

(2) In the case of a handler who is also a producer and who purchases or receives milk from producers or an association of producers, the market administrator, before making the computations set forth in Sec. 941.7, shall (a) exclude the milk purchased or received by him in each class from other handlers, (b) exclude from his remaining Class I milk and Class II milk up to but not exceeding 95 percent of the quantity of milk produced and disposed of by him, and (c) exclude from his remaining Class III milk the balance of the milk produced and disposed of by him.

(3) The market administrator, in computing the value of milk for any handler pursuant to Sec. 941.7, shall consider as Class III milk any milk or cream received in bulk by such handler from a handler who distributes part of his own production. If the receiving handler disposes of such milk or cream for other than Class III purposes, the market administrator shall add to the total value computed pursuant to Sec. 941.7 the difference between (a) the value of such milk or cream at the Class III price and (b) the value according to its actual usage.

§ 941.7 Determination of uniform prices to producers—(a) Computation of value of milk for each handler. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute, subject to the provisions of Sec. 941.6, the value of milk for each handler which was purchased or received from producers by (a) multiplying the quantity of such milk in each class by the price applicable pursuant to Sec. 941.5, and (b) adding together the resulting values of each class.

(b) Computation and announcement of uniform prices. The market administrator shall compute and announce the uniform price per hundredweight of milk for each delivery period in the following manner:

(1) Combine into one total the respective values of milk computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, for each handler who made the reports pursuant to Sec. 941.3 (a) for such delivery period;

(2) Add the amount of the location differentials applicable pursuant to Sec. 941.8 (g);

(3) Add the amount of cash balance in the producer-settlement fund;

(4) Divide by the total quantity of milk represented in the computations pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section;

(5) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents for the purpose of retaining a cash balance in the producer-settlement fund; and

(6) On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period mail to all handlers and publicly announce (a) such of these computations as do not disclose information confidential pursuant to the act, (b) the blended price per hundredweight which is the result of these computations, and (c) the price of Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk used in such computations.

§ 941.8 Payment for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall pay each producer, for milk purchased or received during the delivery period, an amount of money representing not less than the total value of such milk, at the uniform price per hundredweight, computed pursuant to Sec. 941.7 (b) and subject to the butterfat differential and location adjustments set forth in this section.

(b) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as "the producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to paragraphs (c) and (e) and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section.

(c) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 14th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall pay to the market administrator the amount by which the total value of the milk purchased or received by him from producers during the delivery period is greater than the amount obtained by multiplying the hundredweight of milk purchased and received from producers by the uniform price.

(d) Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler for payment to producers the amount, if any, by which the total value of such milk purchased or received from producers by such handler is less than the amount obtained by multiplying the hundredweight of such milk purchased or received from producers by such handler by the uniform price. If at such time the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who, on the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, has not received the balance of the payment due him from the market administrator shall be deemed to be in violation of paragraph (a) of this section if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund.

(e) Adjustments of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors made in payments to the producer-settlement fund pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler, pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, the market administrator shall, within 5 days, make such payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer, for milk purchased or received by such handler, discloses payment to such producer of less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following such disclosure.

(f) Butterfat differential. If any handler has purchased or received from any producer, during any delivery period, milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.5 percent, such handler, in making the payments pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section to such producer, shall add for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content above 3.5 percent not less than, or shall deduct for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content below 3.5 percent not more than, 4 cents per hundredweight.

(g) Location adjustments to producers. In making payments to producers pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, handlers shall deduct with respect to all milk purchased or received from producers at a country plant, platform, or loading station located more than 70 miles from the City Hall in Chicago, the amount specified as follows:

(b) Suits by market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro-rata share of expense set forth in this section.

§ 941.10 Marketing services—(a) Marketing service deduction. In making payments to producers pursuant to Sec. 941.8, each handler, with respect to all milk received from each producer during each delivery period, except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, shall deduct 3 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the market administrator shall determine to be sufficient, such determination to be subject to review by the Secretary, and shall, on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period, pay such deductions to the market administrator. Such moneys shall be expended by the market administrator for verification of weights, samples, and tests of milk received from such producers and in providing for market information to such producers. (b) Marketing service deductions with respect to members of a producers' cooperative association. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section each handler shall, in lieu of the deductions specified in paragraph (a) of this section, make such deductions from payments made pursuant to Sec. 941.8 as may be authorized by such producers, and pay over on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period such deductions to the associations rendering such service of which such producers are members.

§ 941.11 Market advisory committee. (a) Subsequent to the effective date hereof, the market administrator may select a representative committee of the industry for purposes (1) of recommendation of amendments to this order, and (2) for conference, counsel, and advice.

§ 941.12 Effective time, suspension, or termination of order—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended, or terminated, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination of order. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this order or any provision hereof whenever he finds that this order or any provision hereof obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

(1) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall (a) continue in such capacity until removed by the Secretary, (b) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements, and when so directed by the Secretary deliver all funds on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator or such person, to such person as the Secretary shall direct, and (c) if so directed by the Secretary execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 941.13 Liability—(a) Liability of handlers. The liability of the handlers hereunder is several and not joint, and no handler shall be liable for the default of any other handler.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

[General Order No. C-13]

VOLUNTARY EMIGRATION OF CERTAIN FILIPINOS FROM THE UNITED STATES

Pursuant to the authority contained in Section 3 of the Act of July 27, 1939 (Public, No. 241, c. 390, 1st sess., 76th Cong.), entitled "An Act To provide means by which certain Filipinos can emigrate from the United States", Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter I—Immigration and Naturalization Service—Subchapter A—Immigration Rules and Regulations—Sections 31.1 through 31.6 are hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 31.1 Who may be returned to the Philippine Islands. Any person who (a) is a Filipino, (b) was born in the Philippine Islands, (c) resided in any State, Territory or the District of Columbia on July 27, 1939, (d) is not a citizen of the United States, and (e) desires to return to the Philippine Islands is entitled to be returned to Manila, Philippine Islands, at the expense of the United States as to transportation and maintenance, and may make application to the Secretary of Labor for such return. An applicant against whom an order or warrant of deportation is outstanding shall not be entitled to exercise this privilege unless the Secretary of Labor cancels such order and/or warrant and permits the applicant to depart from the United States voluntarily.* (Secs. 1, 3, Public, No. 241, c. 390, 1st sess., 76th Cong.; 48 U.S.C. 1251, 1253)

§ 31.2 Applications for return to the Philippine Islands. Applications must be prepared in duplicate on Form 695, and received in the office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service nearest the applicant's place of residence on or before December 1, 1940. In the case of a family, a separate application should be made by each member thereof who is entitled to and desires to secure the benefits of the statute. The application of a child under twenty-one years of age shall be signed by the father, if living; if not, then by the mother. If both parents are dead, an investigation shall be conducted to determine whether the minor applicant is acting upon his own volition. If there are persons available who are interested in the applicant, their statements shall be taken. Applications properly executed shall be forwarded promptly to the Central Office.* (Secs. 1, 3, Public, No. 241, c. 390, 1st sess., 76th Cong.; 48 U.S.C. 1251, 1253)

§ 31.3 Photographs to accompany application. When practicable, each application should be accompanied by four unretouched and unmounted photographs of the applicant, on white background, 2 inches in width by 2 inches in length and approximately 1¼ inches from the top of head to point of chin, representing applicant without hat and showing full front view. Photographs should be signed (not printed) by the applicant across the front in such manner as not to obscure the features. In the event it is not practicable for the applicant, because of lack of funds or the remoteness of photographic facilities, to furnish photographs at the time he submits his application for removal, such application should nevertheless be accepted, with the understanding that the applicant will be photographed by this Service at the seaport of embarkation.* (Secs. 1, 3, Public, No. 241, c. 390, 1st sess., 76th Cong.; 48 U.S.C. 1251, 1253)

§ 31.4 Transportation; ports of departure. When the application for removal is approved, the Central Office will make arrangements for the transportation and maintenance of the applicants from the place of residence to a port on the west coast of the United States, if the applicant resides in the United States or the District of Columbia or the Territory of Alaska, and from such port to Manila, Philippine Islands; if the applicant resides in the Territory of Hawaii, arrangements will be made for his transportation and maintenance from place of residence to the port of Honolulu, if he be not a resident of said port, and from the port of Honolulu to Manila, Philippine Islands. Transportation to Manila shall be by United States Army or Navy transports, whenever space is available; when not, then by any ship designated by the Central Office pursuant to the contract or contracts entered into by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with Sec. 2 of the Act of July 27, 1939 (Public, No. 241, c. 390, 1st sess., 76th Cong.). The following are designated as ports of departure from the United States: San Francisco and Los Angeles, California, and Seattle, Washington. Honolulu is designated as the port of departure from the Territory of Hawaii. The particular port, the date of departure therefrom and the vessel on which the departure will be effected will be determined in accordance with the facts in individual cases.* (Secs. 1, 3, Public, No. 241, c. 390, 1st sess., 76th Cong.; 48 U.S.C. 1251, 1253)

§ 31.5 Custody; consent to; report of departure. Any applicant for whose return to the Philippine Islands the Secretary of Labor enters an order on Form 696 shall be required, before the journey from the place of residence begins, to sign, in the presence of a witness or witnesses, the provisions on the reverse side of said order, signifying his voluntary consent to placing himself in the custody, for return to Manila, of an officer or employee of the Immigration and Naturalization Service and/or such other person as may be designated. In the case of a minor applicant, the officer or employee before whom the signing takes place shall satisfy himself that the minor actually desires to be returned. When telegraphic authority for removal is received by a field officer and the applicant is ready to commence the journey prior to the receipt of the formal order of removal, the applicant should be required to sign the "consent" on the reverse of a blank Form 696. In all instances, the consent to return to the Philippine Islands should be an entirely free and voluntary act on the part of the person required to give it. Officers and employees of the Immigration and Naturalization Service are forbidden to persuade or coerce consent to voluntary emigration under the provisions of the Act of July 27, 1939 (Public, No. 241, c. 390, 1st sess., 76th Cong.; 48 U.S.C. 1251, 1253), and these regulations. Persons consenting to be returned to the Philippine Islands, or in whose behalf such consent is given, in the manner provided in this section, shall be subject to the control and supervision of an officer or employee of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the journey from the place of residence to any of the ports designated in § 31.4, and to the control and supervision of the officer in charge of any vessel to which they shall be delivered by the immigration and naturalization officer in charge of any such ports for transportation to Manila, Philippine Islands. Departures from such ports should be reported immediately to the Central Office by the immigration and naturalization officers in charge so that prompt reports may be made to the Secretary of State for the information of the consular representative of the United States in the Philippine Islands.* (Secs. 1, 3, Public, No. 241, c. 390, 1st sess., 76th Cong.; 48 U.S.C. 1251, 1253)

§ 31.6 Report of arrival at Manila. Officers in charge of vessels shall use Form 697 in reporting, by mail or otherwise, to the immigration and naturalization officer in charge at the port of embarkation, of the date of arrival and disembarkation at Manila, Philippine Islands, of Filipinos transported thereto under §§ 31.1–31.6.* (Secs. 1, 3, Public, No. 241, c. 390, 1st sess., 76th Cong.; 48 U.S.C. 1251, 1253)

Division of Marketing and Marketing Agreements.

DETERMINATION WITH RESPECT TO ORDER REGULATING HANDLING OF MILK IN CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, having reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order,[1] both of which regulate the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, gave, on the 9th day of June 1939, notice of a public hearing which was held in Chicago, Illinois, on June 26, 27, 28, 29, and 30, 1939, and at said time and place all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on said proposed marketing agreement and proposed order; and

Whereas, after said hearing and after the tentative approval by the Secretary, on August 18, 1939, of a marketing agreement, handlers of more than fifty percent of the volume of milk covered by such proposed order, which is marketed within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, refused or failed to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement relating to milk:

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by said act, hereby determines:

1. That the refusal or failure of said handlers to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

2. That the issuance of the proposed order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in said area; and

3. That the issuance of the proposed order is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum conducted by the Secretary and who, during the month of April 1939, said month having been determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in said area.

In witness whereof, Harry L. Brown, Acting Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, has executed this determination in duplicate and has hereunto set his hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, this 24th day of August 1939.

DETERMINATION WITH RESPECT TO ORDER REGULATING HANDLING OF MILK IN KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, having reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement, as amended, and the issuance of an order, as amended,[1] both of which regulate the handling of milk in the Kansas City, Missouri, marketing area, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, gave, on the 7th day of March 1939, notice of a public hearing which was held in Kansas City, Missouri, on the 16th and 17th days of March 1939 and which was reopened in Kansas City, Missouri, on the 22d, 23d, and 24th days of May 1939, and at said time and place all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on said proposed marketing agreement, as amended, and proposed order, as amended; and

Whereas, after said hearing and after the tentative approval by the Secretary, on July 26, 1939, of a marketing agreement, as amended, handlers of more than fifty percent of the volume of milk covered by such proposed order, as amended, which is marketed within the Kansas City, Missouri, marketing area, refused or failed to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, relating to milk:

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by said act, hereby determines:

1. That the refusal or failure of said handlers to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

2. That the issuance of the proposed order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in said area; and

3. That the issuance of the proposed order, as amended, is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who, during the month of February 1939, said month having been determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in said area.

In witness whereof Harry L. ORDER ALLOWING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE REGARDING ISSUE OF BONDS, DEBENTURES AND COMMON STOCK BY SUBSIDIARY OF A REGISTERED HOLDING COMPANY

Public Service Company of Colorado, a subsidiary of Cities Service Power & Light Company, a registered holding company, having filed with this Commission a declaration and amendments thereto pursuant to Section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 regarding the issuance by declarant of $40,000,000 of First Mortgage Bonds, 3½% Series, due 1964, $12,500,000 aggregate principal amount of 4% Sinking Fund Debentures due 1949, and $2,190,000 par value Common Stock; public hearing thereon having been duly held after appropriate notice;[1] the record in this matter having been duly considered; and the Commission having filed its findings herein;

It is ordered, That such declaration be and become effective forthwith, subject, however, to the condition that the issue of the aforesaid bonds, debentures and common stock shall be effected in substantial compliance with the terms and conditions set forth in, and for the purposes represented by, said declaration as amended;

And it is further ordered, That in connection with the issuance of securities and the other transactions herein approved, the following terms and conditions are severally imposed upon declarant:

(1) That except as this Commission may by order or orders from time to time permit, so long as any of the declarant's First Mortgage Bonds, 3½% Series due 1964, are outstanding under the indenture between declarant and Guaranty Trust Company of New York, as Trustee, the declarant shall not declare or pay any dividends (other than dividends payable in shares of its common stock), or make any other distribution on any of its common stock, or purchase any shares of its common stock (other than with the proceeds of additional common stock financing) unless the amount expended by the declarant for maintenance and repairs, plus provision for reserves for renewals and replacements or depreciation, during the period from the date of the indenture to the date of the proposed payment of such dividend or making of such distribution or purchase, plus the earned surplus of the declarant accumulated since the date of the indenture, and not restricted by the terms of condition number (3), remaining after payment of such dividend or the making of such distribution or purchase, shall equal the sum of fifteen per cent. (15%) of the gross electric operating revenues and ten per cent. (10%) of the gross gas and steam operating revenues (as said terms are defined in Section 8 of Article IV of the indenture) during such period. The foregoing shall also apply to any successor of the declarant, except that any earned surplus of declarant at the date of such succession which may become frozen as capital surplus as a result of such succession shall be considered as earned surplus in determining whether the requirements of this condition have been satisfied.

The provisions contained in the foregoing paragraph shall be subject to revocation or modification by this Commission at any time upon its own motion or upon application of the declarant;

(2) That no charges shall be made against earned surplus accumulated under the restrictive provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 9 of Article IV of the debenture indenture, even after the retirement of the debentures and the discharge of said indenture, except for adjustments inherent in declarant's fixed assets and investments in subsidiaries consolidated at February 28, 1939, unless (a) such charge has been previously authorized by appropriate resolution by declarant's board of directors and (b) thirty days' prior notice of the making of such charge be given to this Commission. The Commission reserves jurisdiction on the receipt of such notice, in and as part of the proceedings herein, after notice given within thirty days and opportunity for hearing, to disapprove any such charge on the basis of the record herein and any additional evidence that may be adduced by any interested party. And in the event the Commission has notified declarant to show cause why such charge shall not be disapproved, the charge in question shall not be made until expressly authorized by order of this Commission;

(3) That the balance of declarant's earned surplus to be restricted under Section 9 of Article IV of the proposed indentures, on the effective date of such indentures, shall not be less than $644,133.32 after making the proposed credit to declarant's property account of $469,748.45 as stipulated by declarant;

(4) That until further order by this Commission, all corporate and consolidated balance sheets hereafter made public by declarant shall contain appropriate reference (in a form approved by the Commission) to intercompany appreciation charged to declarant's net assets;

(5) That the Commission's findings and opinion on this declaration shall not in any manner diminish the Commission's power under Section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. Jurisdiction is hereby reserved to consider, in appropriate proceedings under that section or otherwise, whether voting power is fairly or equitably distributed among declarant's security holders and to confer voting power upon the outstanding preferred stock and the bonds and debentures issued under this declaration to the extent that it may appear appropriate to do so.

(6) Jurisdiction is hereby reserved with respect to underwriting contracts, price and spread, and fees and expenses.

§ 463C.21 Application for inspection. Upon application to the collector, internal revenue agent in charge, or Commissioner, an estate tax return or notice may be inspected by the executor, or his successor in office, or by his duly authorized attorney in fact. Upon like application a gift tax return may be inspected by the donor or his duly authorized attorney in fact.*†

§ 463C.22 Disclosures for investigation purposes. An internal revenue officer engaged in an official investigation of an estate tax or gift tax liability may disclose the returned value of any item or the amount of any specific deduction, or other limited information, if such disclosure is necessary in order to verify the same or to arrive at a correct determination of the tax. This right of disclosure, however, is limited to the purposes of the investigation, and in no case extends to such information as the amount of the estate, the amount of tax, or other general data.*†

§ 463C.23 Inspection by State officials. A return or notice may be exhibited, or information contained therein may be disclosed, to an officer of any State, for official use in connection with an estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, gift, or other tax of the State, provided a like cooperation is given by the State to the Commissioner or his representatives for use in the administration of the Federal tax laws. § 463C.24 Inspection discretionary with Commissioner in certain cases. If any other person has a material interest in ascertaining any fact disclosed by the return, or in obtaining information as to the payment of the tax, he may make a written application to the Commissioner for such information, setting forth the nature of his interest and the purpose of the application. Thereupon, the Commissioner may permit an inspection of, or furnish a copy of the return, or may furnish such information as he deems advisable.*†

SUBPART D

§ 463C.32 Treasury Department officials and employees. The officers and employees of the Treasury Department whose official duties require inspection of returns may inspect any such returns without making such written application. If the head of a bureau or office in the Treasury Department, not a part of the Internal Revenue Bureau, desires to inspect, or to have an employee in his bureau or office inspect a return, in connection with some matter officially before him, for reasons other than tax administration purposes, the inspection may, in the discretion of the Secretary, be permitted upon written application to him by the head of such bureau or office, showing in detail why the inspection is desired.*†

§ 463C.33 Inspection by branch of Government other than Treasury Department. Except as provided in section 463C.34, if the head of an executive department (other than the Treasury Department), or of any other establishment of the United States Government, desires to inspect or to have some other officer or employee of his branch of the service inspect a return in connection with some matter officially before him, the inspection may, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, be permitted upon written application to him by the head of such executive department or other Government establishment. The application shall be signed by such head and shall show in detail why the inspection is desired, the name and address of the taxpayer who made the return, and the name and official designation of the person it is desired shall inspect the return. The information obtained under this section and section 463C.32 may be used as evidence in any proceeding, conducted by or before any department or establishment of the United States, or to which the United States is a party.*†

§ 463C.34 Inspection by Government attorneys. Any return shall be open to inspection by a United States attorney or by an attorney of the Department of Justice where necessary in the performance of his official duties. The request for inspection shall be in writing and, except as provided in section 463C.37, shall be addressed to the Commissioner, and shall state the purpose for which inspection is desired. It may be signed by the Attorney General, the Assistant to the Attorney General, an Assistant Attorney General, or a United States Attorney.*†

§ 463C.35 Information returns. Information returns, schedules, lists, and other statements designed to be supplemental to, or to become a part of, the returns shall be subject to the same rules and regulations as to inspection as are the returns themselves. In any case where inspection of the return is authorized by these regulations, the Commissioner may, in his discretion, permit inspection of other records and reports which contain information included or required by statute to be included in the return.*†

§ 463C.36 Place of inspection. Generally, returns may be inspected only in the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., unless such returns are in the custody of a collector of internal revenue or internal revenue agent in charge or the head of a field division of the Technical Staff, in which event the returns may be inspected in the office of such collector or agent in charge or head of division, but only in the presence of an internal revenue officer, designated by the collector or agent or head of division for that purpose.*†

§ 463C.37 Applications for inspection. Except as provided in section 463C.33, and as hereinafter provided, all applications for permission to inspect returns must be made in writing to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. When a return is in the custody of a collector of internal revenue or internal revenue agent in charge or the head of a field division of the Technical Staff, such collector or revenue agent in charge or head of division, upon written application to him, is authorized to permit the inspection of such return by a United States attorney, or an attorney in the Department of Justice, or by the taxpayer or his duly authorized attorney in fact, in accordance with these regulations.*†

§ 463C.38 Penalties. Section 55 (f) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding $1,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court, for any person to print or publish in any manner whatever not provided by law information contained in any income return, and further provides that if the offender be an officer or employee of the United States he shall be dismissed from office or discharged from employment. The penalties provided in section 55 (f) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code are applicable also to disclosure of information contained in excess-profits, unjust enrichment, and capital stock tax returns and returns made under subchapter C of chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code.*†

REVISION OF REGULATIONS

TRANSPORTATION AND TRAVELING EXPENSES OF CLAIMANTS AND BENEFICIARIES

Attendants Accompanying Traveling Beneficiaries

§ 6.6105 (A) Authority to employ. An attendant or attendants, to accompany a claimant or beneficiary admitted to, discharged or transferred from a facility, or traveling to or from out-patient examination or treatment, may be authorized when, in the opinion of a chief medical officer or clinical director or their designates, such attendance is necessary because of the mental or physical condition of the claimant or beneficiary. The employment of attendants must be kept to the absolute minimum required for safe care of traveling claimants or beneficiaries. See applicable instructions for detailed procedure regarding travel precautions relative to psychotic or tuberculous beneficiaries.

(B) Persons not in the regular civilian employment of the Government. These may be authorized to act as attendants. When the condition of a beneficiary indicates, in the judgment of a chief medical officer or clinical director, that medical observation and services will be required en route, a private physician, such as the one who is treating the patient in his home community, may be employed to accompany the beneficiary as a physician-attendant. Attendants appointed under this paragraph will be furnished necessary transportation, meal and lodging requests. Claim for reimbursement of actual expenses incurred by such attendants for meals and lodging en route will not be certified for payment unless (as in emergency admissions) such requests have not been issued, or, if issued, are returned for cancelation and satisfactory reasons are given for not using them. These circumstances, if occurring, are to be shown on the reimbursement voucher when and if it is certified for payment. In addition to expenses of necessary transportation and meals and lodging en route, persons other than relatives of the claimant or beneficiary concerned, employed as attendants under this paragraph may be paid a fee as hereinafter provided. The said relatives will not be entitled to a fee for attendant service. A relative for the purpose of this section, will comprehend a spouse, parent, son, daughter, brother, sister, son-in-law or daughter-in-law. The payee will be required to certify, in support of the voucher for the service, that he is not a relative, as thus defined, of the claimant or beneficiary for whom he was employed as the attendant.

(C) Persons in the regular civilian employment of the Government. These, including employees of the Veterans Administration (subject to the conditions hereinafter specified) may be authorized to act as attendants, and when so assigned are entitled to transportation and other necessary traveling expenses, but not to a fee therefor. They may be allowed per diem in lieu of subsistence upon issuance of authorization therefor, and will not be issued meal and lodging requests. Employees of the Veterans Administration will not be detailed as attendants if their regular duties require their presence at their stations. A full-time physician or nurse of a station may be assigned as an attendant to accompany a traveling beneficiary, only when, in the judgment of the chief medical officer or clinical director, such attendance is demanded in an individual case. Administrative officers, technical and other highly trained personnel (other than physicians or nurses as provided) will not be detailed as attendants. When proposed travel of a beneficiary is not at Government expense; the beneficiary, his guardian or representative requests assignment of a trained attendant from a station of the Veterans Administration; the services of the desired employee can be spared, and he is entitled to sufficient annual leave, his application for such leave for such purpose may be granted, provided that no expense of such service will be borne by the Government, and all arrangements therefor will rest between him and the beneficiary, his guardian or representative.

(D) In selecting an attendant due regard will be had to his physical vigor, personality, experience and fitness in general to perform his responsible duty.

(E) Fees for attendance. (1) A maximum fee of $5.00 for 24 hours of service; $2.50 for the first 6 hours or any fraction thereof; $1.25 for the next 6 hours or fraction thereof up to 12 hours; and $5.00 for any period of 12 hours or more up to 24 hours, may be authorized attendants. For any service in excess of 24 hours, the same fractional rates will be applied. Less than the maximum fees will be authorized if satisfactory service at lower rates can be procured in the community.

(2) A private physician employed as a physician-attendant may be allowed not to exceed $10 for 24 hours service, $5.00 for the first 6 hours or fraction thereof, $2.50 for the next 6 hours or fraction thereof up to 12 hours, and $10 for any period of 12 hours or more up to 24 hours. For physician-attendant service in excess of 24 hours, the same rates will apply. Upon specific authority from the medical director, a fee of more than $10 but not to exceed $20.00 per 24 hours, with corresponding fractioning of rates for periods less than 24 hours, may be paid a physician-attendant in exceptional cases.

(3) Fees will be authorized only for the time actually needed to complete the assignment, but not in excess of the time required for travel by available common carrier; unless it is specified in the authorization that, because of the condition of the claimant or beneficiary, travel is to be performed by ambulance or other special conveyance. In the latter event, authorization may be given for payment of the attendant's fee on the basis of time actually required for completion of the assignment by the specified mode of conveyance, without consideration of the travel time that would have been taken if a common carrier were used. An attendant on a fee basis, after delivery of the claimant or beneficiary to the point designated, will (unless instructed to accompany the claimant or beneficiary on his return to the place from which he proceeded) be required to complete his return trip without delay and by the mode of travel authorized. *501.1 to 501.21, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Public, No. 111—76th Congress (H. R. 5323), Section 2.

†The source of Sec. 501.1 to 501.21, inclusive, is regulations governing Property Improvement loans under section 2, Title I of the National Housing Act, as amended, effective Sept. 1, 1939.

(b) Shall be in a form which is valid and enforceable in the jurisdiction in which they are issued.

(c) Shall be payable in equal monthly, semi-monthly or weekly installments. The final installment may be slightly more or less than the other installments, subject to such exceptions as may be made by the Administrator. Notes may not provide for a first payment less than six days nor more than two calendar months from the date of the note in the case of Class 1 and Class 2 loans nor less than six days nor more than three calendar months from the date of the note in the case of Class 3 loans. However, if fifty-one percent or more of the income of the maker is derived directly from the sale of agricultural crops, commodities, or livestock produced by him, a note may be made payable in installments corresponding to income periods shown on the credit statement. In such cases, the first payment must be made within twelve months of the date of the note and at least one payment must be made during each calendar year thereafter and the proportion of total principal to be paid in later years must not exceed the proportion of total principal payable in earlier years.

(d) Shall contain a provision for acceleration of maturity, either automatic or at the option of the holder, in the event of default in the payment of any installment upon the due date thereof.

(e) Shall not have a final maturity in excess of three years and thirty-two days from the date thereof in the case of Class 1 and Class 2 (a) loans, nor in excess of ten years and thirty-two days in the case of Class 2 (b) loans, nor in excess of fifteen years and sixty-two days in the case of Class 3 loans.

(f) May provide for a late charge, to be paid by the maker, not to exceed five cents (5¢) for each $1.00 of each installment more than fifteen days in arrears. In lieu of late charges, notes may provide for interest on past due installments at a rate not in excess of the contract rate in the jurisdiction in which the note is drawn. No late charge or interest on a past due installment may be accrued in excess of $5.00. The borrower must be billed for the penalties collected as such, and evidence of such billing must be in the file if claim is made under the Contract of Insurance.

(g) May be in a series provided each is of an equal amount as provided in this Regulation and that each note indicates on its face that it is one of a series signed by the same maker.

[Regulation IV]

§ 501.4 Maximum loan. (a) A loan shall not involve a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges to the borrower in excess of $2,500.

(b) No loan shall involve a principal amount outstanding at any one time, with respect to any one piece of property, in excess of $2,500 exclusive of financing charges to the borrower.

(c) One borrower may obtain any number of loans to improve any number of separate pieces of property, subject to the credit requirements contained in Section 501.6.

[Regulation V]

§ 501.5 Maximum permissible financing charges. (a) In the case of Class 1 and Class 2 loans, the maximum permissible financing charge which may be paid by the borrower for interest, discount and fees of all kinds in connection with the transaction may not be in excess of an amount equivalent to $5.00 discount per $100 original face amount of a one-year note, to be paid in equal monthly installments, calculated from the date of the note. In the case of Class 3 loans, the maximum permissible charge which may be paid by the borrower for interest, discount and fees of all kinds in connection with the transaction (subject to the provisions of 501.15 may not be in excess of an amount equivalent to $3.50 discount per $100 original face amount of a one-year note, to be paid in equal monthly installments, calculated from the date of the note. Such charges correctly based on tables of calculations issued by the Federal Housing Administrator are deemed to comply with this Regulation.

(b) If the insured institution in purchasing a note takes the maximum charge permitted by this Regulation, but employs a "holdback" and does not advance the entire proceeds of the note to the seller, it shall calculate its financing charge on the amount advanced and credit to the account of the seller the difference between the financing charge calculated on the face amount of the note and the financing charge calculated on the amount advanced.

(c) The acceptance of a voluntary payment of one or more installments prior to due date shall not be construed as increasing the maximum permissible financing charge as provided in Section 1 of this Regulation. However, if the entire balance outstanding on the loan is paid in advance the insured institution must make a rebate as follows:

(1) If the maximum permissible financing charge in connection with the transaction is in an amount equivalent to $5.00 discount as provided in Section 1 of this Regulation, the insured institution shall make a rebate at a rate not less than 5% per annum of the amounts so paid in advance of their due dates. If a lesser charge has been taken, the rebate shall be at not less than a proportional rate.

(2) If the maximum permissible financing charge in connection with the transaction is in an amount equivalent to $3.50 discount as provided in Section 1 of this Regulation, the insured institution shall make a rebate at a rate not less than 3½% per annum of the amounts so paid in advance of their due dates. If a lesser charge has been taken, the rebate shall be at not less than a proportional rate.

(d) An increase in the ratio of the charge to the average amount outstanding on the debt over the maximum provided in this Regulation, which increase results from the first payment falling due less than thirty days after the date of the note as provided in Section 3 of 501.2, shall not be deemed to be in conflict with this Regulation.

[Regulation VI]

§ 501.6 Credits. (a) The insured institution shall obtain a signed and dated Credit Statement-Application from the borrower, on a form approved by the Administrator. The Credit Statement-Application must, in the judgment of the insured institution, clearly show the borrower to be solvent, with reasonable ability to pay the obligation and in other respects a reasonable credit risk.

(b) A separate Credit Statement-Application is required in connection with each loan made or note purchased.

(c) An insured institution acting in good faith may rely upon the statements of the borrower who signs the Credit Statement-Application. The Administrator does not place upon the insured institution the burden of verifying the truth of any such statements. Even if such statements are investigated after the loan is made and found to be false, this will not affect in any way the eligibility of the note for insurance. However, any borrower making such false statement or misusing the funds, or any dealer, contractor, or lender who knowingly assists in such a violation, will be committing a Federal offense under the provisions of the National Housing Act. In all cases where the insured institution discovers a material misstatement in the Credit Statement-Application, or misuse of the funds, it must promptly report such a discovery to the Administrator.

(d) A loan shall not be made to a borrower who is delinquent at the time the loan is made, as to either principal or interest, with respect to an obligation owing to or insured by any department or agency of the Federal Government.

(e) The prior credit approval of the Administrator shall be obtained on all loans which increase the net amount outstanding, exclusive of financing charges, to any individual borrower to an amount in excess of $2,500 with respect to any obligation incurred pursuant to the provisions of Title I of the National Housing Act since July 1, 1939.

[Regulation VII]

§ 501.7 Eligible improvements. (a) A loan must be for the purpose of financing eligible improvements within the United States, its Territories and Possessions, commenced on or after July 1, 1939 and prior to July 1, 1941, in reliance upon the credit facilities afforded by Title I of the National Housing Act as approved June 3, 1939.

(b) The proceeds of a loan shall be used only to finance alterations, repairs and improvements upon urban, suburban or rural real property (including the restoration, rehabilitation, rebuilding and replacement of such improvements which have been damaged or destroyed by earthquake, conflagration, tornado, cyclone, flood or other catastrophe).

(c) The proceeds of a loan shall not be used to finance the cost of completing an unfinished structure.

(d) The proceeds of a Class 1 loan shall be used only to finance the cost of alterations, repairs and improvements upon or in connection with existing structures. The term "existing structure" means a completed building that has or had a distinctive functional use.

(e) The proceeds of a Class 2 or Class 3 loan shall not be used to supplement another loan or advance of credit not reported for insurance, the payment of which is secured by a prior lien created in connection with the building of such new structure.

(f) The proceeds of a loan shall not be used for the purchase of land.

(g) The proceeds of a loan may be used to pay for architectural and engineering services performed in connection with eligible alterations, repairs or improvements financed in accordance with these Regulations.

(h) The proceeds of a loan shall not be used for the purpose of refinancing existing obligations not previously reported for insurance pursuant to these Regulations.

(i) Where any doubt exists as to the eligibility of a transaction which is to be financed with an insured loan, the facts of the case should be submitted to the Administrator for a decision and ruling.

[Regulation VIII]

§ 501.8 Effect of prior mortgages insured or held by the Administrator. If the applicant's Credit Statement-Application reveals that the property to be improved, altered or repaired with proceeds of a loan applied for pursuant to the terms of Title I of the National Housing Act, as amended, is already the subject of a mortgage held by the Administrator or insured by him under the provisions of Title II of the National Housing Act, the loan application shall be submitted to the Administrator for prior approval only as to credit and as to the purpose for which the proceeds of the loan applied for are to be used: Provided, however, That no such approval shall be deemed to be binding upon the Administrator with respect to compliance with any other provisions of these Regulations or the eligibility of the proposed alterations, repairs or improvements for financing under Title I of the National Housing Act, as amended.

(b) Claim for reimbursement for loss on a qualified Class 3 loan shall be made as provided in this Section.

(1) If the borrower fails to make any payment, or to perform any other covenant or obligation under the mortgage, and such failure continues for a period of thirty (30) days, the note shall be considered in default and at any time within one year from the date of default the insured institution, at its election, shall either—

(i) Acquire by means other than foreclosure of the mortgage, possession of, and title to, the mortgaged property; or

(ii) Commence foreclosure of the mortgage; provided, that if the laws of the State in which the mortgaged property is situated do not permit the commencement of such foreclosure within such period of time, the lending institution shall commence such foreclosure within sixty (60) days after the expiration of the time during which such foreclosure is prohibited by such laws.

(iii) Nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to prevent the lending institution, with the written consent of the Administrator, from taking action at a later date than herein specified.

(2) For the purposes of this section, the date of default shall be considered as thirty (30) days after (a) the first uncorrected failure to perform a covenant or obligation, or (b) the first failure to make a monthly payment which subsequent payments by the mortgagor are insufficient to cover when applied to the overdue monthly payments in the order in which they became due.

(iii) Actual legal expenses incurred by the lending institution and approved by the Administrator in connection with the foreclosure proceedings, or the acquisition of the mortgaged property otherwise, and the conveyance thereof to the Administrator up to but not to exceed $75.00.

(iv) The amount of all payments which have been made by the lending institution for taxes, ground rents, special assessments, and water rates which are liens prior to the mortgage, and fire and hazard insurance premiums from the date of default, less any amount received by the lending institution from any source relating to the property on account of rent or other income, after deducting reasonable expenses incurred in handling the property.

(5) Evidence of title of the following types will be satisfactory to the Administrator:

(i) A fee or owner's policy of title insurance, a guaranty or guarantee of title, or a certificate of title, issued by a title company, duly authorized by law and qualified by experience to issue such; or

(iv) evidence of title conforming to the standards of a supervising branch of the Government of the United States or of any State or Territory thereof.

(v) Such evidence of title shall be furnished without cost to the Administrator and shall be executed as of a date to include the recordation of the deed to the Administrator, and shall show that, according to the public records, there are not, at such date, any outstanding prior liens, including any past due and unpaid ground rents, renewal taxes, or special assessments. If the title and title evidence are such as to be acceptable to prudent lending institutions and leading attorneys generally in the community in which the property is situated, such title and title evidence will be satisfactory to the Administrator and will be considered by him as good and merchantable.

(vi) The Administrator will not object to the title by reason of the following matters, provided they are not such as to impair the value of the property for residence purposes.

(c) Shall be expended solely for the purpose of erecting a new residential structure.

(d) Shall be made to a borrower who is the fee simple owner of the land upon which the new structure is to be built or who holds such land under a lease, approved by the Administrator, having a term of at least thirty years to run from the date of the note, and who establishes to the satisfaction of the insured institution that, in addition to the loan, he has an investment in the property in cash, in land, or in an interest in the land in an amount equal to at least five per centum of the appraised value of the completed property as determined by the insured institution.

(e) Shall be secured by collateral security in the form of a duly recorded first mortgage, first deed of trust or similar instrument which constitutes a first lien upon such fee simple or leasehold interest in the land and all buildings, appurtenances and improvements thereon.

(f) Shall comply with the following requirements:

(1) Prior to making the loan the insured institution shall obtain from the borrower a signed Certificate of Conformity, approved as to form by the Administrator, containing the necessary information from which it can determine conformity with the requirements of 501.14 and this Regulation, together with plans or sketches and specifications sufficient to form the basis for an appraisal by the insured institution of the value of the completed property.

(2) Prior to making the loan the insured institution shall make an estimate of the value of the property when the proposed improvements are completed and shall certify to the local insuring office of the Administration the amount of such appraisal and that the requirements of Section 4 of this Regulation are complied with. (4) Prior to disbursing the proceeds of the loan or any portion thereof, the insured institution shall satisfy itself either that (1) the structure has been completed in accordance with the plans or sketches and specifications upon which the valuation certificate was based, or (2) in the case of progress payments during construction, that the value of the work done and materials on the site at the time of any such progress payment is equal to at least one hundred and ten per cent of such payment plus all such progress payments theretofore made, or that any such progress payment is due under a schedule of payments set out in the building contract. Prior to making the payment under alternative (1) above, the insured institution shall obtain a certificate signed by the borrower and the builder to the effect that the house has been completed in accordance with the plans or sketches and specifications.

(5) The approval provided for in Paragraph (a) of this Section shall not relieve the insured institution from compliance with all other Regulations.

(a) Such new structure shall be erected in conformity with all applicable laws, ordinances and regulations, including codes, zoning ordinances, and health regulations.

(b) Property requirements—(1) Minimum land area for any one dwelling. (i) Where public water supply and public sewer are available the minimum land area for any one dwelling shall be 4,000 square feet, except in those areas wherein there is seasonal occupancy (examples of such areas are summer camps, resort properties, and those properties not generally used as year-round residences), or wherein the existing lots have been platted prior to February 3, 1938, with smaller land areas, in which cases there is no minimum land area.

(ii) Where public water supply is available and private sewage disposal system (cesspool or septic tank) is used, or where public water supply is not available but a public sewer is available, the minimum land area shall be 7,500 square feet. This area may be reduced when the installation of the proposed private sewage disposal system is in conformity with state regulations, and the written approval or acceptance is received from the local health officer, but, in no event, shall such land area be less than 4,000 square feet.

(iii) Where neither a public sewer nor a public water supply is available the minimum land area shall be 20,000 square feet. This area may be reduced when the private water supply and the proposed private sanitary facilities (cesspool, septic tank or outdoor toilet) are in conformity with state regulations and written approval or acceptance is received from the local health officer, but in no event shall such land area be less than 4,000 square feet.

(c) Structural requirements—(1) Foundations. (i) All foundations shall be of masonry and shall be pier, wall or slab construction.

(ii) Foundations other than slab foundation shall be carried below the frost line prevailing in the neighborhood.

(d) The above conditions may be varied under special circumstances and in certain areas upon prior approval of the Administrator.

[Regulation XV]

§ 501.15 Allowable Class 3 loan fees. (a) In addition to the maximum permissible financing charge which may be paid by the borrower in connection with a Class 3 loan as provided in 501.5, the following allowable costs or expenses if incurred by the insured institution in connection with the transaction may be collected from the borrower, provided such costs or expenses are not paid from the net proceeds advanced to the borrower:

(a) Recording fees.
(b) Title examination fees.
(c) Fire Insurance Premiums.
(d) Total actual appraisal fee not in excess of $10.00.
(e) The $10.00 paid to the Administrator for examining the loan.

(b) The borrower may pay to the lending institution and the lending institution may accept from the borrower a sum which will be sufficient to pay the ground rents, if any, and the estimated taxes and special assessments for the period beginning on the date to which such ground rents, taxes, and assessments were last paid and ending on their due date. The handling of such funds for the accommodation of the borrower shall not be construed as increasing the maximum permissible financing charge provided in 501.5.

[Regulation XVI]

§ 501.16 Insurance reserve. (a) Subject to the limitation that his total liability which may be outstanding at any one time plus the amount of claims paid in respect of all insurance heretofore and hereafter granted shall not exceed $100,000,000, the Administrator, in accordance with 501.12 will reimburse any insured institution for losses sustained by it up to a total aggregate amount equal to 10% of the total amount advanced by it during the time its Contract of Insurance is in force, on all eligible obligations previously reported for insurance, taken or purchased by it on and after July 1, 1939, and held by it, or on which it remains liable.

(b) If obligations previously reported for insurance under Contracts of Insurance issued pursuant to the National Housing Act, as amended, effective July 1, 1939, are sold to another insured institution endorsed with or without reing to the credit of the selling institutions may agree, with the prior approval of the Administrator, to transfer all or any part of the insurance reserve standing to the credit of the selling institution, to the purchasing institution. Where the parties agree to transfer an insurance reserve in excess of 10% of the actual purchase price of the obligations involved, or in excess of 10% of the net unpaid original advance on the obligations involved, whichever is the lesser, the entire insurance reserve transferred may be used to pay only those claims arising out of defaults occurring in the transferred obligations. When the obligations so transferred have all been fully paid to the purchasing institution, it shall so notify the Administrator, and any insurance reserve remaining unused shall thereupon revert to the institution from which it was originally transferred.

(c) Where the parties agree to transfer an insurance reserve not in excess of 10% of the actual purchase price of the obligations involved or not in excess of 10% of the net unpaid original advance on the obligations involved, whichever is the lesser, the insurance reserve so transferred will be credited to the general reserve of the purchasing institution in the absence of any agreement to the contrary between the purchasing and selling institutions.

(d) The transfer of insurance reserve in cases of merger or consolidation of two or more insured institutions, or of an insured with an uninsured institution, will be provided for by the Administrator in accordance with the facts of the particular case.

(e) In all cases involving the transfer of insured obligations, the reports required by 501.11 must be filed and shall indicate the intent of the parties with regard to the transfer of the insurance reserve, and must show that no note to be transferred is delinquent more than one calendar month at the time of such transfer.

(f) Where the notes are transferred without recourse, guarantee, or repurchase agreement and the reports do not indicate the intent of the parties, the insurance reserve will be transferred to the general reserve of the purchasing institution on the basis of 10% of the actual purchase price of the obligations involved, or 10% of the net unpaid original advance on the obligations involved, whichever is the lesser.

(g) Where the transfer of the obligations is with recourse or under a guarantee or purchase agreement and the required reports do not show the intent of the parties, no insurance reserve will be transferred.

(h) The selling price on the transfer of an insured note between insured institutions will not affect the insurance on the note. The calculation of insured loss will be based on the original transaction of the institution first reporting the loan for insurance.

(i) Where notes reported for insurance by one insured institution are pledged to another insured institution as security for a loan, an assignment of the pledging institution's insurance reserve may be made with the prior consent of the Administrator provided requests for such consent are accompanied by a signed agreement between the two institutions.

(j) Amounts which may be salvaged by the Administrator with respect to a loan in connection with which an institution has been reimbursed under its Contract of Insurance shall not be added to the insurance reserve remaining to the credit of such institution.

[Regulation XVII]

§ 501.17 Insurance charge. (a) Insured institutions shall pay to the Administrator an insurance charge equal to three-fourths of 1 per centum per annum of the net proceeds of any Class 1 or Class 2 loan and one-half of 1 per centum per annum of the net proceeds of any Class 3 loan reported for insurance for the entire term of such loan.

(b) The insurance charge so calculated for Class 1 and Class 2 loans shall be paid by check or draft to the order of the Federal Housing Administrator, within 25 days after the date the Administrator acknowledges receipt to the insured institution of the report of any such loan; the insurance charge so calculated for Class 3 loans shall be payable in the same manner but may be paid annually in advance during the term of the loan, provided the initial annual installment is paid within 25 days after the date the Administrator acknowledges receipt to the insured institution of the report of any such loan and each subsequent annual installment is paid annually thereafter on the anniversaries of the first day of the month following the date of the note. In the event the loan is paid in full prior to maturity or in the event the insured institution conveys title to the property to the Administrator in accordance with the provisions of 501.12, the insured institution shall pay to the Administrator at the time of such payment in full or conveyance of the title the amount of all unpaid insurance charges for the unexpired term of the loan.

(c) When the proceeds of any loan are used to liquidate a loan previously reported for insurance under these Regulations, there shall be deducted from the amount of the insurance charge the prorata share of the insurance charge paid on the original obligation.

(d) There shall not be refunded any portion of the insurance charge paid by the insured institution with respect to any loan, unless it is subsequently found to have been in whole or in part ineligible for insurance, in which event the insurance charge paid with respect to the ineligible portion of the advance shall be refunded by the Administrator to the insured institution.

(e) The purchaser of an insured obligation shall not be required to pay the insurance charge provided in this Regulation with respect to the insurance of any obligation transferred under the provisions of 501.16 with respect to which an insurance charge has previously been paid by the seller, and no refund shall be made to the seller as to any part of the insurance charge previously paid with respect to any obligation so transferred. Any adjustments of the insurance charge paid with respect to the insurance of any obligation transferred shall be made between the purchaser and the seller.

(f) No part of the insurance charge paid by the insured institution shall be passed on to the borrower either directly or indirectly nor shall it increase the maximum permissible charge which may be paid by the borrower for interest, discount and fees of all kinds in connection with the transaction as provided in these Regulations.

(g) Subject to the other provisions of these Regulations, the insurance granted under Title I of the National Housing Act, as amended, shall be effective with respect to any loan from the date of the report thereof to the Administrator provided that the insurance charge with respect to such loan has been paid as required by this Regulation.

[Regulation XVIII]

§ 501.18 Administrative reports and examination. The Administrator, in his discretion, may at any time or from time to time call for a report from any institution on the delinquency status of the obligations held by such institutions and reported for insurance or call for such reports as he may deem to be necessary in connection with these Regulations, or he or his authorized representative may inspect the books or accounts of the lending institution as they pertain to the loans reported for insurance.

[Regulation XIX]

§ 501.19 Amendments. These Regulations may be amended by the Administrator at any time and from time to time, in whole or in part, but such amendment shall not affect the insurance with respect to any loan made or obligation purchased prior to the issuance of such amendment.

[Regulation XX]

§ 501.20 Effective date. These Regulations are effective September 1, 1939 and govern the insurance of property improvement loans under Title I of the National Housing Act, as amended by act of Congress, approved June 3, 1939, and shall have the same force and effect as if included in and made a part of each Contract of Insurance. These Regulations supersede all Regulations heretofore in effect, including Special Regulations and Questions and Answers governing Section 6 loans.

of farm acreage allotments for flue-cured tobacco for use in connection with the 1940 Agricultural Conservation Program and in connection with farm marketing quotas for flue-cured tobacco for the marketing year therefor beginning July 1, 1940 in the event a national marketing quota is effective for such marketing year.

ESTABLISHMENT OF ALLOTMENTS FOR OLD FARMS

§ 727.215 Acreage allotments for old farms. The farm acreage allotment for an old farm shall be that percentage of the normal acreage for the farm which the normal acreages for all old farms in the State is of the State acreage allotment: Provided, That if the acreage allotment so determined for any farm (except a farm operated, controlled, or directed by a person who also operates, controls, or directs another farm on which tobacco is produced) is less than the acreage which, with the normal yield for the farm, would produce 3,200 pounds of tobacco, then such acreage allotment shall be increased to the smaller of (a) 120 percent thereof, or (b) that acreage which, with the normal yield for the farm, would produce 3,200 pounds of tobacco.

§ 727.216 Determination of normal tobacco acreage. The normal acreage for an old farm shall be the past acreage determined pursuant to section 217 adjusted, if necessary, for land, labor and equipment; crop rotation practices; and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco, pursuant to sections 218 and 219.

§ 727.217 Determination of past tobacco acreage. The past tobacco acreage for a farm shall be the average acreage of tobacco (harvested and diverted) in the five years 1935 to 1939. The harvested and diverted acreage for a farm shall be determined as follows:

(a) Harvested acreage. The harvested acreage for any year shall be the number of acres actually harvested on the farm; except, that if such number of acres was less than 60 percent of the base or usual acreage determined for the farm in connection with the agricultural adjustment or conservation program for such year because of flood, drought, hail or blue mold, or other tobacco plant diseases, the harvested acreage for such year shall be adjusted upward to 70 percent of the base or usual acreage for the farm for such year.

(b) Diverted acreage. The diverted acreage for any year shall be the base or usual acreage determined for the farm in connection with the agricultural adjustment or conservation program for such year minus the harvested acreage for such year (as adjusted for abnormal conditions): Provided, That the diverted acreage for any year shall not exceed 30 percent of the base or usual acreage.

In cases where the 1939 acreage allotment was the same as the 1938 acreage allotment, the base or usual acreage for 1939 will be the same as for 1938. In cases where the 1939 acreage allotment was determined by adjustment of the 1938 acreage allotment but no determination was made of the accompanying base or usual acreage for 1939, the base or usual acreage for 1939 shall be as shown in the table below:

| Size of 1939 allotment | 1939 base or usual acreage |
| 3.6 acres or more | = acreage obtained by dividing allotment by 70%. |
| 3.5 acres | = 4.9 acres. |
| 3.4 acres | = 4.6 acres. |
| 3.3 acres | = 4.2 acres. |
| 3.2 acres | = 3.8 acres. |
| 3.1 acres | = 3.5 acres. |
| 3.0 acres or less | = acreage obtained by dividing allotment by 90%. |

(c) Subdivided farm. If land operated as a single farm in any of the five years 1935 to 1939 has since been subdivided into two or more tracts, the base acreage, harvested acreage, and diverted acreage of tobacco for the farm for the respective years in which the land was operated as a single farm shall be apportioned among the tracts in the proportion which the acres of cropland suitable for the production of tobacco on each such tract in such year bore to the total number of acres of cropland suitable for the production of tobacco on the entire farm in such year; Provided, That if the local committee finds that such apportionment would not be equitable in view of the subsequent production on the farms which include such tracts, it shall make such other apportionment as it determines to be fair and equitable.

§ 727.218 Adjustment for land, labor, and equipment. If the past acreage for a farm is higher or lower than the average of the acreages indicated for the farm by land and labor, the local committee shall make such adjustment in the past acreage as it determines will result in a normal acreage for the farm which is reasonable in relation to the acreages indicated for the farm by land, labor and equipment. Such adjustments shall be subject to the following limitations:

(a) The past acreage for any farm shall not be adjusted downward to less than 80 percent of the past acreage unless further adjustment is made pursuant to section 219 or can be made without reducing the acreage below the acreage indicated for the farm by land or by labor.

(b) The past acreage for any farm shall not be adjusted upward to an acreage larger than twice the past acreage for the farm or 4 acres if the past acreage for the farm is less than 2 acres.

(c) The total upward adjustments pursuant to this section shall not exceed the total downward adjustments pursuant to this section and section 219, except as otherwise approved by the State committee.

(d) All adjustments pursuant to this section shall be subject to approval by the State committee.

| Acres of cropland in farm | Maximum normal acreage |
|---|---|
| 25 acres or more | 40 percent of cropland. |
| 20 to 24.9 acres | 44 percent of cropland but not over 10 acres. |
| 15 to 19.9 acres | 48 percent of cropland but not over 8.8 acres. |
| 10 to 14.9 acres | 52 percent of cropland but not over 7.2 acres. |
| 9.9 acres or less | 60 percent of cropland but not over 5.2 acres. |

In addition to the downward adjustments authorized above, if the harvested acreage of tobacco on any farm in any year of the five years 1935 to 1939 was more than 50 percent above the average acreage in the other four years, thus indicating that the acreage for such year was abnormal in view of customary crop rotation practices for the farm, then the local committee, subject to approval of the State committee, shall make such further downward adjustment as is necessary to obtain a fair and reasonable normal acreage for the farm, taking into consideration the customary crop rotation practices for the farm, but in no case shall such adjustment result in a normal acreage which is less than the average acreage in such other four years.

§ 727.220 Determination of acreages indicated for a farm by land, labor and equipment—(a) Acreage indicated by land. The acreage indicated for a farm by land shall be the number of acres which result from multiplying the land available for the production of tobacco on the farm by the county average percent for land. The land available for the production of tobacco on a farm shall be the number of acres obtained by subtracting from the total acres of cropland in the farm the 1939 commercial crop (other than flue-cured tobacco) acreage for the farm. Such 1939 commercial crop acreage for any farm shall be the sum of (1) the acreage allotments of cash crops (other than flue-cured tobacco) determined for the farm under the 1939 agricultural conservation program (2) the 1939 acreages for the farm of cash crops for which acreage allotments were not determined under such program, and (3) the 1939 acreages of feed crops and the 1939 acreage of cropland devoted to pasture for commercial livestock. The county average percent for land shall be the percent obtained by dividing the land available for the production of tobacco on all tobacco farms in the county into the past tobacco acreage of all such farms.

(b) Acreage indicated by labor. (1) The acreage indicated for a farm by labor shall be the number of acres which result from multiplying the labor available for the production of tobacco on the farm by the county average acreage for labor. The labor available for the production of tobacco on a farm shall be the number of families obtained by multiplying the total number of families engaged in the operation of the farm (not exceeding one family for each 15 acres of cropland in the farm) by that percent which the land available for the production of tobacco on the farm is of the total acres of cropland in the farm. The county average acreage for labor shall be the number of acres obtained by dividing the labor available for the production of tobacco on all tobacco farms in the county into the past tobacco acreage for all such farms.

(2) A family means a body of two or more persons who live in one house and under one head. A family shall be considered as engaged in the operation of a farm if the head, and other members of the family who ordinarily take part in farm work are employed full-time in work on the farm. If the head and other members of the family who ordinarily take part in farm work devote their full time to farm work but do so by working part time on two or more farms rather than full time on one farm, such family shall be considered as engaged in the operation of the farm on which more than half of its time is spent in work.

(c) Acreage indicated by equipment. (1) The acreage indicated for a farm by equipment shall be the number of acres which result from multiplying the equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm by the county average percent for equipment. The equipment available for the production of tobacco on any farm shall be the total acreage capacity of the flue-cured tobacco curing barns for the farm which are in suitable condition for the curing of tobacco, except that such acreage capacity shall in no event exceed the largest acreage of tobacco (harvested and diverted) for the farm in any of the five years 1935–1939. The county average percent for equipment shall be that percent obtained by dividing the equipment available for the production of tobacco on all tobacco farms in the county into the past tobacco acreage of all such farms.

(2) The acreage capacity of curing barns of the sizes listed in the table below shall be as shown in such table:

| Size of barns | Average capacity |
|---|---|
| 16 feet by 16 feet | 4 |
| 16 feet by 18 feet | 5 |
| 16 feet by 20 feet | 6 |
| 20 feet by 20 feet | 7 |

If the barn does not fall within any of the sizes listed in the table above, the local committee shall establish an acreage capacity for such barn, which it determines is reasonable in relation to the acreage capacities of the barns listed in the table. If a curing barn customarily is used for curing tobacco grown on more than one farm, the acreage capacity allowance for the respective farms shall not exceed the proportion of the acreage capacity of the barn which the local committee determines is reasonable in relation to the use of the barn by the farm.

§ 727.221 Determination of normal yields. The normal yield for any farm shall be that yield which the local committee determines is normal for the farm taking into consideration (a) the yields obtained on the farm during the years 1935 to 1939; (b) the soil and other physical factors affecting production of tobacco on the farm; and (c) the yields obtained on other farms in the locality which are similar with respect to such factors. The weighted average of the normal yields for all farms in each county shall not exceed the yield established for the county by the Secretary on the basis of county yields during the years 1935 to 1939, adjusted for abnormal conditions.

ESTABLISHMENT OF ALLOTMENTS FOR NEW FARMS

§ 727.222 Determination of farm acreage allotment. The acreage allotment for a new farm shall be that percentage of the normal acreage for the farm which the normal acreages for all such farms is of the acreage available for allotment to all such farms in the United States.

§ 727.223 Determination of normal acreages. (a) The normal acreage for a new farm shall be that acreage which the local committee determines is fair and reasonable for the farm taking into consideration the acreage indicated by the past tobacco experience of the farm operator and by land, labor and equipment: Provided, That the normal acreage for any farm shall not exceed whichever of the following acreages is the smallest for the farm:

(1) The acreage capacity of the curing barns on the farm;

(2) The average of (i) the acreage indicated by the past experience of the farm operator and (ii) the smallest of the respective acreages indicated for the farm by land, labor and equipment;

(3) Four acres, if the past tobacco experience of the farm operator is less than two acres

(b) The acreage indicated for a new farm by the past tobacco experience of the farm operator shall be the average acreage of tobacco grown by or for the farm operator in the five years 1935 to 1939.

(c) The acreage indicated for a new farm by land, labor and equipment shall be determined pursuant to section 220.

(d) The normal acreages determined for farms as provided above shall be subject to approval by the State committee.

§ 727.224 Determination of normal yields. The normal yield for a new farm shall be that yield per acre which the local committee determines is reasonable for the farm as compared with yields for other farms in the locality on which the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco are similar.

§ 727.225 Time for filing application. In order to obtain an allotment for a new tobacco farm the operator of the farm shall file an application therefor on 40–Tob–11 "Application for 1940 Allotment—New Flue-cured Tobacco Farm", prior to January 15, 1940.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 31st day of August 1939. Witness my hand and seal of the Department of Agriculture.

DIVISION OF PUBLIC CONTRACTS

IN THE MATTER OF THE DETERMINATION OF THE PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGES IN THE FERTILIZER INDUSTRY

This matter is before me pursuant to Section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. Sup. III 35), entitled "An Act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes", (hereinafter called the Act). The Public Contracts Board, created in accordance with Section 4 of the Act by Administrative Order dated October 6, 1936, held a hearing on January 26, 1939, in the above entitled matter.

Notice of this hearing was sent to all known members of the industry, to trade unions, to trade publications, and to trade associations in the field. Invitation to attend the hearing was extended through the national press to all other interested parties.

Appearances were entered and testimony was presented at the hearing by both representatives of industry and labor. A survey of the average hourly earnings in the fertilizer industry in 1938, prepared by the Division of Wage and Hour Statistics, Bureau of Labor Statistics, was received in evidence.

On the basis of the record, the Board made its findings and recommended that the Secretary find the prevailing minimum wage in the industry to be 40 cents an hour, or $16.00 per week of forty hours, for the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, and the District of Columbia; 50 cents an hour, or $20.00 per week of forty hours, for the States of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Nevada, California, Oregon, and Washington; 30 cents an hour, or $12.00 per week of forty hours, for the States of Virginia, Tennessee, and Kentucky; and 25 cents an hour, or $10.00 per week of forty hours, for the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

On May 29, 1939, the Administrator, Division of Public Contracts, circularized the Board's findings and recommendations in order that all parties might have full opportunity to register their objection or approval before a decision in this matter was made by the Secretary of Labor.

Several protests were received from companies and individuals operating factories in Southern Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland, objecting to the Board's recommendations that these localities be included with the Northern States. These objections alleged that the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Southern Delaware have a lower prevailing wage structure than western Maryland and northern Delaware, and that the wage structure was more similar to that of the States of Virginia, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

A brief protesting against the Board's recommendations was also received from District 50, United Mine Workers of America. This brief alleged in part that the Board had failed to give adequate weight to the fact that the companies primarily doing business with the Government are the larger companies in the industry and have a substantially higher wage scale than the small companies; that the wage differentials recommended for the various groups of States were not warranted; that the methods used in finding the prevailing minimum wage for the individual groups of States were not consistent; that the Board had failed to consider adequately the wages paid to the skilled and semi-skilled workers in the industry in making its findings and recommendations; and that the findings and recommendations of the Board do not constitute findings and recommendations of the prevailing minimum wage in the industry.

In determining the prevailing minimum wage for an industry, the wages paid by both large and small companies must be considered; it was therefore proper for the Board to give appropriate weight to the wages paid by the small companies. The allegation that one minimum wage rate prevails throughout the industry is not supported by the evidence of record.

The Census of Manufactures for 1937 shows that the fertilizer industry had in that year an average of 20,893 wage earners. The evidence of record shows that at the peak of seasonal production the industry provides employment for considerably more workers.

The survey made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics covered 283 establishments employing 15,657 wage earners and appears to show adequately the wage structure prevailing in the industry. This survey shows that throughout the Northern States the same general wage structure is prevailing. The wage structure midway between the North and South is lower than in the Northern States, but higher than in the States further south. In the Southern States the wages are uniformly lower than in the Northern States or in the upper South. In the West the wage level is higher than it is in the East.

Approximately four-fifths of the workers included in the survey were classified as unskilled, and in this classification are found the workers receiving the minimum wage in the industry.

In the North the evidence shows that at the single wage rate of 40 cents an hour there occurs a pronounced concentration of unskilled workers to whom this rate is paid. Of the unskilled workers in this locality, 429 or 16.8 percent receive the 40-cent rate. Employees receiving less than 40 cents an hour are scattered at intervals without any marked concentration. There are larger concentrations of workers in higher 5-cent intervals, but these do not show the prevailing minimum wage. The United Mine Workers of America alleged that the 40-cent minimum wage as recommended does not constitute the prevailing minimum wage for the group of States in the North. The fact that there is such a marked concentration of minimum wage employees at the single rate of 40 cents an hour justifies the Board's findings and recommendations of the prevailing minimum wage for the Northern States.

In the upper South there are substantial concentrations occurring at the single wage rates of 25, 30, 35, and 40 cents an hour. In this locality, 12.7 percent of the workers receive 25 cents an hour, 13.7 percent receive 30 cents an hour, 11 percent receive 35 cents an hour, and 40.5 percent receive 40 cents an hour. It is apparent that the lower rates are more expressive of the general minimum wage practice in these States. The 30-cent rate is paid to a somewhat larger number of workers than the 25-cent or 35-cent rates, and a weighted average of the three rates shows 29.8 cents an hour. The Board's recommendation that I find 30 cents an hour to be the prevailing minimum wage for these States appears to be proper. I have considered the evidence of record and the objections filed regarding the recommendations of the Board concerning Southern Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and I find that the prevailing minimum wage is the same as that for the States of Virginia, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

The United Mine Workers of America alleged that the recommendation of the Board that I find 30 cents an hour to be the prevailing minimum wage for the upper South disregards the wages paid to the largest number of unskilled workers in the upper South. It is true that the Board did select the 30-cent minimum on the basis of its being the weighted average of the unskilled workers receiving 25, 30, and 35 cents an hour, although a large number of employees receive 40 cents an hour in these States. The large number of employees receiving less than 40 cents an hour prevents the conclusion that 40 cents is the prevailing minimum wage. In view of the number of workers receiving 25 cents an hour and since 26.4 percent of the workers receive 30 cents an hour or less, I cannot find that the Board's recommendation of 30 cents an hour is improper.

In the Southern States, the single rate of 25 cents an hour predominates. At this point approximately 40 percent of all unskilled workers are found. Although the survey shows that a substantial number of the unskilled workers in this locality received less than 25 cents an hour at the time the survey was made, it is recognized that this survey was made prior to the time the Fair Labor Standards Act became effective, and it appears that the 25-cent rate for the South constitutes the prevailing minimum wage in this locality.

In view of the fact that the minimum wage required to be paid by employers subject to Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, on and after October 24, 1939, will be 30 cents an hour or $12.00 per week of forty hours, opportunity will then be given to members of the industry to show why this determination should not be modified to conform to the rate required by the Fair Labor Standards Act for the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas.

The record does not show any marked concentration of workers at any single wage rate in the Western States. At the wage interval of 47.5 and under 52.5 cents an hour are found 20.6 percent of the workers covered by the survey. The Board has recommended that I find the prevailing minimum wage for this locality to be the midpoint of this wage interval, or 50 cents an hour. It appears that this recommendation is supported by the record.

The United Mine Workers of America have objected to the Board's recommendation of a 50-cent minimum for the Western States because only 20.6 percent of the workers fall in the wage bracket between 47.5 to 52.5 cents, while 70 percent of the employees receive 50 cents an hour or more. The union contends that under these circumstances the prevailing minimum must be higher than 50 cents an hour. In view of the substantial percentage of workers earning 50 cents or less, the Board appears to be justified in its recommendation of a 50-cent minimum.

I have considered the findings and recommendations of the Board, together with the briefs and objections filed, and in the light of these facts

I hereby determine the prevailing minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government, subject to the provisions of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. Sup. III 35), for the manufacture or supply of superphosphates and concentrated superphosphates; and for the manufacture or mixing of concentrated fertilizer from superphosphates, potash and ammoniates, to be the amount indicated for each of the following groups of States, whether arrived at upon a time or piece work basis:

For the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware (except Kent and Sussex Counties), Maryland (except the Eastern Shore), West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, and the District of Columbia, 40 cents an hour or $16.00 per week of forty hours.

For the States of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Nevada, California, Oregon, and Washington, 50 cents an hour, or $20.00 per week of forty hours.

For Kent and Sussex Counties of Delaware, the Eastern Shore of Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, and Kentucky, 30 cents an hour, or $12.00 per week of forty hours.

For the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, 25 cents an hour, or $10.00 per week of forty hours.

This determination shall be effective and the minimum wages hereby established shall apply to all such contracts, bids for which are solicited on or after September 12, 1939.

PROCLAIMING THE NEUTRALITY OF THE UNITED STATES IN THE WAR BETWEEN GERMANY AND FRANCE; POLAND; AND THE UNITED KINGDOM, INDIA, AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS a state of war unhappily exists between Germany and France; Poland; and the United Kingdom, India, Australia and New Zealand.

AND WHEREAS the United States is on terms of friendship and amity with the contending powers, and with the persons inhabiting their several dominions;

AND WHEREAS there are nationals of each of the said belligerents residing within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States, and carrying on commerce, trade, or other business or pursuits therein;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. D. 1909, as amended by the act of the 15th day of June, A. D. 1917, is not to be construed to extend to a citizen or subject of a belligerent who, being transiently within the jurisdiction of the United States, shall, on board of any ship of war, which, at the time of its arrival within the jurisdiction of the United States, was fitted and equipped as such ship of war, enlist or enter himself or hire or retain another subject or citizen of the same belligerent, who is transiently within the jurisdiction of the United States, to enlist or enter himself to serve such belligerent on board such ship of war, if the United States shall then be at peace with such belligerent.)

8. Fitting out and arming, or attempting to fit out and arm, or procuring to be fitted out and armed, or knowingly being concerned in the furnishing, fitting out, or arming of any ship or vessel with intent that such ship or vessel shall be employed in the service of one of the said belligerents to cruise, or commit hostilities against the subjects, citizens, or property of an opposing belligerent.

9. Issuing or delivering a commission within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States for any ship or vessel to the intent that she may be employed as aforesaid.

10. Increasing or augmenting, or procuring to be increased or augmented, or knowingly being concerned in increasing or augmenting, the force of any ship of war, cruiser, or other armed vessel, which at the time of her arrival within the jurisdiction of the United States was a ship of war, cruiser, or armed vessel in the service of a belligerent, or belonging to a national thereof, by adding to the number of guns of such vessel, or by changing those on board of her for guns of a larger caliber, or by the addition thereto of any equipment solely applicable to war.

11. Knowingly beginning or setting on foot or providing or preparing a means for or furnishing the money for, or taking part in, any military or naval expedition or enterprise to be carried on from the territory or jurisdiction of the United States against the territory or dominion of a belligerent.

12. Despatching from the United States, or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, any vessel, domestic or foreign, which is about to carry to a warship, tender, or supply ship of a belligerent any fuel, arms, ammunition, men, supplies, despatches, or information shipped or received on board within the jurisdiction of the United States.

13. Despatching from the United States, or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, any armed vessel owned wholly or in part by American citizens, or any vessel, domestic or foreign (other than one which has entered the jurisdiction of the United States as a public vessel), which is manifestly built for warlike purposes or has been converted or adapted from a private vessel to one suitable for warlike use, and which is to be employed to cruise against or commit or attempt to commit hostilities upon the subjects, citizens, or property of a belligerent nation, or which will be sold or delivered to a belligerent nation, or to an agent, officer, or citizen thereof, within the jurisdiction of the United States, or, having left that jurisdiction, upon the high seas.

14. Despatching from the United States, or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, any vessel built, armed, or equipped as a ship of war, or converted from a private vessel into a ship of war (other than one which has entered the jurisdiction of the United States as a public vessel), with any intent or under any agreement or contract, written or oral, that such vessel shall be delivered to a belligerent nation, or to any agent, officer, or citizen of such nation, or where there is reasonable cause to believe that the said vessel shall or will be employed in the service of such belligerent nation after its departure from the jurisdiction of the United States.

15. Taking, or attempting or conspiring to take, or authorizing the taking of any vessel out of port or from the jurisdiction of the United States in violation of the said act of the 15th day of June, A. D. 1917, as set forth in the preceding paragraphs numbered 11 to 14 inclusive.

16. Leaving or attempting to leave the jurisdiction of the United States by a person belonging to the armed land or naval forces of a belligerent who shall have been interned within the jurisdiction of the United States in accordance with the law of nations, or leaving or attempting to leave the limits of internment in which freedom of movement has been allowed, without permission from the proper official of the United States in charge, or wilfully overstaying a leave of absence granted by such official.

17. Aiding or enticing any interned person to escape or attempt to escape from the jurisdiction of the United States, or from the limits of internment prescribed.

AND I do hereby further declare and proclaim that any frequenting and use of the waters within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States by the vessels of a belligerent, whether public ships or privateers for the purpose of preparing for hostile operations, or as posts of observation upon the ships of war or privateers or merchant vessels of an opposing belligerent must be regarded as unfriendly and offensive, and in violation of that neutrality which it is the determination of this government to observe; and to the end that the hazard and inconvenience of such apprehended practices may be avoided, I further proclaim and declare that from and after the fifth day of September instant, and so long as this proclamation shall be in effect, no ship of war or privateer of any belligerent shall be permitted to make use of any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States as a station or place of resort for any warlike purpose or for the purpose of obtaining warlike equipment; no privateer of a belligerent shall be permitted to depart from any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States; and no ship of war of a belligerent shall be permitted to sail out of or leave any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States from which a vessel of an opposing belligerent (whether the same shall be a ship of war or a merchant ship) shall have previously departed, until after the expiration of at least twenty-four hours from the departure of such last mentioned vessel beyond the jurisdiction of the United States.

If any ship of war of a belligerent shall, after the time this notification takes effect, be found in, or shall enter any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, such vessel shall not be permitted to remain in such port, harbor, roadstead, or waters more than twenty-four hours, except in case of stress of weather, or for delay in receiving supplies or repairs, or when detained by the United States; in any of which cases the authorities of the port, or of the nearest port (as the case may be), shall require her to put to sea as soon as the cause of the delay is at an end, unless within the preceding twenty-four hours a vessel, whether ship of war or merchant ship of an opposing belligerent, shall have departed therefrom, in which case the time limited for the departure of such ship of war shall be extended so far as may be necessary to secure an interval of not less than twenty-four hours between such departure and that of any ship of war or merchant ship of an opposing belligerent which may have previously quit the same port, harbor, roadstead, or waters.

Vessels used exclusively for scientific, religious, or philanthropic purposes are exempted from the foregoing provisions as to the length of time ships of war may remain in the ports, harbors, roadsteads, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

The maximum number of ships of war belonging to a belligerent and its allies which may be in one of the ports, harbors, or roadsteads subject to the jurisdiction of the United States simultaneously shall be three.

When ships of war of opposing belligerents are present simultaneously in the same port, harbor, roadstead, or waters, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, the one entering first shall depart first, unless she is in such condition as to warrant extending her stay. In any case the ship which arrived later has the right to notify the other through the competent local authority that within twenty-four hours she will leave such port, harbor, roadstead, or waters, the one first entering, however, having the right to depart within that time. If the one first entering leaves, the notifying ship must observe the prescribed interval of twenty-four hours. If a delay beyond twenty-four hours from the time of arrival is granted, the termination of the cause of delay will be considered the time of arrival in deciding the right of priority in departing.

Vessels of a belligerent shall not be permitted to depart successively from any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States at such intervals as will delay the departure of a ship of war of an opposing belligerent from such ports, harbors, roadsteads, or waters for more than twenty-four hours beyond her desired time of sailing. If, however, the departure of several ships of war and merchant ships of opposing belligerents from the same port, harbor, roadstead, or waters is involved, the order of their departure therefrom shall be so arranged as to afford the opportunity of leaving alternately to the vessels of the opposing belligerents, and to cause the least detention consistent with the objects of this proclamation.

All belligerent vessels shall refrain from use of their radio and signal apparatus while in the harbors, ports, roadsteads, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, except for calls of distress and communications connected with safe navigation or arrangements for the arrival of the vessel within, or departure from, such harbors, ports, roadsteads, or waters, or passage through such waters; provided that such communications will not be of direct material aid to the belligerent in the conduct of military operations against an opposing belligerent. The radio of belligerent merchant vessels may be sealed by the authorities of the United States, and such seals shall not be broken within the jurisdiction of the United States except by proper authority of the United States.

No ship of war of a belligerent shall be permitted, while in any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, to take in any supplies except provisions and such other things as may be requisite for the subsistence of her crew in amounts necessary to bring such supplies to her peace standard, and except such fuel, lubricants, and feed water only as may be sufficient, with that already on board, to carry such vessel, if without any sail power, to the nearest port of her own country; or in case a vessel is rigged to go under sail, and may also be propelled by machinery, then half the quantity of fuel, lubricants, and feed water which she would be entitled to have on board, if dependent upon propelling machinery alone, and no fuel, lubricants, or feed water shall be again supplied to any such ship of war in the same or any other port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States until after the expiration of three months from the time when such fuel, lubricants and feed water may have been last supplied to her within waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. The amounts of fuel, lubricants, and feed water allowable under the above provisions shall be based on the economical speed of the vessel, plus an allowance of thirty per centum for eventualities.

No ship of war of a belligerent shall be permitted, while in any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, to make repairs beyond those that are essential to render the vessel seaworthy and which in no degree constitute an increase in her military strength. Repairs shall be made without delay. Damages which are found to have been produced by the enemy's fire shall in no case be repaired.

No ship of war of a belligerent shall effect repairs or receive fuel, lubricants, feed water, or provisions within the jurisdiction of the United States without written authorization of the proper authorities of the United States. Before such authorization will be issued, the commander of the vessel shall furnish to such authorities a written declaration, duly signed by such commander, stating the date, port, and amounts of supplies last received in the jurisdiction of the United States, the amounts of fuel, lubricants, feed water, and provisions on board, the port to which the vessel is proceeding, the economical speed of the vessel, the rate of consumption of fuel, lubricants, and feed water at such speed, and the amount of each class of supplies desired. If repairs are desired, a similar declaration shall be furnished stating the cause of the damage and the nature of the repairs. In either case, a certificate shall be included to the effect that the desired services are in accord with the rules of the United States in that behalf.

No agency of the United States Government shall, directly or indirectly, provide supplies nor effect repairs to a belligerent ship of war.

No vessel of a belligerent shall exercise the right of search within the waters under the jurisdiction of the United States, nor shall prizes be taken by belligerent vessels within such waters. Subject to any applicable treaty provisions in force, prizes captured by belligerent vessels shall not enter any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters under the jurisdiction of the United States except in case of unseaworthiness, stress of weather, or want of fuel or provisions; when the cause has disappeared, the prize must leave immediately, and if a prize captured by a belligerent vessel enters any port, harbor, roadstead, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States for any other reason than on account of unseaworthiness, stress of weather, or want of fuel or provisions, or fails to leave as soon as the circumstances which justified the entrance are at an end, the prize with its officers and crew will be released and the prize crew will be interned. A belligerent Prize Court cannot be set up on territory subject to the jurisdiction of the United States or on a vessel in the ports, harbors, roadsteads, or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

The provisions of this proclamation pertaining to ships of war shall apply equally to any vessel operating under public control for hostile or military purposes.

AND I do further declare and proclaim that the statutes and the treaties of the United States and the law of nations alike require that no person, within the territory and jurisdiction of the United States, shall take part, directly or indirectly, in the said war, but shall remain at peace with all of the said belligerents, and shall maintain a strict and impartial neutrality.

AND I do further declare and proclaim that the provisions of this proclamation shall apply to the Canal Zone except in so far as such provisions may be specifically modified by a proclamation or proclamations, issued for the Canal Zone.

AND I do hereby enjoin all nationals of the United States, and all persons residing or being within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States, to observe the laws thereof, and to commit no act contrary to the provisions of the said statutes or treaties or in violation of the law of nations in that behalf.

AND I do hereby give notice that all nationals of the United States and others who may claim the protection of this government, who may misconduct themselves in the premises, will do so at their peril, and that they can in no wise obtain any protection from the government of the United States against the consequences of their misconduct.

This proclamation shall continue in full force and effect unless and until modified, revoked or otherwise terminated, pursuant to law.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this fifth day of September in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and [SEAL] thirty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fourth.

(9) Dumping of waste materials from neighboring land areas will be limited to 100,000 cubic yards. Dumping in excess of this quantity will be done only under the usual War Department written permit.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before September 11, 1939.

The matters concerned herewith are in regard to the proposed issue and sale by Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company, the declarant, of $3,300,000 in principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, 2¾% Series A, due 1940-1944; $9,700,000 principal amount First Mortgage Bonds, 3½% Series B, due 1945-1954; and $6,500,000 principal amount of 5% Debenture due September 2, 1955.

The proposed bonds will be sold privately to two banking institutions and six insurance companies at 100% of their principal amount. The proceeds of such sale, in the amount of $13,000,000 will be used to retire declarant's outstanding $9,100,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, 4% Series due 1951, at 101½, and $3,500,000 principal amount of 5% Debentures due 1952, at the face amount.

The proposed 5% Debenture due 1955, in the amount of $6,500,000, will be issued to Arkansas Natural Gas Corporation (applicant herein), declarant's parent and a registered holding company, to retire an equal principal amount of said 5% Debentures due 1952 held by applicant.

Applicant presently owns all of declarant's outstanding 5% Debentures due 1952, in the total amount of $10,000,000, which are pledged as collateral for applicant's 6% note in the principal amount of $4,266,386.41 held by Cities Service Company, parent of applicant. The application states that with the proceeds derived from the retirement with cash, as aforesaid, of $3,500,000 of declarant's 5% Debentures due 1952 held by applicant, $3,000,000 will be applied to reduce the principal of said note held by Cities Service Company.

Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company has filed a declaration pursuant to Section 7 with respect to the issuance of the aforesaid securities. The parent, Arkansas Natural Gas Corporation, has filed an application pursuant to Section 10 (a) (1) for approval of the acquisition of the proposed 5% Debenture due 1955 and an application pursuant to Rule U-12F-1 for approval of the sale to declarant of the latter's outstanding $10,000,000 5% Debentures due 1952 to be retired.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1939

Important. Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal Civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears.

AND WHEREAS it is further provided by section 1 of the said joint resolution that

"In the case of the forfeiture of any arms, ammunition, or implements of war by reason of a violation of this Act, no public or private sale shall be required; but such arms, ammunition, or implements of war shall be delivered to the Secretary of War for such use or disposal thereof as shall be approved by the President of the United States."

PRESCRIBING REGULATIONS CONCERNING NEUTRALITY IN THE CANAL ZONE

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS a proclamation having been issued by me on the fifth day of September instant declaring the neutrality of the United States of America in the war now existing between Germany and France; Poland; the United Kingdom, India, Australia and New Zealand.

AND WHEREAS the provisions of the said proclamation apply to the Canal Zone except in so far as such provisions may be modified by a proclamation issued for the Canal Zone;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do declare and proclaim that, from and after the fifth day of September instant, the said proclamation issued by me on the fifth day of September instant, in its application to the Canal Zone, is hereby modified as follows:

1. The limit of twenty-four hours prescribed by the above proclamation, with certain exceptions, as the maximum time a belligerent ship of war may remain within the jurisdiction of the United States shall apply to the total time such ship of war may remain in all the waters of the Canal Zone, except that the time required to transit the Canal shall be in addition to the prescribed twenty-four hours. Such transit shall be effected with the least possible delay in accordance with the Canal regulations in force, and only with such intermission as may result from the necessities of the service.

2. The maximum number of ships of war belonging to a belligerent and its allies which may be simultaneously in either terminal port and the terminal waters adjacent to such port shall be three. The maximum number of such vessels in all the waters of the Canal Zone simultaneously, including those in transit through the Canal, shall be six.

3. Belligerent ships of war, not carrying aircraft, departing from the jurisdiction of the Canal Zone from one of the terminal ports shall not be required to observe the prescribed interval of time between such departure and the departure from such jurisdiction of a vessel of an opposing belligerent from the other terminal port.

4. The time of original arrival of vessels within the jurisdiction of the Canal Zone, whether or not they transit the Canal, shall be used as the time of arrival in deciding the right of priority, between vessels of opposing belligerents, in departing from the jurisdiction of the Canal Zone.

5. If a belligerent ship of war which has left the waters of the Canal Zone, whether she has transitted the Canal or not, returns within a period of one week after her departure, she shall lose all right of priority in departure from the Canal Zone, or in passage through the Canal, over vessels of an opposing belligerent which may enter those waters after her return and before the expiration of one week subsequent to her previous departure. In any such case, the time of departure of a vessel which has so returned shall be fixed by the Canal authorities, who may in so doing consider the wishes of the commander or master of a vessel or vessels of an opposing belligerent then present within the waters of the Canal Zone.

6. If it is wholly impossible, as determined by the Governor of the Panama Canal, for a belligerent ship of war to effect repairs through, or to obtain fuel, lubricants, feed water, and provisions from, a private contractor within the Canal Zone or the Republic of Panama, the agencies of the United States administered by the Canal authorities may, in order to facilitate the operation of the Canal or its appurtenances, effect such repairs and furnish such supplies in accordance with the Canal regulations in force, but when repairs and supplies are so obtained they shall be limited to such repairs and such amounts of fuel, lubricants, feed water, and provisions, with that already on board, as may be necessary to enable the vessel to proceed to the nearest accessible port, not an enemy port, in the general direction of her voyage, at which she can obtain further repairs or supplies necessary for the continuation of the voyage. The amounts of fuel, lubricants, feed water, and provisions so received shall be deducted from the amounts otherwise allowed in ports, harbors, roadsteads, and waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, including the Canal Zone, during any time within a period of three months thereafter. No public vessel of a belligerent shall receive fuel or lubricants while within the territorial waters of the Canal Zone except under written authorization of the Canal Authorities, specifying the amount of fuel and lubricants which may be received. Moreover, the repair facilities and docks belonging to the United States and administered by the Canal Authorities shall not be used by a public vessel of a belligerent, except when necessary in case of actual distress, and then only upon the order of the Canal Authorities, and only to the degree necessary to render the vessel seaworthy. Any work authorized shall be done with the least possible delay.

7. In the Canal Zone, prizes shall be in all respects subject to the same rules as ships of war of the belligerents.

AND I do further declare and proclaim that, from and after the fifth day of September instant, the following additional provisions shall be effective in the Canal Zone:

1. No belligerent shall embark or disembark troops, munitions of war, or warlike materials in the Canal Zone, except when required by the Canal authorities, or in case of accidental hindrance of the transit. In such cases the Canal authorities shall be the judges of the necessity, and the transit shall be resumed with all dispatch.

2. No belligerent aircraft shall be navigated into, within, or through the air spaces above the territory or waters of the Canal Zone.

3. The enforcement of neutrality of the United States within the Canal Zone and administrative action in connection therewith shall be the responsibility of the Governor of the Panama Canal; and the military and naval forces stationed in the Canal Zone shall give him such assistance for this purpose as he may request; provided that, if an officer of the Army is designated to assume authority and jurisdiction over the operation of the Panama Canal as provided in Section 8 of Title 2 of the Canal Zone Code, such officer of the Army shall thereafter have such responsibility.

AND I do further declare and proclaim that the provisions of this proclamation and the provisions of the proclamation of the fifth day of September instant are in addition to the "Rules and Regulations for the Operation and Navigation of the Panama Canal and Approaches Thereto, including all Waters under its jurisdiction" prescribed by Executive Order No. 4314, of September 25, 1925, as amended.

This proclamation shall continue in full force and effect unless and until modified, revoked, or otherwise terminated pursuant to law.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this fifth day of September, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and [SEAL] thirty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fourth.

IMPOSING QUOTAS ON IMPORTS OF COTTON AND COTTON WASTE

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS pursuant to section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933 as amended by section 31 of the Act of August 24, 1935 (49 Stat. 750, 773), as amended by section 5 of the Act of February 29, 1936 (49 Stat. 1148, 1152), and as reenacted by section 1 of the Act of June 3, 1937 (50 Stat. 246), I caused the United States Tariff Commission to make an investigation to determine whether cotton or cotton waste was being imported into the United States under such conditions and in sufficient quantities as to render or tend to render ineffective or materially interfere with the program undertaken with respect to cotton under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, or to reduce substantially the amount of any product processed in the United States from cotton;

WHEREAS, in the course of the investigation, after due notice, a hearing was held, at which parties interested were given opportunity to be present, to produce evidence, and to be heard, and in addition to the hearing, the Commission made such investigation as it deemed necessary for a full disclosure and presentation of the facts; and

WHEREAS the Commission has made findings of fact and has transmitted to me a report of such findings and its recommendations based thereon, together with a transcript of the evidence submitted at the hearing, and has also transmitted a copy of such report to the Secretary of Agriculture:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby find, on the basis of such investigation and report, that cotton and cotton waste are being imported into the United States under such conditions and in sufficient quantities as to tend to render ineffective the program undertaken with respect to cotton under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended. Accordingly, I hereby proclaim that the total quantities of cotton and cotton waste originating in any of the countries named in the following tables which may be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in any year, commencing September 20, shall not exceed the quantities shown opposite each of said countries, which quantities I hereby find and declare shown by the investigation to be necessary to prescribe in order that the entry of cotton and cotton waste will not render or tend to render ineffective or materially interfere with the program undertaken with respect to cotton under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, or reduce substantially the amount of any product processed in the United States from cotton produced in the United States:

WHEREAS the treaties of the United States, in any war in which the United States is a neutral, impose on the United States certain obligations to both neutral and belligerent nations;

AND WHEREAS the treaties of the United States, in any war in which the United States is a neutral, require that the United States exert all the vigilance within their power to carry out their obligations as a neutral;

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

BUREAU OF ENTOMOLOGY AND PLANT QUARANTINE

[B.E.P.Q.—Q. 71]

MODIFICATION OF DUTCH ELM DISEASE QUARANTINE REGULATIONS

Introductory Note

This modification of the Dutch elm disease quarantine regulations brings under regulation for the first time area in Litchfield and New Haven Counties, Conn., Columbia and Ulster Counties, N. Y., and the entire county of Dutchess in New York. Extensions have been made to area formerly under regulation in one county in Connecticut, two in New York, and five in New Jersey, placing the entire counties of Hunterdon and Mercer, N. J., and Putnam, N. Y., within regulated area.

The embargo with reference to the interstate movement of elm material from the regulated areas is continued and restrictions have been added to limit the movement of such material from nonregulated area through regulated areas to the winter months and then only on a through bill of lading. This action is taken in order to control the movement of elm material during the annual flight period of the elm bark beetle.

The Dutch elm disease has been discovered in a number of townships in Bucks and Northampton Counties, Pa. The State has placed an embargo on the movement of elm material therefrom and Federal quarantine action is withheld, thereby continuing the embargo on the movement of sources of infection from heavily infected sections of New Jersey into Pennsylvania.

AVERY S. HOYT,
Acting Chief.

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, and a stipulation as to the facts entered into between the respondent herein and Richard P. Whiteley, Acting Chief Counsel for the Commission, which provides, among other things, that without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, the Commission may issue and serve upon the respondent herein findings as to the facts and conclusion based thereon and an order disposing of the proceeding, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that said respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

By the Commission.

Food and Drug Administration.

REPORT OF PRESIDING OFFICER, SUGGESTED FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS AND ORDER IN THE MATTER OF IDENTITY OF CANNED PEACHES

IN THE MATTER OF PUBLIC HEARINGS FOR PURPOSE OF RECEIVING EVIDENCE UPON BASIS OF WHICH REGULATIONS MAY BE PROMULGATED (A) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE DEFINITION AND STANDARD OF IDENTITY, (2) REQUIRING LABEL DECLARATION OF CERTAIN OPTIONAL INGREDIENTS; (B) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF QUALITY, (2) SPECIFYING FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD QUALITY; (C) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF FILL OF CONTAINER, (2) SPECIFYING FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD FILL OF CONTAINER; FOR EACH OF THE FOODS COMMONLY KNOWN AS CANNED PEACHES, CANNED APRICOTS, CANNED PEARS AND CANNED CHERRIES

General Statement

1. In conformity with subsection (e) of Section 701 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act [Section 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U.S.C. 371 (e)], the Secretary of Agriculture on his own initiative published on March 7, 1939, which appeared on page 1143 of the FEDERAL REGISTER, a notice of a public hearing to be held on April 10, 1939, in the South Ballroom, Tenth Floor, Raleigh Hotel, Twelfth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which, in pursuance of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the provisions of Sections 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2) [Secs. 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2), 52 Stat. 1046 and 1047; 21 U.S.C. 341, 343 (g), (2), and 343 (h), (1) and (2)], regulations may be promulgated (a) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity, and (2) requiring the label declaration of certain optional ingredients; (b) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of quality, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard quality; and (c) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of fill of container, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard fill of container; for each of the foods commonly known as canned peaches, canned apricots, canned pears, and canned cherries. The notice contained a proposal, in general terms, for defining and standardizing each of such foods. John McDill Fox was designated as presiding officer to conduct such hearing. Thereafter, a public hearing was held at the time and place specified, and John McDill Fox acted as presiding officer. (Government's Exhibit No. 1)

2. At said hearing the presiding officer announced that he would first hold a hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peaches.

3. In pursuance of such announcement, a hearing was held for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peaches, and continued the hearing with reference to the other proposals, to dates subsequently to be announced.

4. On April 10, 1939, at 10:00 a. m., the hearing on the definition and standard of identity proposal for canned peaches was convened and held on April 10, 11, and 12, and at 5:30 p. m., on April 12, 1939, was adjourned until May 1, 1939, and resumed on May 1, 1939, and concluded on May 2, 1939, at 11:50 a. m. All interested persons were notified, pursuant to the rules of procedure, of their opportunity to file proposed findings of fact and written argument.

5. Within the time announced at the hearing within which interested persons might file proposed findings of fact, written argument, or both, various interested persons filed proposed findings of fact, together with written argument in support thereof, based upon the evidence adduced at the hearing which, if granted, would modify the proposal contained in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

6. Pursuant to the rules of procedure, the presiding officer, therefore, makes this his report and suggests that the Secretary issue the regulation hereinafter set forth and make, on the basis of the substantial evidence of record at the hearing, the findings of fact herein contained as part of the order promulgating and making public such regulation.

Suggested Findings

1. Canned peaches are prepared from mature peaches. (R. pp. 31, 47, 93)

2. Such peaches are of one of the following varietal groups: yellow clingstone, yellow freestone, white clingstone, white freestone. (R. pp. 29, 30, 47, 48, 91, 93)

3. Peaches of different varietal groups are not canned together. (R. p. 30)

4. Peaches of each such varietal group are an optional peach ingredient. (R. pp. 35, 48, 91, 93)

5. The word "free" is used synonymously with the word "freestone", and the word "cling" is used synonymously with the word "clingstone" to designate the varietal group. (R. pp. 118, 119)

7. Such peaches, except in the case of whole peaches, are pitted. (R. pp. 31, 48, 92, 93)

8. Canned peaches contain a suitable liquid packing medium. (R. pp. 29, 35, 36, 92) It may be the natural juice of the peach obtained by precooking the peaches so that such juice exudes, or it may be an added liquid. (R. pp. 36, 48, 92)

9. Water is a suitable liquid packing medium. (R. pp. 36, 48, 92, 120, 121, 125, 135)

10. The natural juice of the peach is a suitable liquid packing medium. (R. pp. 48, 116, 128, 138, 139)

11. A water solution of sugar is a suitable liquid packing medium. (R. pp. 37, 38, 48, 53, 92, 156, 183, 214)

12. Sugar is defined in Webster's International Dictionary on page 2521 thereof (Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 4) as:

"1. A sweet crystallizable substance, colorless or white when pure, occurring in many plant juices, and forming an important article of human food—called specif. cane sugar, sucrose, and saccharose. The chief sources of sugar are the sugar cane and the sugar beet, the completely refined products of which are identical and form granulated sugar, loaf sugar, etc., of commerce. The cane juice, obtained by expression, is treated with lime to remove impurities, filtered, and evaporated to crystallization. The mother liquor, or molasses, is removed by draining or (now usually) by a centrifugal. The crude yellowish or brown sugar thus obtained is usually refined at central plants by redissolving, clarifying, decolorizing, and recrystalizing. In the case of beets the sugar is removed by extraction with water (diffusion) and carried to the refined state in one operation. Crude cane sugar is often sold as brown sugar, but crude beet sugar has an unpleasant flavor. Some sugar is also made from palm trees, maple trees, etc. Sugar forms fine monoclinic crystals melting at 186° C. (367° F.), which dissolve in about half their weight of water at ordinary temperature. Chemically, it is a disaccharide of the formula $C_{12}H_{22}O_{11}$, formed by union of one molecule of dextrose with one of levulose. It does not reduce Fehling solution and does not ferment directly, but is converted by diastase (or by heating with acids) into the fermentable mixture called invert sugar. It is dextrorotatory, a property which is used in estimating the strength of its solutions. Sugar is a food, and also serves as a condiment and preservative for other foods. See Food 1.

"2. By extension, any of a class of sweet, soluble compounds comprising the simpler carbohydrates. See Carbohydrate. The simple sugars, those not decomposable by hydrolysis, are called monosaccharides. Complex sugars are formed by the condensation of two, three, or four molecules of simple sugar and are called disaccharides, trisaccharides, and tetrasaccharides. For the structure and classification of simple sugar, see Monosaccharide. Among the important natural sugars are sucrose (See def. 1), or cane sugar, dextrose (d-glucose), or grape sugar, levulose (d-fructose), or fruit sugar, lactose, or milk sugar, and maltose, or malt sugar. Some of these, and also many others, have been made synthetically."

13. Prior to the hearing, a letter was addressed to the Secretary of Agriculture asking for a definition of the word "sugar" as used in the proposal, which letter was answered under the signature of the Secretary of Agriculture, which answer reads as follows and is Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 2:

"We have your letter of March 30 referring to proposals for food standards to be considered at public hearings on April 10, 1939. You inquire as to our interpretation of the words 'Water solution of sugar, of 25° Brix or more' and 'Water solution of sugar, of less than 25° Brix' as used in these proposals.

"The word 'sugar' as used therein refers to sugar as defined in the current advisory definition and standard of identity for sugar under the present Food and Drugs Act, which you will find on page 11 of the enclosed F.D. 2, definition 1, under 'A. Sugar and Sugar Products.' These are merely proposals. The final standards will be based on evidence adduced at the public hearing and any interested party is, of course, invited to submit proposals for other packing mediums."

14. In S.R.A., F.D. No. 2, Rev. 5 (Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 2), under "Sugars and Related Substances", the following appears:

"A. Sugar and sugar products.—1. Sugar. Sucrose (saccharose) obtained chiefly from sugarcane and sugar beets. Granulated, loaf, cut, milled, and powdered sugars are different forms of sugar, containing at least 99.5 percent of sucrose."

Under "B. Dextrose and Related Products", the following appears:

"1. Dextrose. The product chiefly made by the hydrolysis of starch or a starch-containing substance, followed by processes of refining and crystallization.[1]

"a. Anhydrous dextrose contains not less than 99.5 percent of dextrose and not more than 0.5 percent of moisture.

"b. Hydrated dextrose contains not less than 90 percent of dextrose and not more than 10 percent of moisture, including water of crystallization.

"[1] When derived from cornstarch, dextrose is known commercially as refined corn sugar."

15. Starch is a polysaccharide. Sucrose is a disaccharide. Dextrose and levulose are monosaccharides. (C.R. p. 32)

16. Polysaccharides such as starch have a higher caloric value per gram than the disaccharides such as sucrose, and the disaccharides have a higher caloric value per gram than the monosaccharides such as dextrose and levulose. (C.R. p. 32)

17. By the dictionary definition, the simple sugars, monosaccharides, are not decomposable by hydrolysis. (C.R., Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 4)

18. Sugar, as described in the Encyclopedia Britannica on page 523 (C.R., Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 5), applies to over 100 substances, having distinctive properties and scientific names; for example, sucrose, glucose, fructose, lactose, maltose, etc.

19. "As ordinarily understood, of course, by chemists, and physiologists, sugar is just one of the breakdown products of two other large nutritive ingredients, namely, ordinary starch from plants, and starch from animals. Now as they are digested or hydrolized, you get ultimately a double sugar, nutritively it is like cane sugar, or beet sugar, and then when they are inverted, further changed into the form that they are absorbed and actually utilized in the body, we have dextrose and levulose, so that beginning with starch you have the double sugars, maltose and fructose, and then you have the simple sugars, which is the ultimate product.

"There are other forms of sugars that can be utilized by various bacteria, but not by man." (Carlson, p. 159)

20. Crystalline dextrose manufacture was made commercially possible in 1923 by the granting of the Newkirk patents (October 23, 1923; September 16, 1924; January 6, 1925) on corn starch hydrolysis and the economical separation of high purity dextrose from the converter liquors. (Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 3)

21. Not until 1926 was chemically pure dextrose accepted by the United States Pharmocopoeia. (Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 3)

22. Not until 1930, when the Secretary of Agriculture ruled that refined dextrose (corn sugar) could be used in the manufacture of food products without label declaration, was the utilization of dextrose by canners, preservers, beverage manufacturers and allied food industries seriously considered. (Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 3)

23. In 1930, the Secretary of Agriculture ruled:

"Corn sugar (dextrose) when sold in packages must be labeled as such; when sold in bulk must be declared as such; but the use of pure refined corn sugar as an ingredient in the packing, preparation, or processing of any article of food in which sugar is a recognized element need not be declared upon the label of any such product.

"Nothing in this ruling shall be construed to permit the adulteration or imitation of any natural product such as honey by the addition of any sugar or other ingredient whatever.

"The term 'sugar', with or without the parenthetical expression 'sucrose', as used in the definitions to designate the sweetening agent in manufactured food products, is to be interpreted, wherever necessary to effect the purpose of the foregoing decision, as including dextrose (pure, refined corn sugar)."

24. The great bulk of consumers regard "sugar" as the common or usual name of sucrose, i. e., cane or beet sugar. (R. pp. 53, 132, 177, 350, 360, 397, 404, 416, 424, 442, 453, 461, 465, 472)

25. Within the past 3½ years, refined corn sugar (dextrose) has been used in the canning of peaches. (R. p. 275)

26. Prior to that time, cane or beet sugar (sucrose) was the only sugar used in the canning of peaches. (R. pp. 199–200, 275–276, 369, 400, 422, 442, 472); (Other Interested Parties' Exhibits Nos. 3 and 8)

27. The simple sugar, dextrose, is now obtainable by hydrolysis from corn starch; is called "refined corn sugar"; and is now used in combination with cane or beet sugar (sucrose) in a water solution as a liquid packing medium for canned peaches. (R. pp. 199–200, 258, 275); (Other Interested Parties' Exhibits Nos. 3 and 4)

28. Refined corn sugar (dextrose) and cane or beet sugar (sucrose) differ in sweetness, in food value, in manner of absorption, in solubility, and their solutions differ in viscosity, in osmotic pressure, and in boiling temperature. (R. pp. 66–67, 174–175, 177, 257, 260–261, 265, 333–345, 347, 370–371, 398, 427, 499–500, 513–517); (C. R. pp. 21, 22, 52, 53, 54, 55, 57); (Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 3) A water solution of refined corn sugar (dextrose) as the liquid packing medium cannot be used alone in the canning of peaches. The maximum amount of refined corn sugar (dextrose) which has been so used for commercial purposes, in combination with cane or beet sugar (sucrose), is 33⅓% refined corn sugar (dextrose) and 66⅔% cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose). (R. pp. 199–200, 258, 275) Refined corn sugar (dextrose) is not as sweet as cane or beet sugar (sucrose), being generally regarded as from 50% to 75% as sweet as cane or beet sugar (sucrose). (R. pp. 66–67, 174–175, 217, 260–261, 499–500, 513–517) Consumers are accustomed to guage sweetness according to that of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) (R. p. 218).

29. Refined corn sugar (dextrose) sells on the open market at a cheaper price than cane or beet sugar (sucrose). (R. pp. 189, 239)

30. Another sugar, refined corn sugar (dextrose), is now used in the canning of peaches as well as cane sugar and beet sugar (sucrose), and it will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers to differentiate between the kinds of sugars used in preparing the liquid packing medium of canned peaches. (R. pp. 66–67, 398, 406, 424, 427, 437, 471, 492)

31. A label statement of the origin of such sugars used in preparing such liquid packing medium will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer. (R. pp. 424, 492)

32. The use of the qualifying words "cane sugar", "beet sugar", followed by their chemical name "sucrose", and "refined corn sugar", followed by its chemical name "dextrose", will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer. (R. pp. 41, 42, 57, 58, 71, 100, 102, 120, 121, 132, 163, 229, 239, 404, 425, 450, 453); (C.R. pp. 67–69)

33. A water solution of sugar is used not only as a liquid packing medium but also as a sweetening agent. (R. pp. 72, 163, 172, 174, 175, 231, 256)

34. Such sweetening agent is called sirup (R. pp. 71, 120).

35. There are four water solutions of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose) known as sirups to consumers and used in the industry, to-wit: light, medium, heavy, and extra heavy. (R. pp. 120, 121, 126, 131, 229, 297, 425) It is a customary trade and consumer practice so to distinguish them. (R. pp. 41, 61, 131, 229, 424) Such sirups are measured and distinguished by their specific gravity as determined by the Brix hydrometer. The Brix hydrometer is a reliable instrument for testing specific gravity of liquid solutions and is in general use. (R. pp. 40, 136) A water solution of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose) which does not show a reading of 10° on the Brix hydrometer does not sweeten the finished canned peaches sufficiently to be known as a sirup for this food. (R. pp. 132, 135)

36. When such sirups are prepared from cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose), they have, respectively, the following readings on the Brix hydrometer: not less than 10° but less than 25°, not less than 25° but less than 40°, not less than 40° but less than 55°, and not less than 55°, but when such sirups of equivalent sweetness are prepared from a mixture of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose), they do not have the above readings on the Brix hydrometer because of the difference in sweetness between refined corn sugar (dextrose) and cane or beet sugar (sucrose). However, the Brix reading of a sucrose sirup equivalent in sweetness to that of any such mixture is obtained by adding the percent by weight of cane or beet sugar (sucrose), or both, in such mixture to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such solution. Such calculated Brix readings (sucrose equivalents) are identical with the limits above set forth. (R. pp. 61, 71, 120, 121, 131, 132, 136, 138, 229)

37. Due to the fact that in canned peaches which have been prepared with a liquid packing medium consisting of a water solution of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose), there will be present in addition to sucrose, due to inversion, levulose and dextrose and that in canned peaches which have been prepared with a liquid packing medium consisting of a water solution of a mixture of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose), there will likewise be present sucrose, and due to inversion, levulose and dextrose, the consumer would have no way of telling, from an examination of the finished canned peaches, the optional sugar ingredient used. It will, therefore, promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer to require a label statement of the optional sugar ingredient used in the preparation of the liquid packing medium. (R. p. 492)

38. The common or usual names of such sirups are light sirup, medium sirup, heavy sirup, and extra heavy sirup, qualified by the name of the kind or kinds of sugar used to make such sirups. (R. pp. 41, 42, 57, 58, 71, 100, 102, 120, 121, 132, 163, 229, 239, 404, 425, 450, 458); (C.R. pp. 67–69)

39. Canned peaches may or may not be seasoned. (R. pp. 29, 44, 45, 48, 93)

40. Spice is a suitable seasoning agent. (R. pp. 44, 48, 92)

42. A vinegar is a suitable seasoning agent. (R. pp. 44, 48, 92)

43. Peach kernels are a suitable seasoning agent, except in the case of whole peaches. (R. pp. 44, 48, 62, 92, 123, 128, 129)

44. Peach pits, in limited amounts, are a suitable seasoning agent. (R. pp. 44, 48, 92), except in the case of whole peaches. (R. p. 44) The number of pits suitable for such purpose is limited to not more than one to each eight ounces of finished canned peaches. (R. pp. 45, 143, 144, 407, 408, 411, 416, 417, 422, 437, 441, 466, 467, 487, 488)

45. Such seasoning agents are used singly or in combination, except that peach pits and peach kernels are not used in combination. (R. pp. 45, 92)

46. It is essential that canned peaches be sealed in a container. (R. pp. 46, 48)

47. It is essential to so process canned peaches by heat as to prevent spoilage. (R. p. 46)

48. Honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer requires that the optional peach ingredient, the optional liquid packing medium, and the optional seasoning ingredients be declared on the label. (R. pp. 46, 47, 48, 103, 104, 140; 191, 201, 210, 220, 238, 239, 259, 337, 338, 339, 349, 350, 351, 360, 367, 369, 370, 371, 398, 399, 401, 406, 415, 417, 419, 420, 421, 422, 424, 427, 433, 436, 437, 438, 442, 471, 484, 485, 492); (C. R. p. 59); (Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 8a)

49. The common or usual names of the several varietal groups of peaches are yellow clingstone or yellow cling, yellow freestone or yellow free, white clingstone or white cling, and white freestone or white free. (R. pp. 31, 59, 60, 73, 80, 81, 100, 102, 107, 118, 119, 449, 457, 470)

50. The common or usual name of peeled canned peaches is the name of the varietal group and form of unit, without qualifying words, except that "slices" and "sliced" are synonymous and "dice" and "diced" are synonymous. (R. pp. 35, 100, 102)

51. The common or usual name of unpeeled canned peaches is the name of the varietal group and the name of the form of unit, qualified by the term "unpeeled." (R. pp. 115, 127)

52. The common or usual name of water is water. (R. pp. 41, 121)

53. The common or usual name of the natural juice of the peach is peach juice. (R. pp. 48, 116, 128, 138, 139)

54. The common or usual name of sucrose is sugar; and the common or usual name of dextrose is refined corn sugar (dextrose). (R. pp. 53, 61, 177, 215, 351, 367, 372, 373, 397, 398, 404, 416, 424, 461, 465, 510); (C.R. pp. 48, 49, 70); (Other Interested Parties' Exhibits Nos. 4, 5, and 8a)

55. The common or usual name of spice used as a seasoning is spice. (R. pp. 46, 101, 102, 125)

56. The common or usual name of flavoring used as a seasoning is flavoring. (R. pp. 46, 101, 102)

57. The common or usual name of a vinegar used as a seasoning is vinegar. (R. pp. 46, 101, 102)

58. The common or usual name of peach pit kernels used as a seasoning is peach kernels. (R. pp. 46, 103, 123)

59. The common or usual name of peach pits used as a seasoning is peach pits. (R. pp. 46, 101, 102, 123, 415)

60. Honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer requires that when spices, flavoring, vinegar, peach pits, or peach kernels are used that the label bear the words "Spiced" or "With Added Spice" or "Spice Added", "With Added Flavoring" or "Flavoring Added", "With Added Vinegar" or "Vinegar Added", "Seasoned with Peach Pits", or "Seasoned with Peach Kernels", as the case may be; but if two or more of such optional ingredients are present, such words may be combined as, for example, "With Added Spice, Flavoring and Vinegar". In lieu of the words "Spice" or "Spiced" and "Flavoring", the common or usual name of the spice or flavoring may be used. (R. pp. 46, 47, 48, 103, 104, 140, 191, 201, 210, 220, 238, 239, 259, 337, 338, 339, 349, 350, 351, 360, 367, 369, 370, 371, 398, 399, 401, 406, 415, 417, 419, 420, 421, 422, 424, 427, 433, 436, 437, 438, 442, 471, 484, 485, 492); (C.R. p. 59); (Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 8a)

61. Honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer requires that wherever the name "peaches" appears on the label so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase, the names of the optional ingredients present shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow such name, without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter, except that the specific varietal name of the peaches may so intervene. (R. p. 47)

Suggested Conclusion in the Form of a Regulation

Upon the basis of the foregoing findings of fact, the following reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peaches is hereby suggested to be promulgated as a regulation:

§ 27.000 Canned peaches—Identity; label statement of optional ingredients. (a) Canned peaches are the food prepared from mature peaches of one of the following varietal groups: yellow clingstone, yellow freestone, white clingstone, white freestone. Such peaches, except in the case of whole peaches, are pitted and are in one of the following forms of units: peeled whole; unpeeled whole; peeled halves; unpeeled halves; peeled quarters; peeled slices; peeled dice; peeled mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. Peaches of each such varietal group in each such form of units are an optional peach ingredient. To one such ingredient is added one of the optional ingredients:

(33) A water solution of cane sugar (sucrose), of not less than 10° Brix but less than 25° Brix;

(34) A water solution of beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 10° Brix but less than 25° Brix;

(35) A water solution of cane and beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 10° Brix but less than 25° Brix;

(36) A water solution of cane sugar (sucrose), of not less than 25° Brix but less than 40° Brix;

(37) A water solution of beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 25° Brix but less than 40° Brix;

(42) A water solution of cane sugar (sucrose), of not less than 55° Brix;

(43) A water solution of beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 55° Brix;

(44) A water solution of cane and beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 55° Brix;

(45) A water solution of cane sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a cane sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 10° but less than 25° Brix. Such cane sugar (sucrose) equivalent is calculated by adding the percent by weight of cane sugar (sucrose) in such solution to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such solution;

(46) A water solution of beet sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a beet sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 10° but less than 25° Brix. Whenever the President shall have issued a proclamation under the authority of section 1 of this Act it shall thereafter be unlawful for any citizen of the United States to travel on any vessel of the state or states named in such proclamation, except in accordance with such rules and regulations as the President shall prescribe: Provided, however, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to a citizen of the United States traveling on a vessel whose voyage was begun in advance of the date of the President's proclamation, and who had no opportunity to discontinue his voyage after that date: And provided further, That they shall not apply under ninety days after the date of the President's proclamation to a citizen of the United States returning from a foreign state to the United States. Whenever, in the President's judgment, the conditions which have caused him to issue his proclamation have ceased to exist, he shall revoke his proclamation and the provisions of this section shall thereupon cease to apply with respect to the state or states named in such proclamation, except with respect to offenses committed prior to such revocation.

Section 12 of the said joint resolution provides as follows:

In every case of the violation of any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule or regulation issued pursuant thereto where a specific penalty is not herein provided, such violator or violators, upon conviction, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

Section 11 of the said joint resolution provides as follows:

The President may, from time to time, promulgate such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as may be necessary and proper to carry out any of the provisions of this Act; and he may exercise any power or authority conferred on him by this Act through such officer or officers, or agency or agencies, as he shall direct.

* * * * * *

(c) Whoever shall violate the provisions of this section or of any regulations issued hereunder shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $50,000 or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both. Should the violation be by a corporation, organization, or association, each officer or agent thereof participating in the violation may be liable to the penalty herein prescribed.

On September 5, 1939, the President issued a proclamation in respect to France; Germany; Poland; and the United Kingdom, India, Australia, and New Zealand, under the authority of section 1 of the said joint resolution, thereby making effective in respect to those countries the provisions of section 3 of the said joint resolution quoted above.

Section 11 of the said joint resolution provides as follows:

SEC. 11. The President may, from time to time, promulgate such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as may be necessary and proper to carry out any of the provisions of this Act; and he may exercise any power or authority conferred on him by this Act through such officer or officers, or agency or agencies, as he shall direct.

The President's proclamation of September 5, 1939, referred to above, issued pursuant to the provisions of section 1 of the above-mentioned joint resolution provides in part as follows:

"And I do hereby delegate to the Secretary of State the power to exercise any power or authority conferred on me by the said joint resolution, as made effective by this my proclamation issued thereunder, and the power to promulgate such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary and proper to carry out any of its provisions."

In pursuance of those provisions of the law and of the President's proclamation of September 5, 1939, which are referred to above, the Secretary of State promulgates the following regulations:

(1) The term "person" as used herein and in the Act of May 1, 1937, includes a partnership, company, association, organization or corporation as well as a natural person.

(2) Any person within the United States, its territories, insular possessions (including the Philippine Islands), the Canal Zone, and the District of Columbia who desires to engage in the solicitation or collection of contributions to be used for medical aid and assistance in France; Germany; Poland; or the United Kingdom, India, Australia and New Zealand, or for food and clothing to relieve human suffering in any of those countries, and who is not acting for or on behalf of the governments of France; Germany; Poland; or the United Kingdom, India, Australia and New Zealand, or any political subdivision of any of such countries, shall register with the Secretary of State. To this end, such person shall make application to the Secretary of State upon the form provided therefor.

(3) Organizations or associations having chapters shall list them in their application for registration and shall set forth therein the addresses of such chapters. In case chapters are formed after the registration of the parent organization, the parent should immediately inform the Secretary of State in order that its registration may be amended to name the new chapter or chapters.

(4) No person shall solicit or collect contributions without having in his possession a notice from the Secretary of State of acceptance of registration which has not been revoked; Provided, however, That nothing in this regulation shall be construed as requiring a duly authorized agent of a registrant to have in his possession a notice of acceptance of registration. Chapters named in the parent organization's registration may, of course, operate under this registration. Notices of acceptance of registration shall not be exhibited, used, or referred to, in any manner which might be construed as implying official endorsement of the persons engaged in the solicitation or collection of contributions.

(5) All persons registered with the Secretary of State must maintain for his inspection or that of his duly authorized agent, complete records of all transactions in which the registrant engages.

(6) Persons receiving notification of acceptance of registration shall submit to the Secretary of State not later than the tenth day of every month following the receipt of such notification sworn statements, in duplicate, on the form provided therefor setting forth fully the information called for therein.

(7) The Secretary of State reserves the right to reject applications or to revoke registrations for failure on the part of the registrant to comply with the provisions or purposes of the law or of these regulations.

(8) A registrant may act as an agent for the transmittal abroad of funds received by another registrant but such funds shall not be accountable as contributions received by the transmitting registrant.

(9) Any changes in the facts set forth in the registrant's application for registration, such as change of address, of officers, or of means of distribution abroad, should be reported promptly to the Secretary of State in the form of a supplemental application, in duplicate, properly sworn to.

(10) In view of the purposes and special status of "The American National Red Cross" as set forth in the Act of Congress approved January 5, 1905, entitled "An Act to incorporate the American National Red Cross" (33 Stat. 599), and particularly in view of the fact that it is required by law to submit to the Secretary of War for audit "a full, complete, and itemized report of receipts and expenditures of whatever kind", so that the submission to the Secretary of State of reports of funds received and expended would constitute an unnecessary duplication, "The American National Red Cross" is not required to conform to the provisions of these regulations.

(2) Immediately preceding article 9 [section 401.9, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] the following is inserted:

SECTION 905 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939

(a) No service performed at any time during the calendar year 1939 by any individual shall, by reason of the individual having attained the age of sixty-five, be excepted from employment as defined in section 1426 (b) of subchapter A of chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code. Paragraph (4) of such section (which excepts such service from employment) is repealed as of the effective date thereof, and paragraph (4) of section 811 (b) of the Social Security Act is repealed as of January 1, 1939. The tax on employees imposed by section 1400 of such subchapter and the tax on employers imposed by section 1410 of such subchapter, and the provisions of law applicable to such taxes, shall apply with respect to remuneration paid after December 31, 1938, for service which, by reason of the enactment of this section, constitutes employment as so defined.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no employer shall be liable for the tax on any employee, imposed by section 1400 of such subchapter (unless the employer collects such tax from the employee), with respect to service performed before the date of enactment of this Act which constitutes employment by reason of the enactment of this section, except to the extent that the employer has under his control at any time on or after the ninetieth day after such date amounts of remuneration earned at any time by the employee.

(3) Article 9 [section 401.9, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 9. Employees who have attained age 65. Services performed prior to January 1, 1939, by an individual after he has attained the age of 65 years are excepted. The employer has the burden of establishing to the satisfaction of the Commissioner the age of any employee whose services are claimed to be excepted by reason of his having attained the age of 65. All services performed prior to January 1, 1939, by an individual on and after the day preceding the sixty-fifth anniversary of his birth are within this exception. Services performed on and after January 1, 1939, by an individual after he has attained the age of 65 are not excepted by reason of his attainment of such age. Such services of an employee, unless otherwise excepted from employment (e. g., agricultural labor), constitute employment, and the employees' tax and the employers' tax apply with respect to wages therefor paid after December 31, 1938."

(4) Immediately after article 204 [section 401.204, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] the following new article is inserted:

"ART. 204½ [Sec. 401.204½, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] Collection of, and liability for, employees' tax with respect to service performed by an employee after he attains age 65. Under the provisions of section 905 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939, enacted August 10, 1939, service performed on and after January 1, 1939, by an employee after his attainment of the age of 65 is not excepted from employment by reason of the age of the employee. The employer shall collect the employees' tax with respect to such service as follows:

"(a) With respect to wages paid to the employee for service performed on and after August 10, 1939, by deducting the amount of such tax from his wages as and when paid.

"(b) With respect to wages paid to the employee for service performed prior to August 10, 1939, by deducting the amount of the tax from such of his remuneration (whether or not such remuneration constitutes wages) as is under the control of the employer on or after such date, in addition to the employees' tax, if any, with respect to such remuneration.

"Until collected from him the employee is liable for the employees' tax with respect to wages received by him for such service. The employer is liable for all employees' tax collected by him with respect to such service. The employer is liable for the employees' tax with respect to such service performed on and after August 10, 1939, whether or not collected from the employee. Notwithstanding any other provision of these regulations, the employer is liable for the employees' tax not collected from the employee with respect to such service performed prior to August 10, 1939, only to the extent that the employer has under his control at any time on or after November 8, 1939, amounts of remuneration earned at any time by the employee. Except as provided in the preceding sentence, this article shall not be deemed to limit the application of article 204 [section 401.204, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] (relating, generally, to collection of, and liability for, employees' tax), to the employees' tax with respect to such service. (See article 9, as amended [section 401.9, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], relating to the exception of service performed prior to January 1, 1939, by an individual after he attains the age of 65.)"

(5) Immediately after article 304 [section 401.304, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] the following new article is inserted:

"ART. 304½ [Sec. 401.304½, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] Liability for employers' tax with respect to service performed by an employee after he attains age 65. Under the provisions of section 905 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939, enacted August 10, 1939, service performed on and after January 1, 1939, by an employee after his attainment of the age of 65 is not excepted from employment by reason of the age of the employee. The employer is liable for the employers' tax with respect to wages paid for such service, including wages paid prior to August 10, 1939. (See article 9, as amended [section 401.9, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], relating to the exception of service performed prior to January 1, 1939, by an individual after he attains the age of 65.)"

(6) Immediately after article 402½ [section 401.402½, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], added by Treasury Decision 4786, approved December 29, 1937, the following new article is inserted:

"ART. 402¾ [Sec. 401.402¾, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] Manner of reporting taxable wages for service performed by an employee after he attains age 65. Under the provisions of section 905 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939, service performed on and after January 1, 1939, by an employee after his attainment of the age of 65 is not excepted from employment by reason of the age of the employee. Taxable wages with respect to such service shall be reported in returns as provided in article 402½ [section 401.402½, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] (relating, generally, to the manner of reporting taxable wages); except that taxable wages with respect to such service, actually or constructively paid on or before June 30, 1939, shall be reported in the return for the quarter ending on September 30, 1939, together with taxable wages actually or constructively paid in such quarter."

(7) Article 410 [section 401.410, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 410. Payment of tax. The employees' tax and the employers' tax required to be reported on each return on Form SS–1 or SS–1a are due and payable to the collector, without assessment by the Commissioner or notice by the collector, at the time fixed for filing such return. With respect to wages paid on or before June 30, 1939 (as well as wages paid during the quarter ending September 30, 1939), for services rendered on or after January 1, 1939, by an individual after his attainment of the age of 65, the employees' tax and the employers' tax are due and payable to the collector, without assessment or notice, at the time fixed for filing the return on Form SS–1a for the quarter epding September 30, 1939. For provisions relating to interest and penalties see articles 602, 603, and 604 [sections 401.602, 401.603, and 401.604, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations]."

(This Treasury Decision is issued under the authority contained in sections 1420 and 1429 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat., Part 1); and interprets section 905 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 (Public, No. 379, 76th Cong., 1st sess.), sections 1400, 1401 (a) and (b), 1410, and 2702 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat., Part 1), and sections 1400, 1410, and 1426 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by such Social Security Act Amendments of 1939.)

Section 3 of the joint resolution of Congress approved May 1, 1937, reads in part as follows:

"SEC. 3. (a) Whenever the President shall have issued a proclamation under the authority of section 1 of this Act, it shall thereafter be unlawful for any person within the United States to purchase, sell, or exchange bonds, securities, or other obligations of the government of any belligerent state or of any state wherein civil strife exists, named in such proclamation, or of any political subdivision of any such state, or of any person acting for or on behalf of the government of any such state, or of any faction or asserted government within any such state wherein civil strife exists, or of any person acting for or on behalf of any faction or asserted government within any such state wherein civil strife exists, issued after the date of such proclamation, or to make any loan or extend any credit to any such government, political subdivision, faction, asserted government, or person, or to solicit or receive any contribution for any such government, political subdivision, faction, asserted government, or person: Provided, That if the President shall find that such action will serve to protect the commercial or other interests of the United States or its citizens, he may, in his discretion, and to such extent and under such regulations as he may prescribe, except from the operation of this section ordinary commercial credits and short-time obligations in aid of legal transactions and of a character customarily used in normal peacetime commercial transactions. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prohibit the solicitation or collection of funds to be used for medical aid and assistance, or for food and clothing to relieve human suffering, when such solicitation or collection of funds is made on behalf of and for use by any person or organization which is not acting for or on behalf of any such government, political subdivision, faction, or asserted government, but all such solicitations and collections of funds shall be subject to the approval of the President and shall be made under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe.

"(b) The provisions of this section shall not apply to a renewal or adjustment of such indebtedness as may exist on the date of the President's proclamation.

"(c) Whoever shall violate the provisions of this section or of any regulations issued hereunder shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $50,000 or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both. Should the violation be by a corporation, organization, or association, each officer or agent thereof participating in the violation may be liable to the penalty herein prescribed."

I hereby find that it will serve to protect the commercial and other interests of the United States and its citizens to except from the operation of Section 3 of the joint resolution of Congress approved May 1, 1937, as made applicable to Germany and France, Poland, and the United Kingdom, India, Australia and New Zealand by the Proclamation of the President of September 5, 1939[1] issued under the authority of Section 1 of such joint resolution, ordinary commercial credits and short-time obligations in aid of legal transactions and of a character customarily used in normal peacetime commercial transactions; and they are therefore hereby excepted.

I hereby authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to administer the provisions of this regulation and to promulgate such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary and proper to carry out such provisions.

II

The functions and duties of the divisions of the Executive Office of the President are hereby defined as follows:

These Administrative Assistants shall be personal aides to the President and shall have no authority over anyone in any department or agency, including the Executive Office of the President, other than the personnel assigned to their immediate offices. In no event shall the Administrative Assistants be interposed between the President and the head of any department or agency, or between the President and any one of the divisions in the Executive Office of the President.

2. The Bureau of the Budget. (a) To assist the President in the preparation of the Budget and the formulation of the fiscal program of the Government.

(b) To supervise and control the administration of the Budget.

(c) To conduct research in the development of improved plans of administrative management, and to advise the executive departments and agencies of the Government with respect to improved administrative organization and practice.

(d) To aid the President to bring about more efficient and economical conduct of Government service.

(e) To assist the President by clearing and coordinating departmental advice on proposed legislation and by making recommendations as to Presidential action on legislative enactments, in accordance with past practice.

(h) To keep the President informed of the progress of activities by agencies of the Government with respect to work proposed, work actually initiated, and work completed, together with the relative timing of work between the several agencies of the Government; all to the end that the work programs of the several agencies of the Executive branch of the Government may be coordinated and that the monies appropriated by the Congress may be expended in the most economical manner possible with the least possible overlapping and duplication of effort.

3. The National Resources Planning Board. (a) To survey, collect data on, and analyze problems pertaining to national resources, both natural and human, and to recommend to the President and the Congress long-time plans and programs for the wise use and fullest development of such resources.

(b) To consult with Federal, regional, state, local, and private agencies in developing orderly programs of public works and to list for the President and the Congress all proposed public works in the order of their relative importance with respect to (1) the greatest good to the greatest number of people, (2) the emergency necessities of the Nation, and (3) the social, economic, and cultural advancement of the people of the United States.

(c) To inform the President of the general trend of economic conditions and to recommend measures leading to their improvement of stabilization.

(d) To act as a clearing house and means of coordination for planning activities, linking together various levels and fields of planning.

The functions of this office shall be:

(a) To assist the President in the better execution of the duties imposed upon him by the Provisions of the Constitution and the laws with respect to personnel management, especially the Civil Service Act of 1883, as amended, and the rules promulgated by the President under authority of that Act.

5. The Office of Government Reports. (a) To provide a central clearing house through which individual citizens, organizations of citizens, state or local governmental bodies, and, where appropriate, agencies of the Federal Government, may transmit inquiries and complaints and receive advice and information.

(b) To assist the President in dealing with special problems requiring the clearance of information between the Federal Government and state and local governments and private institutions.

(c) To collect and distribute information concerning the purposes and activities of executive departments and agencies for the use of the Congress, administrative officials, and the public.

(d) To keep the President currently informed of the opinions, desires, and complaints of citizens and groups of citizens and of state and local governments with respect to the work of Federal agencies.

(e) To report to the President on the basis of the information it has obtained possible ways and means for reducing the cost of the operation of the Government.

III

The Bureau of the Budget, the National Resources Planning Board, and the Liaison Office for Personnel Management shall constitute the three principal management arms of the Government for the (1) preparation and administration of the Budget and improvement of administrative management and organization, (2) planning for conservation and utilization of the resources of the Nation, and (3) coordination of the administration of personnel, none of which belongs in any department but which are necessary for the over-all management of the Executive branch of the Government, so that the President will be enabled the better to carry out his Constitutional duties of informing the Congress with respect to the state of the Union, of recommending appropriate and expedient measures, and of seeing that the laws are faithfully executed.

IV

To facilitate the orderly transaction of business within each of the five divisions herein defined and to clarify the relations of these divisions with each other and with the President, I direct that the Bureau of the Budget, the National Resources Planning Board, the Liaison Office for Personnel Management, and the Office of Government Reports shall respectively prepare regulations for the governance of their internal organizations and procedures. Such regulations shall be in effect when approved by the President and shall remain in force until changed by new regulations approved by him. The President will prescribe regulations governing the conduct of the business of the division of The White House Office.

V

The Director of the Bureau of the Budget shall prepare a consolidated budget for the Executive Office of the President for submission by the President to the Congress. Annually, pursuant to the regular request issued by the Bureau of the Budget, each division of the Executive Office of the President shall prepare and submit to the Bureau estimates of proposed appropriations for the succeeding fiscal year. The form of the estimates and the manner of their consideration for incorporation in the Budget shall be the same as prescribed for other Executive departments and agencies.

The Bureau of the Budget shall likewise perform with respect to the several divisions of the Executive Office of the President such functions and duties relating to supplemental estimates, apportionments, and budget administration as are exercised by it for other agencies of the Federal Government.

VI

Space already has been assigned in the State, War and Navy Building, adjacent to The White House, sufficient to accommodate the Bureau of the Budget with its various divisions (including the Central Statistical Board), the central office of the National Resources Planning Board, the Liaison Office for Personnel Management, and the Administrative Assistants to the President, and although for the time being, a considerable portion of the work of the National Resources Planning Board and all of that of the Office of Government Reports will have to be conducted in other quarters, if and when the Congress makes provision for the housing of the Department of State in a building appropriate to its function and dignity and provision is made for the other agencies now accommodated in the State, War and Navy Building, it then will be possible to bring into this building, close to The White House, all of the personnel of the Executive Office of the President except The White House Office.

This Order shall take effect on September 11th 1939.

§ 701.101 Allotments, yields, productivity indexes, payments, and deductions[1]—(a) Corn—(1) National Goal. The 1940 national goal for corn is _____ to _____ acres.

(2) National and State acreage allotments. The national and State corn acreage allotments will be established by the Secretary.

(3) County acreage allotments. County acreage allotments of corn for counties in the commercial corn area shall be established by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration with the assistance of the State committee by distributing the corn acreage allotment established for the commercial corn area within the State among such counties in such State pro rata on the basis of the acreage seeded for the production of corn plus the acreage diverted from corn under the agricultural adjustment and conservation programs in such counties during the ten years 1929 to 1938, with adjustments for abnormal weather conditions and trends in acreage in accordance with a procedure approved by the Secretary.

(4) Farm acreage allotments. Acreage allotments of corn shall be determined by the county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, for farms in the commercial corn area on the basis of tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil, and topography. The allotment for any farm shall compare with the allotments for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors. For any farm with respect to which a corn acreage allotment of ten acres or less is determined, if the persons having an interest in the corn planted on the farm so elect, such farm shall be considered as a non-corn-allotment farm. The corn acreage allotments determined for the farms in a county shall not exceed the county corn acreage allotment.

(5) Normal yields. The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, shall determine for each farm for which a corn acreage allotment is determined or a deduction is computed a normal yield for corn in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Adminstration and the following provisions:

(i) Where reliable records of the actual average yields per acre of corn for the ten years 1930 to 1939 are presented by the farmer or are available to the committee, the normal yield for the farm shall be the average of such yields adjusted for trends and abnormal weather conditions;

(ii) If for any year of such ten-year period reliable records of the actual average yield are not available or there was no actual yield because corn was not planted on the farm in such year, the normal yield for the farm shall be the yield which, on the basis of all available facts, including the yield customarily made on the farm, weather conditions, type of soil, drainage, production practices, and general fertility of the land, the county committee determines to be the yield which was or could reasonably have been expected on the farm for such ten-year period; and

(iii) The yields determined under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph (5) shall be adjusted so that the average of the normal yields for all farms in the county (weighted by the respective corn acreage allotments determined for such farms) shall not exceed the county yield established by the Secretary.

(6) Commercial corn area or commercial corn-producing area means counties in the States of Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Kansas designated by the Administrator with the approval of the Secretary.

(7) Non-corn-allotment farm means a farm in the commercial corn area (a) for which no corn acreage allotment is determined, or (b) for which a corn acreage allotment of ten acres or less is determined and the persons having an interest in the corn planted on the farm elect to have such farm considered as a non-corn-allotment farm for the purposes of the 1940 program.

(8) Acreage planted to corn means the acreage of land seeded to field corn, sweet corn, or popcorn, except (1) any acreage of sweet corn contracted to be sold for canning, (2) any acreage of sweet corn sold or to be sold for canning or roasting ears, (3) any acreage of sweet corn sold or used or to be sold or used as seed, (4) any acreage of popcorn sold or used or to be sold or used as seed, (5) any acreage of sown corn used as a cover crop or green manure crop, and (6) any acreage of sweet corn or popcorn in home gardens for use on the farm.

(9) Usual acreage of corn for grain. Usual acreages of corn for grain shall be determined for all farms in Area C for which a payment is computed with respect to a potato, tobacco, or wheat acreage allotment and on which the usual acreage of corn for grain is more than 10 acres. The usual acreage of corn for grain shall be determined on the basis of the average annual acreage of corn harvested for grain or diverted therefrom during the years 1937, 1938, and 1939, with appropriate adjustments for crop rotation practices. The sum of the usual acreages of corn for grain determined for such farms in a county shall not exceed the sum of the average annual acreages of corn harvested for grain or diverted therefrom on such farms during the years 1937, 1938, and 1939.

(11) Deduction: (i) (Farms in the commercial corn area, except non-corn-allotment farms) ------ cents per bushel of the normal yield for the farm for each acre planted to corn in excess of the corn acreage allotment.

(ii) (Non-corn-allotment farms in the commercial corn area) ------ cents per bushel of the normal yield for the farm for each acre planted to corn in excess of 10 acres.

(b) Cotton—(1) National goal. The 1940 national goal for cotton is -------- to -------- acres.

(2) National and State acreage allotments. The national and State cotton acreage allotments will be established by the Secretary.

(3) County acreage allotments. (i) County cotton acreage allotments shall be determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as follows: The State acreage allotment of cotton (less 2 percent for use in making allotments to farms on which cotton will be planted in 1940 but on which cotton was not planted in any of the years 1937, 1938, and 1939) shall be prorated among the counties in the State on the basis of the acreage planted to cotton plus the acreage diverted from cotton under agricultural adjustment or conservation programs during the five years 1934 to 1938: Provided, That there shall be added to the acreage allotment so determined for each county the number of acres required to provide an acreage allotment in such county of not less than 60 percent of the acreage planted to cotton in such county in 1937 plus 60 percent of the acreage diverted from cotton in the county under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program (hereinafter referred to as the 1937 program).

(ii) If the Agricultural Adjustment Administration finds that, because of differences in types, kinds, and productivity of the soil or other conditions, one or more of the administrative areas in any county should be treated separately in order to prevent discrimination, the county acreage allotment shall be apportioned pro rata among such administrative areas on the basis of the acreage planted to cotton in 1937 plus the acreage diverted from cotton under the 1937 program, or, if the Agricultural Adjustment Administration determines that conditions affecting the acreage planted to cotton were not reasonably uniform throughout the county in 1937, then on the basis of the cotton base acreages determined under the 1937 Cotton Price Adjustment Payment Plan. Allotments to the farms within each such administrative area shall be made in the manner provided in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph (b) for the apportionment of county cotton acreage allotments among farms.

(4) Farm acreage allotments. Farm acreage allotments for cotton shall be determined by the county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the following provisions:

(i) County cotton acreage allotments shall be apportioned among the farms in the county on which cotton was planted in any one or more of the years 1937, 1938, and 1939 in a manner that will result in a cotton acreage allotment for each such farm which is a percentage (which shall be the same percentage for all farms in the county or administrative area) of the land in the farm in 1939 which was tilled annually or in regular rotation exclusive of the acres of such land normally devoted to the production of sugarcane for sugar, wheat, tobacco, or rice for market, or wheat or rice for feeding to livestock for market, except that:

(a) For any such farm with respect to which the highest acreage planted to cotton and diverted from cotton under agricultural conservation programs in any one of the three years 1937, 1938, and 1939 is less than 5 acres the cotton acreage allotment for the farm shall be such highest number of acres if the county cotton acreage allotment is sufficient therefor;

(b) For any such farm with respect to which the highest number of acres planted to cotton and diverted from cotton under agricultural conservation programs in any one of the three years 1937, 1938, and 1939 is 5 acres or more the allotment for the farm shall not be less than 5 acres if the county cotton acreage allotment is sufficient therefor; and

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision (i), a number of acres equal to not more than 3 percent of the county acreage allotment in excess of the allotments made to farms on which the highest number of acres planted to cotton plus the acres diverted from cotton under agricultural conservation programs for any of the years 1937, 1938, and 1939 was less than 5 acres and the number of acres required for allotments of 5 acres for each other farm in the county on which cotton was planted in 1937, 1938, or 1939 may be apportioned among farms in the county on which cotton was planted in 1937, 1938, or 1939, and for which the allotment otherwise provided is 5 acres or more but less than 15 acres and less than the highest number of acres planted to cotton and diverted from cotton under agricultural conservation programs in any one of the years 1937, 1938, and 1939.

In making such allotments under item (c) of this subdivision (i) due consideration and weight shall be given to the land, labor, and equipment available for the production of cotton, crop rotation practices, and the soil and other facilities affecting the production of cotton, and such increases shall not be such as to increase the allotment to any farm above 15 acres. In no event shall the allotment for any farm under this subdivision (i) exceed the highest number of acres planted to cotton and diverted from cotton under agricultural conservation programs in any one of the three years 1937, 1938, and 1939.

(ii) In case the county allotment is insufficient to provide allotments to farms in the county which are determined to be adequate and representative in view of their past production of cotton and their tilled land, there shall be apportioned to such farms such part of a State reserve equal to 4 percent of the State acreage allotment as is necessary to give such farms allotments in conformity with subdivision (i) which are as nearly adequate and representative as such 4-percent reserve will permit. Such additional allotment shall be used first to increase allotments to farms under items (a) and (b) of subdivision (i).

(iii) If the cotton acreage allotments for any farms are substantially smaller than the cotton acreage allotments which would have been made without regard to the provisions of items (a) and (b) of subdivision (i) above, the cotton acreage allotments for such farms shall be increased to the acreage which would have resulted in the absence of such provisions insofar as the remaining portion of the 4-percent State reserve will permit after making allotments under subdivision (ii) above.

(iv) After allotments have been made from the 4-percent State reserve as provided in subdivisions (ii) and (iii) above, one-half of any remainder of the 4-percent reserve shall be apportioned to farms for which the acreage allotment otherwise determined is less than 50 percent of the sum of the acreage planted to cotton in 1937 and the acreage diverted from cotton production in 1937 under the 1937 program, and the other one-half of any remainder of the 4-percent reserve shall be available for increasing the allotments for any farms which are determined to be inadequate and not representative in view of past production on the farm: Provided, That the cotton acreage allotment for any farm shall not be increased under this subdivision (iv) above the highest number of acres planted to cotton and diverted from cotton under agricultural conservation programs in any one of the three years 1937, 1938, and 1939: Provided further, That the cotton acreage allotment for any farm shall not be increased under this subdivision (iv) above 40 percent of the acreage on such farm which is tilled annually or in regular rotation, except, in States where the total acreage available for such adjustment is less than 5,000 acres, in irrigated areas where the Agricultural Adjustment Administration determines that the application of this limitation would prevent the determination of allotments which are adequate and representative in view of past production on the farms.

(v) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions (i), (ii), (iii), and (iv) above, the cotton acreage allotment for any farm shall be increased by such amount as may be necessary to provide an allotment of not less than 50 percent of the sum of the acreage determined by the county committee to have been planted to cotton in 1937 and the acreage so determined to have been diverted from cotton under the 1937 program: Provided, That the cotton acreage allotment for any farm shall not be increased under this subdivision to more than 40 percent of the acreage on such farm which is tilled annually or in regular rotation.

(vi) After making the cotton acreage allotments according to the foregoing provisions of this subparagraph (4) any part of the cotton acreage allotment apportioned to any farm which the operator releases to the county committee because it will not be planted to cotton in 1940 shall be deducted from the allotment to such farm and the acreage so deducted may be apportioned to other cotton farms in the State, preference being given to farms in the same county receiving allotments which are inadequate and not representative in view of the past production of cotton on each farm. In such apportionment the county committee shall consider only the character and adaptability of the soil and other physical facilities affecting the production of cotton and the need of the operator of the farm for an additional allotment to meet the requirements of the families engaged in the production of cotton in 1940 on the farm: Provided, That the cotton acreage allotment for any farm shall not be increased under this subdivision to more than 40 percent of the acreage on such farm which is tilled annually or in regular rotation.

(vii) That portion of the State acreage allotment not apportioned among the counties under section 701.101 (b) (3) (i) shall be apportioned to farms in the State on which cotton will be planted in 1940 but on which cotton was not planted in any of the years 1937, 1938, and 1939, so as to result in allotments which compare with allotments to farms which are similar with respect to land, labor, and equipment available for the production of cotton, crop rotation practices, and the soil and other physical facilities affecting the production of cotton. The acreage on the farm which will be tilled in 1940 or was tilled in 1939 shall, as a reflection of the several factors to be taken into consideration, be regarded as the basic index of the farm's capacity for cotton production. The county committee shall report, through the State committee, to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration the acreage required for the allotments to such farms in the county together with such substantiating data as may be required by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall allot to the county the proportion of that part of the State acreage allotment reserved for this purpose which it finds reasonable on the basis of the data so reported.

(5) Normal yields. The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, shall determine for each farm for which a cotton acreage allotment is determined or a deduction is computed a normal yield for cotton in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the following provisions:

(i) Where reliable records of the actual average yield of cotton per acre for the five years 1935 to 1939 are presented by the farmer or are available to the committee, the normal yield for the farm shall be the average of such yields adjusted for abnormal weather conditions;

(ii) If for any year of such five-year period records of the actual average yield are not available or there was no actual yield because cotton was not produced on the farm in such year, the normal yield for the farm shall be the yield which, on the basis of all available facts, including the yield customarily made on the farm, weather conditions, type of soil, drainage, production practices, and general fertility of the land, the county committee determines to be the yield which was or could reasonably have been expected on the farm for such five-year period; and

(iii) The yields determined under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph (5) shall be adjusted so that the average of the normal yields determined for all farms in the county or administrative area (weighted by the cotton acreage allotments determined for such farms) shall conform to the county or administrative area yield established by the Secretary.

(6) Acreage planted to cotton means the acreage of land seeded to cotton the staple of which is normally less than 1 1/2 inches in length and which reaches the stage of growth at which bolls are first formed.

(7) Payment: ------ cents per pound of the normal yield of cotton for the farm for each acre in its cotton acreage allotment.

(8) Deduction: ------ cents per pound of the normal yield of cotton for the farm for each acre planted to cotton in excess of its cotton acreage allotment.

(c) Peanuts—(1) National goal. The 1939 national goal for peanuts is ------- to --------- acres.

(2) National and State acreage allotments. The national and State peanut acreage allotments will be established by the Secretary.

(3) County acreage allotments. County acreage allotments of peanuts for market for counties in the commercial peanut area shall be determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, with the assistance of the State committee, by distributing the State peanut acreage allotment among such counties on the basis of the county acreage allotments established under the 1939 program, or, if counties are included in 1940 for which peanut acreage allotments were not established under the 1939 program, on the basis of the 1938 and 1939 acreages of peanuts in the counties, taking into consideration trends in acreage on commercial peanut farms.

(4) Farm acreage allotments. In counties included in the commercial peanut area peanut acreage allotments for farms shall be determined by the county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, on the basis of the acreage of peanuts for market customarily grown and the tillable acreage on the farm, taking into consideration other special crop acreage allotments established for the farm. The peanut acreage allotments determined for the farms in a county shall not exceed their proportionate share of the county peanut acreage allotment.

(5) Normal yields. The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, shall determine for each farm for which a peanut acreage allotment is determined or a deduction is computed a normal yield for peanuts in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the following provisions: The normal yield of peanuts for market for any farm shall be determined on the basis of the yields of peanuts made on the farm with due consideration for type of soil, production practices, and the general fertility of the land. The average yield for all farms in any county shall not exceed the county yield established by the Secretary.

(6) Commercial peanut area means Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, and Texas: Provided, That any county in any of such States in which not more than 300 acres of peanuts for market were grown in 1939 and there is no tendency to substantially increase such acreage may be excluded from the commercial peanut area upon recommendation of the State committee and approval by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

(7) Peanuts for market means all peanuts harvested for nuts on a farm on which peanuts are separated from the vines by mechanical means and from which the major portion of the production is sold to persons not living on the farm.

(8) Payment: ------ dollars per ton of the normal yield of peanuts for the farm for each acre in its peanut acreage allotment.

(9) Deduction: (For farms in commercial peanut area) ------ dollars per ton of the normal yield for the farm for each acre of peanuts for market in excess of its peanut acreage allotment.

(d) Potatoes—(1) National goal. The 1940 national goal for potatoes is ------ to ------ acres.

(2) National and State acreage allotments. The national and State potato acreage allotments will be established by the Secretary.

(3) County acreage allotments. County acreage allotments of potatoes for counties in the commercial potato area shall be determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, with the assistance of the State committee, by distributing the State acreage allotment of potatoes among such counties in such State on the basis of the acreage allotments determined under the 1939 program, or, if counties are included for which acreage allotments were not determined under the 1939 program, on the basis of the average acreage devoted to potatoes in such counties during the five years 1935 to 1939, taking into consideration trends in acreage on commercial potato farms and the acreage of potatoes on noncommercial potato farms.

(4) Farm acreage allotments. In counties included in the commercial potato area, a potato acreage allotment shall be determined by the county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, for each farm for which the normal acreage of potatoes is determined to be three acres or more: Provided, That in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration where more than three acres of potatoes are grown for home use on a substantial number of farms a potato acreage allotment shall be determined for each farm for which the normal acreage of potatoes for market is three acres or more. Potato acreage allotments shall be determined on the basis of good soil management, tillable acreage on the farm, type of soil, topography, production facilities, and the acreage of potatoes customarily grown on the farm. The potato acreage allotment for any farm shall compare with the potato acreage allotments for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors. The potato acreage allotments determined for farms in a county shall not exceed their proportionate share of the county potato acreage allotment.

(5) Normal yields. The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, shall determine for each farm for which a potato acreage allotment is determined or a deduction is computed a normal yield for potatoes in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the following provisions: The normal yield of potatoes for any farm shall be determined on the basis of the yields of potatoes made on the farm, with due consideration for type of soil, production practices, and the general fertility of the land. The average yield for all farms in any county shall not exceed the county yield established by the Secretary.

(6) Commercial potato area means counties designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as counties normally producing substantial quantities of potatoes for market.

(7) Payment: ------ cents per bushel of the normal yield of potatoes for the farm for each acre in its potato allotment.

(8) Deduction: (Farms in the commercial potato area) ------ cents per bushel of the normal yield for the farm for each acre planted to potatoes in excess of the larger of its potato acreage allotment or three acres, or, on farms for which no allotment is determined, in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration where more than three acres of potatoes are grown for home use on a substantial number of farms, for each acre planted to potatoes for market in excess of three acres.

(e) Rice—(1) National goal. The 1940 national goal for rice is -------- to -------- acres.

(2) National and State acreage allotments. The national and State rice acreage allotments will be established by the Secretary.

(3) Farm acreage allotments. A rice acreage allotment shall be determined by State and county committees, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, for each producer who is participating in the production of rice in 1940.

(i) The acreage allotment for a producer who participated in the production of rice in one or more of the five years 1935 to 1939 shall be determined on the basis of the past production of rice adjusted to the acreage adapted to the production of rice, taking into consideration crop rotation practices, soil fertility, the acreage diverted under previous agricultural adjustment or conservation programs and other physical factors affecting the production of rice, including the labor and equipment available for the production of rice on the farm.

(ii) An acreage not to exceed 3 percent of the State rice acreage allotment shall be apportioned among producers who in 1940 are participating in the production of rice for the first time since 1934, on the basis of the applicable standards of apportionment set forth in this subparagraph, except that the rice acreage allotment to any farm operated by any person(s) who in 1940 is participating in the production of rice for the first time since 1934 shall not exceed 75 percent of the rice acreage allotment that would have been made to the farm had such person(s) participated in the production of rice in one or more of the five years 1935 to 1939.

(4) Normal yields. The State and county committees, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, shall determine for each farm for which a rice acreage allotment is determined or a deduction is computed a normal yield for rice in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the following provisions:

(i) Where reliable records of the actual average yield of rice per acre for the five years 1935 to 1939 are presented by the farmer or are available to the committee, the normal yield of rice for the farm shall be the average of such yields.

(ii) If for any year of such five-year period records of the actual average yield are not available or there was no actual yield because rice was not planted on the farm in such year, the county committee shall ascertain from all the available facts, including the yield customarily made on the farm, weather conditions, type of soil, drainage, production practices, and general fertility of the land, the yield which was or could reasonably have been expected on the farm for such year, and the yield so determined shall be used as the actual yield for such year under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph (4).

(iii) If the average of the normal yields for all farms participating in the 1940 program in the State (weighted by the rice acreage allotments therein) exceeds the average yield per acre for the State during the five years 1935 to 1939 established by the Secretary, the normal yields for such farms, determined under subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph (4) shall be reduced pro rata so that the average of such normal yields shall not exceed such State average yield.

(5) Payment: ------ cents per 100 pounds of the normal yield per acre of rice for the farm for each acre in its rice acreage allotment.

(6) Deduction: ------ cents per 100 pounds of the normal yield for the farm for each acre planted to rice in excess of its rice acreage allotment.

(f) Tobacco—(1) National goal. The 1939 national goal for—

Burley tobacco is -------- to -------- acres;

Flue-cured tobacco is -------- to -------- acres;

Fire-cured and dark air-cured tobacco is -------- to -------- acres;

Cigar filler and binder tobacco is -------- to -------- acres;

Georgia-Florida Type 62 tobacco is -------- to -------- acres.

(2) National and State acreage allotments. The national and State acreage allotments for each kind of tobacco will be established by the Secretary.

(3) Farm acreage allotments. The acreage allotment for each kind of tobacco for any farm on which tobacco was produced in one or more of the five years 1935–1939 shall be determined by the county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, on the basis of the past acreage of tobacco (harvested and diverted) with due allowance for drought, flood, hail, other abnormal weather conditions; plant-bed and other diseases; land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco; crop rotation practices; and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco. Special consideration shall be given to farms for which acreage allotments are small.

The allotment for any farm on which tobacco is produced in 1940 for the first time since 1934 shall be determined by the county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, on the basis of the tobacco-producing experience of the farm operator, land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco, crop rotation practices, and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco.

(4) Normal yields. The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, shall determine for each farm for which a tobacco acreage allotment is determined or a deduction is computed a normal yield for tobacco in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the following provisions:

(i) The normal yield for any farm on which tobacco was produced in one or more of the five years 1935–1939 shall be determined on the basis of the yields of tobacco made on the farm in such five-year period, taking into consideration the soil and other physical factors affecting production of tobacco on the farm, and the yields obtained on other farms in the locality which are similar with respect to such factors.

(ii) The normal yield for any farm on which tobacco is produced in 1940 for the first time since 1934 shall be that yield per acre which the local committee determines is fair and reasonable for the farm as compared with yields for other farms in the locality on which the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco are similar.

(iii) The weighted average of the normal yields for all farms in each county shall not exceed the yield established for the county by the Secretary.

(5) Payment: The following number of cents per pound of the normal yield per acre of tobacco for the farm for each acre in its tobacco acreage allotment for each of the following kinds of tobacco:

Burley, ------ cent.
Flue-cured, ------ cent.
Fire-cured and dark air-cured, ------ cents.
Cigar filler and binder (except Type 45), ------ cent.
------ cent.
Georgia-Florida Type 62, ------ cents.

(6) Deduction: ------ cents per pound of the normal yield for the farm for each acre of tobacco harvested in excess of the applicable tobacco acreage allotment.

(g) Commercial vegetables—(1) Farm acreage allotments. In counties included in the commercial vegetable area a commercial vegetable acreage allotment shall be determined by the county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, for each farm on which the average acreage of land normally planted to commercial vegetables is three acres or more, or in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, on the basis of recommendations by the State committee, for each farm on which such average acreage is one acre or more. The commercial vegetable acreage allotment shall be determined on the basis of the average acreage for 1936 and 1937 or the average of a later period adjusted to the 1936–1937 level, with adjustments for abnormal weather conditions, taking into consideration the tillable acreage on the farm, type of soil, production facilities, crop rotation practices, and changes in farming practices. The sum of the commercial vegetable acreage allotments determined for such farms in the county shall not exceed the sum of the average annual acreages of land planted to commercial vegetables on all such farms in the county in 1936 and 1937 except that fair and reasonable adjustments in such acreage may be made, by the State committee in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, among commercial vegetable counties in the State on the basis of shifts in commercial vegetable production.

(2) Commercial vegetable area means counties or administrative areas for which the 1936–1937 average acreage of commercial vegetables (other than potatoes, sweet potatoes, cantaloupes, and annual strawberries) is 200 acres or more; except any such county or area for which the State committee, with the approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, determines that the distribution of commercial vegetables from such county or area is confined to small local markets, that there is no tendency towards acreage expansion in such county or area, and that its elimination would not jeopardize the effectiveness of the program.

(3) Commercial vegetables means the acreage of annual vegetables or truck crops (including potatoes not in the commercial potato area, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, sweet corn, cantaloupes, annual strawberries, commercial bulbs and flowers, but excluding peas for canning or freezing and sweet corn for canning) of which the major portion of the production is sold to persons not living on the farm: Provided, That in any county designated by the State committee, with the approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, as a county in which substantially all tomatoes or pimientos grown are produced for canning, and in which it is administratively practicable to distinguish between such crops for canning and for other purposes, tomatoes or pimientos for canning shall not be classified as commercial vegetables.

(4) Payment: ------ for each acre in the commercial vegetable acreage allotment determined for the farm.

(5) Deduction: (Farms in the commercial vegetable area) $20.00 per acre for each acre of land planted to commercial vegetables in excess of the larger of the commercial vegetable acreage allotment determined for the farm or three acres, or, in areas designated under subparagraph (1) above, in excess of the larger of the allotment or one acre.

(h) Wheat—(1) National goal. The 1940 national goal for wheat is 60 million to 65 million acres.

(2) National and State acreage allotments. The national and State wheat acreage allotments will be established by the Secretary.

(3) County acreage allotments. County acreage allotments of wheat shall be established by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, with the assistance of the State committee, by distributing the State acreage allotment of wheat among the counties in such State pro rata on the basis of the acreage seeded for the production of wheat plus the acreage diverted under agricultural adjustment or conservation programs in such counties during the ten years 1929 to 1938, with appropriate adjustments for abnormal weather conditions and trends in acreage.

(4) Farm acreage allotments. Acreage allotments of wheat shall be determined by the county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, for farms on which wheat has been planted for harvest in one or more of the years 1937,

1938, and 1939, on the basis of tillable acreage and crop rotation practices as reflected in the usual acreage of wheat on the farm, or the ratio of wheat acreage to cropland in the community or in the county, and on the basis of the type of soil and topography. Not more than 3 percent of the county wheat acreage allotment shall be apportioned to farms in such county on which wheat will be planted for harvest in 1940 but on which wheat was not planted for harvest in any one of the three years 1937, 1938, and 1939, on the basis of tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil, and topography. The wheat acreage allotment for any farm shall compare with the wheat acreage allotments determined for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors. For any farm for which a wheat acreage allotment is determined, if the persons having an interest in the wheat planted on the farm so elect, such farm shall be considered for the purposes of the 1940 program as a non-wheat-allotment farm. The wheat acreage allotments determined for farms in a county shall not exceed their proportionate share of the county wheat acreage allotment.

(5) Usual acreage of wheat. Usual acreages of wheat shall be determined for all non-wheat-allotment farms in Area B and in Area C on which the normal acreage of wheat harvested as grain, or for any other purpose after reaching maturity, is more than ten acres. The usual acreage of wheat shall be determined on the basis of the past acreage with due allowance for the effects of abnormal weather conditions, tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil, and topography. The sum of the usual wheat acreages determined for such farms in a county shall not exceed the sum of the 1937–1938 average acreages of wheat harvested for grain, or for any other purpose after reaching maturity, on such farms, except upon approval by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration where it is found that the 1937–1938 average acreage was not representative because of abnormal weather conditions or marked shifts in cropping practices in the county.

(6) Normal yields. The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, shall determine for each farm for which a wheat acreage allotment is determined or a deduction is computed a normal yield for wheat in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the following provisions:

(i) Where reliable records of the actual average yields per acre of wheat for the ten years 1929 to 1938 are presented by the farmer or are available to the committee, the normal yield for the farm shall be the average of such yields adjusted for trends and abnormal weather conditions.

(ii) If for any year of such ten-year period reliable records of the actual average yield are not available or there was no actual yield because wheat was not produced on the farm in such year, the normal yield for the farm shall be the yield which, on the basis of all available facts, including the yield customarily made on the farm, weather conditions, type of soil, drainage, production practices, and general fertility of the land, the county committee determines to be the yield which was or could reasonably have been expected on the farm for such ten-year period.

(iii) The yields determined under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph (6) shall be adjusted so that the average of the normal yields for all farms in the county (weighted by the wheat acreage allotments determined for such farms) shall not exceed the county yield established by the Secretary.

(7) Non-wheat-allotment farm means (i) a farm for which no wheat acreage allotment is determined, (ii) a farm for which a wheat acreage allotment is determined and the persons having an interest in the wheat planted on the farm elect, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, to have such farm considered for the purposes of the 1940 program as a non-wheat-allotment farm, or (iii) a farm, in an area designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as an area subject to serious erosion, which is owned or leased by a conservation district, an association determined by the State committee to have been organized for conservation purposes, or a State agency authorized by law to own or lease land for conservation or erosion-control purposes.

(8) Acreage planted to wheat means (i) any acreage of land devoted to seeded wheat (except when such crop is seeded in a mixture designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration upon recommendation of the State committee as a mixture which may reasonably be expected to produce a crop containing such proportions of plants other than wheat that the crop cannot be harvested as wheat for grain or seed); (ii) any acreage of volunteer wheat which is harvested or remains on the land after the final date for disposing of volunteer wheat, such date to be specified by the regional director upon recommendation of the State committee; (iii) any acreage of land which is seeded to a mixture containing wheat designated under (i) above but on which the crops other than wheat fail to reach maturity and the wheat is harvested for grain or seed or reaches maturity.

(9) Payment: (Wheat allotment farms) ------ cents per bushel of the normal yield of wheat for the farm for each acre in its wheat acreage allotment.

(10) Deduction: (i) (Wheat allotment farms) ------ cents per bushel of the normal yield for the farm for each acre planted to wheat in excess of its wheat acreage allotment.

(ii) (Non-wheat-allotment farms) ------ cents per bushel of the normal yield for the farm for each acre of wheat harvested for grain or for any other purpose after reaching maturity in excess of its wheat acreage allotment or 10 acres, whichever is larger, in Area A, and in excess of the usual acreage of wheat for the farm or 10 acres, whichever is larger, in Area B and in Area C.

(i) General and total soil-depleting—(1) National goal. The 1940 national goal for total soil-depleting crops is -------- to -------- acres.

(2) National and State acreage allotments. The national and State total soil-depleting acreage allotments will be established by the Secretary.

(3) County acreage allotments. County acreage allotments of total soil-depleting crops shall be determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, with the assistance of the State committee, by distributing the State acreage allotment of total soil-depleting crops among the counties in the State on the basis of the total soil-depleting acreage allotments determined in connection with the 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program (hereinafter referred to as the 1939 program), with due allowance for trends in acreage of soil-depleting crops, changes in area designations and crop classifications, the acreage of food and feed crops needed for home consumption in the county, and the relationship of the special crop acreage allotments established for 1939 to the special crop acreage allotments established for 1940.

(4) Farm acreage allotments. The total soil-depleting acreage allotment for any farm shall be determined by the county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, on the basis of good soil management, tillable acreage on the farm, type of soil, topography, degree of erosion, the acreage of all soil-depleting crops, including sugar beets and sugarcane for sugar, customarily grown on the farm, and, in areas where the Agricultural Adjustment Administration finds it applicable, the acreage of food and feed crops needed for home consumption on the farm, taking into consideration special crop acreage allotments determined for the farm. The total soil-depleting acreage allotment for any farm shall compare with the total soil-depleting acreage allotments determined for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors. Total soil-depleting acreage allotments will be determined for all farms in Area A, farms for which a special crop acreage allotment (other than a commercial vegetable acreage allotment) is established in Area B in the Western and East Central Regions, and farms in Area B in the Southern Region on which general crops or livestock are produced for market and for which a special crop acreage allotment (other than a commercial vegetable acreage allotment) is determined.

(5) Productivity indexes. The Secretary will establish for each county or portion of a county in Area A a county productivity index or per-acre rates of payment and deduction, which will vary among the counties as the productivity of the cropland in the county devoted to the production of general soil-depleting crops varies as compared with the productivity of cropland in the United States devoted to the production of such crops.

A productivity index or per-acre rate shall be determined for each farm in Area A, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, by the county committee with the assistance of other local committees in the county. Such productivity index or per-acre rate shall be based upon the normal yield per acre for the farm of the major soil-depleting crop in the county as compared with the normal yield per acre for such crop in the county. Where the yield of the major soil-depleting crop in the county does not accurately reflect the productivity of a farm, the yield of any crop that does accurately reflect the productivity of the farm may be used, provided that the productivity index or per-acre rate for such farm shall be adjusted, if necessary, so as to be fair and equitable as compared with the productivity indexes or per-acre rates for other farms in the county having similar soils or productive capacity, and as contrasted with other farms in the county having different soils or productive capacity.

The average productivity index or per-acre rate for all farms for which productivity indexes or per-acre rates are determined in the county shall not exceed 100 or the county per-acre rate, or, in the North Central Region, the county productivity index, respectively, unless it is determined that farms for which such indexes or per-acre rates are determined are not representative of all farms in the county and a variation is approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

(6) Non-general-allotment farm means a farm in Area A for which a total soil-depleting acreage allotment (excluding the cotton acreage allotment) of 20 acres or less is determined in any case where the persons having an interest in the general soil-depleting crops planted on the farm elect to have such farm considered for the purposes of the 1940 program as a non-general-allotment farm.

(7) General soil-depleting crops or general crops means all crops and land uses listed in the definition of soil-depleting acreage, except (1) corn, wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco, potatoes, peanuts, commercial vegetables, if a separate payment or deduction is computed for the farm with respect to such crop, and (2) sugar beets and sugar cane for sugar: Provided, That corn on a non-corn-allotment farm and wheat on a non-wheat-allotment farm shall always be regarded as general crops for the purpose of determining the division of the net payment or net deduction computed with respect to general crops.

(8) Payment: (Farms in Area A, except non-general-allotment farms) ------ per acre, adjusted for the productivity of the farm, for each acre in the total soil-depleting acreage allotment determined for the farm in excess of the sum of (i) the special crop acreage allotments determined for the farm and (ii) the acreage of sugar beets planted for harvest in 1940 for the extraction of sugar.

(9) Deductions: (i) (Farms in Area A, except non-general-allotment farms) ------ dollars per acre, adjusted for the productivity of the farm, for each acre of the soil-depleting acreage in excess of the total soil-depleting acreage allotment determined for the farm plus the acreages with respect to which deductions are computed under paragraphs (a) to (h), inclusive, of this section 701.101.

(ii) (Non-general-allotment farms in Area A) ------ dollars per acre, adjusted for the productivity of the farm, for each acre of the soil-depleting acreage in excess of the sum of (1) 20 acres, (2) the cotton acreage allotment determined for the farm, and (3) the acreages with respect to which deductions are computed under paragraphs (a) to (h), inclusive, of this section 701.101.

(iii) (Farms in Area B for which a total soil-depleting acreage allotment is determined) ------ dollars for each acre classified as soil-depleting in excess of the larger of (1) the total soil-depleting acreage allotment determined for the farm plus the acreages with respect to which deductions are computed under paragraphs (a) to (h), inclusive, of this section 701.101, or (2) 20 acres plus the acreages on which cotton is planted or tobacco is harvested.

(j) Restoration land—(1) Farm restoration land. Restoration land shall be designated by the county committee, with the assistance of other local committees in the county, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, on the basis of the land in the farm which was designated as restoration land under the 1939 or 1938 program and any additional land in the farm which has been cropped at least once since January 1, 1930, but on which because of its physical condition and texture and because of climatic conditions a permanent vegetative cover should be restored: Provided, That new restoration land shall be designated only on a farm which is operated by the owner or where such designation has been approved by the owner in the case of a tenant-operated farm. The county committee shall designate practices to be applied to restoration land determined to be in need of additional practices. Land formerly designated as restoration land may, if such land was improperly designated, be restored to its former cropland status, with the approval of the State committee, when offset by an equal acreage of land in the county which is properly designated for 1940 as restoration land.

(2) Restoration land means farm land in any area designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as an area subject to serious wind erosion or as an area containing large acreages unsuited to continued production of cultivated crops, which has been cropped at least once since January 1, 1930, and which is designated by the county committee as land on which because of its physical condition and texture and because of climatic conditions a permanent vegetative cover should be restored.

(3) Payment: 15 cents per acre for each acre of restoration land designated for the farm.

(4) Deduction: $3.00 for each acre of restoration land which is plowed or tilled in 1940 for any purpose other than tillage practices to protect the land from wind erosion or tillage operations in connection with the seeding of an approved non-depleting cover crop or permanent grass mixture.

(k) Miscellaneous—(1) Deduction for failure to prevent wind or water erosion. $1.00 for each acre of land (other than restoration land), in an area designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as subject to serious wind or water erosion hazards, with respect to which there are not adopted in 1940 methods recommended by the county committee and approved by the State committee for the prevention of wind or water erosion or both: Provided, That in counties designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration upon recommendation of the State committee the rate shall be 25 cents per acre for each time wind-erosion-control methods recommended by the county committee are not carried out in 1940 by the date specified by the committee.

(2) Deduction for breaking out native sod: $3.00 for each acre of native sod or any other land on which a permanent vegetative cover has been established, broken out in any area designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as an area subject to serious wind erosion or as an area containing large acreages unsuited to continuing production of cultivated crops, during the period November 1, 1939, to October 31, 1940, inclusive, less the acreage broken out with the approval of the county committee as a good farming practice for which an acreage of cropland other than restoration land is restored to permanent vegetative cover.

§ 701.102 Soil-building goals, payments, and practices—(a) National goal. The national goal is the conservation of the cropland not required in 1940 for the growing of soil-depleting crops, the restoration, insofar as is practicable, of a permanent vegetative cover on land unsuited to the continued production of cultivated crops, and the carrying-out of soil-building practices that will conserve and improve soil fertility and prevent wind and water erosion.

(b) County goals. Insofar as practicable, county goals shall be established for particular soil-building practices which are not routine farming practices in the county and which are most needed in the county in order to conserve and improve soil fertility and to prevent wind and water erosion.

(c) Farm goals. The soil-building goal for any farm shall be one unit of soil-building practices for each $1.50 of the payment computed for the farm under paragraph (d) of this section 701.102: Provided, That for any farm, in any area designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as an area subject to serious erosion, which is owned or leased by a conservation district, an association determined by the State committee to have been organized for conservation purposes, or a State agency authorized by law to own or lease land for conservation or erosion-control purposes, the soil-building goal shall not be less than one unit for each $2.00 of the total payment computed for the farm and the total payment computed for such a farm shall be considered as a payment in connection with soil-building practices.

Insofar as practicable, the county committee shall determine for individual farms practices to be followed in meeting the goal which are not routine farming practices on the farm, but which are needed on the farm in order to conserve and improve soil fertility and prevent wind and water erosion and which will tend to accomplish the goals, if any, established for the county with respect to particular soil-building practices.

(d) Payments. The payments in connection with soil-building practices shall be the sum of the following: Provided, That for any farm with respect to which the sum of the maximum payments computed under sections 701.101 and 701.102 is less than $20.00 the amount determined under this paragraph (d) shall be increased by the amount of the difference:

(1) ------ cents per acre of cropland in the farm in excess of the total soil-depleting acreage allotment for the farm (applicable only to farms in Area A);

(2) ------ per acre of commercial orchards and perennial vegetables on the farm January 1, 1940, except that in the Southern Region (where the commercial orchard and perennial vegetable acreage is not excluded from the acreage of cropland) the rate shall be ------ per acre;

(3) (i) 2 cents per acre of noncrop open pasture land in the farm, plus $1.00 for each animal unit of grazing capacity (on a 12-month basis) of such pasture, in the North Central Region, Kansas, California, Oklahoma, and Texas: Provided, That for any county or group of counties where the grazing capacity of the noncrop open pasture land is reasonably uniform such payment may, upon approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, be computed at a flat rate per acre of noncrop open pasture land, such rate to be not greater than the average amount of payment per acre of noncrop pasture land determined for such county or group of counties on the basis of the foregoing rate: Provided further, That the amounts computed under this subdivision shall not be less than 10 cents times the number of such acres or 640 acres, whichever is smaller; provided that in states or areas where the range conservation program is applicable and is not combined with the Agricultural Conservation Program all non-crop open pasture land shall be classified as range land upon recommendation of the State committee and approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration;

(ii) 3 cents per acre of noncrop open pasture land, plus 75 cents for each animal unit of grazing capacity (on a 12-month basis) of such pasture, in North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Oregon, and Washington: Provided, That for any county or group of counties where the grazing capacity of the noncrop open pasture land is reasonably uniform such payment may, upon approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, be computed at a flat rate per acre of noncrop open pasture land, such rate to be not greater than the average amount of payment per acre of noncrop pasture land determined for such county or group of counties on the basis of the foregoing rate: Provided further, That the amounts computed under this subdivision shall not be less than 10 cents times the number of such acres or 640 acres, whichever is smaller; provided that in states or areas where the range conservation program is applicable and is not combined with the Agricultural Conservation Program all noncrop open pasture land shall be classified as range land upon recommendation of the State committee and approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration;

(iii) 25 cents per acre of fenced noncrop open pasture land in excess of one-half of the number of acres of cropland in the farm, which is capable of maintaining during the normal pasture season at least one animal unit for each five acres of such pasture land, in the East Central Region and in States in the Southern Region other than Texas and Oklahoma;

(iv) 40 cents per acre of fenced noncrop open pasture land in excess of one-half of the number of acres of cropland in the farm, which is capable of maintaining during the normal pasture season at least one animal unit for each five acres of such pasture land, in the Northeast Region.

(4) ------ cents per acre of cropland in excess of the sum of (1) the special crop acreage allotments other than a commercial vegetable acreage allotment and (2) the acreage of sugar beets planted for harvest in 1940 for the extraction of sugar and sugarcane grown for harvest in 1940 for the extraction of sugar (applicable only to farms in Area B and Area C);

(5) ------ cents for each acre in the commercial vegetable acreage allotment for the farm (applicable only to farms in the commercial vegetable area in Area A);

(6) ------ cents per acre, adjusted for the productivity of the farm, for each acre in the total soil-depleting acreage allotment for the farm in excess of the sum of (1) the special crop acreage allotments for the farm and (2) the acreage of sugar beets planted for harvest in 1940 for the extraction of sugar (applicable only to non-general-allotment farms in Area A);

(7) 45 cents per acre for each acre of restoration land for the farm; and

(8) $30.00 or $1.50 times the number of soil-building practice units earned by planting forest trees, whichever is smaller.

(e) Hurricane damaged woodland. Payment will be made at the rate of $4.00 per acre of woodland on the farm, which constitutes a serious fire hazard as a result of hurricane damage in September, 1938, for eliminating such hazard, improving the remaining stand of trees, and providing for the restoration of a full stand, provided such work is done with the prior approval of the county committee and in accordance with such approved system of farm woodlot management as is specified by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Woodland on which payment is made hereunder shall not be eligible for credit for soil-building practice 39 and payment hereunder shall not exceed $60.00 for any farm. This practice is applicable only to farms in New Hampshire, Massachusetts (except Barnstable and Berkshire Counties), Rhode Island, Connecticut (except Fairfield and Litchfield Counties), Nassau and Suffolk Counties of New York, Cumberland, Oxford, and York Counties of Maine, and Caledonia, Chittenden, Essex, Franklin, Lamoille, Orange, Orleans, Washington, Windham, and Windsor Counties of Vermont.

(g) Soil-building practices. Such of the soil-building practices listed in the following schedule as the Agricultural Adjustment Administration determines are adapted to any region and should be encouraged in such region shall count toward the achievement of the soil-building goal to the extent indicated therein when such practices are carried out under the provisions of the 1940 program during a period of not more than 12 months ending between August 31 and December 31, 1940, inclusive, in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and in accordance with specifications issued by the regional director or by the State committee with the approval of the regional director. The areas designated for any soil-building practice shall be areas in which such practice is desirable and necessary as a conservation measure. The specifications issued shall be such as to assure that the soil-building practice will be performed in workmanlike manner and in accordance with good farming practice for the locality.

Practices carried out with labor, seed, trees, and other materials furnished entirely by any State or Federal agency other than the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall not be counted toward the achievement of the soil-building goal. If a portion of the labor, seed, trees, or other materials used in carrying out any practice is furnished by a State or Federal agency other than the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and such portion represents one-half or more of the total cost of carrying out such practice, such practice shall not be counted toward the achievement of the soil-building goal; if such portion represents less than half of the total cost of carrying out such practice, one-half of such practice shall be counted toward the achievement of the soil-building goal: Provided, That labor, seed, trees, and materials furnished to a State, a political subdivision of a State, or an agency thereof by an agency of the same State shall not be deemed to have been furnished by "any State . . . agency" within the meaning of this paragraph. No credit for meeting the soil-building goal shall be given for the planting and protection of forest trees planted under a cooperative agreement entered into with the Forest Service in connection with the Prairie States Forestry Project.

Full credit for meeting the soil-building goal will be given for any of the practices listed in the following schedule which are carried out under the Department's water facilities program if the entire cost of labor, materials, and equipment used in carrying out such practices is paid by the owner or operator or covered by a loan agreement executed by him. If a portion of such cost is not paid by the owner or operator or covered by a loan agreement executed by him and such portion constitutes less than one-half of such cost, one-half credit will be given. If such portion constitutes one-half or more of such cost, no credit for meeting the soil-building goal will be given for such practices.

Wind-erosion-control practices and restoration-land measures carried out with the use of equipment furnished by the Soil Conservation Service on a farm, in an area designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as an area subject to serious erosion, which is owned or leased by a conservation district, an association determined by the State committee to have been organized for conservation purposes, or a State agency authorized by law to own or lease land for conservation or erosion-control purposes shall not (by virtue of the use of such equipment) be deemed to have been paid for in whole or in part by a State or Federal agency.

Trees purchased from a Clark-McNary Cooperative State Nursery shall not be deemed to have been paid for in whole or in part by a State or Federal agency.

The unit credits listed below are the maximum units allowable, and the credit for any practice included may, for any State or area within a State, be adjusted downward by the State committee with the approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in order to reflect relatively lower costs or relative desirability of the practice.

(q) Wheat planted (or regarded as planted) for any purpose on a wheat-allotment farm.

(r) Wheat (on a non-wheat-allotment farm), oats, barley, rye, emmer, speltz, or mixtures of these crops, harvested for grain.

(s) Wheat on a non-wheat-allotment farm, oats, barley, rye, emmer, speltz, or mixtures of these crops (including designated mixtures containing wheat on any farm), harvested for hay (except (1) when such crops are used as nurse crops for legumes or perennial grasses which are seeded in a workmanlike manner and the nurse crop is cut green for hay, or (2) when such crops are grown in a mixture containing at least 25 percent by weight of winter legumes).

(t) Buckwheat, Sudan grass, or millet harvested for grain or seed.

§ 701.104 Division of payments and deductions—(a) Payments and deductions in connection with general soil-depleting crops, crops for which special crop acreage allotments are determined, and restoration land. (1) The net payment or net deduction computed for any farm with respect to general soil-depleting crops, or any crop for which a special acreage allotment is established, shall be divided among the landlords, tenants, and sharecroppers in the same proportion (as indicated by their acreage shares expressed in terms of either acreages or percentages) that such persons are entitled, as of the time of harvest, to share in the proceeds (other than a fixed commodity payment) of such crop grown on the farm in 1940; Provided, That if any such crop is not grown on the farm in 1940 or the acreage of such crop is substantially reduced by flood, hail, drought, insects, or plant-bed diseases the net payment or net deduction computed for such crop shall be divided among the landlords, tenants, and sharecroppers in the proportion that the county committee determines such persons would have been entitled to share in the proceeds of such crop if the entire acreage in the acreage allotment for such crop had been planted and harvested in 1940: Provided further, That if for any reason the total acreage of cotton on the farm in 1940 is less than 80 percent of the cotton acreage allotment for the farm and the acreage of cotton which is or would have been grown thereon by any tenant or sharecropper in 1940 is not substantially proportionate to the acreage of cotton which such tenant or sharecropper would normally grow thereon, and all the persons who are or would have been entitled to receive a share of the proceeds of cotton agree, as shown by their signatures on the application for payment or a separate statement, the net payment or net deduction computed for cotton for the farm shall be divided among the landlords, tenants, and sharecroppers in the proportion that the county committee determines such persons would have been entitled to share in the proceeds of the cotton crop if the entire acreage in the cotton acreage allotment had been planted and harvested in 1940, but in no event shall the acreage share so determined for any person be less than such person's acreage share of the acreage planted to cotton on the farm in 1940: And provided further, That, in cases where two or more separately-owned tracts of land comprise a farm in any area designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as an area in which a substantial proportion of the farms comprise two or more separately-owned tracts of land, upon written agreement of all persons who are entitled to receive a share of the proceeds of any such crop the share of each such person in the net payment or net deduction computed with respect to such crop on such farm shall be that share which fairly reflects the contribution of each such person to performance with respect to such crop and also results substantially in a division of such payment or deduction among landlords, tenants, and sharecroppers as classes as each such class shares in the crop, or proceeds thereof, with respect to which the payment or deduction is being made.

(2) The payment computed with respect to restoration land under paragraph (j) (3) of section 701.101 shall be made to the person who is the owner of the land as of June 30, 1940, unless the land is rented for cash, in which case the payment shall be made to the cash tenant as of such date.

(3) In computing such net payments and such net deductions with respect to acreage allotments and general crops, the deduction with respect to (1) corn for grain in Area C, (2) total soil-depleting crops in Area B, (3) failure to prevent wind or water erosion, (4) cropping restoration land, (5) breaking-out of native sod, or (6) any net deduction computed with respect to the soil-building goal, shall be regarded as a deduction with respect to general crops in Area A and shall be regarded as a prorata deduction with respect to the payments computed in connection with crop acreage allotments in Areas B and C.

(b) Payments in connection with soil-building practices. The amount of net payment earned in connection with the soil-building goal for the farm shall be paid to the landlord, tenant, or sharecropper who carried out the soil-building practices. If the county committee determines that more than one such person contributed to the carrying-out of soil-building practices on the farm in the 1940 program, such payment shall be divided in the proportion that the units contributed by each such person to such practices bears to the total units of such practices carried out on the farm in such program. All persons contributing to the carrying-out of any soil-building practice on a particular acreage shall be deemed to have contributed equally to the units of such practice unless it is established to the satisfaction of the county committee that their respective contributions thereto were not in equal proportion, in which event such units shall be divided in the proportion which the county committee determines each such person contributed thereto.

(c) Proration of net deductions. If the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on a farm exceeds the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on such farm, the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on such farm shall be prorated among the persons on such farm for whom a net payment is computed, on the basis of such computed net payments. If the sum of the net deductions computed for all persons on a farm equals or exceeds the sum of the net payments computed for all persons on such farm, no payment will be made with respect to such farm and the amount of such net deductions in excess of the net payments shall be prorated among the persons on such farm for whom a net deduction is computed, on the basis of such computed net deductions.

§ 701.105 Increase in small payments. The total payment computed under Sec. 701.101 to 701.104, for any person with respect to any farm shall be increased as follows:

§ 701.106 Payments limited to $10,000. The total of all payments made in connection with programs for 1940 under section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act to any individual, partnership, or estate with respect to farms, ranching units, and turpentine places located within a single State, territory, or possession shall not exceed the sum of $10,000, prior to deduction for association expenses in the county or counties with respect to which the particular payment is made. The total of all payments made in connection with such programs to any person other than an individual, partnership, or estate with respect to farms, ranching units, and turpentine places in the United States (including Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico) shall not exceed the sum of $10,000, prior to deduction for association expenses in the county or counties with respect to which the particular payment is made.

All or any part of any payment which has been or otherwise would be made to any person under the 1940 program may be withheld or required to be returned if he has adopted or participated in adopting any scheme or device, including the dissolution, reorganization, revival, formation, or use of any corporation, partnership, estate, trust, or any other means, which was designed to evade, or would have the effect of evading, the provisions of this section.

§ 701.107 Deductions incurred on other farms—(a) Other farms in the same county. If the deductions computed under Sec. 701.101 and 701.102 with respect to any farm in a county exceed the payment for full performance on such farm computed under such sections a landlord's or tenant's share of the amount by which such deduction exceeds such payments shall be deducted from such landlord's or tenant's share of the payment which would otherwise be made to him with respect to any other farm or farms in such county.

(b) Other farms in the State. If the deductions computed under Sec. 701.101 and 701.102 for a landlord or tenant with respect to one or more farms in a county exceed the payments computed for such landlord or tenant on the other farms in such county, the amount of such excess deductions shall be deducted from the payments computed for such landlord or tenant with respect to any other farm or farms in the State if the State committee finds that the crops grown and practices adopted on the farm or farms with respect to which such deductions are computed substantially offset the contribution to the program made on such other farm or farms.

§ 701.108 Deduction for association expenses. There shall be deducted pro rata from the payments with respect to any farm all or such part as the Secretary may prescribe of the estimated administrative expenses incurred or to be incurred by the county agricultural conservation association in the county in which the farm is located.

§ 701.109 Materials furnished as grants of aid. Wherever it is found practicable, limestone, superphosphate, trees, seeds, and other farming materials, upon request of the producer, may be furnished by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as grants of aid to be used in carrying out approved soil-building practices which shall be counted toward meeting the soil-building goal for the farm. Wherever such material is furnished, a deduction from the payment for the farm shall be made in the amount of the approximate average cost of such material to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in the county, State, or other area. Such deduction shall be applied first to the payment computed for the person to whom such material is furnished, and the balance, if any, of such deduction shall be prorated among the payments to the other persons sharing in the payment with respect to the farm for which such material was obtained or on which it was used. Materials shall only be furnished pursuant to a producer's request and agreement upon a form prescribed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Such agreement shall provide that (1) in the event the amount of deduction for materials exceeds the amount of the payment with respect to the farm the amount of such difference shall be paid by the producer to the Secretary; (2) if the producer uses any such material in a manner which is not in substantial accord with the purposes for which such material was furnished, the deduction with respect to the material misused shall be twice the regular rate of deduction in order to compensate the Government for damages because of such misuse; and (3) the finding of the county committee that the material has been used in a manner which is not in substantial accord with the purposes for which it was furnished, and as to the amount of the material so misused, shall be final when approved by the State committee, subject to the right of appeal under the provisions of Sec. 701.112.

Notwithstanding any other provisions herein, in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, for any farm on which no performance is rendered under the 1940 program except the carrying-out of practices through the use of materials furnished by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the furnishing of such materials shall be in lieu of any payment which otherwise might be computed for the farm.

§ 701.110 General provisions relating to payments—(a) Payment restricted to effectuation of purposes of the program. (1) All or any part of any payment which otherwise would be made to any person under the 1940 program may be withheld or required to be returned (a) if he adopts or has adopted any practice which the Secretary determines tends to defeat any of the purposes of the 1940 or previous agricultural conservation programs, (b) if, by means of any corporation, partnership, estate, trust, or any other device, or in any manner whatsoever, he has offset, or has participated in offsetting, in whole or in part, the performance for which such payment is otherwise authorized, or (c) if, with respect to forest land or woodland owned or controlled by him, he adopts or has adopted any practice which the Agricultural Adjustment Administration finds is contrary to sound conservation practices.

(2) Payments other than payments in connection with restoration land and in connection with soil-building practices will be made only with respect to farms which are being operated in 1940.

(3) In areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as areas subject to serious wind erosion in 1940, no payment will be made to any person with respect to any farm which such person owns or operates in a county if the county committee finds that such person has been negligent and careless in his farming operations by failing to carry out approved wind-erosion-control measures on land under his control to the extent that any part of such land has become a wind-erosion hazard in 1940 to other land in the community in which such farm is located.

(b) Payment computed and made without regard to claims. Any payment or share of payment shall be computed and made without regard to questions of title under State law, without deduction of claims for advances (except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section and indebtedness to the United States subject to set-off under orders issued by the Secretary), and without regard to any claim or lien against any crop, or proceeds thereof, in favor of the owner or any other creditor.

(c) Changes in leasing and cropping agreements, reduction in number of tenants, and other devices. If on any farm in 1940 any change of the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1939 is made between the landlord or operator and the tenants or sharecroppers and such change would cause a greater proportion of the payments to be made to the landlord or operator under the 1940 program than would have been made to the landlord or operator for performance on the farm under the 1939 program, payments to the landlord or operator under the 1940 program with respect to the farm shall not be greater than the amount that would have been paid to the landlord or operator if the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1939 had been continued in 1940, if the county committee certifies that the change is not justified and disapproves such change.

If on any farm the number of sharecroppers or share tenants in 1940 is less than the average number on the farm during the three years 1937 to 1939 and such reduction would increase the payments that would otherwise be made to the landlord or operator, such payments to the landlord or operator shall not be greater than the amount that would otherwise be made, if the county committee certifies that the reduction is not justified and disapproves such reduction.

If the State committee finds that any person who files an application for payment pursuant to the provisions of the 1940 program has employed any other scheme or device, (including coercion, fraud, or misrepresentation) the effect of which would be or has been to deprive any other person of any payment under any agricultural conservation program to which such person would normally be entitled, the Secretary may withhold, in whole or in part, from the person participating in or employing such a scheme or device, or require such person to refund, in whole or in part, the amount of any payment which has been or would otherwise be made to such person in connection with the 1940 program.

(d) Assignments. Any person who may be entitled to any payment in connection with the 1940 program may assign his interest in such payment as security for cash loaned or advances made for the purpose of financing the making of a crop in 1940. No such assignment will be recognized unless the assignment is made in writing on Form ACP–69 in accordance with the instructions (ACP–70) issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and unless such assignment is entitled to priority as determined under the instructions governing the recording of such assignments issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Nothing contained in this paragraph (d) shall be construed to give an assignee a right to any payment other than that to which the farmer is entitled nor (as provided in the statute) shall the Secretary or any disbursing agent be subject to any suit or liability if payment is made to the farmer without regard to the existence of any such assignment.

(e) Excess cotton acreage. Any person who makes application for payment with respect to any farm located in a county in which cotton is planted in 1940 shall file with such application a statement that he has not knowingly planted cotton or caused cotton to be planted, during 1940, on land in any farm in which he has an interest, in excess of the cotton acreage allotment for the farm for 1940, and that cotton was not planted in excess of such allotment by his authority or with his consent.

Any person who knowingly plants cotton, or causes cotton to be planted on his farm in 1940 on acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment for the farm for 1940 shall not be eligible for any payment whatsoever, on that farm or any other farm, under the provisions of the 1940 program. Any person having an interest in the cotton crop on a farm on which cotton is planted in 1940 on an acreage in excess of the cotton acreage allotment for the farm for 1940 shall be presumed to have knowingly planted cotton on his farm on acreage in excess of such farm cotton acreage allotment if notice of the farm allotment is mailed to him prior to the completion of the planting of cotton on the farm, unless the farmer establishes the fact that the excess acreage was planted to cotton due to his lack of knowledge of the number of acres in the tract(s) planted to cotton. Such notice, if mailed to the operator of the farm, shall be deemed to be notice to all persons sharing in the production of cotton on the farm in 1940.

(f) Use of soil-conserving crops for market. Payment will not be made with respect to any farm unless on such farm in 1940 an acreage of cropland or restoration land, not devoted to soil-depleting crops, is withheld from the production of soil-conserving crops for market, equal to the acreage by which the normal acreage of soil-depleting crops on such farm exceeds the larger of (1) the total soil-depleting acreage allotment for the farm or (2) the acreage devoted to soil-depleting crops on the farm in 1940: Provided, That payments shall not be denied any farmer for using such soil-conserving crops for market (1) if in the county in which the farm is located the number of cows kept for the production of milk or products thereof for market does not exceed the normal number of such cows; (2) if on such farm the number of cows kept for the production of milk or the products thereof for market does not exceed the normal number of such cows; or (3) if the Agricultural Adjustment Administration determines either (a) that the farmer has substantially complied with the provisions of this paragraph or (b) that the county, as a whole, is in substantial compliance with such provisions.

Any farmer shall be deemed to have substantially complied with the provisions of this paragraph either (1) if the increase above normal in the number of dairy cows on his farm does not exceed two cows or (2) if none of the soil-conserving crops to which such provisions are applicable is used for market other than through the disposition of dairy livestock for slaughter or through the disposition of less than ten percent of the milk, or products thereof, produced on the farm. A county, as a whole, shall be deemed to be in substantial compliance with such provisions unless: (1) the number of cows kept for the production of milk in the county exceeds by more than five percent the normal number of such cows; (2) the acres retired from soil-depleting crops in the county exceed five percent of the normal acreage of such crops and exceed 1,000 acres; and (3) the average number of cows kept for the production of milk exceeds two cows per farm and exceeds two cows per 160 acres of farm land.

The normal acreage of soil-depleting crops and the number of cows kept for the production of milk or the products thereof for market shall be determined for any farm in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall determine, from the latest available statistics of the Department, and shall announce the counties not deemed to be in substantial compliance.

As used in this paragraph (f), the term "for market" means for disposition by sale, barter, or exchange, or by feeding (in any form) to dairy livestock which, or the products of which, are to be sold, bartered, or exchanged, and such term shall not include consumption on the farm. An agricultural commodity shall be deemed to be consumed on the farm if consumed by the farmer's family, employees, or household, or if fed to poultry or livestock other than dairy livestock on his farm or if fed to dairy livestock upon his farm and such dairy livestock, or the products thereof, are to be consumed by his family, employees, or household. As used in this paragraph (f), the term "soil-conserving crops" means grasses and legumes grown on cropland except those listed in the definition of soil-depleting acreage in Sec. 701.103.

§ 701.111 Application for payment—(a) Persons eligible to file applications. An application for payment with respect to a farm may be made by any person for whom, under the provisions of Sec. 701.104, a share in the payment with respect to the farm may be computed and (1) who at the time of its harvest is entitled to share in any of the crops grown on the farm under a lease or operating agreement, or (2) who is owner or operator of such farm and participates thereon in 1940 in carrying out approved soil-building practices, or (3) who as of June 30, 1940, is owner or cash tenant of a farm on which restoration land is designated.

(b) Time and manner of filing application and information required. Payment will be made only upon application submitted through the county office on or before a date fixed by the regional director but not later than March 31, 1941. The Secretary reserves the right (1) to withhold payment from any person who fails to file any form or furnish any information required with respect to any farm which such person is operating or renting to another person for a share of the crops grown thereon, and (2) to refuse to accept any application for payment if any form or information required is not submitted to the county office within the time fixed by the regional director. At least two weeks' notice to the public shall be given of the expiration of a time limit for filing prescribed forms, and any time limit fixed shall be such as affords a full and fair opportunity to those eligible to file the form within the period prescribed. Such notice shall be given by mailing the same to the office of each county committee and making copies of the same available to the press.

(c) Applications for other farms. If a person has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds therefrom produced on more than one farm in a county and makes application for payment with respect to one of such farms, such person must make application for payment with respect to all such farms which he operates or rents to other persons. Upon request by the State committee any person shall file with the committee such information as it may request regarding any other farm in the State with respect to which he has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds thereof or which he rents to another for cash.

§ 701.112 Appeals. Any person may, within 15 days after notice thereof is forwarded to or made available to him, request the county committee in writing to reconsider its recommendation or determination in any of the following matters respecting any farm in the operation of which he has an interest as landlord, tenant, or sharecropper: (a) eligibility to file an application for payment; (b) any soil-depleting acreage allotment, usual acreage, normal or actual yield, measurement, or soil-building goal; (c) the division of payment; or (d) any other matter affecting the right to or the amount of his payment with respect to the farm. The county committee shall notify such person of its decision in writing within 15 days after receipt of such written request for reconsideration. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the county committee he may, within 15 days after such decision is forwarded to or made available to him, appeal in writing to the State committee. The State committee shall notify such person of its decision in writing within 30 days after the receipt of the appeal. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the State committee, he may, within 15 days after such decision is forwarded to or made available to him, request the regional director to review the decision of the State committee.

Written notice of any decision rendered under this section by the county or State committee shall also be issued to each person known to it who, as landlord, tenant, or sharecropper having an interest in the operation of the farm, may be adversely affected by such decision. Only a person who shows that he is adversely affected by the outcome of any request for reconsideration or appeal may appeal the matter further, but any person who, as landlord, tenant or sharecropper having an interest in the operation of the farm, would be affected by the decision to be made on any reconsideration by the county committee or subsequent appeal shall be given a full and fair hearing if he appears when the hearing thereon is held.

§ 701.113 State and regional bulletins, instructions, and forms. The Agricultural Adjustment Administration is hereby authorized to make such determinations and to prepare and issued such State and regional bulletins, instructions, and forms as may be required in administering the 1940 program pursuant to the provisions hereof.

PISGAH NATIONAL FOREST, NORTH CAROLINA

DEER HUNTING ON PISGAH NATIONAL GAME PRESERVE

I have considered the information and evidence adduced by the officers of the Forest Service relative to the conditions of the land and deer herd on the Pisgah National Game Preserve in the Pisgah National Forest in North Carolina, established by proclamation of the President issued October 17, 1916, 39 Stat. 1811, and I hereby find and determine that the number of deer within the Pisgah National Game Preserve is so great that they have caused and are causing serious damage and injury to the land and forest within the Pisgah National Game Preserve and I further find and determine that unless the deer herd is reduced the damage and injury to the land and forest will continue and grow progressively worse and will result in further reducing the forage capacity of the Pisgah National Game Preserve for deer;

Now, therefore, I, Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the authority vested in me by the acts of March 1, 1911, c. 186, 36 Stat. 961; February 1, 1905, c. 288, 33 Stat. 628, amendatory of the act of June 4, 1897, c. 2, 30 Stat. 11, 35; August 11, 1916, c. 313, 39 Stat. 476; to effectuate the purpose of those acts do hereby authorize:

1. Employees of the Department of Agriculture assigned to duty on the Pisgah National Forest or persons authorized pursuant to the Regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture Relating to the Protection, Occupancy, Use and Administration of the National Forest, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of August 15, 1936,[1] to hunt and kill deer on the Pisgah National Game Preserve and to remove the carcasses of the deer from the Preserve during the months of October, November, December, 1939, and January 1940, or any part of that period designated by the Chief of the Forest Service;

2. Employees of the Department of Agriculture assigned to duty on Pisgah National Forest to trap, capture and ship live deer of the Pisgah National Game Preserve at any time during the balance of the year 1939 and the year 1940 or any part of that period designated by the Chief of the Forest Service; provided that the deer shall be removed in such numbers and in such manner, and under such conditions as the Chief of the Forest Service shall find necessary for the preservation and protection of the land and forest, the property of the United States.

ORDER RELATIVE TO ACQUISITION OF BONDS

The Commission having by order on May 20, 1939 (Holding Company Act Release No. 1548) authorized the Utilities Power & Light Corporation, Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Utilities Power & Light Corporation, a registered holding company (presently in reorganization proceedings under Section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act, proceedings in which are pending in the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division) and the Trustee of the estate of the debtor as intervening applicant, to acquire the outstanding Twenty Year 6% First Mortgage Sinking Fund Gold Bonds of Utilities Elkhorn Coal Company, due July 1, 1948, with January 1, 1938 and subsequent coupons attached, at a price of 70% of the principal amount thereof subject to certain terms and conditions therein set forth including the condition that the offer of purchase shall expire thirty days from the date of mailing of the literature in which the offer to purchase and the solicitation of acceptances thereto were made;

The applicant and the intervening applicant having on July 20, 1939, filed a further amendment in this matter setting forth that at the close of business July 7, 1939, the applicant had acquired, pursuant to solicitation submitted after authority given by this Commission and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, $903,000 principal amount of said bonds; that a balance of $210,000 principal amount of said bonds remained outstanding in the hands of the public; that under the order of this Commission the right to solicit the purchase of these bonds terminated July 13, 1939; that the applicant and intervening applicant believed that after an additional thirty days time is granted to said applicant and intervening applicant for the purpose of soliciting the acceptance of the offer to purchase such bonds from the remaining bondholders, all or substantially all of said remaining bonds could have been acquired; and therefore requesting that this Commission extend the applicant's right to solicit acceptances of its offer to purchase Elkhorn bonds at a price of 70% of the principal amount subject to all of the terms and conditions of the previous order of this Commission heretofore mentioned; and this Commission having by order dated July 13, 1939 (Holding Company Act Release No. 1628) granted said extension to August 12, 1939;

It appearing to the Commission that it is in the public interest and in the interest of investors or consumers to grant an extension of time during which the applicant and intervening applicant may purchase said bonds; and the Commission having in its orders, heretofore mentioned, reserved jurisdiction for the purpose, among others, of passing upon any question that might arise in connection with the purchase offer and solicitations of acceptances thereto;

SUSPENSION OF OPERATION OF TITLE II OF THE SUGAR ACT OF 1937

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS section 509 of the Sugar Act of 1937 provides, in part:

"Whenever the President finds and proclaims that a national economic or other emergency exists with respect to sugar or liquid sugar, he shall by proclamation suspend the operation of Title II or III above, which he determines, on the basis of such findings, should be suspended, and, thereafter, the operation of any such title shall continue in suspense until the President finds and proclaims that the facts which occasioned such suspension no longer exist. * * *";

WHEREAS such increased prices of sugar will not accrue to the benefit of the majority of producers by reason of the sale of much of their current crop before the outbreak of the war:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, acting under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the foregoing provision of the Sugar Act of 1937, do hereby find and proclaim that a national economic emergency exists with respect to sugar, and do by this proclamation suspend the operation of title II of that Act.

TITLE 19—CUSTOMS DUTIES

BUREAU OF CUSTOMS

[T. D. 49958]

COUNTERVAILING DUTIES ON IMPORTATIONS FROM GERMANY

KIND AND FORM OF EVIDENCE PRESCRIBED UPON WHICH COLLECTORS OF CUSTOMS MAY DISREGARD THE REQUIREMENTS WITH RESPECT TO THE DEPOSIT OF ESTIMATED ADDITIONAL DUTIES AND THE SUSPENSION OF LIQUIDATION OF ENTRIES PENDING REPORT OF THE PERTINENT FACTS TO THE BUREAU

SEPTEMBER 11, 1939.

To Collectors of Customs and Others Concerned:

Reference is made to T.D. 49821 of March 18, 1939,[1] giving notice of countervailing duties to be imposed under section 303 of the Tariff Act of 1930 by reason of the payment or bestowal of a bounty or grant upon the exportation of certain goods from Germany, and numbered paragraph (2) of T.D. 49849 of April 24, 1939,[2] wherein collectors of customs were authorized to disregard the provisions of T.D. 49821 in certain cases.

Collectors of customs may disregard the requirements of T.D. 49821 with respect to the deposit of estimated additional duties and the suspension of liquidation pending report of the pertinent facts to the Bureau in those cases in which there is presented by the importer evidence in the following form which satisfies them that the full purchase price of the imported merchandise has been paid or irrevocably and unconditionally secured to be paid in dollars or free reichsmarks, and that no bounty or grant within the purview of T.D. 49821 has been or will be paid or bestowed in respect of the merchandise:

(1) The consular invoice, or an original or a carbon or photostatic copy of the commercial invoice, showing clearly the amount and kind of currency to be remitted in payment for the goods.

(2) A fully executed countervailing duty declaration in accordance with the provisions of T.D. 49878 of June 3, 1939.[3]

(3) A memorandum, debit notice, or other written statement of the bank through which payment for the goods has been made, showing clearly that the purchaser in the United States has paid to the seller in Germany the exact amount of the invoice in dollars or free reichsmarks through the medium of a cable transfer or a bank draft drawn for the account of the purchaser on a German bank in favor of the seller of the merchandise; or that the bank has accepted a sight draft for such amount drawn by the seller against an irrevocable letter of credit issued by the bank for the account of the purchaser in favor of the seller; or that an accepted time draft for such amount has been discounted or negotiated by a bank in Germany; or that an accepted time draft for such amount in favor of the seller has been drawn against an irrevocable letter of credit or its payment otherwise secured by a bank.

The deposit of estimated countervailing duties or suspension of liquidation shall be waived on the basis of the above-described evidence only if the collector is thereby satisfied not only that the purchaser has made or irrevocably and unconditionally secured payment, but also that such payment in full has been received or irrevocably and unconditionally secured to be received by the seller in Germany.

Where payment is made or to be made to the German seller or for his account in the United States or in any country other than Germany, or in a currency other than dollars or free reichsmarks, the deposit of estimated countervailing duties should be required and the entry and related papers forwarded to the Bureau for a decision.

The Bureau is satisfied that, in the case of merchandise of other than German origin imported from countries other than Germany in dutiable containers of German origin, the assessment of countervailing duties is not warranted, and you are therefore authorized to liquidate such entries without assessing countervailing duties and without referring the entry and papers to the Bureau.

[Departmental Order No. 811]

REGULATIONS CONCERNING THE VALIDATION AND ISSUANCE OF PASSPORTS FOR USE IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by Section I of the Act of July 3, 1926, 44 Stat. 887 (U.S.C., Title 22, Section 211a), and by Executive Order No. 7856 of March 31, 1938,[1] prescribing rules governing the granting and issuing of passports in the United States, I, the undersigned, Secretary of State of the United States, hereby prescribe the following regulations:

No passport heretofore issued shall be valid for use in traveling from the United States to any country in Europe unless it is submitted to the Department of State for validation.

Before the Department of State will validate any passport heretofore issued for use in any country in Europe, it will be necessary for the person to whom the passport was issued to submit documentary evidence concerning the imperativeness of his proposed travel. A person who desires to travel in Europe for commercial purposes must support his application for the validation of his passport or for the issue of a passport with a letter from the head of the firm in the interests of which he intends to go to Europe. Such letter must state not only the names of the European countries which the applicant expects to visit and the objects of his visits thereto, but in addition, whether or not the applicant is a salaried employee of the firm concerned; and if so, how long he has been known to the firm and for what period of time he has been in its employ. If the applicant is going to Europe on a commission and not a salary basis, that fact also should be specifically stated. If the applicant for a passport is himself the head of the concern for which he is going to Europe, he must submit a letter from another officer of the concern or a letter from the head of some other reputable concern who has had business transactions with the applicant and has knowledge of the business in which the applicant is engaged and the object and necessity of his proposed trip to Europe.

An applicant who is going to Europe for any purpose other than commercial business must satisfy the Department of State that it is imperative that he go, and he must submit satisfactory documentary evidence substantiating his statement concerning the imperativeness of his proposed trip.

In view of the exigencies of the present situation and the consequent necessity of exercising the greatest care in the validation of passports or the issue of new passports, the Department of State will be obliged to hold applicants and firms responsible for any false or misleading statements made by them in connection with applications for passports, and any such false or misleading statements would be in violation of Section 220 of Title 22 of the U.S. Code, which reads as follows:

Whoever shall willfully and knowingly make any false statement in an application for passport with intent to induce or secure the issuance of a passport under the authority of the United States, either for his own use or the use of another, contrary to the laws regulating the issuance of passports or the rules prescribed pursuant to such laws, or whoever shall willfully and knowingly use or attempt to use, or furnish to another for use, any passport the issue of which was secured in any way by reason of any false statement, shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than five years or both.

Women and children will not be included in passports issued to their husbands or fathers unless the urgent and imperative necessity of accompanying them is conclusively established.

Passports will not, as a rule, be validated or issued for travel in opposing belligerent countries.

Should a person now having a valid passport proceed to any European country without first having submitted his passport to the Department of State for validation, the protection of the United States may be withheld from him while he is abroad.

Should a person to whom a passport has been issued use it in violation of the conditions or restrictions contained therein, the protection of the United States may likewise be withheld from him while he is abroad and he will be liable for prosecution under the provisions of Section 221 of Title 22 of the U.S. Code, which reads in part as follows:

• • • whoever shall willfully and knowingly use or attempt to use any passport in violation of the conditions or restrictions therein contained, or of the rules prescribed pursuant to the laws regulating the issuance of passports, which said rules shall be printed on the passport; • • • shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

Hereafter when a passport is validated for or issued for use in Europe, its validity shall be restricted to the period necessary to accomplish the purpose of the intended visit to Europe but in no case beyond a period of six months.

Passports in possession of persons now residing abroad shall in due course be submitted to American consular officers for appropriate endorsement under special instructions to be sent to such officers at a later date.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

[T. D. 4987]

REGULATIONS 90, AS AMENDED, RELATING TO THE EXCISE TAX ON EMPLOYERS UNDER TITLE IX OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT, FURTHER AMENDED

CREDITS AGAINST, AND REFUNDS OF, THE TAX IMPOSED BY TITLE IX OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT FOR THE CALENDAR YEARS 1936, 1937, AND 1938

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

In order to conform Regulations 90,[1] approved February 17, 1936 [Part 400, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], as amended, to section 902 (a), (b), (c), (d), and (h) of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 (Public, No. 379, 76th Cong., 1st sess.), such regulations are further amended as follows:

(1) Immediately preceding article 211, as amended by Treasury Decision 4812,[2] approved June 18, 1938 [section 400.211, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1938 Sup.], the following is inserted:

SECTION 902 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939

(a) Against the tax imposed by section 901 of the Social Security Act for the calendar year 1936, 1937, or 1938, any taxpayer shall be allowed credit for the amount of contributions, with respect to employment during such year, paid by him into an unemployment fund under a State law—

(1) Before the sixtieth day after the date of the enactment of this Act;

(2) On or after such sixtieth day, with respect to wages paid after the fortieth day after such date of enactment;

(3) Without regard to the date of payment, if the assets of the taxpayer are, at any time during the fifty-nine-day period following such date of enactment, in the custody or control of a receiver, trustee, or other fiduciary appointed by, or under the control of, a court of competent jurisdiction.

(b) Upon the payment of contributions into the unemployment fund of a State which are required under the unemployment compensation law of that State with respect to remuneration on the basis of which, prior to such payment into the proper fund, the taxpayer erroneously paid an amount as contributions under another unemployment compensation law, the payment into the proper fund shall, for purposes of credit against the tax imposed by section 901 of the Social Security Act for the calendar years 1936, 1937, and 1938, respectively, be deemed to have been made as of the time of the erroneous payment. If, by reason of such other law, the taxpayer was entitled to cease paying contributions with respect to services, subject to such other law, the payment into the proper fund shall, for purposes of credit against the tax, be deemed to have been made on the date the return for the taxable year was filed under section 905 of the Social Security Act.

(c) The provisions of the Social Security Act in force prior to February 11, 1939 (except the provisions limiting the credit to amounts paid before the date of filing returns) shall apply to allowance of credit under subsections (a), (b), and (h), and the terms used in such subsections shall have the same meaning as when used in title IX of the Social Security Act prior to such date. The total credit allowable against the tax imposed by section 901 of such Act for the calendar years 1936, 1937, and 1938, respectively, shall not exceed 90 per centum of such tax.

(h) Notwithstanding the provision of section 907 (f) of the Social Security Act limiting the term "contributions" to payments required by a State law, credit shall be permitted against the tax imposed by section 901 of such Act for the calendar year 1936 or 1937, for so much of any payments made as contributions for such year into the unemployment fund of a State which are held by the highest court of such State not to be required payments under the unemployment compensation law of such State if they are not returned to the taxpayer. So much of such payments as are not so returned shall be considered to be "contributions" for the purposes of section 903 of such Act. The periods of limitations prescribed by section 3312 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code shall not begin to run, in the case of the tax for such year of any taxpayer to whom any such payment is returned, until the last such payment is returned to the taxpayer.

• • • • •

(2) Article 211, as amended by Treasury Decision 4812, approved June 18, 1938 [section 400.211, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1938 Sup.], is further amended to read as follows:

ART. 211. Credit of contributions against tax for calendar years 1936, 1937, and 1938—(a) General. Subject to the limitations hereinafter prescribed in paragraph (b), the taxpayer may credit against the tax for the calendar year 1936, 1937, or 1938 the total amount of his contributions under all State laws which have been found by the Social Security Board to contain the provisions specified in section 903 (a) of the Social Security Act; provided that no credit may be taken for a contribution under a State law if such State has not been duly certified for the calendar year to the Secretary by the Social Security Board.

"(b) Limitations on allowance of contributions as credit against tax. The allowance of contributions as credit against the tax for the calendar year 1936, 1937, or 1938 is subject to the following limitations:

"(1) The total credit allowed to any taxpayer for contributions to State unemployment funds with respect to employment during any one year shall not exceed 90 percent of the tax against which such credit is applied.

"(2) The contributions must have been actually paid into the State unemployment fund. Such payment must have been made before October 9, 1939, except that:

"(i) The contributions with respect to wages paid after September 19, 1939 (for employment during the calendar year 1936, 1937, or 1938), may be paid into the State fund on or after October 9, 1939, subject, however, to the provisions of article 503 of these regulations [section 400.503, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], relating to the statutory period of limitations applicable to credits.

"(ii) The contributions of a taxpayer whose assets, at any time during the period August 11, 1939, to October 8, 1939, inclusive, are in the custody or control of a receiver, trustee, or fiduciary appointed by, or under the control of, a court of competent jurisdiction, may be paid into the State fund at any time, subject, however, to the provisions of article 503 of these regulations [section 400.503, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], relating to the statutory period of limitations applicable to credits.

"(iii) The contributions paid into the unemployed fund of a State which are required under the unemployment compensation law of that State, with respect to remuneration on the basis of which the taxpayer had, prior to such payment, erroneously paid an amount as contributions under another unemployment compensation law, shall be deemed to have been made at the time of the erroneous payment. If, by reason of such other law, the taxpayer was entitled to cease paying contributions with respect to services subject to such other law, the payment into the proper fund shall be deemed to have been made on the date the return for the taxable year was actually filed under section 905 of the Social Security Act.

"(3) The contributions must have been paid with respect to employment as defined in section 907 (c) of the Social Security Act, that is, with respect to services performed by an employee within the United States and not excepted by such Act. (See articles 206 to 206 (7) [sections 400.206 to 400.206 (7), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], inclusive.)

"(4) The contributions must have been paid with respect to services performed during the calendar year covered by the return.

"(c) Contributions. The term 'contributions' for purposes of credit against the tax means payments required to be made by an employer pursuant to a State law into the unemployment fund of such State, to the extent that such payments are made by the employer without any part thereof being deducted or deductible from the wages of individuals in his employ. Notwithstanding the provision limiting the term to payments required by a State law, the term also includes so much of any payments made as contributions for the calendar year 1936 or 1937 into the unemployment fund of a State which payments are held by the highest court of such State not to be required payments under the unemployment compensation law of such State, as are not returned to the taxpayer.

"(d) If, subsequent to the filing of the return, a refund is made by a State to the taxpayer of any part of his contributions which had been credited against the tax, the taxpayer is required to advise the Commissioner under oath of the date and amount of such refund and the reason therefor, and to pay the tax, if any, due as a result of such refund, together with interest from the date when the tax was due."

(3) Immediately preceding article 503½ as added by Treasury Decision 4812, approved June 18, 1938 [section 400.503½, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1938 Sup.], the following is inserted:

SECTION 902 (D) OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939

Refund of the tax (including penalty and interest collected with respect thereto, if any), based on any credit allowable under subsections (a), (b), and (h), may be made in accordance with the provisions of law applicable in the case of erroneous or illegal collection of the tax. No interest shall be allowed or paid on the amount of any such refund.

(4) Article 503½, as added by Treasury Decision 4812, approved June 18, 1938 [section 400.503½ Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1938 Sup.], is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 503½. Refund under section 902 (d) of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939. (a) If the tax against which an amount is allowable as credit under section 902 (a), (b), and (h) of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 (see article 211, as amended [section 400.211, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]) has been paid without the benefit of such credit, the taxpayer shall be entitled to a refund of the tax equal to the amount of such allowable credit. The taxpayer shall also be entitled to a refund of the amount of interest or penalty, if any, collected from him with respect to the amount of tax refunded. No interest, however, shall be allowed or paid by the Government on the amount of any such refund.

"(b) Every claim for refund under section 902 (d) of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 shall be made on Form 843 in accordance with the provisions of this article and article 503 [section 400.503, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations]. A claim which does not comply with these requirements will not be considered for any purpose as a claim for refund."

This Treasury Decision is effective only with respect to the tax imposed by Title IX of the Social Security Act for the calendar years 1936, 1937, and 1938. For provisions with respect to subsequent calendar years, see the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (subchapter C of chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 (Public, No. 379, 76th Cong., 1st sess.)).

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before Federal Trade Commission

[Docket No. 3886]

COMPLAINT

The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that the General Motors Corporation, a corporation, and AC Spark Plug Company, a corporation, and each of them, jointly and severally, are violating, and since June 19, 1936, have violated, the provisions of Sections 2 (a), 2 (d), and 3 of the Clayton Act as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act (U.S.C. Title 15, Sections 13 and 14) and have been and are using unfair methods of competition and unfair and deceptive acts and practices in commerce in violation of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (U.S.C. Title 15, Section 45), and it appearing to the Commission that a proceeding by it in respect thereof would be to the interest of the public, the Commission hereby issues its complaint, charging as follows:

I

Charging violation of Section 3 of the Clayton Act, the Commission alleges:

PARAGRAPH 1. Respondent General Motors Corporation is a corporation organized, existing, and doing business under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Delaware, with its principal office and place of business located in General Motors Building, Detroit, Michigan. Said respondent is now, and for more than three years past has been, engaged in the manufacture of automobiles and automobile accessories, parts, and supplies, including spark plugs and spark plug parts, oil filters and oil filter renewal cartridges, and in the distribution and sale thereof. The manufacture of spark plugs, oil filters and oil filter renewal cartridges is carried on by said respondent by and through its AC Spark Plug Division.

PAR. 2. Respondent AC Spark Plug Company is a corporation organized, existing, and doing business under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Michigan, with its principal office and place of business located in the AC Building, Flint, Michigan. Said respondent is engaged in the distribution and sale of spark plugs, spark plug parts, oil filters, oil filter renewal cartridges, and other automobile parts and accessories, hereinafter collectively referred to as "AC products." Said respondent is a wholly owned subsidiary of respondent General Motors Corporation.

PAR. 3. Said respondents transport their said AC products, or cause the same to be transported, for distribution and sale, from the places where such products are manufactured or stored, into and through the various states of the United States to their customers and purchasers thereof located in other states of the United States and in the District of Columbia, and there is, and has been at all times herein mentioned, a continuous current of trade in commerce in said AC products manufactured, sold, and distributed by respondents between the states wherein respondents' factories and warehouses are located and various other states of the United States. Respondents' said AC products are sold and distributed by them for use, consumption, and resale within the United States and the District of Columbia.

PAR. 4. Respondents distribute and sell their AC products throughout the United States in the same territories and places as, and in substantial competition with, other persons and corporations engaged in the manufacture, distribution, and sale of similar products of like grade and quality. Respondents for the past several years have annually furnished, in the original equipment field, more spark plugs than any other domestic spark plug manufacturer, supplying annually about one-half of the spark plugs used for original equipment on automobiles manufactured in the United States. Respondents, with one other manufacturer, during the year 1937 supplied more than 95% of the spark plugs used as original equipment in the automobile industry in the United States and about 90% of the spark plugs sold in the United States for all uses.

PAR. 5. The business of distributing and selling spark plugs and oil filters is divided into two main categories: first, the sale of such products through automobile and other motor manufacturers for use as original equipment; and second, the distribution and sale of such products for replacement of original equipment. The life of a spark plug or oil filter is normally shorter than the life of an automobile, and a complete replacement of spark plugs and oil filters is usually necessary several times during the normal operating life of every automobile. Consequently, the volume of spark plugs and oil filters sold for replacement use is greater than the volume of such products sold for original equipment. The distribution and sale of such products for replacement is carried on chiefly by automobile service stations, automobile dealers, automobile parts dealers, electrical repair shops, and garages throughout the United States. Said products are also sold by chain stores, mail order houses, oil and tire companies, and others. The customers of respondents purchasing such AC products for resale, and many of their customers, are competitively engaged in the resale of such products at wholesale and retail in the various territories and places where said customers respectively carry on their businesses.

PAR. 6. Respondents' AC products are sold and distributed by more than 3,000 wholesalers of automobile parts and accessories located throughout the United States, and respondent AC Spark Plug Company has negotiated and entered into contracts with some 1,500 of such wholesalers, which contracts are now in force, governing the terms of, and for the sale of, said products. Respondents maintain direct contact with all of said contracting wholesalers and prescribe and enforce the prices, terms, and conditions of sale of their products by such wholesalers. Respondents' contracts with certain of said wholesalers classified by them as "D" or distributor accounts provide that such wholesaler will stock, handle, sell and distribute said AC products on an exclusive basis, and substantial sales by said respondents to said "D" or distributor accounts are made on the condition contained in said contracts that said "D" or distributor purchasers shall not use or deal in similar products manufactured or sold by any competitor or competitors of respondents, and the prices fixed in said contracts and charged to said "D" or distributor accounts have been fixed and charged upon said condition, agreement and understanding. Respondents have also entered into contracts with a substantial number of other wholesalers handling, selling, and distributing said AC products and have sold their said products to such other wholesalers and have fixed prices for such products charged and to be charged such wholesalers on the condition, agreement, and understanding that such other wholesalers so purchasing respondents' said AC products shall not use or deal in similar products manufactured or sold by a competitor or competitors of respondents.

PAR. 7. The result, and effect, of said acts, policy, and practices of respondents has been to persuade, compel, and coerce many of such wholesalers and dealers in spark plugs and oil filters throughout the United States to cancel sales contracts with respondents' competitors, to discontinue dealing in and selling the products of such competitors, and to refuse to deal in or purchase the products of such competitors, and has been, and may be, to substantially lessen competition and tend to create a monopoly in the distribution and sale of spark plugs and oil filters in trade and commerce among the several States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

II

Charging violation of Section 2 (a) of the Clayton Act as amended, the Commission alleges:

PAR. 8. Paragraphs One to Five, inclusive, of Charge I hereof are hereby repeated and made a part of this charge as fully and with the same effect as though here again set forth at length.

PAR. 9. In the course and conduct of their business respondents sell directly to wholesalers and distributors classified by respondents into "D", "J", "A–1", and "A–4" accounts, which said accounts in turn supply to other dealers classified by respondents as "JC", "L", "A–5", and "A–6" accounts, and to other dealers in said AC products not classified and not holding contracts for the purchase of said products. Said dealers classified as "JC", "L", "A–5", and "A–6" accounts are under direct contract with respondents. Since June 19, 1936, respondents have discriminated in price between different purchasers of their AC spark plugs of the same grade and quality by selling said plugs for use and resale in the United States and in the District of Columbia to "D" and "A–1" accounts at a unit price of 27½¢, to "J" and "A–2" accounts at a unit price of 31¢, to "JC" and "A–5" accounts at a unit price of 34¢, to "L" and "A–6" accounts at a unit price of 37¢, and to still other accounts not under direct contract with respondents at a unit price of 41¢, and by selling the same AC spark plugs to automobile manufacturers and others for original equipment on automobiles and motor vehicles at a unit price of 6¢ or less.

PAR. 10. By thus selling their AC products at the prices set out in the preceding paragraph, respondents have discriminated in price between (1) classes of their direct accounts; (2) classes of their indirect accounts; (3) direct accounts and indirect accounts; (4) all contract accounts and non-contract dealers; (5) all replacement accounts and original equipment accounts, and the effect of the said discriminations in price may be substantially to lessen competition, tend to create a monopoly in the line of commerce in which respondents are engaged; to injure, destroy, and prevent competition between and among respondents' customers receiving the benefit of said discrimination and respondents' customers who do not receive the benefit of such discrimination, and between respondents and others competitively engaged with respondents in the manufacture, sale, and distribution of spark plugs, oil filters and oil filter renewal cartridges.

III

Charging violation of Section 2 (d) of the Clayton Act as amended, the Commission alleges:

PAR. 11. Paragraphs One to Five, inclusive, in Charge I hereof, are hereby repeated and made a part of this charge as fully and with the same effect as though here again set forth at length.

PAR. 12. Before respondents will enter into a contract with a dealer in respondents' products classified by them as a "J" or jobber account, the credit of such "J" or jobber account must be guaranteed by a wholesale distributor classified by respondents as "D" or distributor account. After such contracts with "J" or jobber accounts have been entered into, respondents thereafter pay to each wholesaler classified by, and under contract to, respondents as a "D" or distributor account as compensation for and in consideration of the credit service so rendered by such "D" or distributor account in connection with the sale by respondents of their AC products, an amount equal to 10% of all purchases of said AC products by such "J" account from respondents. Each of said classes of respondents' customers classified by them as "D" and "J" accounts is in competition in the resale of respondents' AC products, a "D" account frequently competing with a "J" account whose credit he guarantees. Such payment or consideration of 10% as hereinabove described is not available on proportionately equal terms to all of respondents' customers competing in the distribution of respondents' AC products.

IV

Charging violation of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, the Commission alleges:

PAR. 13. Paragraphs One to Six of Charge I hereof and Paragraph Nine of Charge II hereof are hereby repeated and made a part of this count as fully and with the same effect as though here again set forth at length.

PAR. 14. As hereinbefore set out and described, respondents sell directly to wholesalers and distributors classified by respondents into "D", "J", "A–1" and "A–4" accounts (hereinafter referred to as direct accounts), which said accounts in turn supply said AC products to other dealers classified by respondents as "JC", "L", "A–5", and "A–6", "C", and "F" accounts (hereinafter referred to as indirect accounts), and to other dealers in said AC products not classified and not holding contracts for the purchase of said products. Respondents have engaged in the practice of negotiating and entering into contracts with said indirect accounts classified by it as "JC", "L", "A–5", "A–6", "C" and "F", by the terms of which and by the issuance of price lists, instructions to their direct issuance of price lists, instructions to their direct accounts, coercion and close supervision of the resale policy of such direct accounts, respondents fix, prescribe and control the prices, terms and conditions upon which their said direct accounts may supply their said AC products to the indirect accounts above mentioned and to other dealers in such products not holding such AC contracts. For AC Blue Top Spark Plugs, respondents, fix a price of 34¢ per plug to "JC" and "A–5" accounts, a price of 37¢ to "L" and "A–6" accounts, and a price of 41¢ to non-contract dealers purchasing in lots of 10 or more. Similar price differentials are in force throughout the entire line of AC products. Direct accounts are required to call upon indirect accounts and to inform the respondents from time to time as to the amount of stock carried, the volume of sales being made by such accounts, the amount of stock of competitors of respondents carried, and the amount of sales thereof. By thus fixing the prices at which their direct accounts must resell AC products to their indirect accounts and non-contract dealers, respondents have induced, coerced, and compelled their said direct accounts to discriminate in price between the various classifications of said indirect accounts and between said indirect accounts and said non-contract dealers.

PAR. 15. In the contracts entered into by respondents with said indirect accounts, as described in the preceding paragraph hereof, the special price quoted in the contract is given upon the condition and agreement that the dealer will carry a certain minimum stock of AC spark plugs and purchase a minimum quantity of such plugs during the calendar year covered by the contract. Said contract provides that they may be cancelled and the prices fixed therein may be withdrawn by respondents at any time if the contract holder fails to carry the required stock or purchase the agreed amount of AC spark plugs and further that they may be cancelled by respondents upon given notice without specification of reason. The direct accounts under AC contracts are instructed by respondents that all said contracts and the prices quoted therein may be cancelled and withdrawn by respondents if said direct accounts do not increase their volume of sales of AC spark plugs from year to year. Respondents exercise a complete supervision and control over both direct and indirect accounts through respondents' direct representatives who inform and instruct the direct and indirect accounts of respondents that unless said resale prices are maintained as arbitrarily fixed by respondents in said contracts and unless said minimum stock and purchase requirements are fully complied with, and that unless said direct and indirect accounts handle respondents' AC products exclusively and refuse to stock, handle, sell or distribute the products of respondents' competitors that the said contracts will be cancelled by respondents as to all or any of respondents' products or that the said account will be re-classified and the prices, fixed in said contracts, raised by respondents. The tendency and effect of such contracts and of such acts and practices by respondents is to induce, coerce and compel the dealers holding such contracts to deal in AC spark plugs and other AC products exclusively and to prevent them from dealing in the products of respondents' competitors. By negotiating such contracts and requiring their distributors to adhere thereto and constantly supervising and checking their distributors' sales and distributing activities and by their threats and instructions issued by respondents' representatives, respondents effectively close to their competitors a substantial number of actual and potential outlets for the distribution and sale of spark plugs and oil filters.

PAR. 16. By the acts and practices above described, respondents have agreed with and compelled their distributors to maintain the various prices fixed by the respondents for the resale of their AC spark plugs and other AC products to the restraint of trade in commerce between the various states and in the District of Columbia; have obstructed, hampered and interfered with the normal and natural flow of trade and commerce in such products; have hindered and lessened competition in the distribution and sale of such products; and have injured their competitors by unfairly diverting business and trade from them and depriving them thereof; and have engaged in unfair acts and practices as to their competitors and as to their indirect customers; all to the prejudice and injury of the public.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 8th day of September, A. D. 1939, issues its complaint against said respondents.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given you, General Motors Corporation and AC Spark Plug Company, respondents herein, that the 13th day of October, A. D. 1939, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The Rules of Practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule VII) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

* * * * * *

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true, and if in the judgment of the Commission such facts admitted constitute a violation of law or laws as charged in the complaint, to make and serve findings as to the facts and an order to cease and desist from such violations. Upon application in writing made contemporaneously with the filing of such answer, the respondent, in the discretion of the Commission, may be heard on brief, in oral argument, or both, solely on the question as to whether the facts so admitted constitute the violation or violations of law charged in the complaint.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 8th day of September, A. D. 1939.

By the Commission.

(a) The term "flight" as used herein shall signify one or a number of aircraft under the command of or in responsible charge of a single person.

(b) Not over twelve aircraft shall be included in one flight.

(c) Prior to departure from the last point of landing before reaching the Canal Zone, the commander or the person in responsible charge of the flight shall notify the Governor, preferably by radio, of the probable time of arrival and the cruising altitude and speed.

(d) The flight shall approach the Canal Zone following commercial air lanes to a rendezvous point, outside of the Canal Zone, designated by the Governor and announced by him to the Secretary of State or the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

(e) On approaching the Canal Zone, the flight shall be met at the rendezvous by an official escort of aircraft from the Canal Zone and shall be escorted from the rendezvous point via a route prescribed by the escorting aircraft to a landing area in the Canal Zone. All such aircraft entering the Canal Zone Military Airspace Reservation shall land in the Canal Zone at the landing area designated by the Governor, and no aircraft shall pass through the said airspace reservation without so landing therein.

(f) Immediately after landing in the Canal Zone, the commander or the person in responsible charge of the flight shall report to the Aeronautical Inspector of The Panama Canal for instructions, and shall observe the instructions received.

PART 927—AMENDMENT NO. 1 TO ORDER REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MARKETING AREA*

Sec.
927.0 Findings.
927.4 Minimum prices.
927.10 Effective time.

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America, pursuant to the powers conferred upon the Secretary by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, issued, on August 5, 1938, and, on August 26, 1938, made effective as of September 1, 1938, Order No. 27[1] regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area; and

Whereas, the Secretary, having reason to believe that an amendment to said order would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, gave, on the 17th day of August 1939, notice of a hearing[2] which was held on August 24 at Syracuse, New York, and on August 25 at New York City, New York, and, at said times and places, conducted a public hearing at which all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on a proposed amendment to said order; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture finds (Sec. 927.0), upon the evidence introduced at said hearing on such proposed amendment, said findings being in addition to the findings made upon the evidence introduced at the hearing on said order and to the other findings made prior to or at the time of the original issuance of said order (which findings are hereby ratified and affirmed, save only as such findings are in conflict with findings hereinafter set forth):

1. That the severe drouth affecting a large part of the New York milkshed makes necessary the adjustments in the class prices for the period set forth in this amendment; that prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 and section 8e of the act, are not reasonable in view of the available supplies of feeds, the price of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect the supply of and demand for such milk and that the minimum prices set forth in this amendment to said order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and that the fixing of such prices does not have for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers above the levels which are declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish;

2. That the order, as amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held; and

3. That the issuance of this amendment to the order, and all of the terms and conditions of the order, as amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act:

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, hereby orders that the order regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan marketing area be and it is hereby amended as follows:

A. Amend paragraph 1 of section 1 of article IV (Sec. 927.4 (a) (1)) by changing the period after the word "market" to a semicolon and adding the following:

"provided, that for any month prior to May 1, 1940, the price in effect for Class I milk shall be not less than $2.82 per hundredweight, and, provided further, that for Class I milk sold by a handler in the marketing area under a program approved by the Secretary and upon which payment is made out of Federal funds, the price shall be 57 cents per hundredweight less than would otherwise be in effect pursuant to this paragraph."

B. Amend paragraph 2 of section 1 of article IV (Sec. 927.4 (a) (2)) by changing the period after the word "market" to a semicolon and adding the following:

"provided, that for any month prior to May 1, 1940, the price in effect for Class II-A milk shall not be less than $1.90 per hundredweight."

C. Amend paragraph 3 of section 1 of article IV (Sec. 927.4 (a) (3)) by changing the period after the word "price" to a semicolon and adding the following:

"provided, that for any month prior to May 1, 1940, the Class II-B price shall be 40 cents higher than the Class III-A price."

D. Amend paragraph 5 of section 1 of article IV (Sec. 927.4 (a) (5)) by changing the period after the word "price" to a semicolon and adding the following:

*Amendment to section 927.0, section 927.4, and section 927.10 issued under the authority contained in 48 Stat. 31 (1933), 7 U.S.C. § 601 et seq. (1934); 49 Stat. 750 (1935); 50 Stat. 246 (1937), 7 U.S.C. § 601 et seq. (Supp. IV 1938).

"provided, that for any month prior to May 1, 1940, the Class III–B price shall be 50 cents higher than the Class IV–A price."

E. Delete section 1 of article X (sec. 927.10 (a)).

In witness whereof, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, have executed, in duplicate, and issued this order, to become effective at such time as I may subsequently declare, and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, this 12th day of September 1939.

Rules, Regulations, Orders

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ADMINISTRATION

[Cotton 1940–1]

PART 722—COTTON MARKETING QUOTAS, 1940–41 MARKETING YEAR

Whereas the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides:

SEC. 342. Not later than November 15 of each year the Secretary [of Agriculture] shall find and proclaim (a) the total supply, the normal supply, and the carry-over of cotton as of August 1 of such year, (b) the probable domestic consumption of American cotton during the marketing year commencing August 1 of such year, (c) the probable exports of American cotton during such marketing year, and (d) the estimated carry-over of cotton as of the next succeeding August 1. • • •

SEC. 345. Whenever the Secretary determines that the total supply of cotton for any marketing year exceeds by more than 7 per centum the normal supply thereof for such marketing year, the Secretary shall proclaim such fact not later than November 15 of such marketing year • • •, and marketing quotas shall in be in effect during the next succeeding marketing year with respect to the marketing of cotton. Cotton produced in the calendar year in which such marketing year begins shall be subject to the quotas in effect for such marketing year notwithstanding that it may be marketed prior to August 1.

SEC. 343. (a) Not later than November 15 of each year the Secretary shall find and proclaim the amount of the national allotment of cotton for the succeeding calendar year in terms of standard bales of five hundred pounds gross weight. The national allotment shall be the number of bales of cotton adequate, together with the estimated carry-over as of August 1 of such succeeding calendar year, to make available a supply of cotton, for the marketing year beginning on such August 1, equal to the normal supply. • • •

(b) If the national allotment for 1938 or 1939 is determined to be less than ten million bales, the national allotment for such year shall be ten million bales for such year, as the case may be. If the national allotment for 1938 or 1939 is determined to be more than eleven million five hundred thousand bales, it shall be eleven million five hundred thousand bales for such year, as the case may be. The national allotment for any year (after 1939) shall not be less than ten million bales.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, the national allotment for any year shall be increased by a number of bales equal to the production of the acres allotted under section 344 (e) for such year.

SEC. 344. (a) The national allotment for cotton for each year (exclusive that portion of the national allotment provided for in section 343 (c)) shall be apportioned by the Secretary among the several States on the basis of the average, for the five years preceding the year in which the national allotment is determined, of the normal production of cotton in each State. The normal production of a State for a year shall be (1) the quantity produced therein plus (2) the normal yield of the acres diverted in each county in the State under the previous agricultural adjustment or conservation programs. The normal yield of the acres diverted in any county in any year shall be the average yield per acre of the planted acres in such county in such year times the number of acres diverted in such county in such year.

(b) The Secretary shall ascertain, on the basis of the average yield per acre in each State, a number of acres in such State which will produce a number of bales equal to the allotment made to the State under subsection (a). Such number of acres plus the number of acres allotted to the State pursuant to subsection (e) (2) is referred to as the "State acreage allotment". The average yield per acre for any State shall be determined on the basis of the average of the normal production for the State for the years used in computing the allotment to the State, and the average, for the same period, of the acres planted and the acres diverted in the State.

(c) (1) The State acreage allotment (less the amount required for apportionment under paragraph (2)) shall be apportioned annually by the Secretary to the counties in the State. The apportionment to the counties shall be made on the basis of the acreage planted to cotton during the five calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year in which the State allotment is apportioned (plus, in applicable years, the acreage diverted under previous agricultural adjustment and conservation programs), with adjustments for abnormal weather conditions and trends in acreage during such five-year period.

(2) Not more than 2 per centum of the State acreage allotment shall be apportioned to farms in such State which were not used for cotton production during any of the three calendar years immediately preceding the year for which the allotment is made, on the basis of land, labor, and equipment available for the production of cotton; crop rotation practices; and the soil and other physical facilities affecting the production of cotton.

(e) (1) For 1938, 1939, and any subsequent year, the Secretary shall allot to the several counties, to which an apportionment is made under subsection (c), a number of acres required to provide a total acreage for allotment under this section to such counties of not less than 60 per centum of the sum of (1) the acreage planted to cotton in such counties in 1937, plus (2) the acreage therein diverted from cotton production in 1937 under the agricultural adjustment and conservation program. The acreage so diverted shall be estimated in case data are not available at the time of making such allotment.

(2) The Secretary shall allot to each State to which an allotment is made under subsection (b), and in which at least three thousand five hundred bales were produced in any of the five years immediately preceding the year for which the allotment is made, a number of acres sufficient to provide a total State acreage allotment for such State of not less than five thousand acres.

Whereas said Act contains, in section 301 (b), the following definitions of terms here pertinent:

"Carry-over" of cotton for any marketing year shall be the quantity of cotton on hand either within or without the United States at the beginning of such marketing year, which was produced in the United States prior to the beginning of the calendar year then current.

"Marketing year" means, in the case of the following commodities, the period beginning on the first and ending with the second date specified below:

• • • • •

Cotton, August 1–July 31 • • •.

"Normal supply" in the case of • • • cotton • • • shall be a normal year's domestic consumption and exports of the commodity, plus • • • 40 per centum in the case of cotton • • • of a normal year's domestic consumption and exports, as an allowance for a normal carry-over.

"Normal year's domestic consumption", in the case of cotton • • •, shall be the yearly average quantity of the commodity produced in the United States that was consumed in the United States during the ten marketing years immediately preceding the marketing year in which such consumption is determined, adjusted for current trends in such consumption.

"Total supply" of • • • cotton • • • for any marketing year shall be the carry-over of the commodity for such marketing year plus the estimated production of the commodity in the United States during the calendar year in which such marketing year begins.

Whereas said Act provides, in section 301 (c), that "The latest available statistics of the Federal Government shall be used by the Secretary [of Agriculture] in making the determinations required to be made by the Secretary under this Act"; and

Whereas said Act provides, in section 350, that the provisions of Part IV (Marketing Quotas—Cotton) of subtitle B of Title III thereof "shall not apply to cotton the staple of which is 1⅛ inches or more in length":

§ 722.201 Findings and determinations. Now, therefore, be is known that I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America, acting under and pursuant to, and by virtue of, the authority vested in me by the Act of Congress known as the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, upon the basis of the latest available statistics of the Federal Government, do hereby find, determine, and proclaim under sections 342, 343, and 345 of said Act:

(a) That the "total supply" of cotton as of August 1, 1939, was 25,550,000 running bales;

(b) That the "normal supply" of cotton as of August 1, 1939, was 18,200,000 running bales;

(c) That the "carry-over" of cotton as of August 1, 1939, was 14,150,000 running bales;

(d) That the "probable domestic consumption of American cotton" during the marketing year commencing August 1, 1939, is 7,000,000 running bales;

(e) That the "probable exports of American cotton" during the marketing year beginning August 1, 1939, is 6,000,000 running bales;

(f) That the estimated "carry-over" of cotton as of August 1, 1940, is 13,550,000 running bales;

(g) That the "total supply" of cotton for the marketing year begining August 1, 1939, exceeds by more than 7 per centum the "normal supply" of cotton for such marketing year; and

(h) That the national allotment of cotton for the calendar year beginning on January 1, 1940, shall be 10,000,000 standard bales of five hundred pounds gross weight, increased by that number of standard bales of five hundred pounds gross weight equal to the production in the calendar year 1940 of that number of acres required to be allotted for 1940 under the terms of section 344 (e) of said Act.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 14th day of September 1939. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

[40-Tob-16]

INSTRUCTIONS FOR HOLDING REFERENDUM ON BURLEY TOBACCO MARKETING QUOTAS

In the event that the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the provisions of section 312 (a) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, proclaims a national marketing quota for Burley tobacco for the marketing year beginning October 1, 1940, a referendum of farmers who were engaged in production of the 1939 crop of Burley tobacco will be held, pursuant to the provisions of section 312 (c) of said act and in accordance with the regulations hereinafter set forth, on a date to be announced by the Secretary of Agriculture, to determine whether such farmers are in favor of or opposed to such quota.

The following forms will be used:

40-Tob-16—Instructions for Holding Referendum on Burley Tobacco Marketing Quotas
40-Tob-17—Register of Eligible Voters and Ballots Cast
40-Tob-18—Notice—Burley Tobacco Marketing Quota Referendum
40-Tob-19—1940 Burley Tobacco Marketing Quota Referendum Ballot
40-Tob-20—Community Summary of 1940 Burley Tobacco Marketing Quota Ballots
40-Tob-21—County Summary of 1940 Burley Tobacco Marketing Quota Ballots
40-Tob-22—State Tabulation of 1940 Burley Tobacco Marketing Quota Ballots

A. VOTING ELIGIBILITY

All farmers who were engaged in the production of Burley tobacco in 1939 are eligible to vote in the Burley tobacco marketing quota referendum. Any person who shares in the proceeds of the 1939 Burley tobacco crop as owner (other than a landlord of a standing-rent or fixed-rent tenant), tenant, or sharecropper is considered as having been engaged in the production of Burley tobacco in 1939. If several members of the same family participated in the production of Burley tobacco on a farm in 1939, the only member or members of such family who shall be eligible to vote shall be the member or members of the family who had an independent bona fide status as operator, share-tenant, or sharecropper and was entitled as such to share in the proceeds of the 1939 crop.

For any farm on which records have been obtained in connection with the 1939 agricultural conservation program showing correctly those persons entitled to receive a share of the proceeds of the tobacco crop grown on the farm in 1939, only those persons so shown as entitled to receive such share shall be eligible to vote in the referendum.

No person shall be eligible to vote in any community other than the community in which he resides, except, as follows: (a) Any person who resides in a community in which there is no polling place shall be eligible to vote at the polling place designated for the community nearest to the community in which he was engaged in the production of tobacco in 1939. (b) Any person who does not reside in the county in which he was engaged in the production of tobacco in 1939 may obtain a ballot at the most conveniently located polling place and may cast his ballot by signing his name thereto and mailing it to the county office of the county in which he was engaged in the production of tobacco in 1939 not later than the date of the referendum (the postmark on the envelope in which the ballot was mailed shall be conclusive evidence of the date of mailing).

There shall be no voting by mail (except as provided above) by proxy, or by agent, but a duly authorized officer of a corporation, firm, association, or other legal entity, or a duly authorized member of a partnership, may cast its vote.

Farmers who planted Burley tobacco in the field in 1939, but harvested no tobacco on such acreage for any reason except neglect to farm the planted acreage shall be regarded as having been engaged in the production of Burley tobacco in 1939 and therefore eligible to vote in the referendum. Any farmer who did not plant tobacco in the field shall not be eligible to vote.

No farmer (whether an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other legal entity) shall be entitled to more than one vote in the referendum, even though he may have been engaged in the production of Burley tobacco in two or more communities, counties, or States in 1939.

In the event two or more persons engaged in producing Burley tobacco in 1939 not as members of a partnership but as tenants in common or joint tenants or as owners of community property, each such person shall be eligible to vote.

The following statements will serve as examples to illustrate the eligibility of persons to vote in particular instances.

(a) In the case of a husband and wife who engaged in the production of Burley tobacco as joint owners of a farm each is eligible to vote; and similarly in the case of a husband and his wife or a father and his son who engaged in the production of Burley tobacco in 1939 as joint tenants the husband and wife or the father and son, as the case may be, are each eligible to vote.

(b) A person who is considered as a wage hand on a farm but who receives part or all of the proceeds from a fixed acreage of tobacco and thus shares in the proceeds of the 1939 crop of Burley tobacco produced on the farm would be considered as a sharecropper and shall be eligible to vote.

(c) If any person gives a member of his family a part of the tobacco crop or its proceeds but such member of the family does not have an independent status on the farm as a share-tenant or share-cropper then such member of the family is not eligible to vote.

(d) A person acting as administrator, executor, or guardian, or in some similar fiduciary capacity, is eligible to vote for each estate or person for whom he acts in such capacity if such estate or person was engaged in the production of the 1939 Burley tobacco crop. In such event the heirs of the estate for whom the administrator or executor acts are not eligible to vote by virtue of being such heirs nor is the person for whom the guardian or other fiduciary acts eligible to vote.

(e) A minor is eligible to vote only if he was the owner-operator of a farm on which Burley tobacco was produced in 1939 or if as a party to a bona-fide lease or operating agreement he had an independent status as operator, share-tenant or sharecropper and as such was entitled to share in the proceeds of the 1939 Burley tobacco crop.

B. INSTRUCTIONS TO COUNTY COMMITTEES

The county agricultural conservation committee (hereinafter referred to as the county committee) shall be responsible for the proper holding of the referendum in the county and shall:

1. Have prepared in duplicate, prior to the date of the referendum, a registration list on 40–Tob–17 showing the name and other information required on the form for each farmer in the county who was engaged in the production of Burley tobacco in 1939. The registration list should be prepared by communities using as far as possible the records obtained under the 1939 agricultural conservation program. For those farms on which performance has not been checked the county committee should have the respective community committeeman or farm supervisor obtain the following information:

(a) The name of the farm operator;
(b) The name of each share-tenant or sharecropper growing Burley tobacco on the farm in 1939;
(c) The acreage share of each such person in the tobacco grown on the farm;
(d) The tenure of each such person; and
(e) The name and location of every other farm on which each such person engaged in the production of Burley tobacco in 1939.

In obtaining the above information, the farm operator may be requested by letter to visit the county office or a designated place in the community within a specified time for the purpose of furnishing the information; or a community committeeman or supervisor may visit the farm operator and obtain the information. In preparing the registration list (40–Tob–17) it is suggested that the procedure indicated by the example below be followed:

| Farm serial No. | Names of farmers eligible to vote | Tenure of farmer | Initials of committeeman issuing ballot |
|---|---|---|---|
| A | B | C | D |
| 1 | 100 | Adams, A. A. | O | |
| 2 | | Black, B. B. | C | |
| 3 | | White, W. W. | C | |
| 4 | 105 | Brown, B. B. (nonresident). | | |

If the registration list is prepared in accordance with the example above, the name of the farm operator will be listed in the left side of Column B, and in the lines immediately beneath the line on which the name of the farm operator is listed there will be listed in the right side of Column B the name of each share-tenant or sharecropper on the farm who shares in the proceeds of the 1939 Burley tobacco crop. Preferably all farms operated by the same person in any community should be listed in order and the name of such operator listed only once. However, if the name of any person who resides in a community is listed more than once in that community the words "Vote other farm" should be written beside his name for each farm with respect to which it is listed except for the first farm listed for him on the registration list. If the name of any person is listed in any community and such person does not reside in such community the word "Non-resident" should be written beside such person's name.

2. Designate one readily accessible place for balloting in each community and give public notice of the date of the referendum and of the time and place for balloting. Such notice shall be given by posting the notice form (40–Tob–18) at one or more places open to the public within each community as soon as possible after the date of the referendum has been announced.

3. Make use (without advertising expense) of all available agencies of public information, including newspapers and radio, to give Burley tobacco farmers in the county full and accurate public notice of the day and hours of voting, the location of polling places, and the rules governing eligibility to vote. Such notice shall be given as soon as possible after the date of the referendum has been announced.

4. Designate three local farmers residing in each community who produced Burley tobacco in the community in 1939 as the members of the community referendum committee to conduct the referendum on the national marketing quota for Burley tobacco in such community, and name one of the members chairman of the committee. Designate also one such farmer as an alternate to serve on the committee in the event that any of the three regular members cannot serve.

5. In counties with a combined total of less than 200 Burley tobacco farms, the county committee may treat the county as one community for the purpose of the referendum and hold the referendum and perform the duties both of county committee and community referendum committee.

6. See that each community referendum committee is provided with a suitable ballot box in which to place the ballots cast in the referendum.

7. See that 40–Tob–17 has been prepared, in accordance with the instructions herein, to show the persons eligible to vote in the referendum in each community.

8. Deliver the original of 40–Tob–17 and a supply of 40–Tob–19 and 20 to the chairman of the community referendum committee. Retain 40–Tob–17a in the county office.

9. See to it that the community referendum committees understand their duties as to (a) issuing ballot forms, (b) recording and challenging votes, (c) tabulating ballots, and (d) certifying results of the referendum in the community.

10. Notify the State committee by telephone, telegraph, or in person, as soon as possible after the closing of the polls, as to the preliminary count of "Yes" and "No" votes in the referendum held in the county.

11. Meet not later than two days after the date of the referendum for the purpose of receiving and summarizing on 40–Tob–21 the data contained on 40–Tob–20. Such meeting shall be open to the public. 40–Tob–21, showing the results in the county, shall be prepared and certified in quadruplicate, the original and one copy shall be sent to the State agricultural conservation committee (hereinafter referred to as the State committee) not later than four calendar days after the date of the referendum, one copy posted for sixty days in a conspicuous place accessible to the public in or near the office of the county committee (hereinafter referred to as the county office) and one copy permanently filed in the county office, where it shall be open to public inspection.

12. Notify the State committee as soon as possible by mail (on 40–Tob–21) as to the final outcome of the referendum in the county.

13. Make an investigation in each case of controversy or dispute regarding the eligibility of a voter. In each case where a ballot is marked "Challenged" by the community referendum committee, the eligibility of such person shall first be determined. If it is determined that such person is eligible, the ballot shall be placed with the challenged ballot of every other person found to be eligible, and when all the challenged ballots shall have been passed upon by the committee those ballots found to be valid shall be tabulated in the county summary. If it is determined that such person is not eligible the ballot shall be preserved with other ballots, as provided in paragraph 15 of this section B.

14. Make an immediate investigation in each case of dispute regarding the correctness of the summary of the referendum in a community. No dispute shall be investigated by the county committee unless it is brought to its attention within ten calendar days after the date on which the referendum in question was held. The county committee shall promptly decide the dispute and immediately report its findings to the State committee. All voted ballots, register forms, and community summary sheets involved in the dispute shall be mailed or delivered in person to the State office.

15. Seal the voted ballots, challenged ballots found ineligible, register sheets, and community summary sheets for the county in one or more envelopes or packages (marked "Burley Tobacco Referendum 1940", followed by the name of the county) and place them under lock and key in a safe place under the custody of the secretary of the county agricultural conservation association for a period of sixty calendar days from the date of the referendum. If no notice to the contrary is received by the end of such time, the ballots shall be destroyed and the register and community summary sheets permanently filed in the county office, where they shall be open to public inspection.

C. INSTRUCTIONS TO COMMUNITY REFERENDUM COMMITTEES

Each community referendum committee designated by the county agricultural conservation committee shall:

1. Arrange, with the assistance of the county committee, for conducting the referendum.

2. Assist the county committee in giving adequate public notice of the time and place for casting ballots in advance of the date on which the referendum will be held.

3. Provide a place where each voter can prepare and cast a ballot in secret and without interference.

4. Provide ballot boxes. Any container so arranged that ballots cannot be seen and cannot be removed without breaking seals on the container will be suitable. If strip adhesive paper or similar seals are used, such seals should be signed or initialed so that breaking or replacing the seal will affect or destroy the identifying marks and show that the seal has been tampered with.

5. Open the polls not later than 9:00 o'clock A. M., local standard time, on the date fixed for the referendum.

6. Hold the referendum in a fair unbiased manner.

7. Initial the ballot and also the registration list (40–Tob–17) opposite the name of the voter prior to issuance of the ballot to the voter. The initials of one committeeman will be sufficient but the committeeman who initials the ballot for a voter also should initial the registration list for such voter. If the eligibility of the voter is challenged make entries on the ballot form as required in paragraph 9 prior to issuance of the ballot to the voter.

8. Instruct each voter, as he is handed a ballot form, to mark his ballot so as to show which way he votes and then to fold the ballot and place it in the ballot box.

9. Issue a ballot to each person who claims to be eligible to vote and requests a ballot, even though his eligibility is challenged by the committee. The committee shall challenge the eligibility of any person to vote:

(a) If his name is not recorded on the register of eligible voters (40–Tob–17) prior to the date of the referendum;

(b) If he was not engaged in production of Burley tobacco in 1939 in the community where the community referendum committee has jurisdiction over the polls, or if there is some indication beside his name that he should vote in another community; or

(c) If the committee is not certain that he has a bona-fide status as a farmer engaged in the production of Burley tobacco in 1939.

In every case where the eligibility of any person to vote is challenged, the community referendum committee shall, prior to the issuance of the ballot to such person, write across the back of the ballot in large letters the word "Challenged" and underneath such word the following:

(a) The name of such person;
(b) The name or number or letter of the community in which such person claims to have produced Burley tobacco in 1939;
(c) The name of the operator of the farm on which such person claims to have produced Burley tobacco in 1939; and
(d) A concise statement of the reason for challenging the eligibility of such person to vote.

The committee shall provide each farmer whose ballot is challenged as provided above an envelope in which the farmer may seal the ballot before placing it in the ballot box.

10. For each farmer to whom a ballot form is issued but who is not already listed on 40–Tob–17 prior to the time the ballot is issued to him, record thereon the information required is columns A to D, inclusive.

11. Close the polls and discontinue acceptance of ballots at 5:00 o'clock P. M., local standard time, on the date of the referendum, or such later hour as is fixed by the State committee.

12. Immediately after closing the polls, open the ballot box and canvass the ballots cast, which canvass shall be kept open to the public.

13. Tabulate and record the results of the referendum on 40–Tob–20. The number of challenged ballots cast shall be entered on 40–Tob–20, in the space provided, and will not be shown as being either for or against the marketing quotas. If any ballot is found to be mutilated or marked in such a way that it cannot be determined whether the voter favored or opposed marketing quotas, it shall not be counted as a ballot cast, the number of such spoiled ballots shall be entered in the space provided and such ballots placed in an envelope marked "Spoiled Ballots", followed by the designation of the community.

14. The total number of ballots issued as shown by the entry on the registration list of the initials of committeemen who issued the ballots shall be determined. The total number of ballots cast (including challenged, spoiled and invalid ballots) shall be determined. If any ballot was cast which was not initialed by a committeeman such ballot shall be marked "Invalid" and included among the spoiled ballots as provided in paragraph 13 above.

15. Certify to the accuracy of the executed 40–Tob–17 and 40–Tob–20 by signing in the spaces provided.

16. Notify the county committee by telephone, or in person, as soon as possible after the closing of the polls as to the preliminary count of "Yes" and "No" votes in the community.

17. Seal the voted ballots (including those challenged), the spoiled ballots, the register sheets, and the community summary sheets in one or more envelopes appropriately identified by the designation of the community and deliver them to the county committee not later than two calendar days after the date of the referendum, with the unused ballots and other forms. The chairman of the community referendum committee shall be responsible for the safe delivery of such reports, ballots, and forms to the county committee.

18. Post an executed copy of 40–Tob–21, as soon as it is executed, at a conspicuous place at the polling place and see that it remains posted and accessible to the public for at least three calendar days after the date of the holding of the referendum.

D. INSTRUCTIONS TO STATE COMMITTEES

The State committee shall be in charge of and responsible for the conducting of the referendum in the State and shall:

1. Notify the applicable regional director by telegraph as to the preliminary count in the referendum in the State of votes for and votes against marketing quotas.

2. Summarize on 40–Tob–22 the information contained on 40–Tob–21 and mail two fully executed 40–Tob–22's to the applicable regional director not later than seven calendar days after the date of the referendum. If one sheet proves insufficient for listing the information with respect to all counties in the State, additional sheets properly numbered and identified and securely attached to the first sheet may be used for continuation, in which case totals and signatures should be entered only on the last sheet. One fully executed copy of 40–Tob–21 and 40–Tob–22 shall be permanently filed in the State office of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration where it shall be open to public inspection.

3. Complete the investigation of any report from any county regarding controversies, irregularities, or disputes over the correctness of summaries of the referendum, not later than fifteen calendar days after the date of the referendum, and promptly forward its findings in such cases to the applicable regional director.

Food and Drug Administration.

REPORT OF PRESIDING OFFICER, SUGGESTED FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS AND ORDER IN REGARD TO FILL OF CONTAINER OF CANNED PEACHES

IN THE MATTER OF PUBLIC HEARINGS FOR PURPOSE OF RECEIVING EVIDENCE UPON BASIS OF WHICH REGULATIONS MAY BE PROMULGATED (A) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE DEFINITION AND STANDARD OF IDENTITY, (2) REQUIRING LABEL DECLARATION OF CERTAIN OPTIONAL INGREDIENTS; (B) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF QUALITY, (2) SPECIFYING FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD QUALITY; (C) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF FILL OF CONTAINER, (2) SPECIFYING FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD FILL OF CONTAINER; FOR EACH OF THE FOODS COMMONLY KNOWN AS CANNED PEACHES, CANNED APRICOTS, CANNED PEARS AND CANNED CHERRIES

General Statement

1. In conformity with subsection (e) of Section 701 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act [Section 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U.S.C. 371 (e)], the Secretary of Agriculture on his own initiative published on March 7, 1939, which appeared on page 1143 of the Federal Register, a notice of a public hearing to be held on April 10, 1939, in the South Ballroom, Tenth Floor, Raleigh Hotel, Twelfth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue N. W., Washington, D. C., for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which, in pursuance of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the provisions of Sections 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2) [Secs. 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2), 52 Stat. 1046 and 1047; 21 U.S.C. 341, 343 (g), (2), and 343 (h), (1) and (2)], regulations may be promulgated (a) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity, and (2) requiring the label declaration of certain optional ingredients; (b) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of quality, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard quality; and (c) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of fill of container, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard fill of container; for each of the foods commonly known as canned peaches, canned apricots, canned pears, and canned cherries. The notice contained a proposal, in general terms, for defining and so standardizing each of such foods. John McDill Fox was designated as presiding officer to conduct such hearing. Thereafter, a public hearing was held at the time and place specified, and John McDill Fox acted as presiding officer. (Government's Exhibit No. 1.)

2. At said hearing the presiding officer announced that he would first hold a hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peaches.

3. In pursuance of such announcement, a hearing was held for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peaches, and the hearing was continued with reference to the other proposals, to dates subsequently to be announced.

4. On April 14, 1939, at 9 a. m., the hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of fill of container and specifying the form and manner of label statement of substandard fill of container for the food commonly known as canned peaches was convened, and was concluded at 1:45 p. m., on the same day. All interested persons were notified, pursuant to the rules of procedure, of their opportunity to file proposed findings of fact and written argument.

5. Within the time announced at the hearing within which interested persons might file proposed findings of fact, written argument, or both, various interested persons filed proposed findings of fact, together with written argument in support thereof, based upon the evidence adduced at the hearing.

6. Pursuant to the rules of procedure, the presiding officer, therefore, makes this his report and suggests that the Secretary issue the regulation hereinafter set forth and make, on the basis of the substantial evidence of record at the hearing, the findings of fact herein contained as part of the order promulgating and making public such regulation.

Suggested Findings

1. The quantity of the optional peach ingredient which can be placed in a container varies, depending upon the method of packing and upon the shape, size, degree of maturity, and specific gravity of the units of the optional peach ingredient (R. pp. 29, 48, 49).

2. With the exception of comparatively few slack filled cans, canned peaches as they appear on the market at the present time contain the maximum quantity of the optional peach ingredient which, using reasonably good factory practice, can be placed and sealed in each can and processed by heat to prevent spoilage, without crushing or breaking the peach units (R. pp. 30, 32, 49, 50).

3. The maximum quantity of the optional peach ingredient varies, depending on the size of the container, the method of packing, the form, size, firmness of units, the necessity for having sufficient liquid to insure proper processing, and other factors (R. p. 30).

4. The can should contain the greatest number of peach units the canner can place therein and properly seal and process (R. pp. 30, 31, 32, 49, 50).

5. Knowing the form, shape, size, degree of maturity and comparative specific gravity of the peach units in any lot being canned, canners know the greatest amount of peach units which can be placed in a can of any given size without damage, and canners employ inspectors to insure proper filling by packers (R. pp. 30, 31).

6. None of the various methods which have been studied for objective measurements of fill have shown any uniform correlation between the quantity of peach units put in and the quantity of peach units cut out. Assurance to the consumer of a can full of peaches can be obtained only by a requirement as to the quantity put in the container (R. pp. 27–29, 31, 32, 35, 40, 41, 45, 50, 58, 60, 62, 64, 81, 82, 90, 91, 92, 95, 96, 98, 102, 110, 112) (Government's Exhibits Nos. 2 and 3) (Other Interested Parties' Exhibits Nos. 1 and 2).

7. It is necessary and desirable in the interest of the consumer that canned peaches falling below a standard of fill of container bear on the label a simple and understandable statement of that fact (R. pp. 32, 33). "Below Standard in Fill" is such a statement (R. pp. 32, 33).

8. If canned peaches fall below a standard of fill of container, it is necessary and desirable in the interest of the consumer that the label bear the statement "Below Standard in Fill", printed in Cheltenham bold condensed caps. If the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 1 pound, the statement should be in 12-point type; if such quantity is 1 pound or more, the statement should be in 14-point type. Such statement should be enclosed within lines not less than 6 points in width, forming a rectangle; but if the peaches also fall below the standard of quality for canned peaches and bear the label statement of substandard quality specified in the standard of quality for canned peaches, both statements (one following the other) may be enclosed within the same rectangle. Such statement or statements, with enclosing lines, should be on a strongly contrasting, uniform background, and should be so placed as to be easily seen when the name "Peaches" or any pictorial representation of a peach is viewed, wherever such name or representation appears so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase (R. p. 33).

9. The substandard statement now required by the regulations issued pursuant to the McNary-Mapes Amendment is "Below U. S. Standard" followed by "Slack Fill", in the case of excess head space; and by the statement "Contains Excessive Added Liquid", in the case of excessive packing medium (R. pp. 33, 34). These statements are required to appear in substantially the same form as herein proposed (R. p. 34).

10. The phrase "Below Standard" as proposed, differs from the present requirement "Below U. S. Standard". The term "U. S." on a food product has been found to imply to consumers that the product has been packed under the supervision of the U. S. Government. The phrase "In Fill", as proposed, differs from the present requirement of "Slack Fill" or "Contains Excessive Added Liquid". The standard herein proposed is based on a can filled to its maximum capacity with fruit. If adopted and met, the headspace will not be excessive, nor will there be excessive liquid present. If not met, the expression "Below Standard in Fill" is simpler and more understandable in describing a product which fails to meet a standard based on the amount of peaches present rather than on the amount of liquid and peaches or the quantity of liquid present (R. pp. 34, 35).

Suggested Conclusion in the Form of a Regulation

Upon the basis of the foregoing findings of fact, the following reasonable standard of fill of container and the form and manner of label statement of substandard fill of container for the food commonly known as canned peaches is hereby suggested to be promulgated as a regulation:

§ 27.002 Canned peaches—Fill of container; label statement of substandard fill. (a) The standard of fill of container for canned peaches is the maximum quantity of the optional peach ingredient which can be sealed in the container and processed by heat to prevent spoilage, without crushing or breaking such ingredient.

(b) If canned peaches fall below the standard of fill of container prescribed in subsection (a), the label shall bear the statement "Below Standard in Fill," printed in Cheltenham bold condensed caps. If the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 1 pound, the statement shall be in 12-point type; if such quantity is 1 pound or more, the statement shall be in 14-point type. Such statement shall be enclosed within lines, not less than 6 points in width, forming a rectangle; but if the statement specified in Section 27.001 (d) is also used, both statements (one following the other) may be enclosed within the same rectangle. Such statement or statements, with enclosing lines, shall be on a strongly contrasting, uniform background, and shall be so placed as to be easily seen when the name "Peaches" or any pictorial representation of a peach is viewed, wherever such name or representation appears so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase.

Time Within Which to File Objections

Within ten days after the receipt of the copy of the Federal Register containing this report, any interested person who wishes to object to any matter set out in the suggested findings of fact and suggested conclusion in the form of a regulation shall transmit such objection in writing to the Hearing Clerk. At the same time each such interested person shall transmit in writing to the Hearing Clerk a brief statement concerning each of the objections taken to the action of the presiding officer upon which he wishes to rely, referring where relevant to the pages of the transcript of evidence.

Respectfully submitted.

Presiding Officer.

REPORT OF PRESIDING OFFICER, SUGGESTED FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS AND ORDER IN REGARD TO QUALITY OF CANNED PEACHES

IN THE MATTER OF PUBLIC HEARINGS FOR PURPOSE OF RECEIVING EVIDENCE UPON BASIS OF WHICH REGULATIONS MAY BE PROMULGATED (A) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE DEFINITION AND STANDARD OF IDENTITY (2) REQUIRING LABEL DECLARATION OF CERTAIN OPTIONAL INGREDIENTS; (B) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF QUALITY, (2) SPECIFYING FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD QUALITY; (C) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF FILL OF CONTAINER, (2) SPECIFYING FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD FILL OF CONTAINER; FOR EACH OF THE FOODS COMMONLY KNOWN AS CANNED PEACHES, CANNED APRICOTS, CANNED PEARS AND CANNED CHERRIES

General Statement

1. In conformity with subsection (e) of Section 701 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act [Section 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U.S.C. 371 (e)], the Secretary of Agriculture on his own initiative published on March 7, 1939, which appeared on page 1143 of the FEDERAL REGISTER, a notice of a public hearing to be held on April 10, 1939, in the South Ballroom, Tenth Floor, Raleigh Hotel, Twelfth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue N. W., Washington, D. C., for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which, in pursuance of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the provisions of Sections 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2) [Secs. 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2), 52 Stat. 1046 and 1047; 21 U.S.C. 341, 343 (g), (2), and 343 (h), (1) and (2)], regulations may be promulgated (a) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity, and (2) requiring the label declaration of certain optional ingredients; (b) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of quality, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard quality; and (c) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of fill of container, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard fill of container; for each of the foods commonly known as canned peaches, canned apricots, canned pears, and canned cherries. The notice contained a proposal, in general terms, for defining and so standardizing each of such foods. John McDill Fox was designated as presiding officer to conduct such hearing. Thereafter, a public hearing was held at the time and place specified, and John McDill Fox acted as presiding officer. (Government's Exhibit No. 1.)

2. At said hearing the presiding officer announced that he would first hold a hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peaches.

3. In pursuance of such announcement, a hearing was held for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peaches, and was continued with reference to the other proposals, to dates subsequently to be announced.

4. On April 13, 1939, at 9:45 a. m., the hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of quality and specifying the form and manner of label statement of substandard quality for the food commonly known as canned peaches was convened, and was concluded at 5:30 p. m., on the same date. All interested persons were notified, pursuant to the rules of procedure, of their opportunity to file proposed findings of fact and argument.

5. Within the time announced at the hearing within which interested persons might file written argument, proposed findings of fact, or both, various interested persons filed proposed findings of fact, together with written argument in support thereof, based upon the evidence adduced at the hearing, which, if granted, would modify the proposal contained in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

6. There was controversy with respect to (a) the amount of adhering peel in peeled canned peaches, (b) the degree to which a peach or a unit of a peach may be trimmed, (c) the number of peach units in a container which are crushed or broken, (d) label statements.

7. Testimony was introduced tracing the development of standards with reference to the McNary-Mapes Amendment to the Food and Drugs Act of 1906, passed in 1930, and the formulation of a standard of quality under that amendment.

Various factors which go to make up a quality standard were considered, together with objective measurements for determining such factors. These factors and objective measurements were made up after conferences with canners, with the trade, with consumers and with expert graders in all sections of the country. The factors which enter into the quality of canned peaches differ somewhat, depending upon the form of the unit of the peach ingredient. Tenderness is a factor. The size of the unit is a factor if the units are halves or quarters. Uniformity of size of unit is a factor in the cases of whole peaches, halves and quarters. Absence of peel is a factor in peeled peaches. Freedom from blemishes is a factor. The contour of the units is a factor in the cases of whole peaches, halves and quarters, and freedom from crushed or broken units is a factor.

An objective test for determining the factor of tenderness, as set forth in the Government's proposal (Government's Exhibit No. 1, Sec. 27.001, subsection (b)), was described. No other objective test for this factor was offered.

It was agreed that in peeled peaches absence of peel is a factor of quality. Pieces of peel are unsightly and have an unpleasant feel if taken into the mouth. All canners recognize this fact and do not intentionally pack peaches bearing pieces of peel. In most cases, peaches are peeled with a hot lye solution which is immediately washed off. This is very efficient and pieces of adhering peel are not very common. When present, the most casual examination reveals them and such pieces easily can be removed by hand trimming. Other methods of removing peel require a little more care to insure complete removal, but the amount of care required is not unreasonably great so that it is commercially practicable to pack peaches completely free from peel. Except for some unpeeled packs, almost no cans with peel present had been encountered by the Department in the past several years out of the thousands of cans examined.

It was testified that peaches may be blemished with scab, hail injury, discoloration or other minor abnormalities such as bird pecks. Scab leaves a section of scar tissue on the peach which is hard and unsightly. Hail injury results in brown, unsightly spots. Discoloration is usually the result of bruises, frost bite or other undesirable conditions. In the opinion of many qualified witnesses, canned peaches are, for practical canning purposes, free from blemishes if not more than 1/5 of the units in the container are blemished. Peaches are relatively large units and blemishes are not common so they can be readily sorted and trimmed to remove such blemishes. A tolerance of 20 percent would be sufficient, from the thousands of cans of peaches examined, to make due allowance for such small and not too apparent blemishes.

It was testified that a tolerance of 5 percent of crushed or broken units would be reasonable. Many containers carry less than 20 units. In a container of less than 20 units, 1 crushed or broken unit is as close to absolute freedom as reasonably can be required. If, however, the number of crushed or broken units is 20 percent, or more, experience would indicate that either they must have been added as such or that the peaches were canned by some method which crushed or broke more units than is usual in good commercial practice.

The changes in the standards of quality were traced since the first promulgation of quality standards under the McNary-Mapes Amendment. In 1931, a standard of quality for canned peaches was promulgated, and the minimum standard requirement for tender units was raised in 1932 from 80 percent to 90 percent, which is the present standard for quality. The present proposal (Government's Exhibit No. 1) suggests the abolishment of tolerance for units not tender and requires all units to meet the test for tenderness.

The requirements for uniformity of size under the McNary-Mapes Amendment, promulgated in 1931, were changed on two occasions, once in 1932 so that this quality factor was based on weight rather than on diameter, and the second change made in 1937 provided that the units are uniform sized when the weight of the largest unit in the can is not more than twice the weight of the smallest unit in the can. This requirement is now in effect under such amendment and is the requirement for this factor set forth in the present proposal (Government's Exhibit No. 1).

Except for the elimination of raggedness as a blemish in the present proposal (Government's Exhibit No. 1), the factor with reference to blemishes is substantially the same as in the McNary-Mapes Amendment.

The requirement with respect to untrimmed units, which was suggested in the proposal of the Government (Government's Exhibit No. 1) and supported by testimony, differs from the previous requirement under the McNary-Mapes Amendment in that the present suggestion separates the two quality factors, namely, excessively trimmed and broken units, and proposes that the tolerance for units so trimmed that their normal contour is destroyed be eliminated. This elimination was proposed because trimmed units are easily segregated and packed separately by the cannery. In addition, consumers objected to the presence of even one unit so trimmed as to destroy its normal contour.

Testimony was adduced that the expression "Below Standard in Quality" would best describe the condition of canned peaches which fall below a standard of quality and that this phrase should be qualified, showing in what respects such peaches fall below the standard, or if the product falls below the standard in several respects, the statement "Below Standard in Quality Good Food—Not High Grade" was recommended.

Evidence was adduced that freestone peaches are peeled by scalding and then slipping the skin by hand rather than by lye peeling.

The weight of the evidence adduced at the hearing by other interested parties was to the effect that the requirement in the proposal (Government's Exhibit No. 1) that no peel be present in standard canned peaches was unreasonably stringent, and that the tolerance of one square inch of peel per pound of net contents, which is the present requirement under the McNary-Mapes Amendment, is reasonable and capable of being complied with commercially.

It was recommended that the expression "normal shape" be substituted for the expression "normal contour". Witnesses at the hearing regarded the terms as synonymous.

It was suggested that peaches not of uniform size be labeled as below standard in quality because they consisted of "irregular pieces" rather than because they consisted of "mixed sizes" as proposed. This suggestion was made in connection with the suggestion that peaches ungraded for size may not be regarded as substandard in quality. Government witnesses testified that uniformity of size is a factor in the quality of peaches. Indeed, all witnesses concurred therein.

8. Pursuant to the rules of procedure, the presiding officer, therefore, makes this his report and suggests that the Secretary issue the regulation hereinafter set forth and make, on the basis of the substantial evidence of record at the hearing, the findings of fact herein contained as part of the order promulgating and making public such regulation.

Suggested Findings

1. Factors which go to make up quality in canned peaches are tenderness of the peach ingredient; size of units in the case of peach halves and quarters; uniformity of size of units in the cases of whole peaches, halves, and quarters; absence of peel in all forms of the peach unit except in the case of unpealed peaches; freedom from blemishes; the shape of the units in the cases of whole peaches, halves, quarters, and slices; freedom from crushed or broken units (R. pp. 24–25, 80–81).

2. In canned peaches, the biting or chewing characteristic of the peach is an index of the quality factor, tenderness. This factor involves the maturity of the peach and the extent to which it has been cooked (R. p. 25).

3. Such tenderness is measurable objectively by the following method:

So trim a test piece from the unit as to fit, with peel surface up, into a supporting receptacle. If the unit is of different firmness in different parts of its peel surface, trim the piece from the firmest part. If the piece is unpeeled, remove the peel. The top of the receptacle is circular in shape, of 1 1/8 inches inside diameter, with vertical sides; or rectangular in shape, 3/4 inch by 1 inch inside measurements, with ends vertical and sides sloping downward and joining at the center at a vertical depth of 3/4 inch. Use the circular receptacle for testing units of such size that a test piece can be trimmed therefrom to fit it. Use the rectangular receptacle for testing other units. Test no unit from which a test piece with rectangular peel surface at least 1/2 inch by 1 inch cannot be trimmed. Test the piece by means of a round metal rod 3/8 inch in diameter. To the upper end of the rod is affixed a device to which weight can be added. The rod is held vertically by a support through which it can freely move upward or downward. The lower end of the rod is a plane surface to which the vertical axis of the rod is perpendicular. Adjust the combined weight of the rod and device to 100 grams. Set the receptacle so that the surface of the test piece is held horizontally. Lower the end of the rod to the approximate center of such surface, and add weight to the device at a uniform, continuous rate of 12 grams per second until the rod pierces the test piece. Weigh the rod and weighted device. Test all units in containers of 50 units or less, except those units too small for testing or too soft for trimming. Test at least 50 units, taken at random, in containers of more than 50 units; but if less than 50 units are of sufficient size and firmness for testing, test those which are of sufficient size and firmness (R. pp. 25–29, 81, Government's Exhibit No. 1).

4. Forms of units of the peach ingredient too small for such testing or too soft for such trimming need not be tested for tenderness (R. p. 28).

5. The foregoing method outlined in Finding No. 3 is directly correlated with the consensus of consumer opinion of what constitutes tenderness in canned peaches (R. p. 29).

6. Size of units, as measured by the weight of the unit, is not a factor of quality in canned peaches except in the cases of halves and quarters (R. pp. 31, 81).

7. Canned peaches which are of standard quality have a minimum size for halves and quarters at the present time (R. pp. 31, 58–61, 81). Halves and quarters smaller than such minimum size are commonly packed as substandard peaches at the present time (R. pp. 31–32, 58–61, 81).

8. Halves and quarters have a minimum size of 3/5 ounce and 7/10 ounce, respectively (R. pp. 32, 81). These minima are less than the minima adopted by the packers of over 97 percent of the canned peaches produced in the United States (R. pp. 32, 81).

9. Such weights are determinable as follows: The unit is placed on a screen and the liquid is allowed to drain therefrom for two minutes. The unit is then weighed. (R. pp. 32, 81–82.)

10. Uniformity of size of units is not a factor of quality in canned peaches unless the units are whole, halves, or quarters (R. pp. 32–33, 81–82). Uniformity of size cannot be controlled under the best commercial practice in the cases of slices and dice (R. pp. 33, 81–82). Discrepancies in size are not objectionable to the consumers when the units are small, such as slices or dice (R. pp. 33, 81–82). Uniformity of size is obviously not a factor in the quality of the product when the units are mixed pieces of irregular size (R. pp. 33, 81–82).

11. Uniformity of size of units in the cases of whole, halves, or quarters is necessary in order to prevent variant numbers of units in servings of desserts and salads on the same table (R. pp. 33, 81–82).

12. Such units are of reasonable uniformity of size if the weight of the largest unit is not more than twice the weight of the smallest unit in the container (R. pp. 33–34, 68–69, 81–82, 87, 165–167, 173–174, 178–180). Weights of such units are determined in the same manner as weights for minimum size of units (R. pp. 34, 81–82).

13. Absence of peel is a factor of quality in canned peaches except in the case of peaches canned as unpeeled peaches (R. pp. 34, 62, 76, 82, 143–144, 167–170, 174).

14. Adhering peel ordinarily can be removed completely from the peach, but some peel is occasionally left in good commercial practice (R. pp. 35, 62, 63, 82, 107, 140, 151–153, 159–160, 167–170, 174–175). 1 square inch of peel per pound of net content is a reasonable maximum tolerance for peel present in the finished product (R. pp. 143, 151–153, 167–170, 174–175, 176).

15. Freedom from blemishes such as scab, hail injury, discoloration, or other abnormalities is a factor of quality in canned peaches (R. pp. 35, 82).

16. A tolerance for blemishes is necessary because of small blemishes not apparent in hand sorting as carried out under good commercial practice (R. pp. 36, 82). 20 percent blemished units is a reasonable tolerance (R. pp. 36, 82).

17. Normal contour or shape of the peach unit is a factor of quality in canned peaches if the units are whole, halves, quarters, or slices (R. pp. 36–67, 82, 144, 146, 147, 176).

18. When the units are trimmed, normal shape can be preserved (R. pp. 37, 82). It is possible for the canner to meet this quality factor by discarding all units so trimmed that their normal shape is not preserved (R. pp. 37, 82). Consumers uniformly object to unevenly trimmed units (R. pp. 37, 82).

19. Freedom from crushed or broken units is a factor of quality in canned peaches (R. pp. 37–38, 82). A crushed unit is a unit pressed so as to destroy its normal shape. A broken unit is a unit separated into two or more parts. Units which do not have normal contour because of ripeness and which do not show any crushing are not crushed or broken units. (R. pp. 38, 62.) Crushed and broken units are not deliberately packed as canned peaches which are of standard quality at the present time (R. pp. 38, 82). The concussion resulting from the application of the lid to the can at high speeds under great pressure sometimes breaks or crushes the topmost unit of well-filled containers in good commercial practice (R. pp. 39, 82). For this reason, a tolerance for crushed and broken units is necessary, and a tolerance of 5 percent for containers of more than 20 units or of 1 unit for containers of less than 20 units is reasonable (R. pp. 39, 82).

20. A canner employing good commercial practice can meet each of the foregoing factors of quality in canned peaches without difficulty (R. pp. 40, 82, 83).

21. Each factor of quality takes into consideration and makes due allowance for the differing characteristics of the several varieties of peaches. Some varieties can meet the various factors more easily than others, but all varieties can meet the foregoing factors of quality without difficulty under good commercial practice (R. pp. 41, 83–84).

22. Each of the factors hereinbefore referred to has been in effect since 1931 in the standards of quality for canned peaches promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to the McNary-Mapes Amendment to the Food and Drugs Act of 1906 (R. p. 41).

23. There has been no substantial change in the provision with respect to tenderness since the promulgation of such original standard in 1931, except that the tolerance for units not tender was reduced from 20 percent to 10 percent in 1932 (R. pp. 43, 44).

24. There is no substantial difference between the measure of tenderness as referred to herein and the present McNary-Mapes standard except that the tolerance of 10 percent of units not tender is eliminated (R. p. 44). Elimination of such tolerance is justified by present commercial practice (R. p. 44).

25. The objective method of determining tenderness has been the same throughout the history of such standards promulgated under the McNary-Mapes Amendment and is an accurate and reliable method for determining tenderness (R. p. 44).

26. There has been no change in the provisions of the standards promulgated under the McNary-Mapes Amendment for minimum size of units, except in 1932 when the minimum size for halves was reduced from ¾ ounce to ⅜ ounce.

27. Small slices occur inadvertently, and it is impossible to eliminate them under good commercial practice (R. p. 33). Very small whole peaches are a highly desirable quality product (R. p. 31). ⅜ ounce and ⅞ ounce more truly represent the respective minimum sizes of normal sized halves and quarters than ¾ ounce and ⅜ ounce (R. p. 46).

28. There have been no changes in the standards promulgated under the McNary-Mapes Amendment with respect to uniformity of size of units except that in 1932 such uniformity was placed upon a weight rather than upon a size basis, and except that in 1937 the degree of uniformity was reduced from a variation of 80 percent to 100 percent (R. pp. 47–48).

29. No variation from the present McNary-Mapes requirement with respect to uniformity is desirable (R. p. 48).

30. There have been no changes from the original standard promulgated under the McNary-Mapes Amendment with respect to freedom from blemishes (R. pp. 48–49).

31. It is not desirable to change the present McNary-Mapes standard with respect to freedom from blemishes, except to eliminate raggedness as a blemish (R. p. 49). Raggedness is characteristic of some varieties of peaches (R. pp. 49, 67–68).

32. There have been no changes in the original requirement of the McNary-Mapes standards with respect to the normal shape of the peach units (R. pp. 49–50).

33. No changes in the present McNary-Mapes standard are desirable except the elimination of the tolerance for units not of normal shape (R. pp. 50, 163–165, 176). The elimination of the tolerance is reasonable because canners under good commercial practice can and do remove all excessively trimmed units prior to canning (R. pp. 50, 72–74).

34. There have been no changes in the original McNary-Mapes standard with respect to broken units except that the tolerance was reduced in 1932 from 20 percent to 10 percent of broken units and a proviso added to permit of one crushed unit resulting from the application of the lid (R. p. 51).

35. That all of the foregoing findings of fact are reasonable and will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumer (R. p. 54).

36. It is reasonable and it will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer to have a simple and understandable statement of substandard quality placed on the label. "Below Standard in Quality" qualified by an explanation wherein the product falls below standard in quality is such a statement (R. pp. 56, 99–100, 102, 188–190, 192, 195, 199, 202–204). If the peaches are not tender, the qualifying statement "Not Tender" furnishes an accurate explanation of the reason the product is below standard. Likewise, the qualifying statement "Small Halves", or "Small Quarters", if under minimum size; "Mixed Sizes", if not of uniform size; "Not Well Peeled", if over the tolerance for peels; "Blemished", if over the tolerance for blemishes; "Unevenly Trimmed", if trimmed to destroy normal shape; "Partly Crushed or Broken", if over the tolerance for crushed or broken units (R. pp. 56, 103, 148, 149, 154, 189–190, 199).

37. It is reasonable and it will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer to have such statement immediately and conspicuously precede or follow, without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter, the name "Peaches", together with words and statements required or authorized to appear with such name by the definition and standard of identity for canned peaches (R. pp. 56–57).

38. Such label requirements for peaches of substandard quality would not be practicable under good commercial practices in instances such as where the product fell below the standard in several respects (R. p. 57).

39. In such event, the statement "Below Standard in Quality Good Food—Not High Grade" would be reasonable, would be informative to the consumer, and would promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer (R. pp. 57, 188–190, 202–204).

40. It is reasonable and it would promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer to have such statement printed in two lines of Cheltenham bold condensed caps. The words "Below Standard in Quality" to constitute the first line, and the second to immediately follow. If the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 1 pound, such type of the first line shall be 12-point, and of the second, 8-point. If such quantity is 1 pound or more, such type of the first line shall be 14-point, and of the second, 10-point. Such statement is to be enclosed within lines, not less than 6 points in width, forming a rectangle. Such statement, with enclosing lines, is to be on a strongly contrasting, uniform background, and is to be so placed as to be easily seen when the name "Peaches" or any pictorial representation of a peach is viewed, wherever such name or representation appears so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase (R. pp. 57–58, 100–102).

41. The wording of this statement differs from the statement required under the present McNary-Mapes standard only in the elimination of the explanation "U. S.", and a substitution of "Below Standard in Quality" for "Below Standard" (R. p. 96). The explanation "U. S." on labels has been found to be misleading to consumers (R. pp. 97–98). The foregoing findings for manner and form of the label statement differ from the present McNary-Mapes requirements with respect to the elimination of certain technical requirements (R. pp. 95–96).

Suggested Conclusion in the Form of a Regulation

Upon the basis of the foregoing findings of fact, the following reasonable standard of quality and form and manner of label statement of substandard quality for the food commonly known as canned peaches is hereby suggested to be promulgated as a regulation:

§ 27.001 Canned peaches—Quality; label statement of substandard quality. (a) The standard of quality for canned peaches is as follows:

(1) All units tested in accordance with the method prescribed in subsection (b) are pierced by a weight of not more than 300 grams;

(2) In the cases of halves and quarters, the weight of each unit is not less than ⅗ ounce and 7/10 ounce, respectively;

(3) In the cases of whole peaches, halves, and quarters, the weight of the largest unit in the container is not more than twice the weight of the smallest unit therein;

(4) Except in the case of unpeeled peaches, there is present in the finished canned peaches not more than 1 square inch of peel per each 1 pound of net contents;

(5) Not more than 20 percent of the units in the container are blemished with scab, hail injury, discoloration, or other abnormalities;

(6) In the cases of whole peaches, halves, quarters, and slices, all units are untrimmed, or are so trimmed as to preserve normal shape; and

(7) Not more than 5 percent of the units in a container of 20 or more units, and not more than one unit in a container of less than 20 units, is crushed or broken. (A unit which has lost its normal contour because of ripeness and which bears no mark of crushing shall not be considered to be crushed or broken.)

(b) Canned peaches shall be tested by the following method to determine whether or not they meet the requirements of clause (1) of subsection (a):

So trim a test piece from the unit as to fit, with peel surface up, into a supporting receptacle. If the unit is of different firmness in different parts of its peel surface, trim the piece from the firmest part. If the piece is unpeeled, remove the peel. The top of the receptacle is circular in shape, of 1½ inches inside diameter, with vertical sides; or rectangular in shape, ¾ inch by 1 inch inside measurements, with ends vertical and sides sloping downward and joining at the center at a vertical depth of ¾ inch. Use the circular receptacle for testing units of such size that a test piece can be trimmed therefrom to fit it. Use the rectangular receptacle for testing other units. Test no unit from which a test piece with rectangular peel surface at least ½ inch by 1 inch cannot be trimmed. Test the piece by means of a round metal rod $\frac{5}{32}$ inch in diameter. To the upper end of the rod is affixed a device to which weight can be added. The rod is held vertically by a support through which it can freely move upward or downward. The lower end of the rod is a plane surface to which the vertical axis of the rod is perpendicular. Adjust the combined weight of the rod and device to 100 grams. Set the receptacle so that the surface of the test piece is held horizontally. Lower the end of the rod to the approximate center of such surface, and add weight to the device at a uniform, continuous rate of 12 grams per second until the rod pierces the test piece. Weigh the rod and weighted device. Test all units in containers of 50 units or less, except those units too small for testing or too soft for trimming. Test at least 50 units, taken at random, in containers of more than 50 units; but if less than 50 units are of sufficient size and firmness for testing, test those which are of sufficient size and firmness.

(c) If the quality of canned peaches falls below the standard prescribed by subsection (a), the label [unless it bears the statement specified in subsection (d)] shall bear the statement "Below Standard in Quality ----------", the blank to be filled in with the word or words specified after the corresponding number of each clause of subsection (a) which such canned peaches fail to meet, as follows: (1) "Not tender"; (2) "Small halves", or "Small quarters", as the case may be; (3) "Mixed sizes"; (4) "Not well peeled"; (5) "Blemished"; (6) "Unevenly trimmed"; (7) "Partly crushed or broken". Such statement shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow, without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter, the name "Peaches" and the words and statements required or authorized to appear with such name by Section 27.000 (b).

(d) In lieu of the statement or statements specified in subsection (c), the label may bear the statement "Below Standard in Quality Good Food—Not High Grade", printed in two lines of Cheltenham bold condensed caps. The words "Below Standard in Quality" shall constitute the first line, and the second shall immediately follow. If the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 1 pound, the type of the first line shall be 12-point, and of the second, 8-point. If such quantity is 1 pound or more, the type of the first line shall be 14-point, and of the second, 10-point. Such statement shall be enclosed within lines, not less than 6 points in width, forming a rectangle. Such statement, with enclosing lines, shall be on a strongly contrasting, uniform background, and shall be so placed as to be easily seen when the name "Peaches" or any pictorial representation of a peach is viewed, wherever such name or representation appears so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase.

Time Within Which to File Objections

At the

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

CIVIL AERONAUTICS AUTHORITY

[Amendment 28, Civil Air Regulations]

AIRPLANE PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 12th day of September 1939.

Acting pursuant to the authority vested in it by the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, particularly sections 205 (a), 601 (a) and 603 of said Act, and finding that its action is desirable in the public interest and is necessary to carry out the provisions of, and to exercise and perform its powers and duties under said Act, the Civil Aeronautics Authority hereby amends the Civil Air Regulations as follows:

Effective September 12, 1939, the Civil Air Regulations, as amended, are amended by striking out so much of section 04.70 as reads as follows:

"All airplanes shall comply with the following performance requirements, in standard atmosphere, at all weights up to and including the standard weight (§ 04.102), and under all loading conditions within the center of gravity range certified (§ 04.742). There shall be no flight characteristics which, in the opinion of the Authority, render the airplane unairworthy."

and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"All airplanes shall comply with the following performance requirements, in standard atmosphere, at all weights up to and including the standard weight (§ 04.102) and under all loading conditions within the center of gravity range certified (§ 04.742): Provided, That demonstration of compliance with landing-speed requirements, and with those relating to take-off time and distance, may be limited to an intermediate range of center of gravity positions if it can be shown that it is possible for the airplane to continue flight with one engine inoperative, and that passengers or other load can be easily and rapidly shifted while in flight to permit the realization, at the pilot's discretion, of a center of gravity position within the range covered by this demonstration. There shall be no flight or handling characteristics which, in the opinion of the Authority, render the airplane unairworthy."

By the Authority.

36. D&C Blue No. 3—Predominantly violet. That the shade of the color D&C Blue No. 3 is more violet than blue, and the inclusion of the word "Blue" in this color, which is used as a shade of violet, is likely to cause confusion which would not be caused by the use of the name "D&C Violet No. 2."

For the Secretary of State:

[SEAL] By----------

§ 1.2 Registration fee. Applications for registration transmitted to the Secretary of State must be accompanied by a registration fee in the form of money orders or a certified check. This fee is in the amount of $100 for persons who have not manufactured, exported, or imported arms, ammunition, or implements of war, as enumerated in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, to a total sales value of more than $50,000 during the 12 months immediately preceding their application for registration, and in the amount of $500 for persons who have manufactured, exported, or imported arms, ammunition, or implements of war, as enumerated, to a total sales value of more than $50,000 during the 12 months immediately preceding their application. Persons paying a fee of $100 shall submit with their application for registration an affidavit, signed and sworn to before a notary public by a responsible officer of the company, stating that the company did not manufacture, export, or import arms, ammunition, or implements of war, as enumerated in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, to a total sales value of more than $50,000 during the 12 months immediately preceding the application for registration and setting forth such evidence in substantiation of this affirmation as may seem appropriate.* [Part III, (2)†]

§ 1.3 Certificate of registration. Upon receipt of an application for registration and the appended certificate of registration, duly filled out and accompanied by a registration fee of $100 or $500, as the case may be, and by a satisfactory affidavit as described above in the case of persons paying a fee of $100, the Secretary of State will return to the applicant, as a receipt, the certificate of registration, duly signed and sealed. This certificate of registration must be conspicuously displayed at the principal place of business of the person registered.* [Part III, (3)†]

§ 1.4 Notification of changes. Every person registered shall notify the Secretary of State of any change in the information set forth in his certificate of registration. If the change involves a revision of the list of arms, ammunition, and implements of war which he manufactures, exports or imports, or a change of name, such registered person shall submit, on the form described in paragraph (1) above, an application for an amended certificate of registration, including this information. Upon the receipt of a duly executed application therefor, the Secretary of State will issue to such person, free of charge, an amended certificate of registration which will remain valid until the date of the expiration of his original certificate.* [Part III, (4)†]

§ 1.5 Manufacturers, exporters and importers of aircraft wheels and propeller blades. Manufacturers, exporters, and importers of component parts of the articles or units enumerated in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, but not of a complete article or unit listed in that proclamation, are not required to register under the joint resolution. Aircraft wheels and aircraft propeller blades are, however, considered as constituting to such an unusual degree the main body of aircraft under-carriage units and aircraft propellers that the manufacture, export, or import of such wheels or blades alone is held to subject the manufacturer, exporter, or importer to the requirement of registration.* [Part III, (5)†]

§ 1.6 Forgings, castings, and machined bodies. Forgings, castings, and machined bodies for any of the arms, ammunition, or implements of war enumerated in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, which have reached such a stage in manufacture that they are clearly identifiable as forgings, castings, or machined bodies for arms, ammunition, and implements of war, are considered as constituting arms, ammunition, and implements of war for the purposes of section 5 of the joint resolution.* [Part III, (6)†]

§ 1.7 Club propellers, cut away models of aircraft engines and mock-ups. Club propellers, cut away models of aircraft engines and mock-ups or models of arms, ammunition, and implements of war which by reason of design or construction are incapable of being used or of being adapted for use in flight or for military or naval purpose will not be considered as arms, ammunition, or implements of war within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution.* [Part III, (7)†]

§ 1.8 Production for experimental or scientific purposes. The production for experimental or scientific purposes, when such production is not followed by sale, of the appliances and substances included in category VI, or of single units of other arms, ammunition, and implements of war, is not considered as manufacture for the purposes of section 5 of the joint resolution.* [Part III, (8)†]

§ 1.9 Persons who may make or receive occasional shipments. Persons who are not engaged in the business of exporting or importing arms, ammunition, or implements of war, but who, either for their own personal use or as forwarding agents for persons who are engaged in this business, or, in exceptional circumstances, in other capacities, may make or receive occasional shipments of such articles, will not be considered as exporters or importers of arms, ammunition, and implements of war within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution. Licenses for such shipments may be obtained in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (24) below.* [Part III, (9)†]

§ 1.10 National Firearms Act, June 26, 1934; Federal Firearms Act, June 30, 1938. The provisions of these regulations shall be considered as binding in addition to, and not in lieu of, those established under the act known as the National Firearms Act (26 U.S.C. (1934) 1132–1132q incl.; Supp. IV 1132–1132b incl.), approved by the President June 26, 1934, as amended; and under the Federal Firearms Act (15 U.S.C. Supp. IV 901–909 incl.), approved by the President June 30, 1938. The National Firearms Act imposes certain taxes upon manufacturers, importers, and dealers in certain firearms and taxes upon transfers of certain firearms. The term "firearm" as used in this act includes "a shotgun or rifle having a barrel of less than eighteen inches in length, or any other weapon, except a pistol or revolver, from which a shot is discharged by an explosive if such weapon is capable of being concealed on the person, or a machine gun, and includes a muffler or silencer for any firearm whether or not such firearm is included within the foregoing definition, but does not include any rifle which is within the foregoing provisions solely by reason of the length of its barrel if the caliber of such rifle is .22 or smaller and if its barrel is sixteen inches or more in length." The Federal Firearms Act applies to manufacturers and dealers who are engaged in interstate or foreign commerce in firearms and ammunition. The term "firearm" as used in this act means "any weapon, by whatever name known, which is designed to expel a projectile or projectiles by the action of an explosive and a firearm muffler or firearm silencer, or any part or parts of such weapon," and the term "ammunition" includes "all pistol or revolver ammunition except .22-caliber rim-fire ammunition." Rules and regulations for the enforcement of these acts are prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.* [Part III, (10)†]

§ 1.11 Applications for licenses. No person not registered under section 5 of the joint resolution shall engage in the business of exporting or importing any of the arms, ammunition, or implements of war listed in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937. All persons registered shall obtain from the Secretary of State a license to cover each shipment exported or imported. Blank forms of application for license similar to those printed below will be furnished by the Secretary of State upon request.* [Part III, (11)†]

FOR THE SECRETARY OF STATE:
By_____
(When countersigned and impressed with the seal of the Department of State, this application becomes a license.)

(For official use only)

§ 1.12 Import licenses. The Secretary of State will issue import licenses to all registered applicants who have duly filled out an application for license, provided that, in case the articles to be imported are firearms as enumerated in the National Firearms Act of June 26, 1934, as amended, or firearms or ammunition as enumerated in the Federal Firearms Act of June 30, 1938, both of which acts are referred to under section 1.10 above, the importer has conformed to the pertinent regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.* [Part III, (12)†]

§ 1.13 Export licenses. The Secretary of State will issue export licenses to all registered applicants who have duly filled out an application for license, unless the exportation of arms, ammunition, or implements of war for which a license is applied for would be in violation of a law of the United States or of a treaty to which the United States is a party.* [Part III, (13)†]

§ 1.14 Licenses not transferable. Export and import licenses are not transferable and are subject to revocation without notice, if the exportation or the importation authorized by the license becomes illegal before the shipment is made. If not revoked, licenses are valid for 1 year from the date of issuance, and shipments thereunder may be made through any port of exit or entry in the United States. The naming of the proposed port of exit under paragraph (12) of the application for export license or the proposed port of entry under paragraph (13) of the application for import license does not preclude shipment through another port if the arrangements made by the exporter or importer are altered subsequent to the issuance of the license.* [Part III, (14)†]

§ 1.15 Alterations. No alterations may be made except by the Department of State, or by collectors of customs or postmasters acting under the specific instructions of the Department of State, in export or import licenses which have been issued under the seal of the Secretary of State.* [Part III, (15)†]

§ 1.16 Revoked licenses. Export or import licenses which have been revoked or which have expired must be returned immediately to the Secretary of State.* [Part III, (16)†]

§ 1.17 Country of ultimate destination. The country designated on the application for license to export as the country of destination should, in each case, be the country of ultimate destination. If the goods to be exported are consigned to one country, with the intention that they be transshipped thence to another country, the latter country should be named as the country of destination. If the country of ultimate destination cannot be ascertained at the time the application for export license is made, the country of initial destination may be named on the application as the country of destination. In such a case, however, the facts must be clearly explained and the Secretary of State must be informed of the ultimate destination by the exporter as soon as the latter has learned the country of ultimate destination of the shipment. The Secretary of State may refuse to grant an application for an export license until he is informed of the country of ultimate destination in order that he may assure himself that the license may be legally issued.* [Part III, (17)†]

§ 1.18 Shipper's export declaration. The shipper's export declaration (customs form 7525) covering arms, ammunition, or implements of war for which an export license is required must contain the same information in regard to the nature and the value of the articles to be exported as that which appears on the application for license. If the person designated on the export declaration as the actual shipper of the goods is not the person to whom the export license has been issued by the Secretary of State, the name of this shipper should appear on the export license as that of the consignor in the United States.* [Part III, (18)†]

§ 1.19 Type and model designation. Applications for license to export arms, ammunition, and implements of war should state, whenever possible, the type and model designation of the article to be exported in order that the Secretary of State may determine, before issuing the license, that the provisions of Part V of these regulations would not be violated by the exportation of the article in question. If an application is submitted in which the articles to be exported are inadequately designated, it will be returned to the applicant for completion in this respect.* [Part III, (19)†]

§ 1.20 Presentation of licenses to collector of customs. The originals of licenses for the export and the import of arms, ammunition, and implements of war must be presented to the collector of customs at the port through which the shipment authorized by the license is being made. Export licenses and export declarations covering arms, ammunition, and implements of war must be filed with the appropriate collector of customs at least 24 hours before the proposed departure of the shipment from the United States, and, in the case of a shipment by a seagoing vessel, 24 hours before the lading of the vessel.* [Part III, (20)†]

§ 1.21 Export license material to be packed separately. Arms, ammunition, and implements of war covered by an export license must, when exported, be packed separately from all other goods, except when the shipment is too small to make this segregation practical, in which case the exporter should list separately in the application for an export license those other articles which do not require a license but which are being included in the package.* [Part III, (21)†]

§ 1.22 Parcel post. Export and import licenses for arms, ammunition, and implements of war which are shipped by parcel post must be presented to the postmaster at the post office at which the parcel is mailed or received.* [Part III, (22)†]

§ 1.23 Articles in transit through the territory of the United States. Articles entering or leaving a port of the United States, in transit through the territory of the United States to a foreign country, will not be considered as imported or exported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution, unless they are destined to a country to which the exportation of arms, ammunition, and implements of war is prohibited.* [Part III, (23)†]

§ 1.24 Application for export or import licenses on behalf of persons who are not required to register. Persons who are registered as exporters or importers of arms, ammunition, or implements of war under section 5 of the joint resolution may make application for export or import licenses on behalf of persons who are not required to register under the joint resolution but who may, in accordance with the provisions of section 1.9 above, desire to make or receive occasional shipments of arms, ammunition, or implements of war.* [Part III, (24)†]

§ 1.25 Arms more than 100 years old. Arms, ammunition, and implements of war which are more than 100 years old will not be considered as arms, ammunition, or implements of war within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution. Evidence in support of exemptions claimed hereunder should be submitted to the collector of customs at the port of entry or exit, as the case may be.* [Part III, (25)†]

§ 1.26 Arms for the individual use of the person to whom consigned. Rifles, carbines, revolvers, and pistols entering the United States in single units for the individual use of the person to whom consigned will not be considered as imported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution. (This does not relieve the consignee from the obligation to comply with such of the regulations prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, under the National Firearms Act of June 26, 1934, as amended, and the Federal Firearms Act of June 30, 1938, referred to in section 1.10 above, as may be applicable in the premises.)* [Part III, (26)†]

§ 1.27 Arms intended exclusively for sporting or scientific purposes. Arms and ammunition intended exclusively for sporting or scientific purposes or for personal protection, when entering or leaving the United States carried on the person of an individual or in his baggage, will not be considered as imported or exported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution.* [Part III, (27)†]

§ 1.28 The Government of the United States and its agencies are not "persons". The Government of the United States and its agencies are not "persons" within the meaning of that term as used in section 5 of the joint resolution and therefore no license is required for arms, ammunition, or implements of war imported or exported by them.* [Part III, (28)†]

§ 1.29 Arms returned to the United States worn or damaged. Arms and implements of war which have been legally exported from the United States, and which are returned to the United States worn or damaged for repair and reexport, will not be considered as imported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution. An export license must be obtained, however, before such articles are reexported. Evidence in support of exemptions claimed hereunder should be submitted to the collector of customs at the port of entry.* [Part III, (29)†]

§ 1.30 Licenses required for the export or import of aircraft wheels and propeller blades. Licenses are required under the provisions of section 5 of the joint resolution for the export or the import of those articles only which are specifically mentioned in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937. No license is required for the export or the import of the component parts of the articles or units enumerated in that proclamation, except in cases where the export or import of such parts may reasonably be considered as involving, in fact, the export or import of a substantially complete article or unit in unassembled form. Aircraft wheels and aircraft propeller blades are, however, considered as constituting to such an unusual degree the main body of aircraft under-carriage units and aircraft propellers that a license is required for the export or the import of wheels and propeller blades, even when they are shipped alone.* [Part III, (30)†]

§ 1.31 License required for export of articles intended for war purposes. A license is required for the export of all articles listed in subsection (5) of category I of the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, which are intended or adapted for war purposes. The fact that such an article, when exported, is filled with a nonlethal gas or fluid having a common nonmilitary use will be considered as prima-facie evidence that the article is not intended for war purposes. No license is required for the export of articles listed under subsection (5), even if exported empty, which are adapted and intended solely for nonmilitary use. Articles listed in subsection (5) will be considered ipso facto as intended or adapted for war purposes, unless when exported they either contain a nonlethal gas or fluid or can be proven to be adapted and intended solely for a specific nonmilitary use.* [Part III, (31)†]

§ 1.32 "Propellant powders," "potassium nitrate powders," "sodium nitrate powders". The terms "propellant powders," as used in paragraph (1) of category VII of the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, and "potassium nitrate powders" and "sodium nitrate powders," as used in paragraph (2) of that category, apply to those powders in bulk form. They do not apply to such powders when enclosed in cartridges of types not enumerated in the proclamation, in pyrotechnics, in safety fuse, or in other similar devices. Licenses will not, therefore, be required for the export or import of such cartridges or devices, even though they may contain one of these powders.* [Part III, (32)†]

§ 1.33 Aircraft flown or shipped from the United States for a temporary sojourn abroad. Aircraft flown or shipped from the United States for a temporary sojourn abroad, of not to exceed six months' duration, will not be considered as exported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution when it is the intention of their owners that they shall remain under United States registry and shall be operated by a United States licensed pilot during the entire period of their sojourn abroad, and, further, when there is no intention on the part of their owners to dispose of them or of any of their essential parts listed in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, in any foreign country. It should be noted that the United States registry of an aircraft which is sold to an alien either in the United States or abroad is cancelled automatically at the time of the sale under the Civil Air Regulations of the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Should the owners, after the departure of an aircraft flown or shipped from the United States without an export license, propose to place the aircraft under foreign registry or to have it operated by a pilot not holding a United States license, or to dispose of the aircraft or any of the essential parts referred to in any foreign country, the aircraft, or the part in question, must be returned to the United States and a license obtained for its export to the country concerned. Aircraft of United States registry returning to the United States from foreign countries will not be considered as imported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution. Aircraft of foreign registry entering the United States for a temporary sojourn or leaving the United States after such a sojourn will not be considered as imported or exported within the meaning of section 5 of the joint resolution.* [Part III, (33)†]

§ 1.34 Customs clearance. Aircraft flown or shipped for temporary sojourn under the provisions of section 1.33 above shall not be so flown or shipped until customs clearance has been obtained. Evidence in support of claim for exemption from the requirement of an import or export license should be submitted to the appropriate collector of customs. Aircraft flown into the United States should be cleared through the customs authorities at the airport of entry where first landing is made or at such other airport or base where advance permission to land has been obtained from the Commissioner of Customs. In case of forced landings of aircraft arriving in the United States clearance should be obtained at the port of entry or custom house nearest to the place where such forced landing is made. Aircraft flown out of the United States should be cleared through the customs authorities at the customs port of entry nearest to the place of departure, or at the airport of departure if such airport has been designated as an airport of entry. Before an aircraft of United States registry leaves the United States for a temporary sojourn abroad, the customs authorities at the port of exit through which the aircraft is cleared should be informed of the approximate date of return of the aircraft and the port of entry through which it is proposed to return the aircraft to the United States. Persons planning to make flights outside the United States are advised, moreover, to communicate with the Civil Aeronautics Authority with regard to its requirements. The requirements set forth herein have no application to civil aircraft operated by commercial air lines on regular schedules between the United States and foreign countries under certificates of public convenience and necessity or foreign air carrier permits issued by the Civil Aeronautics Authority. The provisions of this paragraph shall be considered as binding in addition to, and not in lieu of, the customs regulations.* [Part III, (34)†]

§ 1.35 Records of manufacture, export, and import. The Secretary of State prescribes that all persons required to register under section 5 of the joint resolution approved May 1, 1937, amending the joint resolution of August 31, 1935, shall maintain, subject to the inspection of the duly authorized agents of the Secretary of State or of any other enforcement agency of the Government of the United States, and distinct from all other records, special permanent records in which shall be recorded the amounts and estimated values of the arms, ammunition, and implements of war manufactured by them for export, and similar records of all arms, ammunition, and implements of war imported or exported by them. The records of articles imported shall, in addition, contain information as to the consignors of articles imported and the port of origin of each shipment. The records of articles exported shall, in addition, contain information as to the consignees and the destination of each shipment.* [Part IV†]

§ 1.36 Title I of the Espionage Act, approved June 15, 1917. Title I of the Espionage Act, approved June 15, 1917, reads in part as follows:

> Whoever, with intent or reason to believe that it is to be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of a foreign nation, communicates, delivers, or transmits, or attempts to, or aids or induces another to, communicate, deliver, or transmit, to any foreign government, or to any faction or party or military or naval force within a foreign country, whether recognized or unrecognized by the United States, or to any representative, officer, agent, employee, subject, or citizen thereof, either directly or indirectly, any document, writing, code book, signal book, sketch, photograph, photographic negative, blue print, plan, map, model, note, instrument, appliance, or information relating to the national defense, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than twenty years . . . [Part V, (Par. 1)†]

§ 1.37 Articles involving military secrets. The Secretary of State will not issue a license authorizing the exportation of any arms, ammunition, or implements of war considered by the Secretary of War or by the Secretary of the Navy as instruments or appliances included among the articles covered by those terms as used in this act if, in their opinion, they involve military secrets of interest to the national defense. The articles which may be so considered are articles falling within one of the following categories:

(a) Articles, the whole or any features of which have been or are being developed or manufactured by or for the War Department or the Navy Department or with the participation of either of those Departments; and

(b) Articles, the whole or any features of which have been used or are being used by the War Department or the Navy Department or which either Department has contracted to procure.* (Sec. 2, 40 Stat. 218; 50 U.S.C. 32) [Part V, (Par. 2)†]

§ 1.38 Articles contracted for by the War Department or the Navy Department. Included among articles developed by or for the War Department or the Navy Department are articles the development of which has been contracted for by either of those departments, or which have been developed in accordance with Army or Navy specifications and submitted to either department for evaluation for procurement.* (Sec. 2, 40 Stat. 218; 50 U.S.C. 32) [Part V, (Par. 3)†]

§ 1.39 Prospective exporters of arms, etc., to communicate with the Secretary of State in advance of shipment. Prospective exporters of articles falling within the above categories which may possibly involve military secrets of interest to the national defense, or persons desirous of transmitting abroad information concerning such articles, should communicate with the Secretary of State in advance of the proposed transaction in order that he may be in a position to ascertain for the interested person whether or not military secrets are, in fact, involved therein. The articles upon which a determination is requested should be designated clearly and specifically, the type and model designations being included. Where applicable, Army or Navy drawing numbers should be given, or detailed plans and specifications submitted.* (Sec. 2, 40 Stat. 218; 50 U.S.C. 32) [Part V, (Par. 4)†]

§ 1.40 Export of arms to China, Cuba, Honduras, and Nicaragua. * * * the Secretary of State will permit the exportation to China, Cuba, Honduras, and Nicaragua of the arms, ammunition, and implements of war listed in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937, only when the Department of State has been informed by the Chinese Embassy in Washington, the Cuban Embassy in Washington, the Honduran Legation in Washington, or the Nicaraguan Legation in Washington, as the case may be, that it is the desire of the government of the country into which the arms, ammunition, or implements of war are to be imported, that the exportation of the shipment be authorized.* (Sec. 1 and 2, 42 Stat. 361; 22 U.S.C. 237; Proc. Mar. 4, 1922 (42 Stat. 2264); Proc. Mar. 22, 1924 (43 Stat. 1942); Proc. Sept. 15, 1926 (44 Stat. 2625); Proc. June 29, 1934 (49 Stat. 3399)) [Part VI†]

§ 1.41 Responsibility for notification. The bringing about of notification to the Department of State through the appropriate embassy or legation that the government of an importing state desires that the exportation of a shipment be authorized is a matter with regard to which the initiative and responsibility lie with the importing government and the potential shipper.* (Sec. 1 and 2, 42 Stat. 361; 22 U.S.C. 237; Proc. Mar. 4, 1922 (42 Stat. 2264); Proc. Mar. 22, 1924 (43 Stat. 1942); Proc. Sept. 15, 1926 (44 Stat. 2625); Proc. June 29, 1934 (49 Stat. 3399)) [Part VI†]

§ 1.42 Export licenses for shipment of arms to Cuba. In compliance with article II of the convention between the United States and Cuba to suppress smuggling, signed at Habana March 11, 1926, which reads in part as follows:

> "The High Contracting Parties agree that clearance of shipments of merchandise by water, air, or land, from any of the ports of either country to a port of entry of the other country, shall be denied when such shipment comprises articles the importation of which is prohibited or restricted in the country to which such shipment is destined, unless in this last case there has been a compliance with the requisites demanded by the laws of both countries."

and in compliance with the laws of Cuba which restrict the importation of arms, ammunition, and implements of war of all kinds by requiring an import permit for each shipment, export licenses for shipments of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to Cuba are required for the articles enumerated below in addition to the articles enumerated in the President's proclamation of May 1, 1937:

(1) Arms and small arms using ammunition of caliber .22 or less, other than those classed as toys.

June 29, 1934 (49 Stat. 3399)) [Part VI†]

§ 1.43 Exportation authorized only upon desire of Cuban Government. The Secretary of State will permit the exportation to Cuba of the articles listed above only when the Department of State has been informed by the Cuban Embassy in Washington that it is the desire of the Cuban Government that the exportation of the shipment be authorized.* (Article 2, Convention between the United States and Cuba to suppress smuggling, proclaimed by President, June 19, 1926 (44 Stat. 2395); Proc. [F. R. Doc. 39-3395; Filed, September 15, 1939; 12:20 p. m.]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION FOR EXEMPTION OF THE PROCESSING OF HYBRID SEED CORN FROM THE MAXIMUM HOURS PROVISIONS OF THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT OF 1938 PURSUANT TO SECTION 7 (b) (3) AND PART 526 OF THE REGULATIONS ISSUED THEREUNDER

Whereas, applications have been filed by the Garst and Thomas Hybrid Corn Company, the National Hybrid Corn Company, and sundry other parties for exemption of the processing of hybrid seed corn from the maximum hours provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 as a branch of an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) and Part 526 of the Regulations issued thereunder,[1] and

Whereas, it appears from the said applications that:

(1) hybrid seed corn comes to maturity and is harvested each year during the period between September 15 (approximately) and the first killing frost (usually about November 1) after which time unharvested corn is no longer usable as seed corn, and

(2) after harvesting, hybrid seed corn is perishable and must be immediately delivered to processing plants where it is and must be immediately husked, sorted and dried, and where it is shelled, graded and sacked either during the harvest season proper or during the winter months, but not later than March or April, and

(3) the above described processing of hybrid seed corn is carried on only by plants which engage in no other operations and which completely cease operations, except for such work as maintenance, repair, clerical and sales work, during the balance of the year.

Now, therefore, upon consideration of the facts stated in the said applications, the Administrator hereby determines, pursuant to Section 526.5 (c) of the Regulations, that a prima facie case has been shown for the granting of an exemption, pursuant to Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526 of the Regulations issued thereunder to the processing, as described above, of hybrid seed corn.

In accordance with the procedure established by Section 526.5 (c) of the Regulations, the Administrator for fifteen days following the publication of this determination will receive objection to the granting of the exemption and request for hearing from any interested person. Upon receipt of objection and request for hearing, the Administrator will set the application for the hearing before himself or an authorized representative.

If no objection and request for hearing is received within fifteen days, the Administrator will make a finding upon the prima facie case shown upon the application.

These applications may be examined at Room 313, 939 D Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 15th day of September, 1939.

[FCA 144]

COMPUTATION OF FEES ON ADDITIONAL LAND BANK AND LAND BANK COMMISSIONER LOANS

1. Section 19.4009 of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended to read as follows:

"§ 19.4009 Additional-loan fees. For the purposes of this regulation, the term 'additional loan' shall be construed (1) to apply to any transaction which may, or does, result in additional funds being loaned wholly or partially on property that is security for a loan on which the applicant, at the time his application is filed, is the borrower from the Federal land bank; and (2) to include any new funds, plus any delinquent principal, interest and other items due and unpaid under the outstanding land bank loan which, under the procedure of the bank, are included in the face amount of the new note. This construction shall be applicable whether the transaction is completed by way of a supplemental loan or a rewriting of the outstanding land bank loan and whether the outstanding land bank loan was closed through the association accepting the application or not. Whenever an additional loan is applied for, the provisions of sections 19.4005–19.4007, and the last sentence of 19.4008, shall apply, except that, in such cases, the maximum association application fee which may be collected in accordance with section 19.4005 shall be based on the amount of the additional loan applied for, and the maximum additional association application fee which may be collected in accordance with section 19.4007 shall be based upon the amount of the additional loan tentatively approved by the bank. When an additional loan is closed by the bank, the association may collect a maximum closed loan fee in an amount which, when added to the association application fees already collected, will not exceed 1 percent of the amount of the additional loan closed. (Sec. 6, 47 Stat. 14, 12 U.S.C. 665; Sec. 11 "Third", 39 Stat. 369, as amended, 12 U.S.C. 761 "Third"; Sec. 17 (d), 39 Stat. 375, 12 U.S.C. 831 (d); E.O. 6084, March 27, 1933, 6 CFR 1.1) [Revision No. 86, Manual for Federal Land Banks, September 18, 1939.]"

2. Section 19.4022 of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended to read as follows:

"§ 19.4022 Additional-loan fees. The definition of an 'additional loan' set forth in section 19.4009, extended to include a borrower from the Land Bank Commissioner, shall apply to the term as used in this section. The application fee in connection with an additional loan shall not exceed an amount computed in accordance with approved schedules on the amount of the additional loan applied for. The balance of the bank's appraisal and title determination fees and the bank's direct-loan closed loan fees in such cases shall not exceed an amount computed in accordance with approved schedules on the amount of the additional loan closed. On Land Bank Commissioner additional loans made by way of a supplemental loan or by rewriting of the old loan the bank should charge the borrowers fees computed on the same basis as that adopted by the bank for computing fees in connection with additional land bank loans. (Sec. 6, 47 Stat. 14, 12 U.S.C. 665; Sec. 11 "Third", 39 Stat. 369, as amended, 12 U.S.C. 761 "Third"; Sec. 13 "Ninth", 39 Stat. 372, 12 U.S.C. 781 "Ninth"; Sec. 17 (d), 39 Stat. 375, 12 U.S.C. 831 (d); E.O. 6084, March 27, 1933, 6 CFR 1.1.) § 58.18 Certificate deemed signed. A certificate shall be deemed signed by an inspector when his signature is affixed thereto either by the inspector or by his authorized agent, and the person affixing the signature, if otherwise than by the inspector in handwriting, is identified with such signature by his initials; Provided, however, that on all certificates covering export shipments and, upon request of an applicant, on any other certificates the signature of the inspector shall be affixed by handwriting.

§ 58.23 Reinspection certificates. Inspectors who make a reinspection of a lot of beans and peas, in accordance with section 58.22 shall sign and issue a certificate in accordance with sections 58.16 and 58.18. Such certificate shall bear on its face the notation "Reinspection" and shall clearly identify by number and date the certificate which it supersedes. Copies of reinspection certificates shall be mailed or delivered to all parties who received copies of the superseded certificate.

§ 58.24 Reinspection not to prevent filing appeals. Nothing in this regulation providing for a reinspection of a lot of beans and peas shall prevent the applicant for reinspection or any other interested party from filing an application for an appeal inspection in accordance with the provisions of section 58.25.

APPEALS

§ 58.25 When an appeal may be taken. Whenever an interested party believes the class, quality, and/or condition of a lot of beans and peas stated in the last outstanding certificate is not the correct class, quality, and/or condition of such beans and peas, or for any reason desires a Federal appeal inspection certificate on such lot of beans and peas, he may file an application for an appeal inspection; Provided (a) the identity of the lot of beans and peas has not been lost; (b) all of the beans and peas are available and accessible for making an appeal inspection; and (c) the condition of the beans and peas has not undergone any material change.

The application shall be accompanied by the original of the certificate for the inspection from which the appeal is taken, if in the possession of the appellant.

§ 58.27 Record of appeal. A record of the time, date, and place of filing an appeal application or other document relative to an appeal inspection shall be made by the supervising inspector immediately upon receipt thereof.

§ 58.28 When an appeal may be refused. If it shall appear to the Chief of the Service or the supervising inspector that the reasons stated in an appeal application are frivolous or unsubstantial, or the act or these regulations have not been complied with, the application for appeal may be dismissed. The appellant shall be notified by telegraph or in writing of the reason for such dismissal, a statement of such action shall be included in the record of such appeal by the supervising inspector making the same, and all expenses incurred in connection therewith shall be paid by the appellant as provided in section 58.53. The appeal inspection certificate shall state the grade, class, quality, and/or condition of the beans and peas as shown by the appeal inspection and shall refer specifically to the inspection from which the appeal is taken. Copies of the appeal inspection certificate shall be sent to all interested parties, if known, other than the carriers, and to such of them as have been applicants for any former inspection of the beans and peas on which the appeal inspection is made. In all other respects the provisions of sections 58.5–58.21 relative to inspections shall apply to appeal inspections.

adjusted certificate may be any fractional unit of that covered by the certificate surrendered with the application, but the total quantity covered by all of the adjusted certificates issued as requested in such application shall be the same as the total quantity covered by the certificate surrendered and which is superseded by the adjusted certificates.

§ 58.39 Form of adjusted certificates. Adjusted certificates issued shall be the same form as that of the certificate surrendered with the application for adjustment or division.

§ 73.4 Examination and selection—(a) Time and place. As required from time to time, The Surgeon General will request orders from The Adjutant General convening the necessary boards to conduct the examination. The Adjutant General will notify all candidates of the date on which, and the place at which, they are to appear for this examination.

(b) General procedure of examining boards. Boards will examine only those candidates authorized by The Adjutant General to appear for examination. Correspondence between The Surgeon General and examining boards on matters relating solely to the examination will be direct. The Surgeon General will forward to examining boards instructions covering the details of the conduct of the examination together with the applications and all documents and findings thereon for the information of the boards and for incorporation in their reports. Each candidate on presenting himself to the board will be accorded the right of challenge. The board will be sworn after the disposal of the challenges. The candidate will then be required to establish conclusively his citizenship and to submit a diploma conferring on him the degree stated in paragraph (b), section 73.2, or a proper certificate of graduation in lieu thereof. Should the candidate's diploma or certificate be temporarily unavailable, his examination will be continued subject to its later presentation to the board. Documents submitted by the candidate to establish citizenship and graduation will be returned to him when they have served their purpose. Each candidate will then be required to sign a certificate as to his physical condition. Failure by any candidate to submit proper evidence of citizenship, or the required certificate of physical condition, will immediately terminate his examination. The board will then proceed with the examination of the remaining candidates according to instructions issued by The Surgeon General.

(c) Physical examination. Each candidate will receive a complete physical examination which will conform in all respects to the standards for officers of the Regular Army prescribed in A.R. 40–105.[2] The findings relative thereto will be arrived at by the full board. The final decision as to the effect of any existing disability, as to waiver or disqualification, rests with the War Department which will act only after the receipt of the complete report of examination. The board will accordingly continue the examination of any candidate whom it considers physically disqualified for appointment, unless he elects in writing to withdraw.

(d) Moral character and general fitness. The examination for moral character and general fitness will include a review of the application and documents filed therewith, and such additional investigation as will enable the board to form an opinion as to whether the candidate has the moral qualifications, adaptability, and aptitude required for appointment. Each candidate will be subjected to a formal interview by the board in order to develop specific information as a basis for the board's opinion regarding his aptitude and general fitness for the Regular Army. The board will give the candidate opportunity to make any statements he may desire relative to any unfavorable reports received concerning him which can be made known to him without violation of the confidential nature thereof. Should the board regard a candidate as disqualified in respect to his moral character or general fitness, he will not be so informed, and his examination will be continued. Reasons for an adverse opinion must be so clearly stated in the board's report as to establish the reasonableness and propriety thereof. Reports as to moral character and as to general fitness will be clearly separated.

(e) Professional examination. The questions for all written examinations will be prepared by the Central Medical Department Board (par. (f) below) and submitted to The Surgeon General. The approved questions and pertinent letters of instruction will be sent by The Surgeon General direct to the examining boards. The answers in all written examinations will be authenticated by the signature of the candidate upon each sheet submitted. In the case of candidates for the Dental Corps, the board will rate the candidates' answers in the oral examination and their work in the clinical (practical) examination. The character and scope of the professional examinations for the respective corps will be as follows:

(1) Medical Corps. The examination will be written and will cover the following subjects: Practice of medicine; surgery; materia medica and therapeutics; obstetrics and gynecology; surgical and regional anatomy; and physiology and pathology.

(2) Dental Corps. The examination will consist of three parts—written, oral, and practical:

(i) The written examination will cover the following subjects: Anatomy (general and dental); physiology and histology (general and dental); materia medica and therapeutics; dental pathology and bacteriology; physics and roentgenology; chemistry and metallurgy.

(ii) The oral examination, to include recent progress in etiology, pathology, therapeutics, and operative procedures, will be given in the following subjects: Oral surgery; operative dentistry; prosthetic dentistry.

(iii) The clinical (practical) examination will be sufficiently thorough to satisfy the board that the candidate is qualified in the professional procedures necessary in the military service, and will embrace operative dentistry, oral surgery, prosthetic dentistry, and the taking and interpretation of dental X-ray films.

(3) Veterinary Corps. The examination will be written and cover the following subjects: Anatomy; practice of medicine; surgery; materia medica and therapeutics; pathology, bacteriology, and parasitology; preventive medicine and sanitation; meat and dairy hygiene; physiology and histology; and obstetrics and zootechnics.

(4) Medical Administrative Corps. The examination will be written and cover the following subjects: Practice of pharmacy; pharmaceutical chemistry; pharmacology; pharmacognosy; bacteriology, hygiene, and sanitation.

(f) Action by the Central Medical Department Board—(1) General. The complete report of the examining board, in the case of each candidate, with all pertinent War Department records, will be referred by The Surgeon General to the Central Medical Department Board for consideration. This board will consist of not less than three medical, two dental, two veterinary officers, and one medical administrative officer of the Regular Army. The members from the Dental Corps, the Veterinary Corps, and the Medical Administrative Corps will participate in the proceedings only when candidates for their respective corps are being considered by the board. The Central Medical Department Board will mark the candidate's answers in the written examination, will determine his aptitude for the service, and will report upon his qualification for appointment. Proficiency in English grammar, orthography, and composition will be determined from the candidate's examination papers. A final report and recommendation on the Report of the Preliminary Examining Board and of the Central Medical Department Board will be submitted to The Surgeon General for each candidate, in addition to the lists of candidates specified in (3) below.

(2) Grading. The Surgeon General will issue detailed instructions for grading the examination papers for each corps, covering the basis of grading, the weight and passing grade for each subject, the minimum passing grade in any subject, and the general average passing grade.

(3) Recommendations—(i) Qualified candidates. The board will recommend for appointment all eligible candidates for each corps who have been found physically qualified, who have passed the professional examination, and who are considered to have sufficient general education and the required moral fitness, adaptability, and aptitude for the military service. The recommended candidates for each corps will be placed on a separate list for that corps and arranged in order of merit as determined by their relative standing in the professional examination.

(ii) Disqualified candidates. The board will recommend the rejection of all candidates who, in its opinion, do not have a satisfactory general or professional education or who do not possess the required moral fitness, adaptability or aptitude for appointment. It will recommend the rejection of all candidates whom it considers physically disqualified, notwithstanding the findings of the examining board. A list will be forwarded for each corps showing all candidates not recommended for appointment with a statement of the reasons for the adverse finding in each case. (Sec. 4, 35 Stat. 67; 10. U.S.C. 93; sec. 24, 41 Stat. 774; 10 U.S.C. 92, 122, 123; 40 Stat. 397; 10 U.S.C. 125; sec. 4, 49 Stat. 506; 10 U.S.C. 552b; 49 Stat. 1902; 10 U.S.C. 151) [Pars. 9, 11 to 14, and 16, A.R. 605–20, W.D., Aug 16, 1939]

§ 73.5 Appointment. (a) The findings of the Central Medical Department Board, with the recommendations of The Surgeon General thereon, will be transmitted to The Adjutant General for the approval of the Secretary of War. Candidates requiring commission in the Officers' Reserve Corps as a preliminary to their appointment in the Regular Army wil be recommended therefor as prescribed in paragraph (f), section 73.1. After approval by the Secretary of War, appointments in the several corps of the Medical Department, Regular Army, in the initial grades specified in the acts of Congress cited in paragraph (a), section 73.2, will be tendered to approved candidates as vacancies become available. Selected candidates for the Medical Corps may be ordered to active duty as Reserve officers for a period not to exceed one year.

(b) Candidates who are found disqualified, or qualified candidates who become ineligible for appointment, will be so notified by The Adjutant General. (Sec. 4, 35 Stat. 67; 10 U.S.C. 93; sec. 24, 41 Stat. 774; 10 U.S.C. 92, 122, 123; 40 Stat. 397; 10 U.S.C. 125; sec. 4, 49 Stat. 506; 10 U.S.C. 552b; 49 Stat. 1902; 10 U.S.C. 151) [Par. 17, A.R. 605–20, W.D., Aug. 16, 1939]

AMENDMENTS TO REGULATIONS FOR FARM MORTGAGE INSURANCE UNDER SECTION 203 (d) OF THE NATIONAL HOUSING ACT

The Regulations of the Federal Housing Administrator for Farm Mortgage Insurance under Section 203 (d) of the National Housing Act, effective May 16, 1938, are hereby amended as follows:

Section 1 of Article III of said Regulations is amended to read as follows:

1. The mortgagee shall pay to the Administrator an annual mortgage insurance premium equal to one-half of one per centum (½%) of the average outstanding principal obligation for the twelve-month period following the date on which such premium becomes payable, and calculated in accordance with the amortization provisions without taking into account delinquent payments or prepayments.

The first such premium is to be paid on the date on which such insurance becomes effective by endorsement and shall be calculated on the average outstanding principal balance for the year beginning with a day one payment period prior to the date of the first periodic payment. Until the mortgage is paid in full or the mortgaged property is acquired by the Administrator as hereinafter set forth, or until the contract of insurance is otherwise terminated, as hereinafter provided, the next and each succeeding premium shall be paid annually thereafter on the anniversary of such day, and the amount of the second premium payment will be adjusted accordingly. Such premiums shall be paid either in cash or debentures issued under Title II of the National Housing Act at par plus accrued interest.

Paragraph (a) of Section 7 of Article VI of said Regulations is amended to read as follows:

(a) Debentures of the Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund as set forth in Section 204 of the Act, issued as of the date foreclosure proceedings were instituted or the property was otherwise acquired by the mortgagee after default, bearing interest at the rate of two and three-quarters per centum (2¾%) per annum payable semiannually on the first day of January and the first day of July of each year, and having a total face value equal to the value of the mortgage as defined in Section 204 (a) of the Act. Such value shall be determined by adding to the original principal of the mortgage, which was unpaid on the date of the institution of foreclosure proceedings or the acquisition of the property otherwise after default, the amount of all payments, which have been made by the mortgagee for taxes, ground rents, and water rates, which are liens prior to the mortgage, special assessments which are noted on the application for insurance or which become liens after the insurance of the mortgage, insurance on the property mortgaged and any mortgage insurance premium paid after the institution of foreclosure proceedings or the acquisition of the property otherwise after default, and by deducting from such total any amount received on account of the mortgage after the institution of foreclosure proceedings or the acquisition of the property otherwise after default and from any source relating to the property on account of rent or other income after deducting reasonable expenses incurred in handling the property between such dates: Provided, however, that with respect to mortgages which are accepted for insurance prior to July 1, 1941, and comply with the conditions of Section 203 (b) (2) (B) of the Act, on which the unpaid principal obligation at the time of the institution of foreclosure proceedings exceeds 80% of the appraised value of the property as of the date the mortgage was accepted for insurance, there will be included in the debentures issued by the Administrator, on account of foreclosure costs actually paid by the mortgagee and approved by the Administrator an amount not in excess of 2 per centum of the unpaid principal of the mortgage as of the date of the institution of foreclosure proceedings, but in no event in excess of $75.

Such debentures shall be registered as to principal and interest and all or any such debentures may be redeemed, at the option of the Administrator with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, at par and accrued interest on any interest payment day on three (3) months' notice of redemption given in such manner as the Administrator shall prescribe.

Paragraph (d) appearing at the end of Section 8 of Article VI of said Regulations is amended to read as follows:

(d) outstanding oil, water, or mineral rights which, in the opinion of the Administrator, do not impair the value of the property for residence purposes, or which are customarily waived by prudent lending institutions and leading attorneys generally in the community.

Issued at Washington, D. C. this 15th day of September 1939 and effective on the 20th day of September 1939.

§ 2 Regional grazier, district advisory board and range conservation committee.

PAR. a. Authority for establishment of district advisory board; number of members; qualifications; functions. The district will be administered by a regional grazier. Pursuant to the act approved July 14, 1939 (Public No. 173—76th Congress), there shall be a district advisory board consisting of local stockmen and a wildlife representative. The wildlife representative will be appointed by the Secretary of the Interior. The names of the district advisors shall be recommended to the Secretary of the Interior through an election conducted in the manner hereinafter provided.

PAR. b. Functions and duties of district advisers. The district advisers shall advise or make recommendations on the following matters:

(1) Applications for grazing licenses or permits, provided no district adviser shall participate in any advice or recommendation concerning licenses or permits in which he is directly or indirectly interested.

(2) The carrying capacity of the range and seasons of use.

(3) Rules for the administration of the district and modification of the boundaries thereof.

(4) Any other matters affecting the administration of the Taylor Grazing Act within the district concerning which the Secretary of the Interior may request the opinion of the advisers.

PAR. c. Organization and meetings of district advisers. The district advisory board shall meet at district headquarters within 30 days after the appointment of a majority of its members. It shall organize by electing from its membership a chairman and a secretary. Additional meetings shall be held at the call of the regional grazier.

PAR. d. Range conservation committee; members; organization; duties and functions. The range conservation committee is authorized to assist the regional grazier in the administration of the district, to establish proper cooperative relations with other interested Federal agencies, to review the recommendations of the district advisers and to perform such other duties relating to the management of the district as the Secretary of the Interior may direct. It shall consist of a representative of the Indian Service, nominated by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, a representative of the Division of Grazing, nominated by the Director of Grazing, a representative of the Division of Investigations, nominated by the Director of that division, and a representative of the Soil Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture, proposed by the chief of that service. The members of the range conservation committee after appointment by the Secretary of the Interior shall meet at district headquarters at least once a month and as often as business may require at the call of the chairman who shall be the representative of the Indian Office.

The duties of the range conservation committee shall be—

(1) To arrange for cooperative range, economic, conservation, agronomic, engineering and other surveys necessary for the proper and effective use and administration of the Federally owned and controlled lands in the district and to formulate range management and conservation plans based on these surveys.

(2) To formulate and negotiate cooperative field agreements between the interested Federal agencies for the making of such surveys and for the execution of the conservation and range management plans authorized in the preceding paragraph.

(3) To review the recommendations of the district advisory board concerning applications for grazing licenses and permits prior to action by the regional grazier on such applications.

(4) To review the recommendations of the district advisory board on modifications of the rules and of the district boundaries and to present its findings of fact and advice concerning these matters to the Director of Grazing or the Secretary of the Interior.

(5) To interpret the economic and dependency surveys and to recommend to the Secretary of the Interior such protective, maximum and other limits as will facilitate the conservative use of Federally owned and controlled lands by the largest number of qualified users.

§ 3 Qualifications of applicants; water facilities; representation of users. Temporary grazing privileges on the Federally owned lands within the district will be restricted to applicants who own livestock which made substantial grazing use of the Federally owned land within the district during the year immediately preceding January 1, 1939, and who also own, lawfully lease or validly occupy land within or contiguous to the district, or who own or lawfully control water facilities within the district, provided such ownership or control of land or water was established or initiated on or before January 1, 1939. Water developments made by or for Navajo Indians on Federally owned or controlled lands shall be considered Navajo-owned water facilities. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs or his duly authorized representative may represent individual Navajos or groups of Navajo Indians in all district matters. Indian homestead and allotment selections shall be considered as the completion of rights initiated prior to January 1, 1939.

§ 4 Issuance of licenses. Temporary licenses will be issued by the regional grazier on recommendation of the district advisory board and, with the advice of the range conservation committee, to qualified applicants in the following order:

CLASS 1. For livestock not in excess of 150 sheep, or the equivalent thereof, owned by a qualified applicant residing within or contiguous to the district who is entirely or preponderantly dependent on this livestock for his livelihood; one horse, one cow, or five goats to be considered the equivalent of five sheep.

CLASS 2. For livestock in excess of 150 sheep, or the equivalent thereof, owned by a resident qualified applicant who is primarily dependent on the Federally owned and controlled range within the district for the operation of his livestock enterprise and who is primarily dependent on this livestock for his livelihood. No applicant in this class shall be given a temporary license for livestock in excess of the maximum number he owned and grazed within the district during the year 1938.

CLASS 3. For the livestock of all other qualified applicants dependent on Federally owned range within the district in the conduct of their livestock operations. The regional grazier, with the advice of the range conservation committee, shall make such temporary allocations of grazing privileges on the remaining Federally owned range as will enable the largest number of qualified applicants to conduct their livestock operations in accordance with the proper use of the range.

§ 5 Cooperative surveys. With the assistance of the range conservation committee and the cooperation of other Federal agencies the regional grazier will undertake range, conservation, economic and such other surveys as may be necessary to determine the proper division of the district into administrative units, the carrying capacity of each unit, proper seasons of use, the economic position and relative dependency of users, the service value of water facilities for each unit, and all other information necessary for the proper administration of the district and for the formulation of additional rules to be recommended to the Secretary of the Interior for promulgation.

§ 6 Procedure in applications; hearings and appeals.

PAR. a. Consideration of application; recommendations; service of notice. An application for a grazing license or permit will first be considered by the advisory board, which will classify the application and transmit its recommendation to the range conservation committee. If the regional grazier finds that the recommendations of the district advisory board and of the range conservation committee are proper, he will so notify the applicant by ordinary mail. If the recommendations are to any extent adverse, notice thereof will be served on the applicant by the regional grazier or his representative or, by registered letter sent to the address given by the applicant in his application. Such notice will name a place and date not less than ten days thereafter, when protests against the recommendations will be heard.

PAR. b. Place and date for hearing before examiner on appeal; notice. Upon the filing of the appeal and specifications of error, the regional grazier will notify the Director of the Division of Grazing, who will designate an examiner. The examiner will name a place within or near the district at which a hearing will be held. Any party or parties who would be directly affected by the decision in the appeal may file a request for permission to be heard in the appeal and shall serve the appellant with a copy of such request. Such a party shall be known and designated as an intervener. The examiner will then advise the regional grazier of the date of hearing, which will be not less than ten days after the date of the filing of the appeal, and the regional grazier thereupon will notify the applicant and all interveners then of record of the time and place of hearing, which will be held by one of such representatives of the Division of Grazing as may have been designated by the Director to conduct hearings. Such representative, however, shall be one other than the regional grazier from whose decision the appeal is taken. For the purpose of the hearing, such representative of the Division of Grazing shall be known and designated as an examiner.

PAR. c. Authority of examiner. The examiner is vested with general authority to conduct the hearing in an orderly and judicial manner, including authority to subpoena witnesses and to administer oaths, to call and question witnesses and to make findings of fact and a decision.

PAR. d. Conduct of hearing before examiner. The appellant, the regional grazier, and recognized interveners will stipulate as far as possible all material facts and the issue or issues involved. The examiner will state any other issues on which he may wish to have evidence presented and issues which clearly appear to be unnecessary to a proper disposition of the case will be excluded, provided that the party asserting such an issue may state briefly for the record the substance of the proof which otherwise would be offered in support of the issue. The regional grazier, or his representative, will then state the grounds of the decision from which the appeal has been taken, together with such explanation as may be deemed necessary, and may call and examine witnesses on the issues involved. Upon the conclusion of this testimony the appellant shall present his case, following which recognized interveners may present evidence if such a presentation appears to the examiner to be necessary for a proper disposition of the matters in controversy. All oral testimony shall be under oath, and witnesses will be subject to cross-examination by any party. The examiner will himself question any witness whenever it appears necessary. Documentary evidence will be received by the examiner and made a part of the record, if pertinent to any issue, or may be entered by stipulation. Objections to evidence will be ruled upon by the examiner and exceptions duly noted, and such exceptions will be considered upon an appeal from the decision of the examiner. In noting an exception to a ruling sustaining an objection to the admission of evidence, the party affected may insert in the record, as a tender of proof, a summary written statement of the substance of the excluded evidence. The examiner will summarily stop examination and exclude testimony which is obviously irrelevant and immaterial.

PAR. e. Witness fees. Under the subpoena issued a witness will be entitled to a witness fee of $1.50 per day, plus $0.05 per mile for miles actually traveled from his home to the place of hearing and return. Witnesses who attend hearings so far removed from their residences as to prohibit return thereto from day to day are allowed a per diem of $3.00 for expenses of subsistence for each day of actual attendance and for each day necessarily occupied in traveling to attend hearings and return home. The allowances for witness fees, mileage and subsistence are prescribed by the act of April 26, 1926 (44 Stat. 323), as modified and amended by the Economy Act of June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 413), and the act of May 15, 1936 (49 Stat. 1331). Under the act of January 31, 1903 (32 Stat. 790), providing for issuance of the subpoena, a witness cannot be compelled to appear outside of his own county, and if he does so appear, can claim mileage in but one county, that is, the county of his residence. Claims for witness fees and mileage will be presented on Form No. 1–327, properly certified by the regional grazier and submitted in the usual way for payment.

PAR. f. Findings of fact and decision by examiner; notice; submittal to the director of grazing. Within ten days following the conclusion of the hearing the examiner will make findings of fact and render a decision. A copy of the decision shall be sent by registered mail to the applicant and all interveners. The decision shall not prejudice the right of any party affected to be furnished with a copy of the transcript of testimony, as provided in the next paragraph. If the examiner so desires, he may submit his decision to the Director of Grazing for consideration prior to its promulgation. Upon approval by the Director such decision shall constitute the decision of the Division of Grazing.

PAR. g. Notice of appeal; furnishing copies of record. Within ten days after the receipt of a decision of the examiner any party desiring to appeal to the Director of Grazing shall file a written appeal and may request a copy of the transcript of testimony. Copies of the transcript will be furnished to the appellant and to the interveners, at a charge of 5 cents per folio, except that upon sufficient showing to the examiner, supported by an affidavit, that an appellant or intervener is financially unable to pay such fee, a copy will be furnished him without charge. Notice of appeal and request for a copy of the transcript shall be filed in the office of the Chief Examiner, Division of Grazing, Department of the Interior, Salt Lake City, Utah.

PAR. h. Decision in effect pending appeal. Pending an appeal to the examiner and his decision thereon, the decision of the regional grazier shall be in full force and effect. Pending an appeal to the Director and determination thereof, the decision of the examiner shall be in full force and effect. Pending an appeal from the Director to the Secretary of the Interior and determination thereof, the decision of the Director shall be in full force and effect. Any action taken by the regional grazier pursuant to the examiner's or Director's decision shall be subject to modification or revocation by the Secretary upon an appeal from the decision of the Director.

PAR. i. Appeals to the Secretary of the Interior. An appeal from the decision of the Director of Grazing to the Secretary of the Interior shall be filed, together with any brief desired in support thereof, within thirty days after date of receipt of the Director's decision, in the office of the Chief Examiner, Division of Grazing, Department of the Interior, Salt Lake City, Utah. The appeal in other respects shall be made in accordance with the Rules of Practice of the Department of the Interior in effect at the time such appeal is taken.

§ 7 Until further notice no fees for grazing will be charged.

§ 8 General rules of the range.

PAR. a. Acts prohibited. The following acts are prohibited on the Federally owned lands in the district:

(1) Grazing livestock upon or driving livestock across such lands, including stock driveways, without an appropriate license or permit.

(2) Grazing livestock upon or driving livestock across such lands, including stock driveways, in violation of the terms of a license or a permit, either by exceeding the number of livestock permitted, or by allowing livestock to be on such lands in an area or at a time different from that designated, or in any other manner.

(3) Allowing livestock to drift and to graze on such lands, including stock driveways, without a license or a permit.

(4) Constructing or maintaining any kind of improvements, structures, fences, or enclosures on such lands, including stock driveways, without authority of law or a permit.

(6) Cutting or removing vegetative cover, brush, woodland growth or timber for any purpose, except as authorized by law.

PAR. b. Rules of fair range practice. The following rules of fair range practice shall be complied with by all licensees and permittees:

(1) The provisions of statutory law of the State of New Mexico with reference to the number and kind of bulls permitted, the branding of livestock, and sanitary requirements, are hereby incorporated as a part of these rules.

(2) A crossing permittee shall follow the route prescribed in the crossing permit at an average rate of not less than five miles per day for sheep or goats, and ten miles per day for cattle or horses.

§ 9 Procedure for enforcement of rules and regulations.

PAR. a. Service of notice; report of violations. Whenever it appears that there has been any willful violation of any provision of the act or of these rules, the regional grazier shall cause the alleged violator to be served with written notice, which shall set forth the act or acts constituting such violation and in which reference shall be made to the provision or provisions of the act or of these rules alleged to have been violated. Such notice may be served in person or by registered mail and the affidavit of the person making personal service or the registry receipt shall be preserved. Any violation of the act or of these rules shall be reported immediately to the Division of Investigations, Department of the Interior.

PAR. b. Unlawful grazing on federally owned lands; removal of livestock; impoundment; liability. Whenever the charge consists of unlawfully grazing livestock on the federally owned or controlled lands in the district, the notice served on the alleged violator will order him to remove the livestock or to cause them to be removed immediately or within such reasonable time as may be specified. If the alleged violator fails to comply with the notice the regional grazier shall forthwith issue a written order addressed to any grazier or other person designated by him, directing such person to remove the livestock from the area in which they are unlawfully grazing. Proper care will be exercised in such removal, which will be accomplished in the following manner:

(1) If the owner of the livestock has a license or permit which is then effective in any area, the number of livestock for which such license or permit has been issued will be removed to such area. Any livestock not covered by the license or permit will be removed either to land controlled by the licensee or permittee or will be impounded, in the manner hereinafter provided.

(2) If the owner of the livestock has no license or permit then in effect but controls land within or near the district, the livestock will be removed to such land.

(3) If in emergency the foregoing procedure is impossible or impracticable, or if resort by the United States to the particular local statutory procedure for the exercise of its right as a proprietor is impracticable, ineffective, or will entail delay, or if for any reason whatever the adequate protection of its property requires that the livestock be removed immediately from the Federally owned or controlled lands in the district, the regional grazier may order that the livestock be impounded. Written notice of the impoundment will be given to the owner or any other interested person, if known. Such notice will assert a lien in favor of the United States for a certain amount of damages incurred and the reasonable expense of driving, handling and feeding from the time of impoundment. Such notice shall be given also by posting in at least three conspicuous public places within the county in which the livestock were found unlawfully grazing. Upon payment of the amounts claimed the lien will be released and the livestock delivered to the owner or other person showing a right to their possession. In the event that payment of such amounts to discharge the lien is not made, then it shall be foreclosed in accordance with the law of the State of New Mexico.

Neither the removal of livestock from unlawful grazing nor the foreclosure of a lien by the United States will relieve the alleged violator of civil liability for damages, except to the extent that its claim may have been satisfied through a foreclosure, and in neither case will the alleged violator be relieved of criminal prosecution.

PAR. c. Amicable settlement of civil cases. Any offer of settlement for damage to Federally owned lands in the district or to other property of the United States resulting from an alleged violation of any provision of the act or of these rules shall be transmitted by the regional grazier, with his recommendation, to the Department for consideration. An offer of settlement will not constitute satisfaction of civil liability for the damage involved until finally accepted by the United States and will in no event relieve the violator of criminal prosecution.

PAR. d. Disciplinary action for violations. The regional grazier is authorized to reduce or revoke a grazing license or crossing permit or to deny renewal thereof for a clearly established violation of the terms or conditions of the license or permit or for a violation of any of the provisions of these rules. Before any license or permit is reduced or revoked, or renewal thereof denied, because of such a violation, however, the regional grazier shall cause the licensee or permittee to be served with a written notice which shall set forth the act or acts constituting the violation and the amount of damage resulting therefrom. Such notice also shall refer to the terms or conditions of the license or permit or to the provision or provisions of these rules alleged to have been violated. The notice shall cite the licensee or permittee to appear before an examiner of the Division of Grazing at a designated time and place to show cause why his license or permit should not be reduced or revoked and satisfaction of damages made. The notice may be served in person or by registered mail and the affidavit of the person making personal service or the registry receipt shall be preserved.

The hearing before the examiner upon the order to show cause will be conducted in so far as practicable in the same manner as other hearings before an examiner. The licensee or permittee may appear in his own behalf or by counsel. The evidence shall be confined to the commission of the acts charged and the amount of damage due the United States. If upon the hearing of the order to show cause the violation with which the licensee or permittee is charged is established to the satisfaction of the examiner, he will make a finding of the amount of damages, in writing, and will direct the regional grazier to reduce or revoke the license or the permit, as the facts may warrant, provided that if the licensee or permittee makes an offer of settlement which appears reasonable and satisfactory to the examiner, he will, except in cases of flagrant or repeated violation, withhold such direction and will order the regional grazier to transmit such offer of settlement to the Department for consideration.

Upon the failure of the person served in the notice to appear at the time and place designated in the notice, and in the absence of a good and sufficient showing to the examiner of the reason for his failure to appear, the examiner may direct the regional grazier to reduce or revoke the license or permit, as the violations charged in the notice and the amount of damages alleged may warrant.

No license or permit shall be issued or renewed until payment of any amounts found by the examiner to be due the United States as damages under this section has been offered, and until payment of any amounts due as grazing fees has been made.

The decision of the examiner on any matters in this section shall be final unless an appeal is taken within ten days to the Director of Grazing, whose decision likewise shall be final unless an appeal is taken within 30 days to the Secretary of the Interior. Pending an appeal and final determination thereof the decision of the examiner or of the Director of Grazing, as the case may be, shall remain in full force and effect. Appeals to either the Director of Grazing or the Secretary of the Interior shall be filed in the office of the Chief Examiner, Division of Grazing, Department of the Interior, Salt Lake City, Utah.

PAR. a. Statutory authorization. Section 4 of the act provides:

Fences, wells, reservoirs, and other improvements necessary to the care and management of the permitted livestock may be constructed on the public lands within such grazing districts under permit issued by the authority of the Secretary, or under such cooperative arrangement as the Secretary may approve. Permittees shall be required by the Secretary of the Interior to comply with the provisions of law of the State within which the grazing district is located with respect to the cost and maintenance of partition fences. No permit shall be issued which shall entitle the permittee to the use of such improvements constructed and owned by a prior occupant until the applicant has paid to such prior occupant the reasonable value of such improvements to be determined under rules and regulations of the Secretary of the Interior. The decision of the Secretary in such cases is to be final and conclusive.

PAR. b. Applicants for permits and cooperative agreements; qualifications. An applicant for a permit or for a co-operative agreement or an arrangement to construct and maintain improvements of the character described in section 4 of the act, or to use and maintain improvements of such character constructed and owned by a prior occupant, on the federally owned lands, if an individual, must be a citizen of the United States or must have declared his intention to become such. If an association, its members must possess like qualifications.

PAR. c. Applications; form and contents; filing. Applications for such permits, co-operative agreements or arrangements shall set forth the location of such improvements by legal subdivision of the public land survey, the necessity, use, cost and description of such improvements, item by item, shall designate the time and manner of their construction, the period of use, the method of operation, protection, repair, removal or other disposition, and shall include any other pertinent information. If an application concerns the use and maintenance of improvements constructed and owned by a prior occupant under permit issued by the authority of the Secretary, it shall include also an itemized showing of their reasonable value at the time of filing the application and either evidence that the applicant has paid this amount to the prior occupant and has obtained title to the improvements free of all encumbrances, or a clear and concise explanation of the reasons for a lack of such agreement between the applicant and the prior occupant. When necessary properly to explain the improvements and matters connected therewith, the application shall be accompanied by a sketch of the improvements and specifications and a map showing their location in the grazing district. All applications shall be made on forms provided by the Division of Grazing, with such modifications as may be necessary, and shall be filed in triplicate with the regional grazier, who will submit them to the range conservation committee for consideration and recommendation.

PAR. d. Applications for construction of improvements; consideration; appeals. When an application concerning the construction of improvements is filed, the regional grazier will, after the recommendation of the range conservation committee, act on the application and such action shall be final unless the applicant appeals to the Director of Grazing within 15 days following receipt of notice. The decision of the Director of Grazing on such application shall be final unless the applicant appeals to the Secretary of the Interior within 30 days. In the latter event, the decision of the Secretary shall be final.

PAR. e. Applications for use of improvements owned by prior occupant; procedure upon failure to agree. An application to use and maintain improvements constructed and owned by a prior occupant, under permit issued by the authority of the Secretary, if accompanied by the evidence of ownership provided for in paragraph c of this section, shall be considered in the same manner as an application for the construction of improvements. Upon the filing of such an application showing that the applicant and the prior occupant have not agreed on the value of the improvements, the regional grazier will immediately, at the applicant's expense, cause the prior occupant to be served either personally or by registered mail with a notice of the filing of the application and any accompanying papers and an order to show cause within 30 days why the improvements should not be determined to be of the value alleged by the applicant. Upon such a showing or, if the prior occupant applies within 30 days from the date of service for a hearing, in the light of such evidence as the applicant and the prior occupant may desire to present in such hearing, the regional grazier will determine the present reasonable value of the improvements. Such determination shall be final unless an appeal is taken within 15 days to the Director of Grazing, whose decision in the matter likewise shall be final unless an appeal is taken within 30 days to the Secretary of the Interior. In the latter event, the decision of the Secretary shall be final. Upon the failure of the prior occupant to show cause or to apply within 30 days for a hearing, the reasonable value of the improvements will be determined by the regional grazier, provided that in the event of such default by the prior occupant the value determined shall not be less than the amount alleged by the applicant in his application and the decision of the regional grazier in such cases shall be final. In any case when a decision has become final, payment by the applicant to the prior occupant of the amount determined and a showing that the improvements are free of all encumbrances shall be a condition precedent to favorable action on the application.

PAR. f. Approval of application. Upon the approval of an application concerning the construction or use and maintenance of any improvements on the Federally owned lands in the district by the issuance of a permit or the approval of a co-operative agreement or other arrangement, the applicant may construct the improvements or use the improvements constructed and owned by the prior occupant, as the case may be.

PAR. a. The establishment of an advisory board of local stockmen is authorized by the Act approved July 14, 1939 (Public No. 173, 76th Congress). For New Mexico Grazing District 7 the number of district advisers will be fixed by the regional grazier on recommendation of the range conservation committee, but shall be not less than 6 nor more than 12. On recommendation of the range conservation committee the regional grazier may establish voting precincts corresponding to the number of district advisers to be elected. All district advisers shall be elected in the manner hereinafter provided, and they shall be electors qualified to vote at the election. A candidate for adviser shall qualify in the precinct in the same manner as in the district.

PAR. b. Elections—time and place of holding; notice. An election of district advisers will be held within 90 days after the publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the order establishing the district and annually thereafter. The regional grazier will designate a voting place within each precinct. Notice of the time and place or places of holding an election will be given by publication in one newspaper of general circulation in the district, by posting in the office of the regional grazier and in the office of each district grazier and by such posting in such other public places as may be necessary to give the matter proper publicity. No election, however, shall be held to be invalid by reason of failure to give any of the foregoing notices unless it shall be made to appear that there was a failure to give substantial notice.

PAR. c. Elections—qualifications of electors. At the first election after the establishment of this district only qualified applicants for grazing licenses or permits in this district shall be eligible to vote. The regional grazier, with the assistance of the range conservation committee, shall compile a list of qualified applicants for each precinct and post such list at the precinct voting place on the day of the election. At any subsequent election only licensees or permittees shall be entitled to vote. A minor may vote if otherwise qualified, provided that upon request by his natural or legal guardian his ballot may be cast by the guardian in the name of the minor. The judges at any election will be furnished by the representative of the Division of Grazing in charge with a list of all electors entitled to vote in the precinct and district. No one whose name does not appear on such list shall be allowed to vote, provided that any one claiming to have been wrongfully omitted from the list may have his name placed thereon upon submitting two qualified electors' sworn statements of facts qualifying him as an elector. Only one vote may be cast by the holder or holders of any one grazing license or permit, or by a qualified elector.

PAR. d. Nominations; methods of voting. Within 45 days from the publication of these rules in the FEDERAL REGISTER the regional grazier and the range conservation committee will recommend to the Secretary of the Interior amendments to these rules prescribing the method of and procedure for the nomination of candidates and the election of district advisers.

PAR. e. Appointment by Secretary of the Interior; oath and term of office; removal; vacancies. No person elected as a district adviser may assume office until he has been appointed by the Secretary of the Interior and has taken an oath of office. Persons appointed as district advisers following the first election after the organization of a grazing district shall be divided into three classes by lot by the regional grazier. Those in class 1 shall hold office for one year, those in class 2 for two years and those in class 3 for three years, and until their successors are elected and have qualified. Thereafter at each election the class whose term has expired shall be recommended by election for a term of three years. The Secretary of the Interior may remove any district adviser from office for failure to discharge his duties or for the good of the service. Upon a vacancy occurring in the office of a district adviser by reason of resignation, removal or otherwise, the range conservation committee will recommend to the Secretary of the Interior the name of a person to fill the vacancy and such recommendation, together with that of the regional grazier, shall be transmitted by him to the Secretary for consideration. A person appointed by the Secretary to fill a vacancy shall hold office until the next regular election, when a successor shall be elected to serve for the remainder of the unexpired term, if any, of the member causing the vacancy.

PAR. f. Meetings; organization. The district advisory board shall meet at any time and place within the district designated by the regional grazier or his authorized representative. At the first meeting of the board after an election, it shall organize by electing one of its members as chairman and such other officers from its membership as it may deem necessary. Meetings of the district advisory board shall be open to the public except that, with the approval of the representative of the Division of Grazing present, it may meet in executive session in considering applications for licenses or permits or any other business.

§ 12 Penal provision. By section 2 of the Taylor Grazing Act any willful violation of the provisions of the act or of the rules thereunder, after actual notice thereof, is punishable by a fine of not more than $500.

§ 13 Amendments; emergency. The above rules are temporary and are subject to amendment or revocation by the Secretary of the Interior at any time. They are promulgated without reference to the district advisory board because of the existence of an emergency due to the misuse of the range within the district.

§ 20B.0 Introductory. Section 214 of the Revenue Act of 1939, approved June 29, 1939, (Public, No. 155, Seventy-sixth Congress, first session), provides:

SEC. 214. BASIS OF STOCK DIVIDENDS AND STOCK RIGHTS.

(a) BASIS UNDER INTERNAL REVENUE CODE. Section 113 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to the unadjusted basis of property) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

"(19) (A) If the property was acquired by a shareholder in a corporation and consists of stock in such corporation, or rights to acquire such stock, acquired by him after February 28, 1913, in a distribution by such corporation (hereinafter in this paragraph called "new stock"), or consists of stock in respect of which such distribution was made (hereinafter in this paragraph called "old stock") and

"(i) the new stock was acquired in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1936; or

"(ii) the new stock was acquired in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1935, and its distribution did not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution;

then the basis of the new stock and of the old stock, respectively, shall, in the shareholder's hands, be determined by allocating between the old stock and the new stock the adjusted basis of the old stock; such allocation to be made under regulations which shall be prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary.

"(B) Where the new stock consisted of rights to acquire stock and such rights were sold in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1939, and there was included in the gross income for such year the entire amount of the proceeds of such sale, then, if before the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1939 the taxpayer has not asserted (by claim for a refund or credit or otherwise) that any part of the proceeds of the sale of such new stock should be excluded from gross income for the year of its sale, the basis of the old stock shall be determined without regard to subparagraph (A); and no part of the proceeds of the sale of such new stock shall ever be excluded from the gross income of the year of such sale.

"(C) Subparagraph (A) shall not apply if the new stock was acquired in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1936, and there was included, as a dividend, in gross income for such year an amount on account of such stock, and after such inclusion such amount was not (before the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1939) excluded from gross income for such year.

"(D) Subparagraph (A) shall not apply if the new stock or the old stock was sold or otherwise disposed of in a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1936, and the basis (determined by a decision of a court or the Board of Tax Appeals, or a closing agreement, and the decision or agreement became final before the ninetieth day after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1939) for determining gain or loss on such sale or other disposition was ascertained by a method other than that of allocation of the basis of the old stock."

(b) DISTRIBUTIONS NOT TREATED AS DIVIDENDS. Section 115 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to distributions applied in reduction of basis) is amended to read as follows:

"(d) OTHER DISTRIBUTIONS FROM CAPITAL. If any distribution made by a corporation to its shareholders is not out of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913, and is not a dividend, then the amount of such distribution shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock provided in section 113, and if in excess of such basis, such excess shall be taxable in the same manner as a gain from the sale or exchange of property. This subsection shall not apply to a distribution in partial or complete liquidation or to a distribution which, under subsection (f) (1), is not treated as a dividend, whether or not otherwise a dividend."

(c) DETERMINATION OF PERIOD FOR WHICH HELD. Section 117 (h) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to determination of period for which property is held) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

"(5) In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held stock or rights to acquire stock received upon a distribution, if the basis of such stock or rights is determined under section 113 (a) (19) (A), there shall (under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary) be included the period for which he held the stock in the distributing corporation prior to the receipt of such stock or rights upon such distribution."

(d) TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH APPLICABLE. The amendments made by subsections (a), (b), and (c) shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

(e) BASIS UNDER PRIOR ACTS. The following rules shall be applied, for the purposes of the Revenue Act of 1938 or any prior revenue Act as if such rules were a part of each such Act when it was enacted, in determining the basis of property acquired by a shareholder in a corporation which consists of stock in such corporation, or rights to acquire such stock, acquired by him after February 28, 1913, in a distribution by such corporation (hereinafter in this subsection called "new stock"), or consisting of stock in respect of which such distribution was made (hereinafter in this subsection called "old stock") if the new stock was acquired in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1936, or acquired in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1935, and its distribution did not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution:

(1) The basis of the new stock and of the old stock, respectively, shall, in the shareholder's hands, be determined by allocating between the old stock and the new stock the adjusted basis of the old stock; such allocation to be made under regulations which shall be prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary.

(2) Where the new stock consisted of rights to acquire stock and such rights were sold and there was included in the gross income for the taxable year of the sale the entire amount of the proceeds of such sale, then, if before the date of the enactment of this Act the taxpayer has not asserted (by claim for a refund or credit or otherwise) that any part of the proceeds of the sale of such new stock should be excluded from gross income for the year of its sale, the basis of the old stock shall be determined without regard to paragraph (1) and no part of the proceeds of the sale of such new stock shall ever be excluded from the gross income of the year of such sale.

(3) Paragraph (1) shall not apply if the new stock was acquired in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1936, and there was included, as a dividend, in gross income for such year an amount on account of such stock, and after such inclusion such amount was not (before the date of the enactment of this Act) excluded from gross income for such year.

(4) Paragraph (1) shall not apply if the new stock or the old stock was sold or otherwise disposed of in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1936, and the basis (determined by a decision of a court or the Board of Tax Appeals, or a closing agreement, and the decision or agreement became final before the ninetieth day after the date of the enactment of this Act) for determining gain or loss on such sale or other disposition was ascertained by a method other than that of allocation of the basis of the old stock.

(f) DETERMINATION UNDER PRIOR ACTS OF PERIOD FOR WHICH HELD. For the purposes of the Revenue Act of 1938 or any prior revenue Act, in determining the period for which the taxpayer has held stock or rights to acquire stock, received upon a distribution, if the basis of such stock or rights is determined under section 214 (e) (1) of the Revenue Act of 1939, there shall (under regulations which shall be prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary) be included the period for which he held the stock in the distributing corporation prior to the receipt of such stock or rights upon such distribution. This subsection shall be applicable as if it were a part of each such Act when such Act was enacted.

Pursuant to the authority granted by the foregoing provisions and by the provisions of section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code, the following regulations are prescribed with respect to the foregoing section:*†

§ 20B.1 General rule. The statutory rule quoted above is, in general, the rule of apportionment prescribed by Treasury regulations with respect to all stock dividends and stock rights issued throughout the period intervening between the date of the decision of the Supreme Court in Eisner v. Macomber, (1920) 252 U. S. 189, and the effective date of the Revenue Act of 1936, and with respect to stock dividends and stock rights acquired in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1935, in a distribution of such a character that it does not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution. This statutory rule applies generally to all stock, old and new, involved in an issue of stock dividends or stock rights acquired in a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1936, and to those later issues constitutionally exempt from tax, such exemption being recognized by section 115 (f) (1) of the Code or the corresponding provisions of the Revenue Acts of 1936 and 1938. Section 214 of the Revenue Act of 1939 provides, however, certain specific exceptions to such general application (see section 20B.7 of these regulations).*†

§ 20B.2 Form in which rule is stated. The rule for apportioning bases between the old and the new property interests contemplated in prior regulations and here prescribed differs slightly in its mechanics depending upon whether the new issue constitutes a stock dividend on the one hand or a stock right on the other hand (the stock right being referred to in the Act equally with the stock dividend as "new stock"), and, if a stock right, whether acquired before January 1, 1925, or on or after that date. Accordingly the rule as developed in these regulations is separately stated.*†

§ 20B.3 Stock dividend, basis for determining gain or loss. In the case of stock in respect of which was acquired a stock dividend of any character in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1936, or in respect of which was acquired in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1935, a stock dividend which did not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution, the basis for determining gain or loss from a sale or other disposition of either the stock in respect of which the distribution was made or the stock dividend shall (except as otherwise prescribed in section 20B.7 of these regulations) be ascertained by apportioning the adjusted basis of the old stock between such old stock and the new stock distributed to the shareholder in accordance with the following rules:

(1) If the new stock is of substantially the same character and preference as the old stock, the basis of each share will be the quotient of the cost or other basis of the old shares, properly adjusted, divided by the total number of the old and the new shares.

(2) If the new stock is in whole or in part stock of a character or preference materially different from the old stock, the cost or other basis of the old stock, properly adjusted, shall be apportioned between such old stock and the new stock in proportion, as nearly as may be, to the respective values of each class of stock, old and new, at the time of such distribution, and the basis of each share of stock will be the quotient of the cost or other basis, properly adjusted, of the class of stock to which such share belongs, divided by the number of shares in the class. In general, any material difference in character or preference or terms sufficient to distinguish one stock from another so that different values may properly be assigned thereto will constitute a difference in class.

(3) If the old stock was purchased at different times or at different prices, and the identity of the lots cannot be determined, any sale of the old stock will be charged to the earliest purchases of such stock, and any sale of the new stock will be presumed to have been made from the stock distributed in respect of the earliest purchased stock.

(4) If the old stock was purchased at different times or at different prices, and the new stock cannot be identified as having been distributed in respect of any particular lot of such stock, then any sale of the new stock will be presumed to have been made from the stock distributed in respect of the earliest purchased stock.*†

§ 20B.4 Stock rights, basis for determining gain or loss. (a) In the case of stock in respect of which were acquired after December 31, 1924 (see T.D. 4018, C.B. VI–1, 36 as amended by T.D. 4145, C.B. VII–1, 59), and before the first day of the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1935, stock subscription rights (whether or not constituting income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution) or in respect of which were acquired in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1935, stock subscription rights which did not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution, and in the case of such rights, the following rules are to be applied (except as otherwise prescribed in section 20B.7 of these regulations):

(1) If the shareholder does not exercise, but sells, his rights to subscribe, the cost or other basis, properly adjusted, of the stock in respect of which the rights are acquired shall be apportioned between the rights and the stock in proportion to the respective values thereof at the time the rights are issued, and the basis for determining gain or loss from the sale of a right on one hand or a share of stock on the other will be the quotient of the cost or other basis, properly adjusted, assigned to the rights or the stock, divided, as the case may be, by the number of rights acquired or by the number of shares held.

*Sections 20B.0 to 20B.8 are issued under authority contained in section 214 of the Revenue Act of 1939, Public, No. 155, Seventy-sixth Congress, First Session, and section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code, 53 Stat., Part 1, and interpret section 214 of said Revenue Act of 1939.

†The source of sections 20B.0 to 20B.8 is Treasury Decision 4938, approved Sept. 14, 1939.

Example. A taxpayer in 1933 purchased 500 shares of common stock at $125 a share, and in 1938, by reason of the ownership of such stock, acquired 500 rights entitling him to subscribe to 100 additional shares of such stock at $100 a share. Upon the issuance of the rights each of the shares of stock in respect of which the rights were acquired had a fair market value of $120, and the rights had a fair market value of $3 each. Instead of subscribing to the additional shares, he sold the rights at $4 each. The profit is computed as follows:

500 (shares) × $125 = $62,500, cost of old stock (stock in respect of which the rights were acquired)

500 (shares) × $120 = $60,000, market value of old stock

500 (rights) × $3 = $1,500, market value of rights

$\frac{60,000}{61,500}$ of $62,500 = $60,975.61, cost of old stock apportioned to such stock

$\frac{1,500}{61,500}$ of $62,500 = $1,524.39, cost of old stock apportioned to rights

$2,000 (proceeds of sale of rights) less $1,524.39 (cost of old stock apportioned to rights) = $475.61, profit.

For the purpose of determining the gain or loss from the subsequent sale of the stock in respect of which the rights were acquired, the adjusted cost of each share is $121.95—that is, $60,975.61 divided by 500.

(2) If the shareholder exercises his rights to subscribe, the basis for determining gain or loss from a subsequent sale of a share of the stock in respect of which the rights were acquired shall be determined as in paragraph (a) (1) of this section. The basis for determining gain or loss from a subsequent sale of a share of the stock obtained through exercising the rights shall be determined by dividing the part of the cost or other basis, properly adjusted, of the old shares assigned to the rights, plus the subscription price of the new shares, by the number of new shares acquired.

Example. A taxpayer in 1935 purchased 500 shares of common stock at $125 a share, and in 1938, by reason of the ownership of such stock, acquired 500 rights entitling him to subscribe to 100 additional shares of such stock at $100 a share. Upon the issuance of the rights each of the shares of stock in respect of which the rights where acquired had a fair market value of $120, and the rights had a fair market value of $3 each. The taxpayer exercised his rights to subscribe to the additional shares and later sold one of such shares for $140. The profit is computed as follows:

$1,524.39 (cost of old stock apportioned to rights pursuant to the computation in the example under paragraph (a) (1) of this section) plus $10,000 (subscription price of additional shares) = $11,524.39, basis for determining gain or loss from sale of additional shares.

$11,524.39 divided by 100 = $115.24, basis for determining gain or loss from sale of each share of additional stock.

$140 (proceeds of sale of share of additional stock) less $115.24 = $24.76, profit.

The basis for determining the gain or loss from subsequent sale of the stock in respect of which the rights were acquired is $60,975.61 divided by 500, or $121.95 a share.

(3) If the stock in respect of which the rights are acquired was purchased at different times or at different prices and the identity of the lots cannot be determined, or if the stock in respect of which the rights are acquired was purchased at different times or at different prices and the stock rights acquired in respect of such stock cannot be identified as having been acquired in respect of any particular lot of such stock, the basis for determining gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of the old shares, or the rights in cases in which the rights are sold, or from the sale or other disposition of the old or new shares in cases in which the rights are exercised, shall be ascertained in accordance with the principles laid down in section 20B.3 of these regulations.

(b) In the case of stock in respect of which were acquired prior to January 1, 1925, stock subscription rights (whether or not constituting income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution), and in the case of such rights, the following rules are to be applied (except as otherwise prescribed in section 20B.7 of these regulations):

(1) If the right to subscribe relates to new stock of substantially the same character or preference as the stock with respect to which the right was acquired—

(A) If the shareholder exercises his right to subscribe, the basis for determining gain or loss from a subsequent sale or other disposition of any one of the old or new shares will be the cost or other basis of the old shares, properly adjusted, plus the subscription price of the new shares, divided by the total number of the old and new shares.

(B) If the shareholder sells the right to subscribe, the gain or loss from the sale will be determined by comparing the sum of the sale price of the right and the subscription price with the basis of the shares as determined in (A) above. The gain computed under the provisions of this paragraph shall not exceed the amount for which the right is sold. If, however, this limitation has been applied, the gain or loss from the subsequent sale of the stock with respect to which the right was acquired, shall be determined as if no right to subscribe had been acquired with respect to it.

(2) If the right acquired deals with stock in whole or in part of a character or preference materially different from the stock with respect to which the right was acquired, or if the stock with respect to which the right was acquired was purchased at different times or at different prices, and the identity of the lots cannot be determined, or if the stock with respect to which the right was acquired was purchased at different times or at different prices and the stock right acquired with respect to such stock cannot be identified as having been acquired with respect to any particular lot of such stock, the computation of the gain from the sale of the old shares or the right in cases in which the right is sold, or from the sale of the old or new shares in cases in which the right is exercised, shall be made in accordance with the principles laid down in section 20B.3 of these regulations.*†

§ 20B.5 Holding period. The period for which the taxpayer has held stock, or stock subscription rights, acquired by him as a dividend shall be determined as though the stock dividend or the subscription right were the stock in respect of which the dividend was acquired, if the basis for determining gain or loss upon the sale or other disposition of such stock dividend or right is fixed by application of the general rule of apportionment provided by section 214 of the Revenue Act of 1939.*†

§ 20B.6 Stock dividends to which section 214 applies. The general rule provided by section 214 of the Revenue Act of 1939 requiring an apportionment of basis in certain stock dividend and stock right cases and discussed in sections 20B.1 to 20B.4 of these regulations, and the rule governing the computation of holding periods apply equally in the case of a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, and in the case of all prior taxable years, and apply regardless of whether the distribution is made out of earnings or profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, or earnings of profits accumulated prior to March 1, 1913, or from any other source. In all cases the application of the rule is subject to the exceptions, limitations, and qualifications expressed in subsections (a) and (e) of that section and in section 20B.7 of these regulations.*†

§ 20B.7 Exceptions, limitations, and qualifications to general rule. The general rule for determining the basis for gain or loss in the case of stock dividends and stock rights is subject to the following exceptions, limitations, and qualifications:

(a) Proceeds of sale of rights reported as income. In the case of stock rights sold in a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1939, the general rule shall not apply if the entire proceeds of such sale were included by the taxpayer as gross income for the year of the sale and if, before June 29, 1939, the taxpayer had not asserted by a claim for a refund or credit or otherwise that any part of such proceeds should not have been included in gross income for the year of the sale. In such cases, no part of the proceeds of such sale shall ever be excluded from gross income for the year of the sale, and the basis for determining gain or loss from a subsequent sale or other disposition of the stock in respect of which the rights were acquired shall be the same as though the rights had not been acquired.

(b) Receipt of new stock reported as income in prior years. In the case of stock dividends or stock rights acquired in a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1936, the general rule shall not apply if for any reason there was included in the gross income of the shareholder as a dividend for such year, as, for example, pursuant to the provisions of section 201 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1918 or the corresponding provisions of prior revenue acts, or as a result of the decision of the Supreme Court in Koshland v. Helvering, (1936) 298 U. S. 441, an amount reflecting the acquisition of such stock dividends or stock rights, and if before June 29, 1939, such amount was not excluded from gross income for such year. In such cases, the basis for determining gain or loss with respect to the old stock shall be the same as though the stock dividends or the stock rights had not been acquired, and the basis with respect to the stock dividend or stock right shall be an amount equal to that at which such stock dividend or stock right was included in gross income for the year of its acquisition.

(c) Gain or loss upon sale of old or new stock finally determined upon basis inconsistent with general rule. The general rule shall not apply with respect to old stock or new stock remaining on hand after a sale or other disposition of old stock or new stock effected in a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1936, if the basis for determining gain or loss on such sale or other disposition was fixed by a decision of a court or the Board of Tax Appeals or by a closing agreement, and if such decision or closing agreement became final on or before September 26, 1939, and if the basis for determining gain or loss upon such sale or other disposition was fixed by a method other than that of allocation of basis provided by the general rule. In such cases, the basis for determining gain or loss with respect to the remaining shares shall be fixed in a manner consistent with the prior determination to the end that, the sale or other disposition of all lots being considered, the taxpayer will have effected ultimately a tax-free recovery of the total cost or other basis of his original shares, and no more.*†

§ 20B.8 Modification of prior regulations. Prior Treasury regulations are hereby modified to the extent that they may be inconsistent with these regulations.*†

§ 203.4 Eligibility for enrollment and reenrollment.

* * * * * *

(c) Reenrollment—(1) Qualifications. To qualify for reenrollment a present member of the Civilian Conservation Corps must be—

(i) Physically qualified for ordinary labor and free from active disease.

(ii) Honorably discharged from the immediately preceding period of service.

(iii) Considered worthy of reenrollment (see subparagraph (2) below).

(iv) Unmarried, if a junior, unless exempted as one of ten excepted men per company.

(v) Of such an age, if a junior, that during the entire period of reenrollment he will be between the ages of 17 and 23 years, both inclusive, unless exempted as one of ten excepted men per company.

(vi) With not more than 18 months previous enrolled service if a junior. Enrolled service prior to July 1, 1937, will not be computed in determining eligibility under this qualification.

(2) Unworthy enrollees—(i) Notice to enrollee of ineligibility. An enrollee who in the opinion of both the company commander and the project superintendent is unworthy of the privilege of reenrollment, because of unsatisfactory performance of duties or other substantial reasons, will not be reenrolled. He will be informed by his company commander of that decision not less than 20 days prior to the prospective date of final departure from his camp.

(ii) Appeal. An enrollee advised of the adverse decision of noneligibility for reenrollment may appeal therefrom to the corps area commander. The appeal will be in writing and submitted or mailed to the company commander not later than 24 hours from the time of receipt of notice by him of the decision. It will be forwarded through the district commander to the corps area commander who will cause a thorough investigation to be made by a disinterested officer not belonging to the appellant's organization. The investigation will be in the form of a hearing. The record of the hearing, concluding with the investigating officer's finding and recommendation, will be in duplicate. Upon review, the action of the corps area commander will be noted thereon, one copy returned to the company commander for use in informing the appellant of the result of his appeal and for file. ## Notices

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Food and Drug Administration.

REPORT OF PRESIDING OFFICER, SUGGESTED FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS AND ORDER IN REGARD TO IDENTITY OF CANNED PEARS

IN THE MATTER OF PUBLIC HEARINGS FOR PURPOSE OF RECEIVING EVIDENCE UPON BASIS OF WHICH REGULATIONS MAY BE PROMULGATED (A) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE DEFINITION AND STANDARD OF IDENTITY, (2) REQUIRING LABEL DECLARATION OF CERTAIN OPTIONAL INGREDIENTS; (B) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF QUALITY, (2) SPECIFYING FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD QUALITY; (C) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF FILL OF CONTAINER, (2) SPECIFYING FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD FILL OF CONTAINER; FOR EACH OF THE FOODS COMMONLY KNOWN AS CANNED PEACHES, CANNED APRICOTS, CANNED PEARS AND CANNED CHERRIES

General Statement

1. In conformity with subsection (e) of Section 701 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act [Section 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U.S.C. 371 (e)], the Secretary of Agriculture on his own initiative published on March 7, 1939, which appeared on page 1143 of the FEDERAL REGISTER, a notice of a public hearing to be held on April 10, 1939, in the South Ballroom, Tenth Floor, Raleigh Hotel, Twelfth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which, in pursuance of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the provisions of Sections 401, 403 (g) (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2) [Secs. 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2), 52 Stat. 1046 and 1047; 21 U.S.C. 341, 343 (g), (2), and 343 (h), (1) and (2)], regulations may be promulgated (a) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity, and (2) requiring the label declaration of certain optional ingredients; (b) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of quality, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard quality; and (c) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of fill of container, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard fill of container; for each of the foods commonly known as canned peaches, canned apricots, canned pears, and canned cherries. The notice contained a proposal, in general terms, for defining and so standardizing each of such foods. John McDill Fox was designated as presiding officer to conduct such hearing. Thereafter, a public hearing was held at the time and place specified, and John McDill Fox acted as presiding officer. (Government's Exhibit No. 1)

2. At said hearing the presiding officer announced that he would first hold a hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peaches.

3. In pursuance of such announcement, a hearing was held for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peaches, and the hearing was continued with reference to the other proposals, to dates subsequently to be announced.

4. On April 15, 1939, at 3 p. m., the hearing on the definition and standard of identity proposal for canned pears was convened and held on April 15, and at 5:40 p. m., was adjourned until May 1, 1939, and resumed on May 1, 1939, and concluded on May 2, 1939, at 11:50 a. m. It was ordered that all evidence with reference to the sucrose-dextrose issue introduced in evidence at the hearing on the definition and standard of identity proposal for canned peaches be incorporated in this record. Page references to the record of the hearing conducted on May 1, 1939, and May 2, 1939, are cited as "C.R. —". All interested persons were notified, pursuant to the rules of procedure, of their opportunity to file proposed findings of fact and written argument.

5. Within the time announced at the hearing within which interested persons might file proposed findings of fact, written argument, or both, various interested persons file proposed findings of fact, together with written argument in support thereof, based upon the evidence adduced at the hearing which, if granted, would modify the proposal contained in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

6. Pursuant to the rules of procedure, the presiding officer, therefore, makes this his report and suggests that the Secretary issue the regulation hereinafter set forth and make, on the basis of the substantial evidence of record at the hearing, the findings of fact herein contained as part of the order promulgating and making public such regulation.

SUGGESTED FINDINGS

-1. Canned pears are prepared from mature pears.. (R. pp. 21, 31, 44)

2. Except in the case of whole pears, canned pears are cored. (R. pp. 21, 31, 41, 45)

3. Such pears are prepared in one of the following forms of units: unpeeled whole, unpeeled halves, peeled whole, peeled halves, peeled quarters, peeled slices, peeled dice, and peeled mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. (R. pp. 21, 31, 44, 45, 70–71, 75, 80–81, 84, 86–88) Such forms of units are never mixed in canning. (R. pp. 21, 44) Canned pears are not prepared in any other forms of units. (R. pp. 22, 44) Pears of each such form of units are an optional pear ingredient. (R. pp. 22, 31, 44, 45, 75, 84) Each such form of units of the optional ingredient has its own distinctive consumer uses. (R. pp. 22, 44)

4. Canned pears contain a suitable liquid packing medium. (R. pp. 23, 31–32, 44, 45) It may be the natural juice of the pear obtained by precooking the pears so that such juice exudes, or it may be an added liquid. (R. pp. 23–24, 31–32, 44)

5. The natural juice of the pear is a suitable liquid packing medium. (R. p. 71)

6. Water is a suitable liquid packing medium. (R. pp. 24, 31, 44)

7. A water solution of sugar is a suitable liquid packing medium. (R. pp. 24, 31–32, 44)

8. Sugar is defined in Webster's International Dictionary on page 2521 thereof (C. R., Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 4) as:

"1. A sweet crystallizable substance, colorless or white when pure, occurring in many plant juices, and forming an important article of human food—called specif. cane sugar, sucrose, and saccharose. The chief sources of sugar are the sugar cane and the sugar beet, the completely refined products of which are identical and form granulated sugar, loaf sugar, etc., of commerce. The cane juice, obtained by expression, is treated with lime to removed impurities, filtered, and evaporated to crystallization. The mother liquor, or molasses, is removed by draining (now usually) by a centrifugal. The crude yellowish or brown sugar thus obtained is usually refined at central plants by redissolving, clarifying, decolorizing, and recrystallizing. In the case of beets the sugar is removed by extraction with water (diffusion) and carried to the refined state in one operation. Crude cane sugar is often sold as brown sugar, but crude beet sugar has an unpleasant flavor. Some sugar is also made from palm trees, maple trees, etc. Sugar forms fine monoclinic crystals melting at 186° C. (367° F.), which dissolve in about half their weight of water at ordinary temperature. Chemically, it is a disaccharide of the formula $C_{12}H_{22}O_{11}$, formed by union of one molecule of dextrose with one of levulose. It does not reduce Fehling solution and does not ferment directly, but is converted by diastase (or by heating with acids) into the fermentable mixture called invert sugar. It is dextrorotatory, a property which is used in estimating the strength of its solutions. Sugar is a food, and also serves as a condiment and preservative for other foods. See Food 1.

"2. By extension, any of a class of sweet, soluble compounds comprising the simpler carbohydrates. See Carbohydrate. The simple sugars, those not decomposable by hydrolysis, are called monosaccharides. Complex sugars are formed by the condensation of two, three, or four molecules of simple sugar and are called disaccharides, trisaccharides, and tetrasaccharides. For the structure and classification of simple sugar, see Monosaccharide. Among the important natural sugars are sucrose (See def. 1), or cane sugar, dextrose (d-glucose), or grape sugar, levulose (d-fructose), or fruit sugar, lactose, or milk sugar, and maltose, or malt sugar. Some of these, and also many others, have been made synthetically."

9. Prior to the hearing, a letter was addressed to the Secretary of Agriculture asking for a definition of the word "sugar" as used in the proposal, which letter was answered under the signature of the Secretary of Agriculture, which answer reads as follows and is Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 2:

"We have your letter of March 30 referring to proposals for food standards to be considered at public hearings on April 10, 1939. You inquire as to our interpretation of the words 'Water solution of sugar, of 25° Brix or more' and 'Water solution of sugar, of less than 25° Brix' as used in these proposals.

"The word 'sugar' as used therein refers to sugar as defined in the current advisory definition and standard of identity for sugar under the present Food and Drugs Act, which you will find on page 11 of the enclosed F.D. 2, definition 1, under 'A. Sugar and Sugar Products.' These are merely proposals. The final standards will be based on evidence adduced to the public hearing and any interested party is, of course, invited to submit proposals for other packing mediums."

10. In S.R.A., F.D. No. 2, Rev. 5 (Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 2), under "Sugars and Related Substances", the following appears:

"A. Sugar and sugar products.

"1. Sugar. Sucrose (saccharose) obtained chiefly from sugarcane and sugar beets. Granulated, loaf, cut, milled, and powdered sugars are different forms of sugar, containing at least 99.5 percent of sucrose."

Under "B. Dextrose and Related Products", the following appears:

"1. Dextrose. The product chiefly made by the hydrolysis of starch or a starch-containing substance, followed by processes of refining and crystallization.*

"a. Anhydrous dextrose contains not less than 99.5 percent of dextrose and not more than 0.5 percent of moisture.

"b. Hydrated dextrose contains not less than 90 percent of dextrose and not more than 10 percent of moisture, including water of crystallization.

"* When derived from cornstarch, dextrose is known commercially as refined corn sugar."

11. Starch is a polysaccharide. Sucrose is a disaccharide. Dextrose and levulose are monosaccharides. (C.R. p. 32)

12. Polysaccharides such as starch have a higher caloric value per gram than the disaccharides such as sucrose, and the disaccharides have a higher caloric value per gram than the monosaccharides such as dextrose and levulose. (C. R. p. 32)

13. By the dictionary definition, the simple sugars, monosaccharides, are not decomposable by hydrolysis. (C. R., Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 4)

14. Sugar, as described in the Encyclopedia Brittanica on page 523 (C. R., Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 5), applies to over 100 substances, having distinctive properties and scientific names; for example, sucrose, glucose, fructose, lactose, maltose, etc.

15. "As ordinarily understood, of course, by chemists, and physiologists, sugar is just one of the break-down products of two other large nutritive ingredients, namely, ordinary starch from plants, and starch from animals. Now as they are digested or hydrolized, you get ultimately a double sugar, nutritively it is like cane sugar, or beet sugar, and then when they are inverted, further changed into the form that they are absorbed and actually utilized in the body, we have dextrose and levulose, so that beginning with starch you have the double sugars, maltose and fructose, and then you have the simple sugars, which is the ultimate product.

"There are other forms of sugars that can be utilized by various bacteria, but not by man." (Identity of Peaches, Carlson p. 159)

16. Crystalline dextrose manufacture was made commercially possible in 1923 by the granting of the Newkirk patents (October 23, 1923; September 16, 1924; January 6, 1925) on corn starch hydrolysis and the economical separation of high purity dextrose from the converter liquors. (Identity of Peaches, Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 3)

17. Not until 1926 was chemically pure dextrose accepted by the United States Pharmacopoeia. (Identity of Peaches, Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 3)

18. Not until 1930, when the Secretary of Agriculture ruled that refined dextrose (corn sugar) could be used in the manufacture of food products without label declaration, was the utilization of dextrose by canners, preservers, beverage manufacturers and allied food industries seriously considered. (Identity of Peaches, Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 3)

19. In 1930, the Secretary of Agriculture ruled:

"Corn sugar (dextrose) when sold in packages must be labeled as such; when sold in bulk must be declared as such; but the use of pure refined corn sugar as an ingredient in the packing, preparation, or processing of any article of food in which sugar is a recognized element need not be declared upon the label of any such product.

"Nothing in this ruling shall be construed to permit the adulteration or imitation of any natural product such as honey by the addition of any sugar or other ingredient whatever.

"The term 'sugar', with or without the parenthetical expression 'sucrose', as used in the definitions to designate the sweetening agent in manufactured food products, is to be interpreted, wherever necessary to effect the purpose of the foregoing decision, as including dextrose (pure, refined corn sugar)." (Identity of Peaches, Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 1)

20. The great bulk of consumers regard "sugar" as the common or usual name of sucrose, i. e., cane or beet sugar. (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 53, 132, 177, 350, 360, 397, 404, 416, 424, 442, 455, 461, 465, 472)

21. Within the past 3½ years, refined corn sugar (dextrose) has been used in the canning of pears. (Identity of Peaches, R. p. 275)

22. Prior to that time, cane or beet sugar (sucrose) was the only sugar used in the canning of pears. (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 275–276); (Identity of Peaches, Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 3)

23. The simple sugar, dextrose, is now obtainable by hydrolysis from corn starch; is called "refined corn sugar"; and is now used in combination with cane or beet sugar (sucrose) in a water solution as a liquid packing medium for canned pears. (Identity of Peaches, R. p. 275); (Identity of Peaches, Other Interested Parties' Exhibits Nos. 3 and 4)

24. Refined corn sugar (dextrose) and cane or beet sugar (sucrose) differ in sweetness, in food value, in manner of absorption, in solubility, and their solutions differ in viscosity, in osmotic pressure, and in boiling temperature. (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 66–67, 174–175, 177, 257, 260–261, 285, 333–345, 347, 370–371, 398, 427, 499–500, 513–517); (C. R. pp. 21, 22, 52, 53, 54, 55, 57); (Identity of Peaches, Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 3). A water solution of refined corn sugar (dextrose) as the liquid packing medium cannot be used alone in the canning of pears. The maximum amount of refined corn sugar (dextrose) which has been so used for commercial purposes, in combination with cane or beet sugar (sucrose), is 33⅓% refined corn sugar (dextrose) and 66⅔% cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose). (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 199–200, 258, 275.) Refined corn sugar (dextrose) is not as sweet as cane or beet sugar (sucrose), being generally regarded as from 50% to 75% as sweet as cane or beet sugar (sucrose). (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 66–67, 174–175, 217, 260–261, 499–500, 513–517.) Consumers are accustomed to gauge sweetness according to that of cane or beet sugar (sucrose). (Identity of Peaches, R. p. 218.)

25. Refined corn sugar (dextrose) sells on the open market at a cheaper price than cane or beet sugar (sucrose). (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 189, 239); (C. R. p. 58); (C. R., Affidavits of A. B. Saroni, H. P. Nachtrieb, and Phillip Kelley.)

26. Another sugar, refined corn sugar (dextrose), is now used in the canning of pears as well as cane sugar and beet sugar (sucrose), and it will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers to differentiate between the kinds of sugars used in preparing the liquid packing medium of canned pears. (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 398, 406, 424, 426–427, 437, 471)

27. A label statement of the origin of such sugars used in preparing such liquid packing medium will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer. (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 424, 492)

28. The use of the qualifying words "cane sugar", "beet sugar", followed by their chemical name "sucrose", and "refined corn sugar", followed by its chemical name "dextrose", will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer. (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 41, 42, 57, 58, 71, 100, 102, 120, 121, 132, 163, 229, 239, 404, 425, 450, 453); (C.R. pp. 67–69)

29. A water solution of sugar is used not only as a liquid packing medium but also as a sweetening agent. (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 72, 163, 172, 174, 175, 231, 256)

30. Such sweetening agent is called sirup. (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 71, 120)

31. There are four water solutions of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose) known as sirups to consumers and used in the industry, to-wit: light, medium, heavy, and extra heavy. (R. pp. 72–74, 84); (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 120, 121, 126, 131, 229, 297, 425). It is a customary trade and consumer practice so to distinguish them. (R. pp. 24–25, 26, 27, 31–32, 72, 74, 84); (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 41, 61, 131, 229, 424). Such sirups are measured and distinguished by their specific gravity as determined by the Brix hydrometer. The Brix hydrometer is a reliable instrument for testing specific gravity of liquid solutions and is in general use. (R. pp. 25–26); (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 40, 136) A water solution of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose) which does not show a reading of 10° on the Brix hydrometer does not sweeten the finished canned pears sufficiently to be known as a sirup for this food. (R. pp. 36, 74, 76, 84)

32. When such sirups are prepared from cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose), they have, respectively, the following readings on the Brix hydrometer: not less than 10° but less than 20°, not less than 20° but less than 30°, not less than 30° but less than 40°, and not less than 40°, but when such sirups of equivalent sweetness are prepared from a mixture of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose), they do not have the above readings on the Brix hydrometer because of the difference in sweetness between refined corn sugar (dextrose) and cane or beet sugar (sucrose). However, the Brix reading of a sucrose sirup equivalent in sweetness to that of any such mixture is obtained by adding the percent by weight of cane or beet sugar (sucrose), or both, in such mixture to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such solution. Such calculated Brix readings (sucrose equivalents) are identical with the limits above set forth. (R. pp. 73, 74, 76, 84)

33. Due to the fact that in canned pears which have been prepared with a liquid packing medium consisting of a water solution of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose), there will be present in addition to sucrose, due to inversion, levulose and dextrose and that in canned pears which have been prepared with a liquid packing medium consisting of a water solution of a mixture of cane or beet sugar (sucrose) or cane and beet sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose), there will likewise be present sucrose, and due to inversion, levulose and dextrose, the consumer would have no way of telling, from an examination of the finished canned pears, the optional sugar ingredient used. It will, therefore, promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer to require a label statement of the optional sugar ingredient used in the preparation of the liquid packing medium. (Identity of Peaches, R. p. 492)

34. The common or usual names of such sirups are light sirup, medium sirup, heavy sirup, and extra heavy sirup, qualified by the name of the kind or kinds of sugar used to make such sirups. (R. pp. 27, 34, 44, 72–73, 75–76, 84); (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 163, 229, 239, 404, 425, 450, 458); (C. R. pp. 67, 69)

35. Canned pears may or may not be seasoned. (R. pp. 28, 32, 44, 45)

36. Spice is a suitable seasoning agent. (R. pp. 29, 32, 44, 75, 76, 84)

37. Flavoring is a suitable seasoning agent. (R. pp. 29, 32, 44, 76, 84)

38. A vinegar is a suitable seasoning agent. (R. pp. 29, 32, 44, 76, 84)

39. Such seasoning agents are used singly or in combination. (R. pp. 29, 44, 52, 53)

40. It is essential that canned pears be sealed in a container. (R. pp. 30, 44, 45)

41. It is essential that canned pears be processed by heating after sealing to prevent spoilage and in order to preserve their identity. (R. pp. 30, 44, 45) Pears which are baked before canning are not the food commonly known as canned pears. Such baking changes their identity inasmuch as it produces a different color, a different texture, and a different flavor. The product consists of a combination of pears and brown sugar, whereas the food commonly known as canned pears is not prepared with dry sugar. (R. pp. 89–96)

42. Honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer requires that the optional pear ingredient, the optional liquid packing medium, and the optional seasoning ingredients be declared on the label. (R. pp. 30–31, 54–5, 75–77, 82–85, 84); (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 103, 104, 140, 191, 201, 210, 220, 238, 239, 259, 337, 338, 339, 349, 350, 351, 360, 367, 369, 370, 371, 398, 399, 401, 406, 415, 417, 419, 420, 422, 424, 427, 433, 436, 437, 438, 442, 471, 484, 485, 492); (C.R., p. 59); (C. R., Other Interested Parties' Exhibit No. 8A)

43. The common or usual name of peeled canned pears is the name of the varietal group and form of unit, without qualifying words, except that "slices" and "sliced" are synonymous and "dice" and "diced" are synonymous. (R. p. 37)

44. The common or usual name of unpeeled canned pears is the name of the varietal group and the name of the form of unit, qualified by the term "unpeeled." (R. pp. 71, 84)

45. The common or usual name of water is water. (R. pp. 24, 31, 44)

46. The common or usual name of the natural juice of the pear is pear juice. (R. pp. 71, 73, 76)

47. The common or usual name of sucrose is sugar; and the common or usual name of dextrose is refined corn sugar (dextrose). (Identity of Peaches, R. pp. 53, 61, 177, 215, 351, 367, 372, 373, 397, 398, 404, 416, 424, 461, 465, 510); (C.R. pp. 48, 49, 70); C.R., Other Interested Parties' Exhibits Nos. 4, 5, and 8a)

48. The common or usual name of spice used as a seasoning is spice. (R. pp. 30, 75, 76, 81, 84)

49. The common or usual name of flavoring used as a seasoning is flavoring. (R. pp. 30, 76, 84)

50. The common or usual name of a vinegar used as a seasoning is vinegar. (R. pp. 30, 76, 84)

51. Honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer requires that when spices, flavoring, or vinegar are used that the label bear the words "Spiced", or "With Added Spice", or "Spice Added"; "With Added Flavoring", or "Flavoring Added"; "With Added Vinegar", or "Vinegar Added", as the case may be; but if two or more of such optional ingredients are present, such words may be combined as, for example, "With Added Spice, Flavoring and Vinegar". In lieu of the words "Spice" or "Spiced" and "Flavoring", the common or usual name of the spice or flavoring may be used. (R. pp. 32, 33, 44, 45, 53, 54)

52. Honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer requires that wherever the name "pears" appears on the label so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase, the names of the optional ingredients present shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow such name without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter, except that the specific varietal name of the pears may so intervene. (R. pp. 54, 77, 84)

SUGGESTED CONCLUSION IN THE FORM OF A REGULATION

Upon the basis of the foregoing findings of fact, the following reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commony known as canned pears is hereby suggested to be promulgated as a regulation:

§ 27.020 Canned pears—Identity; label statement of optional ingredients. (a) Canned pears are the food prepared from mature pears. Such pears, except in the case of whole pears, are cored and are in one of the following forms of units: unpeeled whole; unpeeled halves; peeled whole; peeled halves; peeled quarters; peeled slices; peeled dice; peeled mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. Pears in each such form of units are an optional pear ingredient. To one such ingredient is added one of the optional ingredients:

(9) A water solution of cane sugar (sucrose), of not less than 10° Brix but less than 20° Brix;

(10) A water solution of beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 10° Brix but less than 20° Brix;

(11) A water solution of cane and beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 10° Brix but less than 20° Brix;

(12) A water solution of cane sugar (sucrose), of not less than 20° Brix but less than 30° Brix;

(13) A water solution of beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 20° Brix but less than 30° Brix;

(14) A water solution of cane and beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 20° Brix but less than 30° Brix;

(18) A water solution of cane sugar (sucrose), of not less than 40° Brix;

(19) A water solution of beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 40° Brix;

(20) A water solution of cane and beet sugar (sucrose), of not less than 40° Brix;

(21) A water solution of cane sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a cane sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 10° but less than 20° Brix. Such cane sugar (sucrose) equivalent is calculated by adding the percent by weight of cane sugar (sucrose) in such solution to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such solution;

(22) A water solution of beet sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a beet sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 10° but less than 20° Brix. Such beet sugar (sucrose) equivalent is calculated by adding the percent by weight of beet sugar (sucrose) in such solution to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such solution;

(23) A water solution of cane and beet sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a cane and beet sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 10° but less than 20° Brix. (24) A water solution of cane sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a cane sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 20° but less than 30° Brix. (25) A water solution of beet sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a beet sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 20° but less than 30° Brix. (30) A water solution of cane sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a cane sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 40° Brix. Such cane sugar (sucrose) equivalent is calculated by adding the percent by weight of cane sugar (sucrose) in such solution to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such solution;

(31) A water solution of beet sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a beet sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 40° Brix. Such beet sugar (sucrose) equivalent is calculated by adding the percent by weight of beet sugar (sucrose) in such solution to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such solution;

(32) A water solution of cane and beet sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a cane and beet sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 40° Brix. (34) Water.

The food may be seasoned with one or more of the optional ingredients:

(35) Spice;

(37) A vinegar.

The food is sealed in a container and so processed by heat as to prevent spoilage. The liquid of the finished canned pears is not more than 35° Brix.

(b) The label shall bear the words "Whole", or "Unpeeled Whole"; "Halves", or "Unpeeled Halves"; "Quarters"; "Slices", or "Sliced"; "Dice", or "Diced"; "Mixed Pieces of Irregular Sizes and Shapes"; naming the optional pear ingredient present. SEC. 322. (a) Whenever in any calendar year the Secretary determines from available statistics of the Department, including the August production estimate officially published by the Division of Crop and Livestock Estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department, that the total suply of corn as of October 1 will exceed the normal supply thereof by more than 10 per centum, marketing quotas shall be in effect in the commercial corn-producing area for the crop of corn grown in such area in such calendar year, and shall remain in effect until terminated in accordance with the provisions of this title.

(b) The Secretary shall determine, on the basis of the estimated average yield of corn in such area for such crop, the acreage in such area which the Secretary determines would make available for the marketing year beginning October 1 a supply of corn (together with the estimated production of corn in the United States outside such area) equal to the normal supply. The percentage which the number of acres so determined is of the total number of acres of the acreage allotment under section 328 shall be proclaimed by the Secretary. Such percentage is referred to herein as the "marketing percentage."

(c) The Secretary shall proclaim his determinations of facts under subsection (a) and his determination of the marketing percentage under subsection (b) not later than August 15.

(52 Stat 49, 7 U.S.C. 1322); and

Whereas Public Resolution No. 34 (H. J. Res. 342, 76th Congress, First Session), approved July 26, 1939, provides:

• • • that notwithstanding the provisions of section 322 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, the determinations under subsection (c) may be proclaimed at any time prior to September 15, • • •.

(53 Stat. 1125); and

Whereas the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, contains in section 301 (b) thereof, the following definitions of terms here pertinent:

"Marketing year" means, in the case of the following commodities, the period beginning on the first and ending with the second date specified below:

Corn, October 1–September 30.

• • • • • •

"Total supply" of corn • • • for any marketing year shall be the carry-over of the commodity for such marketing year plus the estimated production of the commodity in the United States during the calendar year in which such marketing year begins.

"Normal supply", in the case of corn • • • shall be a normal year's domestic consumption and exports of the commodity, plus 7 per centum in the case of corn, • • • of a normal year's domestic consumption and exports, as an allowance for a normal carry-over.

"Reserve supply level", in the case of corn, shall be a normal year's domestic consumption and exports of corn, plus 10 per centum of a normal year's domestic consumption and exports, to insure a supply adequate to meet domestic consumption and export needs in years of drought, flood, or other adverse conditions, as well as in years of plenty.

Whereas, said act further provides:

SEC. 304. The powers conferred under this Act shall not be used to discourage the production of supplies of foods and fibers sufficient to maintain normal domestic human consumption as determined by the Secretary from the records of domestic human consumption in the years 1920 to 1929, inclusive, taking into consideration increased population, quantities of any commodity that were forced into domestic consumption by decline in exports during such period, current trends in domestic consumption and exports of particular commodities, and the quantities of substitutes available for domestic consumption within any general class of food commodities. In carrying out the purposes of this Act it shall be the duty of the Secretary to give due regard to the maintenance of a continuous and stable supply of agricultural commodities from domestic production adequate to meet consumer demand at prices fair to both producers and consumers.

(52 Stat. 45, 7 U.S.C. 1304); and

Whereas said act provides in section 301 (c), that the latest available statistics of the Federal Government shall be used by the Secretary of Agriculture in making the determinations required to be made by the Secretary under said act (52 Stat. 38, 7 U.S.C. 1301); and

Whereas, by proclamation, dated December 30, 1938,[1] issued by H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to section 327 of said act, the commercial corn-producing area for the calendar year 1939 was ascertained and proclaimed; and

Whereas, by proclamation, dated December 30, 1938, issued by H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to section 328 of said act, the acreage allotment of corn for the commercial corn-producing area for the calendar year 1939 was ascertained and proclaimed to be 41,256,000 acres.

§ 20A.0 Introductory. (a) Section 213 of the Revenue Act of 1939, approved June 29, 1939, (Public, No. 155, Seventy-sixth Congress, first session) provides:

SEC. 213. ASSUMPTION OF INDEBTEDNESS.

(a) ASSUMPTION OF LIABILITY NOT RECOGNIZED. Section 112 of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to recognition of gain or loss) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

"(k) ASSUMPTION OF LIABILITY NOT RECOGNIZED. Where upon an exchange the taxpayer receives as part of the consideration property which would be permitted by subsection (b) (4) or (5) of this section to be received without the recognition of gain if it were the sole consideration, and as part of the consideration another party to the exchange assumes a liability of the taxpayer or acquires from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition shall not be considered as "other property or money" received by the taxpayer within the meaning of subsection (c), (d), or (e) of this section and shall not prevent the exchange from being within the provisions of subsection (b) (4) or (5); except that if, taking into consideration the nature of the liability and the circumstances in the light of which the arrangement for the assumption or acquisition was made, it appears that the principal purpose of the taxpayer with respect to the assumption or acquisition was a purpose to avoid Federal income tax on the exchange, or, if not such purpose, was not a bona fide business purpose, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for the purposes of this section, be considered as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange. In any suit or proceeding where the burden is on the taxpayer to prove that such assumption or acquisition is not to be considered as money received by the taxpayer, such burden shall not be considered as sustained unless the taxpayer sustains such burden by the clear preponderance of the evidence."

(b) AMENDMENT TO DEFINITION OF REORGANIZATION. Section 112 (g) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to definition of reorganization) is amended to read as follows:

"(1) The term 'reorganization' means (A) a statutory merger or consolidation, or (B) the acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock, of at least 80 per centum of the voting stock and at least 80 per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation, or (C) the acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock, of substantially all the properties of another corporation, but in determining whether the exchange is solely for voting stock the assumption by the acquiring corporation of a liability of the other, or the fact that property acquired is subject to a liability, shall be disregarded, or (D) a transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor or its shareholders or both are in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred, or (E) a recapitalization, or (F) a mere change in identity, form, or place of organization, however effected."

(c) REQUIREMENT OF SUBSTANTIALLY PROPORTIONATE INTERESTS. Section 112 (b) (5) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to requirement of substantially proportionate interests) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new sentence: "Where the transferee assumes a liability of a transferor, or where the property of a transferor is transferred subject to a liability, then for the purpose only of determining whether the amount of stock or securities received by each of the transferors is in the proportion required by this paragraph, the amount of such liability (if under subsection (k) it is not to be considered as 'other property or money') shall be considered as stock or securities received by such transferor."

(d) BASIS OF PROPERTY. Section 113 (a) (6) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to basis of property) is amended by inserting before the last sentence thereof the following: "Where as part of the consideration to the taxpayer another party to the exchange assumed a liability of the taxpayer or acquired from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for the purposes of this paragraph, be considered as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange."

(e) TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH APPLICABLE. The amendments made by subsections (a), (b), (c), and (d) shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

(f) ASSUMPTION OF LIABILITY NOT RECOGNIZED UNDER PRIOR ACTS.

(1) Where upon an exchange occurring in a taxable year ending after December 31, 1923, and beginning before January 1, 1939, the taxpayer received as part of the consideration property which would be permitted by subsection (b) (4) or (5) of section 112 of the Revenue Act of 1938, or the corresponding provisions of the Revenue Act of 1924 or subsequent revenue Acts, to be received without the recognition of gain if it were the sole consideration, and as part of the consideration another party to the exchange assumed a liability of the taxpayer or acquired from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition shall not be considered as "other property or money" received by the taxpayer within the meaning of subsection (c), (4), or (e) of section 112 of the Revenue Act of 1938, or the corresponding provisions of the Revenue Act of 1924 or subsequent revenue Acts and shall not prevent the exchange from being within the provisions of subsection (b) (4) or (5) of section 112 of the Revenue Act of 1938, or the corresponding provisions of the Revenue Act of 1924 or subsequent revenue Acts; except that if, in the determination of the tax liability of such taxpayer for the taxable year in which the exchange occurred, by a decision of the Board of Tax Appeals or of a court which became final before the ninetieth day after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1939, or by a closing agreement, gain was recognized to such taxpayer by reason of such assumption or acquisition of property, then for the purposes of section 112 of the Revenue Act of 1938, and corresponding provisions of the Revenue Act of 1924 or subsequent revenue Acts, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability considered in computing the gain) shall be considered as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall be effective with respect to the Revenue Act of 1924 and subsequent revenue Acts as of the date of enactment of each such Act.

(g) DEFINITION OF REORGANIZATION UNDER PRIOR ACTS.

(1) Section 112 (g) (1) of the Revenue Acts of 1938, 1936, and 1934 are amended to read as follows:

"(1) The term 'reorganization' means (A) a statutory merger or consolidation, or (B) the acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock, of substantially all the properties of another corporation, but in determining whether the exchange is solely for voting stock the assumption by the acquiring corporation of a liability of the other, or the fact that property acquired is subject to a liability, shall be disregarded; or the acquisition by one corporation in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock of at least 80 per centum of the voting stock and at least 80 per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation, or (C) a transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor or its shareholders or both are in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred, or (D) a recapitalization, or (E) a mere change in identity, form, or place of organization, however effected."

(2) The amendments made by paragraph (1) to the respective Acts amended shall be effective as to each of such Acts as of the date of enactment of such Act.

(h) SUBSTANTIALLY PROPORTIONATE INTERESTS UNDER PRIOR ACTS.

(1) Section 112 (b) (5) of the Revenue Acts of 1938, 1936, 1934, 1932, and 1928, and section 203 (b) (4) of the Revenue Acts of 1926 and 1924 are amended by inserting at the end thereof the following: "Where the transferee assumes a liability of a transferor, or where the property of a transferor is transferred subject to a liability, then for the purpose only of determining whether the amount of stock or securities received by each of the transferors is in the proportion required by this paragraph, the amount of such liability (if under section 213 of the Revenue Act of 1939 it is not considered as 'other property or money') shall be considered as stock or securities received by such transferor. If, as the result of a determination of the tax liability of the taxpayer for the taxable year in which the exchange occurred, by a decision of the Board of Tax Appeals or of a court which became final before the ninetieth day after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1939, or by a closing agreement, the treatment of the amount of such liability was different from the treatment which would result from the application of the preceding sentence, such sentence shall not apply and the result of such determination shall be deemed proper."

(2) The amendments made by paragraph (1) to the respective Acts amended shall be effective as to each of such Acts as of the date of enactment of such Act.

(i) BASIS UNDER PRIOR ACTS.

(1) Section 113 (a) (6) of the Revenue Acts of 1938, 1936, 1934, 1932, and 1928, and section 204 (a) (6) of the Revenue Acts of 1926 and 1924 are amended by inserting before the last sentence thereof the following: "Where as part of the consideration to the taxpayer another party to the exchange assumed a liability of the taxpayer or acquired from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for the purposes of this paragraph, be considered as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange."

(2) The amendments made by paragraph (1) to the respective Acts amended shall be effective as to each of such Acts as of the date of enactment of such Act.

(b) Section 910 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939, approved August 10, 1939 (Public, No. 379, Seventy-sixth Congress, first session) provides:

SEC. 910. (a) The provisions of section 213 (f) of the Revenue Act of 1939 shall apply without regard to the exception therein provided, if (1) the taxpayer in the determination referred to in such exception is a corporation, (2) such determinaton is by a decision of the Board of Tax Appeals or of a court, (3) under the law applicable to the taxable year in which the exchange occurred, the basis of the property, acquired upon the exchange from the taxpayer by the party assuming a liability of the taxpayer or acquiring the property subject to a liability, is the cost to such party of the property acquired upon the exchange, and (4) the taxpayer in pursuance of the plan of reorganization effected a complete liquidation immediately subsequent to the exchange.

(b) No overpayment determined to have been made for any taxable year by reason of the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall be refunded or credited unless a claim for refund is filed within the period of limitations otherwise provided by law for filing a claim for refund for such taxable year, or within one year from the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1939, whichever of such periods expires the later. No interest shall be allowed or paid on the amount of any overpayment refunded or credited by reason of the provisions of this section.

Pursuant to section 213 of the Revenue Act of 1939 and other provisions of the internal revenue laws, the following regulations are hereby prescribed:*†

§ 20A.1 General—(a) Use of term "assumption of liabilities." When used in these regulations, the terms "assumption of liabilities," "liabilities assumed," or similar expressions include, in addition to cases where personal liabilities of the taxpayer are assumed by another party to the exchange, cases (1) where property of the taxpayer is acquired by another party to the exchange subject to a liability, whether or not the taxpayer was himself personally liable, and (2) where, though the property transferred was held by the taxpayer merely subject to a liability, the liability is assumed by another party to the exchange.

(b) References to sections of law. Unless otherwise specified, all references to sections of law in these regulations are to sections of the Internal Revenue Code and the corresponding provisions, if any, of revenue acts prior thereto to and including the Revenue Act of 1924.

(c) References to the "Act." References to the "Act" in these regulations are to the Revenue Act of 1939.

(d) Date Board or court decision becomes final. The date upon which a decision by the Board of Tax Appeals becomes final is prescribed in section 1140 of the Internal Revenue Code.

The date upon which a judgment of a court becomes final must be determined upon the basis of the facts in the particular case. Ordinarily, a judgment of a United States district court becomes final upon the expiration of the time allowed for taking an appeal, if no such appeal is duly taken within such time; and a judgment of the United States Court of Claims becomes final upon the expiration of the time allowed for filing a petition for certiorari if no such petition is duly filed within such time.*†

§ 20A.2 Purpose and scope of special treatment accorded assumption of liabilities in certain cases. Section 213 of the Act makes specific provision relative to the proper treatment of assumptions of liabilities in connection with the definition of the term "reorganization" and certain types of reorganization exchanges and transfers to controlled corporations. The transactions directly affected by section 213 of the Act are those described in section 112 (b) (4) and (5), including those described in section 112 (c), (d), and (e) which would have been within section 112 (b) (4) or (5) if it had not been for the receipt of "other property or money." Though section 213 of the Act does not extend to the transactions described in section 112 (b) (1), (2), or (3) or so much of section 112 (c) and (e) as refers to section 112 (b) (1), (2), or (3), it does, because of the amendment to section 112 (g) (1) relative to the definition of the term "reorganization," make section 112 (b) (3), (c), and (e) applicable to exchanges which might otherwise be outside the scope of such provisions. In addition to the exceptions and limitations contained in the specific provisions of section 213 of the Act, transactions involving assumptions of liabilities are subject to all the exceptions and limitations generally applicable in the determination of whether an exchange is within the nonrecognition provisions of section 112, including satisfaction of the underlying purposes and assumptions of the reorganization provisions. See articles 112 (a)–1 and 112 (g)–1 of Regulations 101[1] (sections 9.112 (a)–1 and 9.112 (g)–1 of Title 26 of the Code of Federal Regulations). The effect of section 213 of the Act is to prevent certain types of assumptions of liabilities from resulting in a denial of nonrecognition of gain or loss in whole or in part in cases where, but for such assumption of liabilities, gain or loss would have been unrecognized in whole or in part under the sections affected. It does not add to the exceptions now contained in section 112. It merely implements them.

By retroactively providing that an assumption of liabilities does not prevent a transaction from constituting a reorganization, if otherwise qualified, by similarly providing that an assumption of liabilities in connection with certain reorganization exchanges and transfers to controlled corporations does not prevent a transaction from being within section 112 (b) (4) or (5) and does not constitute a measure of the amount of gain to be recognized, and by amending section 113 (a) (6), section 213 of the Act in general confirms the Bureau practice with respect to the recognition of gain or loss and the determination of basis of property acquired in the cases covered thereby.*†

§ 20A.3 Assumption of liability not to be taken into account for purpose of recognizing gain or loss—(a) General rule. Section 213 of the Act does not affect the rule that liabilities assumed are to be taken into account for the purpose of computing the amount of gain or loss realized upon an exchange. Such section provides, however, that liabilities assumed are not to be treated as "other property or money" under section 112 (c) or for the purpose of determining the amount of the realized gain which is to be recognized under section 112 (c) or (d), if the transactions involved would, but for the receipt of "other property or money," have been exchanges of the type described in section 112 (b) (4) or (5). The section also provides that if the only type of consideration received by the transferor in addition to that permitted to be received by section 112 (b) (4) or (5) consists of an assumption of liabilities, the transaction, if otherwise qualified, shall be deemed to be within the provisions of section 112 (b) (4) or (5). The above rules are applicable to all transactions of the character described occurring at any time in the past or the future in a taxable year ending after December 31, 1923, of the transferor whose liabilities are assumed, with the exceptions and limitations specified in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section of the regulations.

The application of this paragraph may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. A, an individual, transfers to a controlled corporation property with an adjusted basis of $10,000 in exchange for stock of the corporation with a fair market value of $8,000, cash in the amount of $3,000, and the assumption by the corporation of indebtedness of A amounting to $4,000. A's gain is $5,000, computed as follows:

|---|---|
| Stock received | $8,000 |
| Cash received | 3,000 |
| Liabilities assumed by transferee | 4,000 |
| Total consideration received | 15,000 |
| Less: Adjusted basis of property transferred | 10,000 |
| Gain realized | 5,000 |

Assuming that the transaction falls within section 112 (c) as a transaction which would have been within section 112 (b) (5) but for the receipt of "other property or money," only so much of such $5,000 gain will be recognized as does not exceed the "other property or money" received. Since section 213 of the Act provides that an assumption of liabilities shall not constitute "other property or money" for this purpose, the only "other property or money" received is the $3,000 cash, and the $5,000 realized gain will be recognized only to that extent.

(b) Exceptions and limitations relative to transactions taking place in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938. The benefits of section 112 (k), added to the Internal Revenue Code by section 213 (a) of the Act, do not extend to any exchange involving an assumption of liabilities where it appears that the principal purpose of the taxpayer with respect to such assumption was a purpose to avoid Federal income tax on the exchange, or, if not such purpose, was not a bona fide business purpose. In such cases, the amount of the liabilities assumed shall, for the purpose of determining the amount of gain to be recognized upon the exchange in which the liabilities are assumed, be treated as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange. In any suit or proceeding where the burden is on the taxpayer to prove that an assumption of liabilities is not to be considered as "other property or money" under section 112 (k), which is the case if the Commissioner determines that the taxpayer's purpose with respect to the assumption was a purpose to avoid Federal income tax on the exchange or was not a bona fide business purpose and the taxpayer contests such determination by litigation, the taxpayer must sustain such burden by the clear preponderance of the evidence. Thus, the taxpayer must prove his case by such a clear preponderance of all the evidence that the absence of a purpose to avoid Federal income tax on the exchange, or the presence of a bona fide business purpose, is unmistakable.

(c) Exceptions and limitations relative to transactions taking place in a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1939. Except as provided in section 910 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 (quoted in section 20A.0 (b) of these regulations), there are excepted from the rule provided by section 213 (f) of the Act cases involving taxpayers in the determination of whose tax liability for the taxable year in which the exchange occurred, by a decision of the Board of Tax Appeals or of a court which became final on or before September 26, 1939, or by a closing agreement under section 3760, gain was recognized to such taxpayer by reason of the assumption of liabilities in question. It is provided that under the applicable provision of the law such an assumption of liabilities shall be treated as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange to the extent such assumption of liabilities was considered in computing the amount of gain to be recognized.*†

§ 20A.4 Assumption of liabilities to be disregarded in determining whether transaction is a reorganization under clause requiring acquisition of properties of a corporation solely for transferee's voting stock. The nonrecognition of gain or loss accorded by section 112 (b) (3) and (4), and so much of section 112 (c), (d), and (e) as refers to section 112 (b) (3) and (4), applies only to exchanges made in connection with a reorganization. Among the types of transactions defined as a reorganization by section 112 (g) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code and the Revenue Acts of 1934, 1936, and 1938 is the acquisition by one corporation, in exchange solely for all or part of its voting stock, of substantially all the properties of another corporation. Section 213 (b) and (g) of the Act amends such section 112 (g) (1) to provide that in determining whether an exchange is solely for voting stock for the purposes of such definition any assumption by the acquiring corporation of the liabilities of the other shall be disregarded. The effect of such provision may be illustrated in the operation of section 112 (b) (3) and (4) by the following examples:

Example (1). The only assets of the X Corporation consist of property with an adjusted basis of $1,000,000. The X Corporation also has indebtedness outstanding of $50,000. On July 1, 1939, pursuant to a plan of reorganization, the X Corporation transfers all its property to the Y Corporation in exchange for voting stock of the Y Corporation with a fair market value of $900,000 and an assumption by the Y Corporation of the X Corporation's indebtedness. The transaction being a reorganization pursuant to the terms of section 112 (g) (1) as amended by section 213 of the Act, the exchange is governed by section 112 (b) (4) and though the X Corporation realized a loss of $50,000 on the exchange, such loss will not be recognized.

Example (2). Assume the same facts as in example (1), plus the fact that, pursuant to the plan of reorganization, the X Corporation immediately distributes the Y Corporation's stock to its shareholders in complete liquidation. A, one of the shareholders of the X Corporation, receives stock of the Y Corporation with a fair market value of $5,000 in exchange for stock of the X Corporation with an adjusted basis in his hands of $4,000. The transaction between the X Corporation and the Y Corporation being a reorganization pursuant to the terms of section 112 (g) (1) as amended by section 213 of the Act, the exchange by A of his X Corporation stock for Y Corporation stock is governed by the provisions of section 112 (b) (3) and the $1,000 gain realized by A in such exchange will not be recognized. If in connection with such exchange indebtedness of A had been assumed, the amount of the liabilities so assumed would have been treated as "other property or money" for the purposes of section 112 (c), since the provisions of section 213 (a) and (f) of the Act do not extend to section 112 (b) (3), and so much of A's gain would have been recognized as did not exceed such "other property or money."

Though an assumption of liabilities does not prevent an exchange from being solely for voting stock for the purposes of the definition of a reorganization, an assumption of liabilities in some cases may so alter the character of the transaction as to place it outside the underlying purposes and assumptions of the reorganization provisions. The amendments made by section 213 (b) and (g) of the Act do not prevent consideration of the effect of an assumption of liabilities on the general character of the transaction, but merely provide that the requirement that the exchange be solely for voting stock is satisfied if the only additional consideration is an assumption of liabilities.*†

§ 20A.5 Effect of assumption of liabilities on computation of proportionate interests required by section 112 (b) (5)—(a) General rule. Subject to the limitations and exceptions specified in paragraph (b) of this section of the regulations, in any case where an assumption of liabilities is not to be treated as "other property or money" under section 213 (f) of the Act or section 112 (k), added to the Internal Revenue Code by section 213 (a) of the Act, the amount of the liabilities so assumed is to be treated as stock or securities received by the transferor whose indebtedness is assumed, for the purpose of determining whether the stock or securities received by the transferors are substantially in proportion to their interests in the properties transferred, as required by section 112 (b) (5). The application of this paragraph may be illustrated by the following example:

Example: A and B, individuals, each own property with a fair market value of $100,000 on July 1, 1939. There is a purchase money mortgage on A's property of $50,000. On July 1, 1939, A and B organize the X Corporation, to which they transfer the property above described for the entire capital stock of the X Corporation and the assumption by the X Corporation of A's purchase money mortgage. The X Corporation's capital stock is divided as follows: $50,000 to A and $100,000 to B. Nevertheless, for the purposes of determining whether the transferors received stock or securities substantially in proportion to their interests in the properties transferred, as required by section 112 (b) (5), A is deemed to have received stock or securities to the extent of $100,000, since his $50,000 purchase money mortgage, assumed by the X Corporation, is also to be treated as stock or securities received by him. Accordingly, under the facts as stated, the proportions required by section 112 (b) (5) exist.

(b) Exceptions and limitations in the case of transactions taking place in a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1939. Paragraph (a) of this section of the regulations shall not apply if the exchange took place in a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1939, and, as the result of a determination of the tax liability of the taxpayer for such taxable year, by a decision of the Board of Tax Appeals or of a court which became final on or before September 26, 1939, or by a closing agreement under section 3760, the treatment of the amount of such liability was different from the treatment which would result from the application of paragraph (a) of this section of the regulations. In such case the result of such determination shall be deemed proper.*†

§ 20A.6 Effect of assumption of liabilities on basis of property acquired by person whose liabilities are assumed. Section 113 (a) (6) provides that the basis of property acquired upon certain tax-free exchanges shall be the same as the adjusted basis of the property transferred, decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer and increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss to the taxpayer that was recognized upon the exchange under the law applicable to the year in which the exchange was made. For the purpose of this provision, the amount of any liabilities of the taxpayer assumed by the other party to the exchange is to be treated as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange, whether or not the assumption of liabilities resulted in a recognition of gain or loss to the taxpayer. Such treatment of an assumption of liabilities may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). A, an individual, owns property having an adjusted basis of $100,000 and on which there is a purchase money mortgage of $25,000. On September 1, 1939, A organizes the X Corporation to which he transfers the property above described in exchange for all the capital stock of the X Corporation and the assumption of the $25,000 mortgage. The capital stock of the X Corporation has a fair market value of $150,000. Under section 112 (b) (5), no gain is recognized. The basis of such stock in A's hands is $75,000, computed as follows:

|---|---|
| Adjusted basis of property transferred | $100,000 |
| Less: Amount of money received (amount of liabilities assumed by X Corporation) | 25,000 |
| Basis of stock of the X Corporation in A's hands | 75,000 |

Example (2). B, an individual, owns an apartment house which has an adjusted basis in his hands of $500,000, but which is subject to a mortgage of $150,000. On September 1, 1939, he transfers such apartment house to C, receiving in exchange therefor $50,000 in cash and another apartment house with a fair market value on that date of $600,000. The transfer to C is made subject to the $150,000 mortgage, but C does not assume such mortgage. B realizes a gain of $300,000 on the exchange, computed as follows:

|---|---|
| Value of property received | $600,000 |
| Cash | 50,000 |
| Liabilities subject to which old property was transferred | 150,000 |
| Total consideration received | 800,000 |
| Adjusted basis of property transferred | 500,000 |
| Gain realized | 300,000 |

Since section 213 of the Act does not apply to section 112 (b) (1) or so much of section 112 (c) as relates to section 112 (b) (1), $200,000 of such $300,000 gain is recognized. The basis of the apartment house acquired by B upon the exchange is $500,000, computed as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Adjusted basis of property transferred | | $500,000 |
| Less: Amount of money received: | | |
| Cash | $50,000 | |
| Amount of liabilities subject to which property was transferred | 150,000 | |
| | | 200,000 |
| Difference | | 300,000 |
| Plus: Amount of gain recognized upon the exchange | | 200,000 |
| Basis of property acquired upon the exchange | | 500,000 |

PART 251—LAND USES

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the act of Congress of February 1, 1905 (33 Stat. 628), amendatory of the act of June 4, 1897 (30 Stat. 11, 35), I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do make and publish the following regulations for the occupancy, use, protection and administration of the national forests and to constitute a part of the National Forest Manual:

§ 251.20 (Reg. U–1) Wilderness areas. Upon recommendation of the Chief, Forest Service, national forest lands in single tracts of not less than 100,000 acres may be designated by the Secretary as "wilderness areas," within which there shall be no roads or other provision for motorized transportation, no commercial timber cutting, and no occupancy under special use permit for hotels, stores, resorts, summer homes, organization camps, hunting and fishing lodges, or similar uses: Provided, however, That where roads are necessary for ingress or egress to private property these may be allowed under appropriate conditions determined by the forest supervisor, and the boundary of the wilderness area shall thereupon be modified to exclude the portion affected by the road.

Grazing of domestic livestock, development of water storage projects which do not involve road construction, and improvements necessary for fire protection may be permitted subject to such restrictions as the Chief deems desirable. Within such designated wildernesses, the landing of airplanes on national forest land or water and the use of motor boats on national forest waters are prohibited, except where such use has already become well established or for administrative needs and emergencies.

Wilderness areas will not be modified or eliminated except by order of the Secretary. Notice of every proposed establishment, modification, or elimination will be published or publicly posted by the Forest Service for a period of at least 90 days prior to the approval of the contemplated order and if there is any demand for a public hearing, the regional forester shall hold such hearing and make full report thereon to the Chief of the Forest Service, who will submit it with his recommendations to the Secretary.

§ 251.21 (Reg. U–2) Wild areas. Suitable areas of national forest land in single tracts of less than 100,000 acres but not less than 5,000 acres may be designated by the Chief, Forest Service, as "wild areas," which shall be administered in the same manner as wilderness areas, with the same restrictions upon their use. The procedure for establishment, modification, or elimination of wild areas shall be as for wilderness areas, except that final action in each case will be by the Chief.

§ 251.22 (Reg. U–3) Recreation areas. Suitable areas of national forest land other than wilderness or wild areas which should be managed principally for recreation use but on which certain other uses are permitted may be given special classification. Areas in excess of 100,000 acres will be approved by the Secretary of Agriculture; areas of less than 100,000 acres may be approved by the Chief, or by such officers as he may designate.

§ 251.23 (Reg. U–4) Experimental and natural areas. The Chief of the Forest Service shall determine, define, and permanently record a series of areas of national forest land to be known as experimental forests sufficient in number and extent adequately to provide for the experimental work necessary as a basis for forest production or forest and range production in each forest region, these areas to be dedicated to and used for research; also where necessary a supplemental series of areas for range investigations to be known as experimental ranges; and a series to be known as natural areas sufficient in number and extent adequately to illustrate or typify virgin conditions of forest or range growth in each forest or range region, to be retained in a virgin or unmodified condition for the purposes of science, research, and education. Within areas so designated occupancy thereof under a special use permit shall not be allowed, or the construction of permanent improvements permitted thereon, except improvements required in connection with their experimental use, unless authorized by the Chief of the Forest Service or the Secretary.

Regulation L–20 is hereby revoked.

§ 251.24 (Reg. U–5) Public camp grounds established upon national forest lands which are improved by the Forest Service, either from public funds or in cooperation with other public or private agencies, are for transient use by the public and shall not be occupied for extended periods or used for forms of occupancy which, in the opinion of the forest supervisor, are contrary to general public interest.

The forest supervisor may, in his discretion, prohibit the occupancy of designated camp grounds by house trailers, the erection or use of unsightly and inappropriate structures or appurtenances, and may fix a maximum limit upon the number of consecutive days during which any person or group of persons may occupy a designated camp ground.

Notice of such prohibition or restrictions shall be given by a sign posted within said camp ground, and occupancy or use of the ground in violation of such prohibitions or restrictions is prohibited.

Regulation L–19, sec. 251.13, is hereby revoked.

§ 251.25 (Reg. U–6) Occupancy and use of national forest land shall be permitted only upon compliance with reasonable conditions looking to the promotion of public health, welfare, safety, or convenience. Public notices shall be posted by the forest supervisor, setting forth such conditions with respect to any areas on which special restrictions should be imposed.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set by hand and official seal at the city of Washington this 19th day of September 1939.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

UNITED STATES MARITIME COMMISSION

UNITED STATES MARITIME SERVICE REGULATIONS

Effective September 1, 1939

By virtue of the authority vested in the United States Maritime Commission by section 216 of the Act entitled, "An Act to further the development and maintenance of an adequate and well-balanced American merchant marine, to promote the commerce of the United States, to aid in the national defense, to repeal certain former legislation, and for other purposes," (49 Stat. 1935, ch. 858, approved June 29, 1936, as amended by Public No. 705, 75th Cong., 3d sess., approved June 23, 1938), and as further amended by Public No. 259, Chapter 14, 1st Session, 76th Congress, approved August 4, 1939, and in order to provide for the government of the United States Maritime Service authorized by said section, the following regulations are hereby prescribed:

ARTICLE I—AUTHORITY

SECTION 1. The statute. The government of the United States Maritime Service shall be in conformity with the statutory authority for its creation, as contained in section 216 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended by Public No. 259—76th Congress (Chapter 417—1st Session), which reads as follows:

SEC. 216. (a) The Commission is hereby authorized and directed, under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, to establish and maintain the United States Maritime Service as a voluntary organization for the training of citizens of the United States to serve as licensed and unlicensed personnel on American merchant vessels. The Commission is authorized to determine the number of persons to be enrolled in the said Service, to fix the rates of pay of such persons, and to prescribe such courses and periods of training as, in its discretion, is necessary to maintain a trained and efficient merchant marine personnel. The ranks, grades, and ratings for the personnel of the said Service shall be the same as are now or shall hereafter be prescribed for the personnel of the Coast Guard. The Commission is further authorized to employ as instructors in said Service, on a contract or fee basis (without regard to the provisions of section 3709 of the Revised Statutes), such qualified persons, including licensed and unlicensed personnel of the merchant marine, as the Commission may deem necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section.

(b) The Commission is hereby authorized to train American citizens to become licensed officers of the merchant marine of the United States in a status of cadets and cadet officers on Government-owned and subsidized vessels and, in cooperation with other governmental and private agencies, on other vessels and, for instructional purposes only, in shipyards, plants, and industrial and educational organizations, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Commission and upon such terms as the Commission may arrange, and expenditures incident to such training are hereby authorized.

(c) The Commission is hereby authorized to prescribe, conduct, and supervise such extension and correspondence courses as it may deem necessary to supplement other training facilities, and to make such courses available, under such rules and regulations and upon such terms as it may prescribe, to the licensed and unlicensed personnel of the merchant marine, and to cadets and cadet officers, who shall make application therefor. The Commission is further authorized to print, publish, and purchase suitable textbooks, equipment, and supplies required for such courses, and to employ persons, firms, and corporations on a contract or fee basis (without regard to the provisions of section 3709 of the Revised Statutes), for the performance of special services deemed necessary by the Commission in the preparation and editing of such textbooks and other aids to instruction, and in the supervision and administration of such courses.

(d) The Commission, with the consent of any executive department, independent establishment, or other agency of the Government, including any field service thereof, may avail itself of the use of information, services, facilities, officers, and employees thereof in carrying out the provisions of this section, as amended.

SEC. 2. General Order No. 25. The government and administration of the United States Maritime Service shall be in conformity with the Commission's General Order No. 25, establishing the Service, adopted on July 14, 1938 and amended on September 1, 1939. General Order No. 25, as amended, reads as follows:

There is hereby established, pursuant to the authority vested in the Commission by section 216 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, a voluntary organization to be known as the United States Maritime Service which shall consist of such American citizens as may be enrolled under the provisions of said section, this order, and such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Commission for the government of said Service.

The number of persons to be enrolled in said Service, the rates of pay of such persons, and the courses and periods of training shall be determined, fixed, and prescribed by the Commission in such manner and form as may appear to it to be necessary to maintain a trained and efficient merchant-marine personnel. The ranks, grades, and ratings for the personnel of the said Service shall be the same as are now or shall hereafter be prescribed for the personnel of the Coast Guard.

In the administration and conduct of the said Service the Commission shall, subject to the consent and approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, avail itself of the use of such information, services, facilities, officers, and employees of the Coast Guard, the Public Health Service and the Civilian Conservation Corps, with the approval of their respective Executive Heads, as may be necessary for the operation of said Service, such use to be at the expense of the Commission.

Enrollment and training in the United States Maritime Service shall be voluntary and shall be open to all licensed and unlicensed personnel of the United States merchant marine who comply with the requirements prescribed by the Commission as well as to young American citizens between the ages of 18 and 23 years who desire to train for service in the American Merchant Marine and who qualify for such training under regulations prescribed by the Commission. In the selection of applicants for enrollment no discrimination shall be practiced because of the applicant's race or creed, or because of membership or non-membership in any organization. Eligibility for enrollment shall be determined by the Commandant of the Coast Guard in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Commission.

Nothing in this Order shall be construed to affect the cadet system established by the Commission's General Order No. 23, as amended.[1]

Reference is made to T. D. 42577, dated February 9, 1928, which is a finding of dumping with respect to phosphate rock from Morocco.

After careful reinvestigation and consideration of the case in which this finding of dumping was made, and on the basis of new and material factual evidence neither before nor considered by the Department at the time the finding was made, I have reached the conclusion that the said finding was not justified.

In view of the conclusion reached, T. D. 42577 is hereby vacated as of February 9, 1928, the date on which it was issued.

Appraising officers will proceed with all uncompleted appraisement reports pertaining to phosphate rock from Morocco without regard to any question of dumping, and collectors will liquidate all entries covering this class of merchandise, now before them or that may hereafter come before them, without regard to any reports by appraising officers that would, in the absence of this order, result in the assessment of special dumping duties. ## TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

BUREAU OF MINES

[Schedule 6D]

PERMISSIBLE ELECTRIC CAP LAMPS; PROCEDURE IN TESTING, FEES CHARGED, AND REQUIREMENTS FOR APPROVAL

AUTHORIZATION AND PURPOSE

Investigations conducted at the Central Experiment Station, Bureau of Mines, 4800 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., under the provisions of this schedule are authorized by the act of Congress approved February 25, 1913 (37 Stat. 682). This act, as amended June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 410), contains the following provisions in regard to fees charged for investigations by the Bureau of Mines:

For tests or investigations authorized by the Secretary of the Interior under the provisions of this Act, as amended and supplemented, except those performed for the Government of the United States or State governments within the United States, a fee sufficient in each case to compensate the Bureau of Mines for the entire cost of the services rendered shall be charged, according to a schedule prepared by the Director of the Bureau of Mines and approved by the Secretary of the Interior, who shall prescribe rules and regulations under which such tests and investigations are made. All moneys received from such sources shall be paid into the Treasury to the credit of miscellaneous receipts.

The purpose of investigations made under this schedule is to promote the development of electric cap lamps that may be used in mines, especially in mines that may contain dangerous concentrations of methane. Lists of such lamps will be published from time to time in order that State mine-inspection departments, compensation bureaus, mine operators, miners, and others interested in safe equipment for mines may have information in regard to available permissible electric cap lamps. This schedule supersedes Schedule 6C, issued under date of December 21, 1935, and goes into effect when approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

Any electric cap lamp that meets the requirements set forth in this schedule will be termed "permissible" by the Bureau and, if actively marketed, will be listed as such in publications relating to permissible electric cap lamps.

FEES CHARGED

Item 1. The fee for a complete investigation of an electric cap lamp under this schedule is $200. A check for this amount, payable to the Treasurer of the United States, should be submitted at the time the application is made.

Item 2. The fee for tests of redesigned lamps and of accessories such as bulbs, cords, reflectors shall be based upon the following charges:

| Test | Charge |
|---|---|
| Safety device in gas | $25.00 |
| Mechanical tests of headpiece | 10.00 |
| Battery sparking | 10.00 |
| Mechanical tests of battery | 10.00 |
| Bulb uniformity | 5.00 |
| Bulb life | 45.00 |
| Light distribution | 35.00 |
| Discharge voltage | 25.00 |
| Battery spilling | 5.00 |
| Cord | 15.00 |

All applications for such tests must be made by the manufacturer of the cap lamp.

Item 3. Under the present provisions of this schedule, extensions of approvals that do not require tests will be made without charge.

Item 4. Tests to assist manufacturers in the development of electric cap lamps may be made upon request to the Director of the Bureau of Mines and will be charged for in amounts proportionate to the work involved. The making of this class of tests shall, however, be optional with the Bureau.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR MAKING APPLICATIONS

Before the Bureau of Mines will undertake the active investigation of any equipment, manufacturers shall have filed an application in the form of a letter requesting that the necessary inspections and tests leading to approval be made and shall have made the necessary deposit to cover the fee for the tests.

A sample request for an investigation of an electric cap lamp follows:

The DIRECTOR OF THE BUREAU OF MINES.
Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C.

Subject: Tests of the ------ cap lamp.

DEAR SIR: We hereby make application for an investigation leading to the approval of the ------ electric cap lamp under the provisions of Schedule 6D. Attached is a check for two hundred dollars ($200), made payable to the Treasurer of the United States, to cover the fee for the investigation.

A copy of this application, one set of drawings, one complete lamp, and a full set of instructions for operating the lamp are being sent to the Central Experiment Station, Bureau of Mines, 4800 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., marked "Attention of the electrical engineer."

CONDITIONS GOVERNING INVESTIGATIONS

1. One complete lamp, with the assembly and detail drawings that show the construction of the lamp and the materials of which it is made, should be submitted at the time the application for test is made. This material should be sent prepaid to the Central Experiment Station, Bureau of Mines, 4800 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., marked "Attention of the electrical engineer."

2. When this lamp has been inspected by the Bureau's engineers, the applicant will be notified as to the amount of material that will be required for the tests. In general, the material required will be as follows: (a) Thirty complete lamps; (b) 500 bulbs; (c) 50 feet of cord; (d) a battery discharge rack for 20 batteries; and (e) a 50-bulb rack. Specifications for items (d) and (e) will be furnished by the Bureau.

3. The applicant will be notified of the date on which the tests will start and will be given an opportunity to witness them.

4. No one is to be present at the time the tests are made except the necessary Bureau of Mines engineers, their assistants, a representative of the applicant, and such other persons as may be mutually agreed upon by the applicant and the Bureau.

5. Permissibility tests will not be made unless the lamp has been completely developed and is in a form that can be marketed.

6. The results of the tests shall be regarded as confidential by all present at the tests and shall not be made public in any way prior to the formal approval of the lamp by the Bureau of Mines.

7. No verbal report of approval or disapproval will be made to the applicant. After the Bureau's engineers have considered the results of the tests, a formal report of the approval or disapproval will be made to the applicant in writing by the Director of the Bureau of Mines. The applicant shall not advertise the lamp as being permissible or as having passed the tests prior to receipt of formal notice of approval.

REQUIREMENTS FOR APPROVAL

General Requirements

Electric cap lamps shall be complete units. They shall be durable in construction, practical in operation, and suitable for the conditions of underground service. They shall offer no probable explosion hazard if used in gassy or dusty mine atmospheres nor bodily hazard from the spilling of the battery electrolyte. They shall exhibit, under laboratory test conditions, the various minimum performance requirements specified on this schedule.

Specific Requirements

Design

In the determination of the adequacy of the lamp, with respect to design, the following points will be considered: (a) The materials used; (b) construction; (c) weight; (d) amount of light; (e) distribution of light; and (f) exclusion of dust from the headpiece. The suitability of the materials and the construction shall be determined by preliminary inspection, by dropping tests,[1] by durability tests of the cord and cord armor,[2] and by the general behavior of the lamp equipment during the investigation. The amount and distribution of the light shall be judged both by observation of the illumination on a white screen and by photometric measurements.

Angle of light beam. The Bureau recommends that the angle of the light beam be at least 130 degrees horizontally to insure that the contrast edge of the beam is away from the more sensitive sector of the wearer's vision; however, to allow for manufacturing and assembly tolerances and the use of multiple filament bulbs, the Bureau will approve lamps giving a minimum beam angle of 120 degrees. If the bulb has more than one major filament, the one giving the smaller angle will be used in the determination.

Light distribution, visual. Excepting special headpieces for inspection purposes, the area illuminated by the beam shall be free from sharp gradations in light intensity and spectral shadows.

Light distribution, photometric. Excepting special headpieces for inspection purposes, the maximum candlepower of the light beam shall not be greater than 25 times the average or mean candlepower of the beam.[3]

The minimum candlepower of the beam based upon readings at the design voltage of the bulb shall not be less than one.

Protection Against Explosion Hazard

Unless properly designed, electric cap lamps may present two sources of probable explosion hazards: (1) Ignition of an explosive atmosphere by the heated filament of the bulb in case the bulb glass is accidentally broken, and (2) ignition by sparks or flashes from the battery. The Bureau therefore requires the following safeguards:

(a) Safety device (design). The headpiece shall be provided with a safety device which shall prevent the ignition of explosive mixtures of methane and air when the bulb glass surrounding the filament is broken.

(b) Headpiece lock or seal. The headpiece shall be provided with a lock or seal to prevent unauthorized removal of the lens and tampering with the safety device, the bulb or the electrical contacts.

(c) Locks on charging terminals. Lamps shall be equipped with a magnetic or other equally effective lock at the battery, the headpiece or the cord assembly to prevent unauthorized access to live charging terminals.

(d) Protection of battery terminals. The battery covers of lamps that are recharged through the cord shall be so constructed and assembled as to prevent unauthorized access to the battery terminals.

(e) Battery current restricted. The amount of current flow between the conductors of the cord, if short-circuited just outside of the battery casing or cord armor, shall be limited by the design of the battery or by a fuse to such a value[4] as will not produce sparks that will ignite an explosive mixture of methane and air.

(f) It shall not be possible to obtain a difference of potential between any two accessible points of the cap lamp when assembled for use.

Protection Against Bodily Hazard

This hazard is chiefly due to the possible burning of the wearer by electrolyte spilled from the battery. The Bureau therefore requires that:

(a) Spilling of electrolyte. The lamp shall be so designed and constructed that, when properly filled, the battery will neither leak nor spill electrolyte under actual service conditions. Lamps passing a laboratory spilling test will be considered satisfactory in this respect, contingent upon satisfactory performance in service.

(b) Corrosion of battery container. The material of which the container is made shall resist corrosion under conditions of use.

Performance

In addition to the general design and the safety features, the Bureau considers that a lamp of permissible type should meet certain minimum requirements with respect to performance, as follows:

(a) Time of burning and candlepower. Permissible electric cap lamps shall burn for at least 10 consecutive hours on one charge of the battery and shall give during that period a mean candlepower of light beam of not less than one.

(b) Bulb life. The average life of the bulbs shall be not less than 200 hours, and at least 92 percent of the bulbs shall have a life of 150 hours.

The life of a bulb is the number of hours its main filament will burn in the cap lamp or its equivalent.

The life of a bulb having main filaments in parallel is considered ended when the first filament ceases to burn; the life of a bulb having independent main filaments is considered ended when the last filament ceases to burn.

(c) Bulb uniformity. The bulbs submitted shall meet the following minimum requirements for variation in current consumption and candlepower:

The current consumption of at least 94 percent of the bulbs shall not exceed the average current by more than 6 percent. The candlepower (s. cp.) of at least 90 percent of the bulbs shall not fall short of the average candlepower by more than 30 percent.

(d) Corrosion of contacts. Battery terminals and leads therefrom, as well as the battery gas vents, shall be designed to minimize corrosion of the electrical contacts.

MATERIAL REQUIRED FOR BUREAU OF MINES RECORDS

In order that the Bureau may know exactly what it has tested and approved, detailed records are kept covering each investigation. These include drawings and actual equipment, as follows:

Drawings. The original drawings submitted with the application for the tests and the final drawings, which the manufacturer must submit to the Bureau before the approval is granted, to show the details of the lamp as approved. These drawings are used to identify the lamp in the approval and as a means of checking the future commercial product of the manufacturer.

Actual equipment. If the Bureau so desires, parts of the lamps which are used in the tests will be retained as a permanent record of the investigation and of the lamps submitted.

If the lamp is approved, the Bureau will require the manufacturer, as soon as his first manufactured lamps are available, to submit one complete lamp, bearing the approval plate, as a record of his commercial product.

HOW APPROVALS ARE GRANTED

All approvals are granted by letter through the Director's office at Washington, D. C. A lamp will be approved under this Schedule only when the testing engineers judge that the lamp has met the requirements of the schedule and the Bureau's records concerning the lamp are complete, including drawings from the manufacturer that show the lamp as it is to be commercially made. No verbal reports of the Bureau's decisions concerning the investigation will be given, and no informal approvals will be granted.

As soon as the manufacturer has received the formal approval he shall be free to advertise his lamps as permissible.

WORDING, PURPOSE, AND USE OF APPROVAL PLATE

Approval plate. The manufacturer shall attach, stamp, or mold an approval plate on the battery container of each permissible lamp. The plate shall bear the seal of the Bureau of Mines and be inscribed as follows: "Permissible Electric Cap Lamp. Approval No. ---------- issued to the ---------- Company." When deemed necessary, an appropriate caution statement shall be added. The size and position of the approval plate shall be satisfactory to the Bureau.

Purpose of approval plate. The approval plate is a label which identifies the lamp so that anyone can tell at a glance whether the lamp is of the permissible type or not. By it, the manufacturer can point out that his lamp complies with specifications of the Bureau of Mines and that it has been judged as suitable for use in gassy mines.

Use of approval plate. Permission to place the Bureau's approval plate on his lamp obligates the manufacturer to maintain the quality of his product and to see that each lamp is constructed according to the drawings which have been accepted by the Bureau for this lamp and which are in the Bureau's files. Lamps exhibiting changes in design which have not been approved are not permissible lamps and must not bear the Bureau's approval plate.

Withdrawal of approval. The Bureau reserves the right to rescind, for cause, at any time any approval granted under this schedule.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR HANDLING FUTURE CHANGES IN LAMP DESIGN

All approvals are granted with the understanding that the manufacturer will make his lamp according to the drawings which he has submitted to the Bureau and which have been considered and included in the approval. Therefore, when he desires to make any change in the design of the lamp, he should first of all obtain the Bureau's approval of the change. The procedure is as follows:

1. The manufacturer shall write to the Director of the Bureau at Washington, D. C., requesting an extension of his original approval and stating the change or changes desired. He should send a copy of the letter, a revised drawing showing the change in detail, and one of each of the lamp parts affected to the Central Experiment Station, Bureau of Mines, 4800 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., marked "Attention of the electrical engineer."

2. The Bureau will consider the application and inspect the drawings and parts to determine whether it will be necessary to make any tests.

3. If no tests are necessary, the applicant will be advised of the approval or disapproval of the change through the Director's office.

4. If tests are judged necessary, the applicant will be advised of the material that will be required and of the necessary deposit to cover the fee for the test.

JOHN W. FINCH,
Director.

Approved, August 26, 1939.

HARRY SLATTERY,
Acting Secretary of the Interior.

DIVISION OF PUBLIC CONTRACTS

IN THE MATTER OF AN AMENDMENT TO THE DETERMINATION OF THE PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGE IN THE MEN'S RAINCOAT INDUSTRY

This matter is before me pursuant to Section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. Sup. III 35), entitled "An Act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes", hereinafter called the Act).

In my decision dated July 28, 1937, In the Matter of the Determination of the Prevailing Minimum Wage in the Men's Raincoat Industry (2 F.R. 1336), the term "cravenette" appears as a word of Common usage. This term is a registered trade-mark and should have been so designated; therefore,

I Determine

That my decision In the Matter of the Determination of the Prevailing Minimum Wage in the Men's Raincoat Industry is hereby amended by the deletion of the first paragraph and paragraph "(1)" following the words "Therefore, I Hereby Determine" and substituting in lieu thereof the following respective paragraphs:

This case is before me pursuant to Section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (Public Act No. 846, 74th Congress) entitled "An Act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes". At my direction the Public Contracts Board, created in accordance with Section 4 of the said Act by Administrative Order dated October 6, 1936, has been engaged in the consideration of the wages paid in the various garment industries, and on April 21, 1937 it held a public hearing on the prevailing minimum wages in the men's raincoat industry including the manufacture of vulcanized and rubberized raincoats, and raincoats made from material known under the registered trade-mark of "Cravenette" or from fabric chemically or otherwise treated so as to render it water-resistant (except oiled cotton).

* * * * *

(1) That the minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Public Act No. 846, 74th Congress, approved June 30, 1936 for the manufacture or supply of men's raincoats, including the manufacture of vulcanized and rubberized raincoats and raincoats made from material known under the registered trade-mark of "Cravenette" or from fabric chemically or otherwise treated so as to render it water-resistant (except oiled cotton), shall be 40 cents an hour or $16.00 per week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece rate basis.

Notices

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

[40-AAA-1]

INSTRUCTIONS FOR HOLDING REFERENDUM ON COTTON MARKETING QUOTAS ON THE 1940 CROP

In view of the fact that the Secretary of Agriculture has determined and proclaimed, pursuant to the provisions of section 345 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, that the total supply of cotton for the 1939-40 marketing year exceeds by more than 7 percent the normal supply thereof for such marketing year, a referendum, by secret ballot, of farmers who were engaged in the production of cotton in 1939 will be held on Saturday, December 9, 1939, pursuant to section 347 of said Act and in accordance with the regulations and instructions herein set forth, to determine whether they favor or oppose cotton marketing quotas on the 1940 cotton crop. Such quotas will be in effect unless more than one-third of the farmers voting in the referendum oppose them.

A. VOTING ELIGIBILITY

All farmers who were engaged in the production of cotton in 1939 are eligible to vote in the referendum (except those producing only cotton 1⅛ inches or more in staple length, as provided in the next paragraph). Any person who shared in the proceeds of the 1939 cotton crop as owner (other than a landlord of a standing-rent or fixed-rent tenant), tenant, or sharecropper shall be considered as having been engaged in the production of cotton in 1939. Farmers who planted cotton in 1939 but produced no cotton on such acreage for any reason except neglect to farm the planted acreage shall be regarded as having been engaged in the production of the 1939 cotton and therefore eligible to vote.

Since the law provides that marketing quotas are not applicable to cotton the staple of which is 1⅛ inches or more in length, a person who was engaged in the [1] Batteries are dropped 3 feet, at least 20 times, on to an oak floor. Headpieces are dropped 6 feet, at least 20 times, on to concrete.

[2] Ten cords, assembled with the cord armour and outlet of the lamp with which it is to be used, are slatted at least 100,000 times through an arc of 50 degrees at approximately 90 slattings per minute.

[3] The minimum allowable angle of 120 degrees will be used in determining the mean candlepower of the beam.

[4] The following maximum short-circuit current values may be used as a guide in the design of cap lamp batteries: 100 Amperes for a 4-volt battery; 75 Amperes for a 6-volt battery; 50 Amperes for an 8-Volt battery.

production of such cotton in 1939 is not eligible to vote, unless in 1939 he was also engaged in the production of cotton the staple of which was less than 1 1/2 inches in length. (Because of such provision the term "cotton" as used in these instructions and in the prescribed forms to be used hereunder means cotton having a staple length of less than 1 1/2 inches.)

No farmer (whether an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other legal entity) shall be entitled to more than one vote in the referendum, even though he may have been engaged in the production of cotton in 1939 on two or more farms or in two or more communities, counties, or States.

In case a group of several persons, such as husband, wife, and children, participated in the production of cotton in 1939 under a single rental or cropping agreement or lease, each person who signed the written or entered into the oral rental or cropping agreement or lease shall be entitled to one vote, but the others in such group shall not be eligible to vote.

In case two or more persons engaged in producing cotton in 1939 not as members of a partnership but as tenants in common or joint tenants or as owners of community property, each such person is entitled to one vote.

There shall be no voting by mail, proxy, or agent, or in any manner except the eligible voter personally depositing in the ballot box his ballot marked by him; but a duly authorized officer of a corporation, firm, association, or other legal entity, or a duly authorized member of a partnership, may cast its vote.

If a Community Referendum Committee determines that the fact is that a farmer residing within the jurisdiction of such committee at the time of the referendum is eligible to vote by reason of his having engaged in producing cotton in another community in 1939, the committee may issue a ballot form to him and permit him to vote, provided the committee also satisfies itself that such farmer has not previously voted in the referendum in another community. If the committee cannot so satisfy itself and the farmer insists upon voting, it shall challenge the ballot in the manner hereinafter outlined.

B. INSTRUCTIONS TO COUNTY COMMITTEES

Each County Agricultural Conservation Committee (hereinafter referred to as the County Committee) shall be responsible for the proper holding of the referendum in its county and it shall:

1. Designate one readily accessible place for balloting in each community and give public notice of the time and place for balloting therein by posting a notice on form Cotton 401, "Notice—Cotton Marketing Quota Referendum", at one or more places open to the public within each community at least 5 days in advance of the date of the referendum.

2. Make use (without advertising expense) of all available agencies of public information, including newspapers and radio, to give cotton farmers in the county full and accurate public notice of the day and hours of voting, the location of polling places, and the rules governing eligibility to vote. Such notice should be given as soon as practicable after the plans for holding the referendum in the county have been made, but must be given at least 5 days in advance of the date of the referendum.

3. Designate three cotton farmers residing in each community as members of the Community Referendum Committee to conduct the referendum in such community and name one of such members as chairman of the committee, and another of such members as vice-chairman of the committee.

4. In counties with less than 100 cotton farms the County Committee may treat the county as one community for the purpose of the referendum and shall hold the referendum and perform the duties both of County Committee and Community Referendum Committee.

5. See that each Community Referendum Committee is provided with a suitable ballot box (see C4 below).

6. Prepare on form Cotton 403, "Register of Eligible Voters and Ballots Cast—1940 Cotton Marketing Quota Referendum", the register (so far as it can ascertain) of eligible voters for each community in the county, listing thereon the names and addresses of all persons shown on its records or known to it as producers who were engaged in the production of cotton in such community during 1939.

7. Deliver a supply of forms Cotton 402, "1940 Cotton Marketing Quota Referendum Ballot", and of forms Cotton 404, "Community Summary of 1940 Cotton Marketing Quota Ballots", as well as form Cotton 403 (as provided in paragraph 6 above), to the chairman of the respective Community Referendum Committee.

8. See to it that the Community Referendum Committees understand their duties in all respects, with particular emphasis as to (a) issuing ballot forms, (b) recording votes, (c) tabulating ballots, and (d) certifying results of the referendum in the community.

9. See that all necessary and appropriate measures are taken to insure that the referendum is conducted by secret ballot, fairly and impartially.

10. Notify the State Agricultural Conservation Committee (hereinafter referred to as the State Committee) by telephone, telegraph, or in person, as soon as possible after the closing of the polls, as to the preliminary count of "Yes" and "No" votes in the county.

11. Meet not later than 8:30 o'clock a. m., on the next week-day after the holding of the referendum, for the purpose of receiving and tabulating on form Cotton 405, "County Summary of 1940 Cotton Marketing Quota Ballots", the data reported on forms Cotton 404. Such meeting shall be open to the public. A report on Cotton 405, showing the results in the county, shall be prepared and certified in quadruplicate, two copies of which shall be sent to the State Committee as soon as possible and in no case later than 4 calendar days after the date of the referendum, one copy posted for 60 calendar days in a conspicuous place accessible to the public in or near the office of the County Committee (hereinafter referred to as the county office), and one copy permanently filed in the county office and kept available for public inspection. One copy of each executed form Cotton 404 shall also be posted for 60 calendar days in a conspicuous place accessible to the public in or near the county office.

12. Make an investigation in each case of controversy or dispute regarding eligibility of a voter to vote in the referendum. In each case where a ballot is found in a sealed envelope marked "Challenged" by the Community Referendum Committee and bearing on the outside the voter's name and a statement of the reason for the challenge, the eligibility of such person shall be determined. If it is determined that such person is eligible, the ballot shall be placed with the challenged ballot of every other person found to be eligible, and when all the challenged ballots have been passed upon by the committee those ballots found to be cast by eligible voters shall be opened and tabulated in the county summary, but no disclosure shall be made as to how any particular person voted. If it is determined that such person is not eligible, the envelope shall not be opened but shall be preserved with the ballots, as provided in paragraph 14 of this section B.

13. Make an investigation in each case of dispute regarding the correctness of the summary of the referendum in a community. No dispute shall be investigated by the County Committee unless it is brought to its attention within 3 calendar days after the date on which the referendum was held. The County Committee shall promptly decide the dispute and immediately report its findings to the State Committee and send by registered mail or deliver in person to the office of the State Committee all voted ballots, register forms, and community summary sheets involved in the dispute.

14. Seal the voted ballots, challenge ballots found ineligible, register sheets, and community summary sheets for the county in one or more envelopes or packages (marked "Cotton Referendum 1940", followed by the name of the county) and place them under lock and key in a safe place under the custody of the Secretary of the County Agricultural Conservation Association for a period of 60 calendar days from the date of the referendum. If no notice to the contrary is received by the end of such time, the ballots shall be destroyed but the register and community summary sheets shall be permanently filed in the county office and kept available for public inspection.

C. INSTRUCTIONS TO COMMUNITY REFERENDUM COMMITTEES

Each Community Referendum Committee designated by the County Committee shall:

1. Arrange, with the assistance of the County Committee, for conducting the referendum by secret ballot and fairly and impartially.

2. Assist the County Committee in giving adequate public notice of the time and place for casting ballots in the community at least 5 days in advance of the date on which the referendum will be held.

3. Provide a place where each eligible farmer can mark and cast his ballot in secret and without interference, coercion, or duress.

4. Provide a suitable ballot box. Any container so arranged that no ballot can be seen or removed without breaking seals on the container will be suitable. If strip adhesive paper or similar seals are used, such seals should be signed or initialed by the chairman or a member of the Community Referendum Committee so that breaking or replacing the seal will so destroy or affect the identifying marks as to show that the seal has been tampered with.

5. Open the polls at the time designated by the County Committee, which time shall not be later than 9:00 o'clock a. m., local standard time, on the date fixed for holding the referendum.

6. Hold the referendum in a fair and unbiased manner and see that appropriate measures are taken to insure that it is conducted by secret ballot, fairly and impartially.

7. See that no device is used whereby any voter's ballot may be identified (except in the case of a challenged ballot), and instruct each voter as he is handed a ballot form that he is to mark his ballot so as to show how he votes in such manner that no one shall see how he votes and then to fold his ballot and place it in the ballot box without allowing anyone to see which way he votes.

8. Issue a ballot to each person who is eligible to vote and to each person who claims to be eligible to vote and insists upon voting even though his eligibility is challenged by the committee. Every unchallenged ballot shall be placed in the ballot box by the person who voted it. If the voter fails to fold the ballot that shall not invalidate it. In every case where the eligibility of the voter is challenged, his ballot, after being marked by the challenged person, so as to show how he votes but in such manner that no one sees how he votes, shall be folded and placed (by him, or by the committee if he refuses) in an envelope, which shall then be sealed and endorsed with his name, the word "Challenged", and a statement of the reason for the challenge, and shall then be placed in the ballot box. The letter "C" shall be entered on form Cotton 403 immediately to the left of the name of each person whose vote is challenged.

9. Record on form Cotton 403 the name and address of each farmer to whom a ballot form is issued if he is not already listed thereon prior to the time the ballot form is issued to him.

10. Enter, in the column on form Cotton 403 headed "Ballot Cast (X)", an X beside the name and address of each farmer to whom a ballot form is issued and whose ballot is placed in the ballot box (whether or not his ballot is challenged).

11. Close the polls and discontinue acceptance of ballots at 5:00 o'clock p. m., local standard time (or such later hour as is fixed by the State Committee in order to afford a full and fair opportunity to producers to vote) on the date of the referendum.

12. Immediately after closing the polls, open the ballot box and canvass the ballots cast, which canvass shall be kept open to the public.

13. Tabulate and record the results of the referendum on form Cotton 404. The number of challenged ballots cast shall be entered on form Cotton 404 in the space provided and will not be shown as being either for or against the marketing quotas. If any ballot is found to be mutilated or marked so that it cannot be determined whether the ballot was intended to show that the voter approved or opposed the marketing quotas, it shall not be counted as a ballot cast but the number of such spoiled ballots shall be entered in the space provided and such ballots sealed in an envelope marked "Spoiled Ballots", followed by the number of such ballots and the designation of the community, together with the signature or initials of the chairman or a member of the Community Referendum Committee. If any member of the Community Referendum Committee should happen to see or learn how any person besides himself voted, whether or not the ballot was challenged or found to be spoiled, he shall not disclose such knowledge to any other person, except in an investigation conducted by the County Committee hereunder.

14. Certify to the accuracy of the executed forms Cotton 403 and Cotton 404 by signing in the spaces provided.

15. Notify the County Committee, by telephone or by a member of the Community Referendum Committee in person or by a signed communication sent by messenger, as soon as possible after the closing of the polls as to the preliminary count of "Yes" and "No" votes in the community.

16. Seal the voted ballots (including those challenged), the spoiled ballots, the register sheet, and the original and one copy of the community summary in one or more envelopes appropriately identified by the designation of the community and deliver them (by a member of the Community Referendum Committee or another trustworthy person, volunteering to perform the duty without compensation) to the County Committee not later than 8:30 o'clock a. m., on the first week-day following the holding of the referendum, together with the unused ballot and other forms. The Chairman of the Community Referendum Committee (or in his absence or disability, the Vice-Chairman thereof) shall be responsible for the safe delivery of such reports, ballots, and forms to the county committee.

17. Post an executed copy of form Cotton 404, as soon as it is executed, at a conspicuous place at the polling place, so that it remains posted and accessible to the public for at least 3 calendar days after the date of the holding of the referendum.

D. INSTRUCTIONS TO STATE COMMITTEES

Each State Committee shall be in charge of and responsible for the conducting of the referendum in its State in a fair, unbiased, and impartial manner, by secret ballot, and shall:

1. Notify the appropriate Regional Director of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration by telegraph as to the preliminary count in the State of votes for and votes against marketing quotas.

2. Summarize on form Cotton 406, "State Tabulation of 1940 Cotton Marketing Quota Ballots", the information contained on the forms Cotton 405 reported to it and the facts found in any investigation or recheck conducted by it and forward via air mail special delivery two fully executed forms Cotton 406 to the appropriate Regional Director, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Washington, D. C., not later than 7 calendar days after the date of the referendum. If one sheet proves insufficient for listing the information with respect to all counties in the State, in which the referendum is required to be conducted because cotton was produced therein in 1939, additional sheets properly numbered and identified and securely attached to the first sheet may be used for continuation, in which case totals and signatures should be entered only on the last sheet. One fully executed copy of each form Cotton 405 and form Cotton 406 shall be permanently filed in the State office of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration available for public inspection.

3. Complete the investigation of any report from any county regarding irregularities in the holding of the referendum or controversies as to the correctness of summaries of the referendum, not later than 10 calendar days after the date of the referendum, and forward its findings in such cases to the appropriate Regional Director.

E. RESULTS OF REFERENDUM

Final and official tabulation of the votes cast in the referendum will be made by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and reported to the Secretary of Agriculture and the result of the referendum will be publicly proclaimed by him. The reports on Cotton 406 and related papers shall be permanently filed with such tabulation and shall remain available for public inspection in the Department of Agriculture.

Each County Committee is authorized to give out unofficial reports of the total "Yes" and total "No" votes in its county to the public press and other inquirers. Each State Committee is authorized to release to the press and other inquirers the unofficial results of the referendum for its State by counties as rapidly as the votes in the various counties are tabulated.

If the Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration or the Secretary of Agriculture deems it necessary, the report of any Community Referendum Committee, County Committee, or State Committee shall be reexamined and checked by such persons or agencies as may be designated.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of September 1939. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

NOTICE OF HEARING

Whereas, upon consideration of applications filed by the California Walnut Growers Association, the North Pacific Nut Growers Cooperative and sundry other parties for exemption of the receiving, grading and packing of unshelled "English" walnuts in the States of California, Oregon and Washington from the maximum hour provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 as a branch of an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) and Part 526 of the regulations issued thereunder,[1] a preliminary determination was made that a prima facie case had been shown for the granting of the aforesaid exemption to the receiving, grading and packing of unshelled "English" walnuts and notice thereof was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER under date of August 29, 1939,[2] in accordance with the procedure established by Section 526.5 (c) of the said regulations; and

Whereas, within fifteen days following the publication of that preliminary determination the Administrator received objection and request for hearing; and

Whereas, applications have been filed by the North Pacific Nut Growers Cooperative and sundry other parties for exemption of the receiving, grading and packing of unshelled filberts in the States of Oregon and Washington from the maximum hour provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 as a branch of an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) and Part 526 of the regulations issued thereunder; and

Whereas, it appears that the applications for the exemption of the receiving, grading and packing of unshelled "English" walnuts and receiving, grading and packing of unshelled filberts present related issues of fact and law:

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given of a combined public hearing to be held pursuant to Sections 526.5 and 526.6 of the said regulations in United States Post Office Building, San Francisco, California, to commence at 10:00 A. M. on September 28, 1939, before Harold Stein, an authorized representative of the Administrator, hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, take testimony and hear arguments for the purpose of determining, and to determine the following questions:

(1) Whether either the receiving, grading and packing of unshelled "English" walnuts, or the receiving, grading or packing of unshelled filberts is an industry of a seasonal nature or branch thereof within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526 of the regulations issued thereunder; and

(2) Whether both the receiving, grading and packing of unshelled "English" walnuts, and the receiving, grading and packing of unshelled filberts together constitute an industry of a seasonal nature or branch thereof within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526 of regulations issued thereunder.

As used in this notice, the terms "receiving, grading and packing of unshelled 'English' walnuts" and "receiving, grading and packing of unshelled filberts" are used in the ordinary accepted meaning of these terms in the trade but do not include the warehousing or shelling of such nuts.

At this hearing all persons interested, including employees, employee groups, employee labor organizations, employers, employer groups, and trade organizations, within the industry affected, and designated subordinates of the Administrator, will be afforded an opportunity to present evidence and to be heard. All persons or associations desiring to avail themselves of this opportunity should, if possible, notify the Administrator in advance.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of September 1939.
